BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1726, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire title to real property and to provide for the construction of public buildings thereon by rental purchase contracts.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. JIM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JIM asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2418), page 3, line 12, by inserting after "Commonwealth," "except land of the Pennsylvania Game Commission."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 20, entitled:

An Act providing for the establishment of pension funds or pension annuities for firemen in certain boroughs towns and townships and the regulation and maintenance thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WORLEY filed the following reason for his vote on House Bill No. 168:

I believe this bill not to be constitutional.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 263, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania exempting income taxes on persons and corporations from requirement of uniformity.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 12, by inserting after "centum": "levied for purposes of public education."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this is an important piece of legislation. I think that this House this Session has had more experience with the art of compromise than perhaps any other in the history of the Commonwealth.

We are faced here with a bill which is within the tradition of one of the great parties of Pennsylvania and apparently contrary to the tradition of the other great party of Pennsylvania. We have in this House recently passed a four percent sales tax. Many of us may differ as to how high a sales tax can go in percentage levy, but I think we will all agree that it is now approaching, if it has not already reached, that limit. Yet, as evidenced by communications which I think we have all received today there is still a great need for public money, tax money for education in Pennsylvania. I am referring to a letter which all of us have received regarding House Bill No. 1108.

So, I think that one of the greatest rising costs in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is the need for money for education.

I believe that the sponsor of this resolution was as concerned as I, and as I am sure many others are, that if this resolution is passed and if this constitutional change is adopted by the people of Pennsylvania, there is a fear that an income tax, a graduated income tax might extend to such great lengths and go up in such high percentages that it would be an onerous burden on the people of Pennsylvania. I think the sponsor of this bill saw that danger and thereby put in a six percent maximum.

I think there can be a second safeguard, and I think this amendment would provide that second safeguard. In other words, an income tax if it ever became the law in Pennsylvania, should only extend to the amount of money needed for public education. Today that amount is approximately 46 percent of our General Fund budget. I believe the figure is $884 million out of some $1.907 billion that Governor Lawrence requested. This would mean that the other taxes whether they be on corporations, luxuries, or what I call nuisance taxes on individuals, and the Sales Tax which we still, I think, will have in the future, would have to raise the rest of the money. I think this is a good safeguard for the people of Pennsylvania. I think it would result in a compromise, it would still retain a Sales Tax which one great party thinks is the best broad-based tax, and we would then have a graduated income tax, which the other great party thinks is the better broadbase tax.

I put this amendment in because I think education should be tied to a tax which is capable of raising all of the funds needed for education. I think a great many of the problems of this Session and of past Sessions have been because of the need of money for public education, and yet no specific tax was assigned to do that job. I think that this amendment would alleviate the fear of many that an income tax, once passed, would get out of hand and would have a percentage that would go too high. I think that the purposes of education would be reasonable purposes or this Legislature and future Legislatures would not pass legislation which would enact the high rate.

I think that the purpose is clear, the wording is clear. This would put on the ballot for the voters, if it passed two Sessions of this Assembly, the proposition that a graduated income tax could be enacted under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, but it would be restricted to the purposes of public education. I would like to see this amendment passed.

I will be happy to accept a division.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the amendment offered by the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, to House Bill No. 263 would insert into the Joint Resolution, "levied for the purposes of public education." I rise to oppose the amendment offered by the gentleman from Bucks.

The Joint Resolution as outlined, if it passed two Sessions of this General Assembly, would be placed on the ballot for the people of Pennsylvania to decide whether they favor that change in our Constitution, and if they believe, as we do, they will vote favorably on such a resolution, changing the Constitution of Pennsylvania. We favor immensely the position that the Joint Resolution changing the Constitution which would permit a graduated income tax not to exceed more than six percentum, would be allocated to the General Fund for, yes, education, welfare, health and all the other agencies of state government.

I rise to oppose the amendment, even though the amendment has much appeal for the needs of education which are tremendous and they certainly will be even more so in the future.

The Joint Resolution permitting the graduated income tax, if passed in two Sessions and the people were to vote on it, we favor the position that they vote on the change to the Constitution which would permit this taxation to be used for the operation of the state government, which covers schools, hospitals and all the other needs of our citizens of this Commonwealth. On that ground, and that ground alone, I oppose the amendment so that we may debate the bill and vote on House Bill 263.

Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly for accepting a division.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

A division was called for, more than a majority having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. This Joint Resolution is one that is very familiar to most Members of the House. It has been in this chamber in many prior Sessions of the Legislature, in one form or another, but I believe this is the most simplified form. It merely has a limitation, as was said before, of six percent, and it gives the Legislature the privilege of graduations and exemptions.

As you know, the present restriction in the Constitution provides that all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of persons, and this was construed by the courts to prohibit the imposition of a graduated income tax. It is readily apparent, I believe, to most Members of the House that we are gradually reaching the financial stage where a graduated income tax is not only necessary, but it is vital to the adequate financing of the needs of the people.

The suggestion in the form of an amendment by the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, which was just defeated, was a good one, and certainly I can envision the time, if this resolution is passed, when a good percentage of the income derived from a graduated income tax will be diverted to the needs of public education.

I think it is readily apparent to all of us that under the present restrictions and limitations in our Constitution with respect to the imposition of the income tax it is unfair. A simple illustration of that would be where a person earns $5,000 in income and is a bachelor, as against a family man who earns $5,000 and has a couple of children in college. Under the present Constitution we could not grant any exemption, and both of those gentlemen mentioned would have to pay the same rate of taxation. It is entirely unfair that that be so, and this is a step to give us—and it is only to give us in the future, if the people pass favorably upon this Resolution, on the ballot—an opportunity to spell out the exemptions and graduations, so that eventually we can have a tax tailored to fit the needs of all of the people and all of the institutions in this Commonwealth. I believe that in the past Members on both sides of the House recognized the just and equitable position of the sponsors of a resolution of this type.

Rather than prolong this debate, I will ask that both sides of the House vote in favor of the Resolution.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. SHERMAN. Do I understand, Mr. McCann, that if we had this graduated income tax we would have no need for the sales tax?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it would take a mathematician very long to figure that if you had a graduated income tax in the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania you certainly would not need any sales tax at all, providing you applied the income tax as the source of revenue, the main source of revenue for the general fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There would be no question.

Mr. SHERMAN. Thank you.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, some sage of the past said that anything that cannot be said in one sentence is not worth saying, and I agree with that. I think we need this Resolution because it is based upon ability to pay.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, consent to be interrogated, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it the purpose of this Resolution, if passed and approved by the people, that this will eliminate the sales tax and not be an additional tax on the people of this Commonwealth?

Mr. McCORMACK. I am glad you asked that question, Mr. Speaker, because that is something I overlooked in my original remarks.

It is certainly my intention and my philosophy that unless we have a tax based upon ability to pay in this Commonwealth we will not have any fair tax program.

I voted for the sales tax, and the sales tax was passed I believe, because of the recognized fact that we could not get any other tax program passed, but certainly it is not my intention, and I am only speaking for myself, that the people be saddled with both this graduated income tax and a sales tax until the revenue needs becomes so great that both taxes are absolutely necessary.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, then, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia does envision the time, according to his last statement, when both sales taxes and income taxes will or may be required in this Commonwealth, is that correct?

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, until we can determine the type of exemptions and graduations in a graduated income tax I think it would be futile on my part to suggest that in the future we would have both. I think that is not without the realm of contemplation.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman from Philadelphia consider it better and sounder to consolidate our forces and see what the effect of the present sales taxes upon the economy will be, and also project into the future the possibility of making it a general sales tax instead of a selective sales tax?

Mr. McCORMACK. I think it is fair to say that we know what is going to happen to this Resolution when it passes the House, so we are talking about something that probably will be moot. At this stage of the proceedings we cannot say that from the revenue to be derived from the present sales tax such an income tax in the future would be unnecessary.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, do I imply from the gentleman's remarks that the Resolution is introduced as an empty gesture, or as a political deal in order to work out a situation in connection with the sales tax?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, as far as I am concerned, as a Member of the Democratic party, it is a Resolution of intent, and it is a Resolution of desire on the part of the Democratic party to give the people in Pennsylvania a tax based upon ability to pay. I would not say it is futile, but if you want me to guess, I will say so.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman has indicated this is a tax upon ability to pay, does he know how much one percent of income tax will bring in Pennsylvania as compared with one percent sales tax?

Mr. McCORMACK. One percent with what kind of exemptions?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Across the board, no exemptions. Is he familiar with that?

Mr. McCORMACK. I can only say that the adjusted gross income the Federal government reported by Pennsylvanians is approximately $20 billions, and that the income tax paid at the Federal rate was $2.4 billion. Not being an accountant, I could not at this time translate that at one percent. If the gentleman has the figure, I will be glad to accept it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, I have figures, Mr. Speaker, from the 1956—

POINT OF ORDER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz rise?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I would like to inquire of the Chair whether this debate is limited at this time to the bill before us.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The debate is limited to the bill before us. The gentlemen will confine their remarks to the bill.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I did not know I was talking about anything except the bill, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. May I pursue my interrogation for a moment, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what reason does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, rise?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Again on a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

As I understand it, this bill is a bill which would permit a graduated income tax. The interrogation has gotten itself down to a point of a broad based income tax of one percent across the board, and I am just wondering if that is germane to the Resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair rules that the gentlemen will confine themselves to the bill on the calendar.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I have and I shall.

Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Philadelphia familiar with what percentage of people who earn under $10,000 have paid the income taxes to the Federal government according to, say, the year 1956, or any other year?

Mr. McCORMACK. No, sir, I am not.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, I do not want to take any unfair advantage, and that is all, Mr. McCormack. I merely ask consent to speak briefly on the Resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. According to the figures which I have received, these are the income tax figures and returns for the year 1956 to the Federal government from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

For persons who earn under $10,000, they paid 62.6 percent of all the taxes received from this state. If you add those who were under $15,000, they paid 71 percent of the taxes received from this state.

From a source which I believe to be unimpeachable, and also a source which is used often by the present administration, if we were to tax every person in the state of Pennsylvania who earns $50,000 or more a year at the maximum six percent rate, the total revenue to the state on a biennial basis would be $50 million.

The only reason I bring this point out is as follows: I am not an accountant, I am no mathematician, but anybody who analyzes these figures will come to the conclusion that a six percent graduated income tax cannot be effective unless practically everybody in the state, even to the minimum classification, will pay four percent or more.

This cannot be a graduated income tax in a true sense. We are debating this particular bill, and as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, indicated we are faced only by a six percent graduated income tax, and I say to you, based upon the figures that I have before me, the conclusion that I draw is that this is not a tax for the benefit of the poor.

As I indicated in the debate four years ago on the classified income tax proposed by Governor Leader, the rich do not receive any harm from a graduated income tax because of this fact. If you are in the 90 percent Federal tax classification and you pay a $10,000 tax to the state you will get credit for 90 percent of your state taxes. So if you are of the illusion that you are hurting the rich and helping the poor by this particular method, you are not so doing.

The history of any graduated income tax, whether it be state, Federal or otherwise, is that it generally lands in the lap of the average citizen. I believe in this particular case you will find, if this Resolution were adopted, that the persons who would be most injured would be those in the $5,000 to $10,000 classification, those individuals who constitute the middle class of this community, those people who are the entrepreneurs and who take risks. For that reason I do not think we should squeeze out the middle class because the rich will not be hurt, and the poor will not be benefited.

In addition I am opposed to this because we have no firm commitment that the sales tax will not be supplemented by an income tax.

I think the time now is to hesitate and look around and to economize, to examine with great care the Chesterman Report which has been ignored by three administrations, I believe. It was received in the Fine administration and received no support. It was also available to the Leader administration. I now suggest that the present administration give it scrutiny. Let us economize. Let us try to do the best we can.

In closing I want to point out to the gentlemen on the other side who might say I did not vote for a sales tax, I wish to say that I voted for some of the taxes that passed over on the other side, and I made a public commitment which I was willing to sustain, that I was in favor of a broad base sales tax including everything except take-home food at a proper level to sustain the economy.

For the reasons I have now enunciated I must vote against this Resolution.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, in the comments made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, he used the illustration of a bachelor earning $5,000 and the family having a couple of children in school and thereby implied that he felt the bachelors should pay more taxes than the family man. I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if it is his intent that this tax should be a tax on the bachelors, both men and women, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, if I had a choice between the two, I certainly would say that they should be taxed to a greater extent than the man with a family—and I used to be one too!

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia mentioned "if he had a choice" my question did give him a choice and I would like to have a forthright answer rather than a hedging one.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, I do not know how many bachelors there are in my district, Mr. Speaker, but I would say that I would prefer to tax them than the family man.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman who is Mr. Average-Wage-Earner in the Commonwealth today? Does he earn over $5,000 or under $5,000?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, I am not familiar with the subject-matter, but if you want me to give you an example from recollection, I am informed that the average teamster in the state of Pennsylvania earns $8,000.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, let us limit the answer to the question I asked the gentleman. I think it is a rather simple one.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I will give the figures according to the 1956 tax, maybe that will enlighten you.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. What is the take-home pay of Mr. Average Citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? Is it under or over $5,000?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I would say it is—I am not giving you the Income Tax figures—I would say that the average person in the state of Pennsylvania makes a salary, according to these figures, of approximately $4,000 a year.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. So we have established the fact that the prime wage earner and the majority of the wage earners in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would be benefitted, would he not, by a graduated income tax, and that the average is not over $5,000, or $10,000 or $15,000 as you were referring to previously in your interrogation?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Let me enlighten you and give you the figures. The largest group of taxpayers in the state of Pennsylvania, according to the 1956 returns, are those earning $5,000 to $10,000. That is the largest group.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. That is not the question I asked you.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, that is the answer I am giving you.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, under those circumstances I think it very foolish and needless of me to continue such an interrogation.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to prolong it very long. I am just as hungry as everyone else.

I am going to vote for the referendum because I believe in voting for any referendum wherein the people of this republican not democratic form of government, but this republican representative form of government of ours, have a right to express their opinions.

I think we are all doing a lot of wishful thinking. We are all talking about exemptions. The bill does not provide for any exemptions. It could be $2,000, it could be $1,500, it could be $4,000, whatever the present Legislature at this time, if the bill should happen to pass, would inculcate into the law to carry out the provisions of the constitutional amendment.

We are all doing a lot of wishful thinking because you know and I know that it is just not human nature for anyone to vote to put a tax upon themselves, except we poor fellows who sit down here in the Legislature, and we vote to put taxes on ourselves as well as upon the people. It certainly would be a Utopia for a carefree legislative body in this great country of ours, if we could just refer every tax problem to the people and say, you vote the taxes you want, and you would not have any tax and you know that as well as I do.

So, I am going to vote for the referendum. It will be defeated if it ever gets to the people the same as they defeated it before, because the people simply will not vote a tax upon themselves. Certainly when they see that figure 6 percent in here, that's just going to scare the very devil out of them, and they will not vote for that, that's for sure.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT, Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, If I may.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, is it not correct that last November the people of this Commonwealth voted to amend this particular section of the Constitution by including forest preserves in it?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am, of course, not well aware of the section. I think I can say to you, yes, the people of Pennsylvania did vote in favor of an amendment that was on the ballot which pertained to that particular item.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is it the purpose of this amendment then, Mr. Speaker, to eliminate forest preserves since they are not included in the bill as drafted?

Mr. McCANN. I would like to say to you that we have never discussed that particular section but let us say very clearly, the section of the Constitution that we were amending has to do with the section dealing with not permitting a graduated income tax.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this bill is drawn in a very defective way. The bill as it appears before us eliminates the amendment that we voted on last fall. It should clearly be in the bill. I think it was voted on by the people. I do not know whether this is just a gesture on the part of the party on your side of the aisle to get up before the people or not. I say the bill should be properly drawn if it is to mean anything. It is defective as it is now.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this is no gesture. And, I do not believe the bill is defective, in the way it is drawn and presented here today. I, of course, am not an attorney, but I would like to say to you that attorneys have checked House Bill No. 263, Joint Resolution to the Constitution, and they find it to be correct. I hope that I can answer you in the affirmative and say those who advised me say, yes, it is correct.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman to take the bill and show me where the words "forest preserves" appear in it, as was voted on by the people last fall?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe the Attorney General's office informed me that each amendment to the Constitution stands on its own. Therefore, the one dealing with forestry that was adopted by the people last year stood on its own, and this has no bearing on that. I do not have that in writing here. It was in a conference that they informed me of that, and I accept the word of those people who know in this field that this amendment stands on its own and you are not doing anything else to any other part of the Constitution, such as you are implying here, according to that office.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well then if this amendment stands on its own, Mr. Speaker, it does mean, does it not, that the forest preserve amendment which was passed upon by people last fall would be deleted?

Mr. McCANN. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentlemen yield?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. To ask the Majority Leader if he would yield for the purpose of trying to clarify the question that has been raised.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Mr. Lippincott has the Floor.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I will be glad to yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. McCORMACK: I did not want the gentleman from Delaware to yield, I wanted the Majority Leader to yield, who was answering the questions.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I will yield to the Majority Leader who may yield to you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Then, Mr. Speaker, I want to say, I do not know whether this will clarify it or not, but it seems to me that when the people voted favorably on a constitutional amendment at the last election with respect to and I have the wording here—"the General Assembly may by general law set up standards and qualifications for private forest preserves and make special provisions for the taxation thereof." I want to say the mere fact that is left off this resolution does not mean that is deleted from that article and section of the Constitution. That still stands even though the amendment that was passed last year is not spelled out in this resolution. It is still valid, and, of course, the only way it could be changed would be by specific reference to it on the ballot.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, Mr. Speaker, if that—

Mr. McCORMACK. If the gentleman has authority to the contrary I shall be glad to listen to it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. As I understand concerning amendments to the Constitution, each time the entire section is written out in full when it is voted upon by the people. Therefore, the result of this will be to put an amendment in that does not have the forest preserve clause in it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Do you have any authority for that?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I think if you will refer to the Pennsylvania Manual on page 60, you will see an amendment adopted there included the entire section as it then became law constitutionally.

Of course, to carry your idea through you would have two Sections 1 to this article, one having forest preserves in it and one having something else, and, of course, that is not correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Of course, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman being a lawyer recognizes that is a non sequitur because of the fact that there is one Constitutional amendment that spells out the whole section, it follows that because this resolution does not spell out the whole section it is therefore invalid. That does not follow at all. This form is perfectly valid. If this is passed by two Sessions of the Legislature and put on the ballot and the people pass it, the amendment with respect to the forest lands will still be effective.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I call to the attention of the gentleman the fact that the particular bill we are considering states that Section 1, Article 9, of the Constitution be amended to read, and then it goes on and lists the section as it will thereafter be amended to read if approved by the people, leaving out the last amendment from last year.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, the word "authority" has been thrown around in this debate. Mr. McCormack, the gentleman from Philadelphia takes exception to Mr. Lippincott's statement. I, however, am compelled to agree completely with the gentleman, Mr. Lippincott.

My long experience in the Legislative Reference Bureau, my long experience in bill drafting and constitutional law, compels me to agree with Mr. Lippincott. The entire section of the particular Article in question was voted upon by the people as an amendment to the Constitution. We have before us today an amendment to the entire section of this particular Article. It is, therefore, my personal opinion, backed by my experience, that the results which Mr. Lippincott suggests would obtain if this were passed in its present form.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. HELM, DAVIS and HOCKER.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

STATEMENT BY MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, with respect to the bill that just passed, the alleged error in the bill was discovered on this side during the debate on the bill.

I am sure if we had discovered it sooner we would have called it to Mr. McCann's attention. While Mr. Lippincott was pointing out the error, I was on the telephone talking to the Legislative Reference Bureau. They found the bill that was voted on by the people in November and they say, yes, in this particular amendment, we will have to put in those magic words that the General Assembly can by law exempt forest preserves from taxation.

So if the bill should happen to pass in the Senate, it will have to be amended, otherwise the amendment with respect to forest preserves voted on by the people last fall will be lost.

BILLS PASSED OVER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that all the other bills on third reading be passed over in order.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the bills will be passed over.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will now return the gavel to the Speaker of the House.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON CONCURRENCE IN SENATE AMENDMENTS

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1078 on page 32 of today's calendar, bills on concurrence in Senate amendments.

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1078.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 216), entitled "An act relating to dentistry defining and providing for the licensing and registration of dentists and dental hygienists and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses and registration subject to appeal and for their reinstatement defining the powers and duties of the State Dental Council and Examining Board and the Department of Public Instruction providing penalties and repealing existing laws" providing for biennial registration.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 11, by striking out after the word "registration" the word "such" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "a"; line 11, by striking out after the word "fee" the following: "as may be fixed by the Department of Public Instruction" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "of twenty dollars ($20.00)"; and page 6, by inserting after line 9 the following: "Section 3. This act shall take effect in thirty days."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 6, line 1, by removing the brackets before and after the word "annual"; line 2, at the beginning of the line by striking out the word "biennial"; line 3, by inserting after the word "law" the following: "all persons now qualified and engaged in the practice of engineering and surveying or who shall hereafter be licensed by the board shall register biennially with the board and pay for each biennial registration a fee of twenty dollars ($20.00) All".

"Section 3. This act shall take effect in thirty days."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1081.

An Act amending the act of July 12, 1919 (P. L. 933) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of architecture in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing for the examination and registration of architects by a State Board of Examiners defining the powers and duties of said board of examiners and providing penalties for the violation of this act" providing for biennial renewal of certificates and changing fees in accordance therewith.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments.
The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 13, by inserting after the word "payment" the following: "to the Commonwealth"; line 13, by striking out after the word "fee" the following: "in such amount as may be fixed by the board not however in excess"; page 6, by inserting after line 12 the following: "Section 2, This act shall take effect in thirty days."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

MRS. LOUISE JOHN AND MRS GRACE SLOAN
PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, for the past number of weeks, since we have been in Session, we have been particularly interested by the gentlemen sitting on the other side speaking about all the fine looking ladies which they have in their Party. Each week, we have been treated to different groups, and various groups, which have arisen here to show us the kind of people who are hard at work in the different counties.

We may not have them in numbers here this morning, but, I think, in quality, they certainly would match any of the ladies of the Republican Party or any other party.

Therefore, Mr. President, it is my pleasure to introduce Mrs. Louise John, Vice Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and Mrs. Grace Sloan, President of the Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs. I leave it up to the Senate to make its own judgment.

The PRESIDENT. Would the lovely ladies please rise? You are, indeed, very welcome.

SENATE RESOLUTION

EXTENDING CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE
TO THE VALLEY BABE RUTH BASEBALL LEAGUE ALL-STARS

Messrs. VAN SANT and FLACK offered the following resolution (Serial No. 50), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 11, 1959.

The citizens of the Hazleton area are certainly proud today and they have the right to be so because on Saturday afternoon, August 8, the Valley Babe Ruth Baseball League All-Stars crushed the Crawford County West All-Stars 12-1 to win the Pennsylvania Babe Ruth Championship.

The game was played before approximately 3,000 fans at the beautiful Westinghouse field in Sharon. Until the fourth inning the teams were locked in a scoreless duel but the superior play of the Valley team caused the roof to cave in on the Crawford team at that point. Although the Crawford team displayed great spirit and ability, they were unable to overcome the six runs that the boys from the region scored in the fourth.

Much of the credit for this hard earned victory must go to the Valley pitcher, Tom Sharkey of West Hazleton, since he only allowed three hits while striking out 12 batters. Of course, he couldn't have done such a masterful job without the help of all his teammates, so we would have to call this a great team victory.

No team could get to the State final without the support and encouragement of the manager and his staff. Joseph (Bully) Christina is the manager of this great team and the duties of coaching fall into the capable hands of Carl Schneider, Sr. If it wasn't for these men, as well as Eddie Waitkus, the Valley Babe Ruth League President, the team would never have achieved the honors which are now being showered upon it.

This Valley team which represents boys of all walks of life is certainly a credit to the community and to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Let us all hope that they will be just as successful in their march to the national championship which starts today in Washington, D. C. These boys have displayed the type of sportsmanship and clean play that makes Pennsylvania such a great State; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate congratulate the Valley Babe Ruth Baseball League All-Stars on their most inspiring victory in the State finals; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate wish these boys and all those who have helped them along the way, the best of luck in their forthcoming national play-offs; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Eddie Waitkus, the League President, to Manager Joseph Christina and to the coach, Carl Schneider, Sr.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 170, Printers' No. 1053, on concurrence in House amendments, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 323, Printer's No. 1304; and
Senate Bill No. 543, Printer's No. 579.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 623, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" prescribing penalties for using obscene or offensive language over telephones or repeatedly by telephone annoying molesting or harassing another.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think it would be amiss not to point out that—although the purpose of it is a laudable one and something which we should try to do something about—my misgivings about this piece of legislation are due to the fact that the language is a little bit vague. I do not know, having a small bit of experience in the District Attorney's Office, how you would accomplish what this bill is setting out to do. One of the other things that troubles me about it is that you are calling the offense in this bill a misdemeanor. The difference between a misdemeanor and a felony is whatever the Legislature says it is. However, for a misdemeanor, you are setting up a very high fine, in the amount of $500, and you are imposing a six month prison sentence or both, as the court may decide.

I know that the temper of the Senate and the House is to pass this legislation. However, I would say that this bill should receive a very close scrutiny before it is signed into law. I feel there is a lot of vagueness about it.

Although all of us have experienced the situation where people have annoyed us on the telephone and have done things which are annoying, you are going to have a problem in enforcing this. One of the problems of evidence, which I think you cannot overlook, is how do you decide who is on the other end of the line? The mere identification of the person by himself is not enough. A small example of this would be if I were to identify myself as Mr. X or Mr. Y, and call somebody and be annoying to them. How do you carry out the provisions? The language here where you say, "... whoever telephones another person repeatedly for the purpose of annoying molesting or harassing such other person ..." is also, I think, subject to some vagueness. What may be annoying or harassing to me, may not be to someone else. I, therefore, think you will have that type of a problem with it.

Although it may act as a deterrent in the sense that we do have this statement of public policy on the books, it might be in that area that we might be able to do some good. However, as a matter of legislation and looking at it strictly from that point of view, I think it is just too vague and not able to be enforced.

The PRESIDENT. The bill has passed Third Reading.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have some reservations about this bill, myself; however, principally, because of some of the language in it. I do not know how you are going to molest a person over the telephone. I think the purpose, however, is laudable and, of course, the question will be a jury question as to whether or not the actual annoyance or harassment has been accomplished. Consequently, I do not see too much danger in the areas which have been mentioned. Nevertheless, the purpose of the bill is laudable and I would like to vote for it.

However, Mr. President, if the Senator requests that it go over in order on Final Passage, I will have no objection to that.

The PRESIDENT. I was about to ask the Senator whether he was requesting that the bill go over in order, now that it is on Final Passage.

Mr. WEINER. No, sir. That is not my request. I was just pointing out my observation. It was merely my opinion of what I think of the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—47

Barr,	Harney,	Miller,	Stevenson,
Berger,	Kalman,	Mullin,	Stiefel,

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. HORST asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 11, 1959.

Franklin County, located in the south central area of our great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—rich in economic resources and historical background—ranks first in the production of peaches among the Counties of our State and 12th among the Counties of our Nation.

Franklin County produces more than 800,000 bushels of this "Queen of the Fruits" annually with a value well in excess of $2,000,000, thus contributing materially to and enhancing the economic welfare of Franklin County and our Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The peaches of Franklin County, prized by many experts as the finest tasting peaches of all, are shipped as far east as Boston, as far west as Kansas City, as far north as Montreal and as far south as Miami and New Orleans, and are, thus, carrying and publicizing the name of Franklin County and our Commonwealth over that vast area.

Whereas, the Authorities of Franklin County have proclaimed the period beginning August 14th and ending August 24, 1959, as "Peach-Harvest Festival Week," under the co-sponsorship of the Franklin County Horticultural Association, the Franklin County Agricultural Extension Association, The Greater Chambersburg Chamber of Commerce and the Waynesboro Chamber of Commerce, who have, under the authority of this proclamation, laid out appropriate tours throughout the orchard area of this historic County and have further issued a very sincere and cordial invitation to all of the residents of our Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and its neighboring states, to attend this greatly interesting Festival and area; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania tender its just and grateful recognition, of this worthwhile effort to publicize Franklin County and our Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through and by an expression of its appreciation, congratulations and encouragement; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania accept, with thanks, the invitation issued by the Sponsoring Organizations of the Franklin County "Peach-Harvest Festival" and that as many members of this august body, as possible, attend in person and, by their presence, add a great measure of lustre to this great and important annual event in the annals of Franklin County and our Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be prepared and a copy transmitted to each of the Sponsoring Organizations, the Commissioners of Franklin County and to the Peach Queen of the Franklin County "Peach-Harvest Festival."

PRESENTATION OF RESOLUTION

The SPEAKER. The Chair would open the door to one minute debate by any Member who desires to argue the question of whether or not Franklin County is or is not the greatest peach county in the world.

By the lack of response we take it the House unanimously agrees that Franklin County is the greatest peach county in the world.

Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst, come to the desk and receive his certified copy of his resolution?

You know Ikie who was quite a man with the ladies was walking down the street with one of them and he was munching a peach. He met a friend and the friend says,

"What have you got there?"

Ikie says, "I've got a peach."

The friend says, "She looks more like a sour apple to me."

Very fortunately, Mr. Horst, your peaches don't look like sour apples. They are fine specimens and we congratulate you for being in a position to speak for that great peach producing county of Franklin.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. DAUGHERTY asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Motor Vehicles to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. WHEELER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the session of the House.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. KUBITSKY and MEHOLCHICK asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 11, 1959.

The citizens of the Hazleton area are certainly proud today and they have the right to be so because on Saturday afternoon, August 8, the Valley Babe Ruth Baseball League All-Stars crushed the Crawford County West All-Stars 12-1 to win the Pennsylvania Babe Ruth Championship.

The game was played before approximately 3,000 fans at the beautiful Westinghouse field in Sharon. Until the fourth inning the teams were locked in a scoreless duel but the superior play of the valley team caused the roof to cave in on the Crawford team at that point. Although the Crawford team displayed great spirit and ability they were unable to overcome the six runs that the boys from the region scored in the fourth.

Much of the credit for this hard earned victory must go to the Valley pitcher, Tom Sharkey of West Hazleton, since he only allowed three hits while striking out 12 batters. Of course he couldn't have done such a masterful job without the help of all his teammates, so we would have to call this a great team victory.

No team could get to the State final without the support and encouragement of the manager and his staff. Joseph (Bully) Christina is the manager of this great team and the duties of coaching fall into the capable hands of Carl Schneider, Sr. If it wasn't for these men as well as Eddie Waitkus, the Valley Babe Ruth League President, the team would never have achieved the honors which are now being showered upon it.

This Valley team which represents boys of all walks of life is certainly a credit to the community and to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Let us all hope that they will be just as successful in their march to the national championship which starts today in Washington, D. C. These boys have displayed the type of sportsmanship and clean play that makes Pennsylvania such a great State; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulate the Valley Babe Ruth Baseball League All-Stars on their most inspiring victory in the State finals; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives wish these boys and all those who have helped them along the way, the best of luck in their forthcoming national play-offs; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Eddie Waitkus, the League President, to Manager Joseph Christina and to the coach Carl Schneider, Sr.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. POLASKI asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Municipal Corporations to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. HAMILTON asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Insurance to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. CAPANO asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Workmen's Compensation to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HORST asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I would like to thank you on behalf of Franklin County Horticultural Association for this resolution you just passed. You are welcome to the peaches. We welcome you to our county on Sunday. Your folders will give you the details of our festival.

Mr. Speaker, I would appreciate very much if you would be kind enough to have the Chief Clerk send a letter of thanks to Mr. Harry E. Walker, 225 Fifth Avenue, Chambersburg, and Mr. Fred C. Bikle Fayetteville, R. D. 1. These gentlemen furnished the peaches to you through me.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1633, entitled:

An Act establishing procedures for the administration and adjudication of civil cases by justices of the peace magistrates and aldermen and repealing certain prior acts.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I want to call to the attention of the House that this bill provides for complete new procedure for actions taken before a justice of the peace, magistrate and alderman. There are some very fine new features connected with it, but a couple that I consider to be very uncertain and unfavorable. At least, the practice that you have in a smaller county would not stack up very well under the provisions of the bill. Personally, I am against the bill. I merely wanted the House to know what bill they were voting on and what it provided.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny County rise?

Mr. STEVENS. I rise to a question of personal privilege, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. STEVENS. On August 6, one the Pittsburgh newspapers reported that I had made a statement to the effect that because labor was against the sales tax that I was for it.

I wish at this time to deny making any such statement, either on the floor of the House, or any other place in my official capacity as a Representative.

My record in the last Session of the Legislature and in this Session of the Legislature and my previous experiences in the labor movement, has proven that I am a friend of labor and my efforts have always been to improve the standards of living for the working men and women of this Commonwealth.

I wish to have my statement spread upon the record.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess of one and one-half hours.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. EWING, COOPER, THOMPSON, RIGBY, WILT, GOLDSTEIN GIBB, AGNEW, KAMYK, DEVLIN, FILO, LEONARD, LUTTY, BOIES, LAMB, J. J. MURRAY, JENKINS, MIHM, SCHUSTER, WALSH, MORAN, CLARKE, IRVIS, FOERSTER, McLAUGHLIN, DONALDSON and STEVENS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 11, 1959.

The people of Allegheny County deeply mourn the death of Representative John R. Haudenshield who died on July 27th after a long illness.

Born on September 10, 1888, a son of John E. and Mary Holmes (Burk) Haudenshield, he received his elementary education in the Scott Township schools, attended Carnegie High School and was a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. For many years he served as a director of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Pittsburgh.

Widely known among his friends and constituents as "Silver Dollar John" because of his habit of changing paper money into silver dollars which he used to pay for restaurant tabs and to distribute among his nephews and nieces he was also prominent as a historian, having been active in many historical groups, among them the Pennsylvania Society of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Historical Commission of Pennsylvania. While in office, he sponsored legislation from the preservation and maintenance of many historical sites including Old Economy, Landis Valley Museum in Berks County, and Friendship Mill, New Salem, Pennsylvania.

A member of the House of Representatives at the time of his death, he was serving his tenth term as a member of that body.

He will long remain with us, not only because of his prowess as a businessman and member of the General Assembly, but also for his contributions to the benevolence and well being of his fellow citizens. His entire life was dedicated to the service of his fellowmen and he gave freely of his time and unreservedly of his effort; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their deepest and most sincere sympathies, both individually and as a body to the widow of Representative John R. Haudenshield; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his beloved wife, Ella Mae Haudenshield at 111 Ramsey Avenue, Carnegie, Pennsylvania.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. STIMMEL and HAMILTON.

HOUSE BILL No. 2316.

An Act amending "The Penal Code," approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), prohibiting the offering of any policy of insurance free of cost as an inducement of any person to purchase any real or personal property.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Game and Conservation to meet during the session of the House.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 1002.

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 594) entitled "Rural State Highway Law" deleting a route in Hanover Township Lehigh County.

Referred to the Committee on Highways.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DAVIS.

RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, August 11, 1959.

The Honorable Ira M. Fox, a former member of this House of Representatives from Forest County, celebrates his eighty-eighth birthday on August 12, 1959.

Mr. Fox's record of public service includes thirty-four years as a school director, four years as Treasurer of Forest County, as well as six years as Representative of Forest County in this House of Representatives. He is one of the last surviving members of the famous "rump" session of 1921 during the Sproul Administration. In addition to his long years of public service in these official capacities, Mr. Fox was of service and help to many persons through his active leadership in church and Masonic activities; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives extends its hearty congratulations to Mr. Fox on his birthday anniversary, and hopes that he may continue to enjoy life to its fullest; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. Fox at his home.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is requesting the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, to preside during the first hour.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PETROSKY asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for informatino.

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title, by inserting after "licenses": "and further defining the powers of courts on appeals."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out "Section 404" and inserting "Sections 404, 464 and 471."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out "is" and inserting "are."

Section 464. Hearings Upon Refusal of Licenses, Renewals or Transfers; Appeals.—The board may of its own motion, and shall upon the written request of any applicant for club hotel or restaurant liquor license, or any applicant for any malt or brewed beverage license other than a public service license, or for renewal or transfer thereof, whose application for such license renewal or transfer has been refused, fix a time and place for hearing of such application for license or for renewal or transfer thereof, notice of which hearing shall be mailed to the applicant at the address given in his application. Such hearing shall be before the board, a member thereof, or an examiner designated by the board. At such hearing, the board shall present its reasons for its refusal or withholding of license, renewal or transfer thereof. The applicant may appear in person or by counsel, may cross-examine the witnesses for the board and may present evidence which shall likewise be subject to cross-examination by the board. Such hearing shall be stenographically recorded. The examiner shall thereafter report to the board upon such hearing. The board shall thereupon grant or refuse the license, renewal or transfer thereof. In considering the renewal of a license, the board shall not refuse any such renewal on the basis of the propriety of the original issuance or any prior renewal of such license. If the board shall refuse such license, renewal or transfer following such hearing, notice in writing of such refusal shall be mailed to the applicant at the address given in his application. In all such cases, the board shall file of record at least a brief statement in the form of an opinion of the reasons for the ruling or order and furnish a copy thereof to the applicant. Any applicant who has appeared before the board or any agent thereof at any hearing, as above provided, who is aggrieved by the refusal of the board to issue any such license or to renew or transfer any such license may appeal, or any church, hospital, charitable instutions, school or public playground located within three hundred feet of the premises applied for, aggrieved by the action of the board in granting the issuance of any such license or the transfer of any such license, may take an appeal limited to the question of such grievance, within twenty days from date of refusal or grant, to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the premises applied for is located or the county court of Allegheny County. Such appeal shall be upon petition of the aggrieved party, who shall serve a copy thereof upon the board, whereupon a hearing shall be held upon the petition by the court upon ten days notice to the board, which shall be represented in the proceeding by the Department of Justice. The said appeal shall act as a supersedeas unless upon sufficient cause shown the court shall determine otherwise. The court shall hear the application de novo on questions of fact, [administrative discretion] law and such other matters as are involved, at such time as it shall fix, of which notice shall be given to the board. The court shall in its own discretion either sustain or over-rule the action of the board and either order or deny the issuance of a new license or the renewal or transfer of the license to the applicant. The parties to the proceeding may, within thirty days from the filing of the order or decree of said court, appeal therefrom to the Superior Court.

The jurisdiction of the county court of Allegheny County conferred hereby shall be exclusive within the territorial limits of its jurisdiction.

Section 471. Revocation and Suspension of Licenses.—Upon learning of any violation of this act or any laws of this Commonwealth relating to liquor, alcohol or malt or brewed beverages, or of any regulations of the board adopted pursuant to such laws, or of any violation of any laws of this Commonwealth or of the United States of America relating to the tax-payment of liquor or malt or brewed beverages by any licensee within the scope of this article, his officers, servants, agents or employees, or upon any other sufficient cause shown, the board may, within one year from the date of such violation or cause appearing, cite such licensee to appear before it or its examiner, not less than ten nor more than fifteen days from the date of sending such licensee, by registered mail, a notice addressed to him at his licensed premises, to show cause why such license should not be suspended or revoked. Hearings on such citations shall be held in the same manner as provided herein for hearings on applications for license. Upon such hearing, if satisfied that any such violation has occurred or for other sufficient cause, the board shall immediately suspend or revoke the license, notifying the licensee thereof by registered letter addressed to his licensed premises. Such suspensions and revocations shall not go into effect until twenty days have elapsed from the date of notice of issuance of the board's order, during which time the licensee may take an appeal as provided for in this act. When a license is revoked, the licensee's bond may be forfeited by the board. Any licensee whose license is revoked shall be ineligible to have a license under this act until the expiration of three years from the date such license was revoked. In the event the board shall revoke a license, no license shall be granted for the premises or transferred to the premises in which the said license was conducted for a period of at least one year after the date of the revocation of the license conducted in the said premises, except in cases where the licensee or a member of his immediate family is not the owner of the premises, in which case the board may, in its discretion, issue or transfer a license within the said year. In all such cases, the board shall file of record at least a brief statement in the form of an opinion of the reasons for the ruling or order. In the event the person whose license was suspended or revoked by the board shall feel aggrieved by the action or penalty of the board, he shall have the right to appeal, and a hearing de novo, to the court of quarter sessions or the county court of Allegheny County in the same manner as herein provided for appeals from refusals to grant licenses. Upon appeal, the court so appealed to shall, in the exercise of its discretion, [sustain reject, alter or modify the findings, conclusions and penalties of the board, based on the findings of fact and conclusions of law as found by the court] make its own findings of fact, conclusions of law and decision and on finding the licensee guilty of any violation of the law or the regulations of the board, shall in its own discretion impose a penalty as provided for by this act. The aforesaid appeal shall act as a supersedeas unless upon sufficient cause shown the court shall determine otherwise. The licensee or the board may, within thirty days from the filing of the order or decree of said court, file an appeal therefrom to the Superior Court. In those cases where the board shall suspend a license, the board may accept from the licensee an offer in compromise as a penalty in lieu of such suspension and thereupon rescind. In the case of a manufacturer of malt or brewed beverages, the offer in compromise shall be at the rate of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day of suspension; in the case of a liquor importer, sacramental wine licensee and a malt or brewed beverage importing distributor, thirty dollars ($30); in the case of a distributor of malt or brewed beverages, twenty dollars ($20 for each day of suspension; and in the case of a hotel, restaurant and club liquor licensee, and a retail malt or brewed beverage dispenser, or transporter for hire, ten dollars ($10) for each day of suspension. No offer in compromise may be accepted by the board in those cases where the suspension is for a period in excess of 100 days.

The jurisdiction of the county court of Allegheny County conferred hereby shall be exclusive within the territorial limits of its jurisdiction.

Where the court shall order a suspension it may also recommend to the board that it accept an offer in compromise for all or a portion of the period of suspension.

Amend Bill, page 4, by adding after line 6:

Section 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the amendments as presented contain the identical language of House Bills 796 and 797, which already have passed the House and are in the Senate?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, that is true, they passed the House June 3, the language of the amendments passed the House June 3, by a vote of 193 to 5.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That applies to both bills, I believe. Is that correct, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that Senate Bill 424 is a bill which relates to control of skid rows in this Commonwealth.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, that is not necessarily true. I do recognize that the newspapers and many people have been calling Senate Bill 424 the anti-skid row bill; however, it does not alone apply to what is commonly referred to as skid row, it applies to every license and licensee in the 67 counties of the Commonwealth, wherever they may be located.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, in addition to control of skid rows, Senate Bill 424 also controls the issuing of licenses in residential areas, is that not true?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the amendments which are substantially House Bills 796 and 797 relate to the jurisdiction of courts on appeal and also the jurisdiction of courts to determine whether or not compromises should be accepted by the Liquor Control Board?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct Mr. Speaker, and if I may explain, Senate 424 as I indicated before, enlarges the scope of the power of the Liquor Control Board, the administrative body, and the amendments that I have offered merely enlarge and broaden the scope of the local courts on appeals of course. I recognize and believe many other Members of the House recognize that those local skid row situations can be very capably taken care of by a combination of Senate Bill 424 and the amendments that I have offered and still remain an equitable and fair piece of legislation to anybody who would be aggrieved, any litigants who would be aggrieved by a decision of the administrative body.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, would it be sounder legislative procedure to allow 796 and 797 to be passed, and also pass Senate 424 in its original state?

Mr. PETROSKY. Not necessarily, they could ride together, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. I am sure that the amendments as introduced are a delaying action merely, and they will bring about the passage of this bill in a condition in which the Governor of this Commonwealth will be compelled to veto the measure. If you vote for these amendments, you vote against the Democratic platform, and against the Republican platform because the amendments as introduced by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, are very, very, debatable. I believe they are opposed by the Liquor Control Board. They constitute a new concept in administration on appeals and on compromises.

We fought for Senate Bill 424 for weeks. It was introduced by two Senators from the city of Philadelphia, both of them Democrats, both of whom stated they were behind the bill because of the deplorable conditions in the city of Philadelphia. They were behind the bill and we are behind the bill because we believe that the Governor of this state sincerely wants a skid row bill passed. We say, and we say repeatedly, if these amendments are tacked onto the bill they will destroy the bill and cripple it. If the amendments as proposed by Mr. Petrosky are sound the Senate will consider them in due course and either pass them or reject them. What we must pass upon is one issue in Senate Bill 424, that is are we opposed to skid rows, and are we in favor of people who live in high class residential areas having the right to be free of taverns. We are not considering their rights of appeal. Their rights of appeal exist today. Mr. Petrosky desires to amplify their rights.

I say to him and I say to you, amplify the rights by having House Bills 796 and 797 passed in the Senate. I repeat, are you going to stand behind Lawrence, the Governor of this Commonwealth, by voting down these amendments? I am asking the Members on both sides of this House to let us get this bill on the road, pass it without the amendments, and Governor Lawrence will sign the bill this week.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I cannot think of anything to say other than I disagree most wholeheartedly with my colleague from Allegheny County. If ever I heard a scare, or an attempt to scare put out on the floor of this House, this was it.

This is Mr. Goldstein's opinion of what these amendments do. As an attorney, and I think Mr. Goldstein as an attorney, should appreciate the fact that the people of this Commonwealth, whether they be liquor licensees or anything else, should be entitled to their day in court and that is all House Bills 796 and 797 did. It does not detract from this bill 424 in any way, shape or form.

What Mr. Petrosky said before is true. This is known as the skid row bill, but actually it is not. This applies to every liquor licensee whether it is in a skid row neighborhood or not. It applies to 67 counties. I resent not giving a licensee an opportunity to have his day in court, to have his case heard on appeal if necessary. This does not even weaken 424. The things that 424 attempts to accomplish are still there and are untouched. I say in all fairness you can vote for this bill with the amendment. In fact I think that this is a good time for this amendment to be introduced, because it amends exactly the same law.

There is a possibility that 796 and 797 may never see the light of day in the other chamber. This is not an attempt to defeat 424. I am for 424 whether these amendments pass or whether they do not, and I think the rest of the membership of this House who will vote for these amendments feel exactly as I do.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Reserving the same right that Mr. Goldstein had yesterday, to give the kind of answer he gave to me.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I know that the gentleman will be more cooperative than I was.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Do not bet on it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does not the licensee have the right of appeal today under Section 464 of the Liquor Control Act?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. It depends on what you mean by right of appeal.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Does he or does he not?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. There is a right of appeal, but it is my belief and it was the belief of 193 Members of this House who voted for 796 and 797 that the right of appeal was not adequate.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, is it not true that the only words taken out of Section 436 substantially are "administrative action"?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Well, I think the gentleman and I could probably quibble about what you mean by administrative action for the next couple of hours.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. We are not going to quibble. Is this not a fact, under the present law, if 424 were passed, any licensee would have the right to appeal in the court on application, and the court could review questions of fact de novo, administrative discretion and all such matters as are involved? Is that not true of the law today?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. No, I think the gentleman was here when 796 and 797 were debated and I think he knows at the present time what the purpose of those amendments were; to give the court more discretion than they had, because it is my belief unless you give a court discretion on an appeal, there is no use having an appeal.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I am reading from the Liquor Control Act and I will repeat it again. It is not the law today that under Section 464 the court has the following power, and I read from the Act: "The court shall hear the application de novo on questions of fact, administrative discretion and such other matters as are involved." Is that not the law today?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. That is what the laws says.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein made a statement on the floor regarding the Republican party platform pledges and the Democratic party platform pledges. Those party platform pledges are in the Legislative Journal records on each Member's desk in this House.

I bring to your attention, whether this bill is amended or not amended, I cannot see how either party has broken any pledge as outlined in that Journal. This is only a technical procedure; the pledge is written out clearly, and if you will check carefully, I believe, if the bill is amended or is not amended, the pledge will have been carried out as written in both party platforms, a copy of which is at every Member's desk.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot read the mind of the Governor of this state, but I am convinced that if the bill is passed as amended it will be vetoed. I ask for a slow roll call.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise also to oppose these amendments. I cannot help but concur with my colleague from Allegheny County that these amendments severely water down the legislation which we pledged in our platform we will pass.

I feel I must take issue with our Majority Leader when he says that we will fulfill the platform pledge no matter how we pass the bill. That may be true, but it seems to me that the difference is whether you pass a bill which fulfills not only the letter of the platform but also the spirit of the platform and one which merely complies with the words that we have written down.

In my opinion, the original bill, and one on which we fought a very hard battle here about three weeks ago complies not only with the letter of our platform pledges but also with their spirit. I suggest to the House that by the adoption of the amendments that are offered here we are complying only with the letter of the platform pledges and that we make, in effect, a hollow mockery of it.

I ask all the Members of the House to oppose these amendments.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I propound this question merely for the purpose of getting some information. Can the gentleman refer to the Code that he has before him and tell me if there is presently under existing law the right of appeal on questions of law as distinguished from questions of fact?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Off hand, I would not want to make a definite answer, but I will repeat what the Act now says, "The court shall hear the applications de novo on questions of fact." Let us forget about your interrogation as to questions of law. The question of fact is whether or not the people—

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Let me answer your question, please.

Mr. FINEMAN. Well—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is entitled to answer the question.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I am not finished and I will answer your question as completely as I can.

The first thing that the court will decide on appeal is the question of fact as to whether or not there are too many licensees in a certain area, that means skid rows.

The second thing the court will decide on the question of fact is whether the installation of a tavern in a residential area is against the best interest of the community. Now that is the real meat of the case, as to whether or not the court will review questions of law. I am uncertain, but I think it is immaterial because they will review administrative discretion under the broad language, and all such other matters as are involved. I think it is broad enough to give us a question of law. But, when this case is reviewed by the county court of Allegheny County, or the municipal court of Philadelphia, or the other courts of 65 other counties, the court, in most instances, will decide the issue on the question of fact, whether the people of the communities come in before the court and say this is a good thing for the community, or it is a bad thing for the community. That is not law, that is common sense, and that is all this says.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, to get back to my question, I am concerned with questions of law and about the status of the law concerning appeals from the questions of law. Am I not correct in stating that the gentleman voted for 796 and 797?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I am uncertain as to whether I did or not. I would have to review the record. But that would not be material to this issue because they are two different issues.

Mr. FINEMAN. Well, I think the gentleman did vote for the bills and I assume he would not have cast his vote in that manner if he did not feel that they were bills that merited our favorable action.

Now is it not a fact that those bills passed overwhelmingly because the Members of this House felt that the appellate procedure was inadequate in that there was not the right to appeal on questions of law?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That may be true but the net result of the passage of these amendments will mean that the bills possibly will be vetoed or will be held up in the Senate.

If you are so confident of the merits of 796 and 797, they can be passed as separate issues in the Senate and examined separately by the Governor to determine whether or not they are meritorious bills.

We should not have omnibus legislation with regard to a moral issue of this character.

Mr. FINEMAN. Well, Mr. Speaker, I would state to the gentleman that if we could impose our thinking on the other Chamber, they very well would pass those bills. However, there is no assurance by any action that has thus far been taken that those bills are ever going to see the light of day.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for that observation. That's what I am afraid of. I am afraid that 796 and 797 may not see the light of day in the Senate and if they are tacked on to Senate Bill 424, skid row legislation, is a dead issue in 1959.

The gentleman from Philadelphia has given the most cogent reasons why we should vote against these amendments.

I thank the gentleman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have several observations to make.

Number one, I am deeply concerned—amazement is a more proper word, I would say—by the fact that the gentleman from Allegheny is so concerned about the Members of this House standing four-square behind the Governor's program. I certainly wish he would have manifested that type of cooperative attitude at other times during the Session. But be that as it may, I would say to the gentleman that I am as concerned about the skid row problem as is Mr. Goldstein or as is any other Member of this House, and I would in no way entertain any legislation that would detract from the purpose or the spirit of Senate Bill 424.

Now 424 has wide implications. As was stated by Mr. Petrosky, this just does not affect skid rows; it affects every licensee, be it in a residential district or be it in a skid row area throughout the 67 counties of the Commonwealth.

I do not think it behooves us in any way to limit the right of anyone to have a fair day in court, and a fair day in court includes the right for appeal, the right to have a court consider not only questions of fact but questions of law.

The reason we passed 796 and 797 was to perfect this right of appeal, to perfect or to allow a licensee who has been aggrieved by a decision to take his reasons to a higher court and have that higher court determine not only questions of fact but questions of law.

This body, this House, overwhelmingly voted for those bills. Merely by attaching these amendments to 424 does not in any way cloud the issue or cloud what we are seeking to accomplish by 424. We are not impinging upon the spirit of 424 whatsoever, but on the other hand we are doing what we can to insure that every licensee is going to have a fair day in court.

I earnestly beseech the Members of this House to vote for the amendments to 424 just as they voted for 796 and 797.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I believe the case for my amendments has been so aptly put that I should not pass this by without remarking on some of the assertions that have been made by opponents to these amendments.

I am also very much amazed and I am sure that possibly the Chairman of the Committee that handled the legislation is amazed.

Everyone in this House, in the Liquor Control Board, in the Governor's Office certainly knew that I have been an advocate of the appeals amendments and at no time did anyone indicate to me in any manner, shape or form whatsoever that the bill would be vetoed or the bill would not be acceptable with those amendments.

I can only refer you to the remarks of the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz and Mr. Fineman, and say to them that this is good, sound legislation with the amendment attached to it. Senate Bill 424 has not been harmed whatsoever it is intact. I ask the membership of the House to support the amendments that I offer.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to differ with my colleagues from Philadelphia, but they may know, and as I certainly know, the bill that we have before us is one among a list of bills which we feel is necessary for Philadelphia.

Some of the Members of this House, may feel that this is not a skid row bill but applies generally to licensees throughout the state, but as far as we are concerned, as far as the city administration of Philadelphia is concerned, this is a skid row bill.

We sit here day by day; we discuss these matters among the membership of the House; we talk to members in the Senate and I feel that I am not alone when I express the thought that many members of the other Chamber are perhaps unhappy with this bill as it has been passed.

I do not want to risk the possibility that we may amend this bill and find that we cannot come out of this Session with a bill on the subject. This bill is so important to Philadelphia that I think it essential that this bill pass today as it is without the amendments.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to remind the gentlemen in the event the amendments are adopted here by the House, the bill then would be returned to the Senate and they would have to pass upon the amendments or non-concur and then it would go into conference.

There is no such issue as skid row legislation being a dead issue. The only issue that prevails here is this, there is sufficient administrative action in Senate Bill 424 to eliminate skid rows, but there is, too, a fair and equitable shake for every aggrieved litigant. I ask the Members to vote for the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. Goldstein and Gailey and were as follows:

BILL NO. 263

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 263, Printer's No. 1223, entitled:

"An Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, exempting income taxes on persons and corporations from requirement of uniformity."

was passed finally Monday, August 10, 1959, be reconsidered.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Wheeler vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 11, by inserting after "marines": "and the General Assembly may, by general laws, set up standards and qualifications for private forest reserves, and making special provision for the taxation thereof."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair wishes to acknowledge the presence in the Hall of the House today of a former Member of this House during the 1933 Session, the gentleman from Allegheny County, Hon. James K. Ruby.

The Chair welcomes the gentleman and hopes he enjoys his visit with us today.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCann.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1057, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 2, 1929 (P. L. 1513) entitled as amended "An act regulating the construction equipment maintenance operation and inspection of boilers and unfired pressure vessels * * *" clarifying certain provisions deleting certain definitions and expanding certain exemptions from the act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Messrs. MAXWELL and AGNEW asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 5, page 6, line 7, by inserting after "act": "This act shall not apply to any person regularly employed on a wage or salary basis (1) to maintain, but not install or remove, water or sewage facilities on the premises of his employer exclusively; (2) by a publicly or privately owned public utility to install, repair or remove facilities owned by the employer and used in furnishing public utility service; or (3) to install new water-heating devices."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. These are similar to the amendments offered a few weeks ago in this Session, and I ask your consideration in voting against the amendments. I also ask for a slow roll call on the amendments.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, as one of the sponsors of this bill and one of the sponsors of these amendments, I would like to explain them briefly for the benefit of the membership.

The bill as presented is perhaps a little too harsh in its application. We who have sponsored this bill believe these amendments are necessary to make it a more reasonable law when finally enacted.

What these amendments do is exempt from the application of the act employes of hotels, schools, hospitals, public institutions and such buildings, all those on a wage or salary who perform plumbing-like work exclusively on the premises of their employer. Also, it excludes employes of publicly owned or privately owned public utility companies. We believe the public utility companies should be permitted to be exempted from this act and that they should be permitted to use their own employes for the installation work which they now do. That is the reason for the amendments. We believe the amendments will make what is now good, the proposed legislation, much better. We believe the amendments are reasonable, and regardless of how the membership might feel about the bill on final enactment, we ask all Members on both sides of the House to support these amendments so that the sponsors of the bill can get the bill in the form they want for final passage.

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the Parliamentarian give a ruling on these amendments. Since they were defeated here a few weeks ago, and the intent is the same, I would like to know if they should be offered here.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has in its possession a letter from the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau which I believe will answer the gentleman's question.

As you know we have prepared for you at different times sets of amendments to House Bills 1058 and 1059 relating to the same subject matter which is covered in the amendments as herein submitted. This set of amendments is different from any of the others, and if these were to be adopted the others should not be as they are to some extent conflicting with these.

It is signed by the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Does the gentleman insist upon a roll call?

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL. I do, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. J. P. O'DONNELL and HAMILTON and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed Calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1242, entitled:

An Act amending the "Vehicle Code" of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors" increasing penalties for speeding.

It was agreed to recurring,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1242, Printer's No. 1130, was debated at length a few weeks ago. I believe all the Members of the House will recall the very serious debate and the interrogations that have taken place regarding House Bill 1242.

In the 1959 Session we have passed the majority of the Highway Safety package. This is one of those bills. When we have completed this bill and House Bill 1191 which we will amend and agree to, we will have completed one of the outstanding highway safety packages of any state in the Union. This state of ours has been recognized among the states of the Union as having an outstanding highway safety program.

Everything that we can do to help make that program better we certainly must do in an effort to save lives in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I request and ask that every Member who possibly can should support unanimously the Highway Safety package, and House Bill 1242 is one of that package. I hope today we will pass this bill and that we will then have an opportunity to have completed our highway package next week.

I certainly thank the Members of this House and I ask every Member to support this legislative measure.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is regrettable that the majority leadership in this House has not chosen to amend this bill to make it in effect a pure safety package piece of legislation.

As the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, has stated, this bill was thoroughly debated the last time it was before this House and I do not intend to debate the matter again. I merely want to say again that since the majority leadership chose to incorporate into one of the bills of the so-called highway safety program this problem of dividing the increased fines between the state and the local municipalities, I, for one, no longer consider it a pure highway safety program bill.

We are faced today with precisely the same problem we were faced with last week. I urged that the bill be defeated last week for the reasons then stated, and I again urge that this bill be defeated until we have before us a pure highway safety bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, a few weeks ago when we debated 1242, I think the record will bear out that in that debate the bill was amended in which the fines are divided between the state and the local municipality, as the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, has stated.

But I believe also the record will show that at that time we said then, or rather I said then, and I repeat today, that we are not for speed mills in Pennsylvania and when all the fines go to the political subdivisions there are within this Commonwealth areas in which there is nothing more than speedtraps, fine mills, which do not have a darned thing to do with highway safety.

If ever anything needed to be corrected within the borders of this Commonwealth, it is the political subdivisions who operate speed mills and speed fines solely for the purpose of raising revenue that was never intended to be used in that manner.

House Bill 1242, by dividing the money, one-half of it to the state, and the original amount as now involved to the political subdivision doesn't take away a thing from the political subdivision but doesn't help to encourage the so-called speed trap areas that are in existence.

As I mentioned that day in the debate, I think you will find that the automobile clubs of Pennsylvania have listed at various times these speed areas in Pennsylvania where the fine mills are in existence.

If it were within my power, as the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, well knows, I would eliminate every single one of them if the legislation could be passed to do that, and I would do it just as fast as this House and the Senate could do that very thing.

This is a difference of opinion regarding that section of the bill which was an additional amendment to 1242. I submit in support of this measure as we debated it a few weeks ago, that this is one of the major reasons the fines are divided between the Commonwealth and the political subdivisions.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is beyond my comprehension how we are going to do in this bill anything to discourage the deplorable conditions wherever they exist with respect to speed traps or fining mills.

The political subdivisions under this bill will get precisely the same amount of money that they are getting under present law, namely $10. Now how this is going to discourage them from continuing to get their $10 is a bit beyond my comprehension. It is true they will not get $20 but they are still going to get the same $10. If it was profitable to have a speed trap under existing law, it will be just as profitable to the political subdivisions to continue to have that speed trap. Agreeably, they will not make $20, but they will still make the same $10.

I would also call to the attention of this House the situation existing in Philadelphia County where the entire fine continues to go to the city and not to the state, another inequity which in my opinion should be corrected.

I would just like to add in conclusion that I am very favorable to correcting the situation created by speed traps, but I say again this bill and this occasion is not the time to do it.

Mr. McCANN. Would the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that one of his oppositions to this bill was the fact that the fines were divided?

Mr. BOWMAN. It is, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. If I understood the gentleman correctly, Mr. Speaker, then if the bill were amended so that the fines all went to the political subdivisions, would that be encouraging or hindering the speed mills in operation now?

Mr. BOWMAN. I have already said it might encourage it and would result, if they all went to the political subdivisions in an increased amount of money going to them. However, the mere fact that they are still getting $10 is not going to discourage them from it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, consent to sponsor legislation with me that would remove all the money from those who operate such speed fine areas?

Mr. BOWMAN. I am not sure that I completely understand the question. However, I will say without reservation that I will sponsor any legislation which is designed to and which will result in the elimination of speed traps by any local police force or state police force, for that matter.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, is first an attorney, second, he for years was one of the finest writers of legislation in the Legislative Reference Bureau, and I ask him with his wisdom to help me write that legislation and co-sponsor it.

Mr. BOWMAN. That is the type of statement one cannot answer.

I would be pleased to sit down with our learned Majority Leader. I would be pleased to study the problem with care with him, and with the aid of his very able assistance I think we could come up with some legislation which would help in this problem. I hereby unqualifiedly agree to cooperate with him.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I am sure after we have all this mutual admiration, the two gentlemen can get together.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Dauphin. May I then appeal to him publicly to support this legislation and to help me to write the other legislation which will do the very thing he talks about.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I merely wish to elaborate on the statement made by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman.

Whether you have this bill or whether you try and rewrite a bill along the lines suggested by the Majority Leader, you still will have the inequities because of the constitutional provision with reference to all fines collected in the city of Philadelphia.

Article 5, Section 13, says "All fees, fines and penalties in said courts"—from magistrates' courts in Philadelphia—"shall be paid into the county treasury." Now you either will pay them all to the local subdivisions if you want to get uniformity in the 67 counties, or you are going to pass laws that will apply only to 66 counties and leave one county all the gravy.

Mr. McCANN. A few weeks ago the same gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, brought up the same question. He is well qualified, and knows that I cannot change the Constitution in this bill. There is no question, for the record, as I stated then, that in the great city of Philadelphia all of the fines remain there in the future.

I say again that the question of Philadelphia's fine money is not the question involved in this legislation, that there are 66 other counties who are just as interested in legislation, and the Constitution does not provide that they receive all of this money in this manner.

I ask that the Members support this legislation and pass this package today.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that if this bill were not amended so as to provide for the splitting of the fines, the gentleman would be in favor of the bill?

Mr. BOWMAN. Absolutely.

Mr. FINEMAN. And do I understand further that would be his position because this would then be a true safety responsibility bill?

Mr. BOWMAN. Correct.

Mr. FINEMAN. And do I understand further that the gentleman therefore subscribes to the view that increased fines are in fact a deterrent to speed violators?

Mr. BOWMAN. Certainly, to a certain extent.

Mr. FINEMAN. Now the gentleman also takes the position, does he not, that such things as fining mills are improper and should be discouraged?

Mr. BOWMAN. Indeed, I do.

Mr. FINEMAN. Is it not a fact that if we were to provide for all of the fine money to go to the local municipality that then would encourage fining mills?

Mr. BOWMAN. It would perhaps encourage them. If you think by leading me in cross-examination I will come around to conclusions you think I will agree with, you are wrong.

Mr. FINEMAN. Well, I do not know whether you will conclude as I want you to conclude, but thus far your answers have all been in the affirmative, and the Members will draw their own conclusions.

Mr. BOWMAN. That is correct.

Mr. FINEMAN. Now is it not a fact that these two positions you accept as being your positions are in fact in conflict with each other?

Mr. BOWMAN. Not at all; they are consistent.

Mr. FINEMAN. Well, if you were to provide that all the fine money went to the local municipalities, although you are labeling the bill as a safety responsibility bill, would you not be encouraging fining mills?

Mr. BOWMAN. To the extent that you are encouraging them to increase their activities, yes. But I have said before that the proper place to remedy that situation is not in a highway safety program bill; it is in other legislation to cure, if we can, and I think we can, this problem of speed traps and fining mills.

Mr. FINEMAN. Is it not a fact that this bill does not intend to cure that problem, but on the contrary does make the seriousness of the problem even greater than it is presently? In other words, if this bill had language in it that was specifically directed at the problem of fining mills, then I would say your position is correct, but this bill does not do that. All this bill seeks to accomplish is to prevent the greater growth of fining mills. Is that not so?

Mr. BOWMAN. That is so.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, maybe this is false hope, but I think that interrogation developed what I wanted to develop.

I just want to add by way of closing and in reply to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, that assuming for purposes of argument there is an inequity in that Philadelphia will get all of the fine money, I certainly would suggest to his thinking that there is hardly a piece of legislation that goes through this House that is equally applicable to all peoples. No matter how beneficial legislation may be for most people, in its application you will find instances where it is inequitable in its application. Now simply because there do exist inequities here and there, I say to you, assuming there is an inequity in that Philadelphia is getting all the fine money, that in itself is not sufficient reason why we should toss away a bill that seeks to save life and property.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will one of the sponsors of the bill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will recall, there was a six man committee appointed in this House that worked on all these bills, three Democrats and three Republican Members. If the gentleman will recall, at the time of the debate Mr. Fineman answered most of the questions, I was wondering if he would consent to interrogate Mr. Fineman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FINEMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if the class of drivers known as juveniles, those under 18 years of age, would come under this Act, or any other amendment to the Vehicle Code that we have passed this Session, for that matter?

Mr. FINEMAN. This bill says that any person violating the Act shall be subject to its provisions. I would assume that that includes juveniles.

Mr. AUKER. Would the gentleman tell me that he is not aware that juveniles are subject only to and come under the exclusive jurisdiction of the juvenile courts of this state?

Mr. FINEMAN. I do not agree with the gentleman that there is exclusive jurisdiction in the juvenile courts. A magistrate may hold a minor for the juvenile court. As a matter of fact that is generally the practice.

Mr. AUKER. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

I cannot agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia. One of the main objections I have had to the amendments to the Vehicle Code that have been offered here, this bill and other amendments that have been offered at this Session to the Vehicle Code, is that they do not cover juveniles under 18 years of age. There is a special bill in to do that. It has not been reported out of Committee. I have been reliably informed that the police departments all over this state are crying for the bill, but for some reason or other it is not reported out. That is one of the main reasons why I am voting against all of these bills, because it is not bringing under this so-called safety package a big class of violators.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, for the record, and to clarify the information the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, has given to the House, this is an amendment to the Vehicle Code. At the present time the law is a ten dollar fine for speeding, plus costs, and an operator of a vehicle who may be 16 years of age or 17, not having reached his 18th birthday, is brought before the justice of the peace or the magistrate and found guilty of the violation of speeding, is fined ten dollars and costs. This the Vehicle Code defines clearly. Now, if this is not so and is not correct, then all of the justices of the peace of Pennsylvania who have prosecuted in any way all of these licensed operators who were faced with this charge, the charge of speeding, which I believe used to be called 1002-A in the old Code, then were they illegally prosecuting all of these people on the charge of speeding and the fines they paid when they plead guilty to this charge.

This amendment to the Code I do not believe distinguishes that charge. The bill, or the proposed legislation, that the gentleman is talking about, of course, would place them in another category. I do not believe the House has acted on such legislation yet in this Session.

Mr. DENNISON. I would like permission to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN, I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman correctly when he made the statement that he would be willing to co-sponsor legislation for the distribution of fines?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, you understand me very clearly that I would be in favor of not only co-sponsoring, but asking the gentleman from Dauphin to assist me in writing a bill which would take away all the money from all the speed mills, every blessed cent. I am sure he is capable of helping write that legislation. I could only sign my name as a sponsor, because I am not capable of writing it. But I certainly know what I would like to do, and hope this House would pass it.

Mr. DENNISON. I thank the gentleman. I would also like to ask the gentleman if he would lend the influence, of his office, of course, to a bill sponsored by the gentleman from Elk and myself, doing just the thing that you want done, and which was committed on August 3.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill that was recommended on August 3, was the bill that removed from political subdivisions all over the Commonwealth all of the fine money under various sections of the Code. This bill took away all of the money whether there was any speed mill involved at all. It removed completely all the money.

There are many areas, as the gentleman from Jefferson well knows, where there are no fine mills in operation; perhaps in his county there are none. But, if you look at the AAA list you will find many of them. I would like to know how we can write legislation that when they do operate these speed mills, the money could be taken away. It is not the intent to remove instantly all of the money, as was outlined in the bill that was recommended, sir.

Mr. DENNISON. Does the gentleman have a better suggestion for controlling speed traps?

Mr. McCANN. You know quite well, Mr. Speaker, that I do not have any. I do not want to hurt those who do an honest, efficient job, but I would like to eliminate the speed mill so fast it would not be funny. I need the advice and sound legislative help of the gentleman who can draft that legislation. The gentleman's bill removed everything regardless.

Mr. DENNISON. It removed the fines in certain sections where the enforcement was primarily the responsibility of the state.

Mr. McCANN. Yes, the bill exactly that. It removed certain sections of fines under the Motor Code, and shifted the fine money from the political subdivision to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENNISON. Well then, would the gentleman be willing to report that bill with proper amendments to accomplish the purpose which he . . .

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is out of order. The bill before the House is House Bill 1242. Printer's No. 1130.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in discussing . . .

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I believe both gentlemen are out of order in the interrogation and also in the answers.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, perhaps we were both out of order, and I will certainly concur that we got off the subject, but just so the gentleman will have no misunderstanding, since we are discussing House Bill 1242, and the question has come up about 1242, I would be most pleased to report the bill from that committee that would help 1242, that would do that very thing.

Mr. DENNISON. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to comment very briefly on the nature of the objection that was raised by my friend, Mr. Auker.

His objection, if you will recall, went to the fact that the bill did not encompass the violations of this Act by minors.

His objection reminded me of a funny incident that happened in this House in 1955. In that year I had sponsored a bill which was at first statewide in its application.

Because of some objection that had been conveyed to me by Members on the other side I amended the bill so as to restrict it in its application to cities of the first class. When the bill came up on the floor for debate, one of my learned colleagues from Allegheny County got up and said I am against this bill. I asked him on interrogation, why are you against the bill? He said if this bill is good enough for Philadelphia it is good enough for the whole state.

That is exactly the class into which the objection that Mr. Aufer raises fall into. If in fact the bill has merit and if the bill is taking us up the right street by way of curing this flagrant violation of our speeding laws, then merely because it does not go far enough, merely because it does not travel the whole road, is no reason to cut down this bill. If it is a step in the right direction, let us put it on our statute books and perhaps we can bring in these flagrant violators who fall within the 17 and 18 year bracket.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, just a word on the subject here. It was my understanding, of course, and I certainly would not want the public to feel that this statement that Mr. Aufer made is representative, and I am trying to signify here the impact of that statement in the event it would get out into public print, on the drivers between the ages of 16 and 18, in the event that they felt they could not be prosecuted for violation of the vehicle code because of being juveniles. I am just wondering whether they would not run amuck on our highways. It is my personal observation and in being advised by legal men, not of course on the floor of the House, that juveniles are prosecuted and are arraigned before magistrates under the Vehicle Code.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. TOMPKINS, and HOCKER.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 648, entitled:

An Act amending "The Divorce Law" approved May 2, 1929 (P. L. 1237) enlarging the scope of divorce and annulment proceedings and decrees and orders in relation thereto.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 19), page 8, line 4 by inserting after "officers" "at an annual salary of not less than seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7500)"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy, for they would place into this particular piece of legislation a statutory minimum ceiling on payment of salary for a specific office and within the bill and there is no part of this piece of legislation which defines any salary.

For that reason, in keeping this Joint State Government package, 648 and 649, I rise to oppose this particular amendment.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Majority Leader and I would also ask the Members on this side of the aisle to vote against the amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 953, Printer's No. 1083; was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1059, entitled:

An Act relating to licensing of persons engaged in plumbing creating a State Plumbing Board in the Department of Public Instruction prescribing its powers and duties and those of local governments with respect thereto.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Messrs. MAXWELL and AGNEW asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 8, page 9, line 3, by inserting after "home": This act shall not apply to any person regularly employed on a wage or salary basis (1) to maintain, but not install or remove, water or sewage facilities on the premises of his employer exclusively; (2) by a publicly or privately owned public utility to install, repair or remove facilities owned by the employer and used in furnishing public utility service; or (3) to install new water-heating devices."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCANN. These amendments are the same type amendments as to 1058, and I would request that the House take the same roll call as on amendments to 1058. The two are companion bills.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1450, Printer's No. 1286;
was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1528, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (P. L. ) No. 32 providing for the issuance of registration plates for suburban motor vehicles and prescribing the fee thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 102), page 4, line 2 by inserting after "usable" "and used"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 102), page 4, line 4 by inserting after "wagons" "Any such motor vehicle used exclusively as a passenger vehicle shall for all purposes be deemed to be a passenger motor vehicle."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the bill as presently drawn creates a new class of motor vehicle registration known as a suburban motor vehicle class and that class is created whether or not this suburban motor vehicle is a station wagon and also I believe other types of vehicles which I will point out when the bill is considered.

This provides that all station wagons must be registered and pay a 20 percent additional license fee above that for passenger vehicles, whether or not the station wagon is used for a dual purpose, that is, for commercial and passenger, or whether or not it is used only for passenger purposes. This amendment would continue the class created in this bill of suburban motor vehicle, which is a vehicle used for a dual commercial and passenger purpose, but the amendment would also provide that any passenger station wagon used exclusively for passengers will pay a passenger registration fee.

I believe this amendment will correct a number of the evils or defects in the present law that the bill tries to correct. It will correct it in this way. It will provide that a person, for example, a travelling salesman, who may want to use his car to haul his wares around during the week and may want to use it for his family on week ends, will be able to get a suburban plate. That means that he will then be able to drive at the ordinary passenger speed limits; he will be able to go on the toll roads; he will not be subject to a commercial inspection and so on. In other words, that will be a dual-purpose vehicle used for a dual purpose.

However, for a person who has a station wagon, and I believe we will see a great number of them in Pennsylvania—I believe 15 percent of all motor vehicles being manufactured today are station wagons—it will provide that persons who use them for their own private personal use in hauling their children around, I might add, to a great extent, will only have to pay the same license fee that their neighbor pays who may have a Cadillac. It will not make that person pay an additional $2.00. I think the bill will create a classification that is fair and reasonable and will correct the evils that are trying to be corrected. I ask all the Members to support this amendment.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, of course, do precisely what he explained. The bill as presently on the calendar does the very same thing he is talking about, except the automobile part. It creates a suburban class. Therefore, while this class pays $2.00 more than the ordinary license fee, those who are now in a commercial class would pay the same fee of $12.00. Therefore, they would not be subject to commercial inspections, would not have to abide by commercial rulings as now exist regarding speed limits, would fall into the passenger car speed limits which are used in business, for example, or for dual purpose, if you want to put it that way.

In this bill, the fee would be $2.00 more than whatever the license fee may be at any time. It is now $10.00, for example; it would be $12.00, or $2.00 more. There is no question, as the gentleman so graciously asserted, that a man who owns a Cadillac only pays $10.00 in Pennsylvania, and perhaps if he owned a little Ford or Chevrolet station wagon, which would be suburban, he would pay $12.00. That is right.

In trying to find uniformity in a situation I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, in which this bill would place them in a category and they would help to pay within the fund. I believe it is right about 15 percent or thereabouts are station wagons in the class that would be the suburban class in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Therefore they would pay $2.00 more than they pay now for their present license. I ask that we oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, just a brief word to say that I believe in 1958 there were approximately 25,000 station wagons that were registered in the commercial class, and approximately 400,000 that were not.

What you are doing, if this amendment is not carried, will be to include in this bill, as it is presently drawn, approximately 400,000, although there are no absolutely accurate figures available, approximately 400,000 passenger station wagons, which I say is a very unfair thing to the average person who does not use his passenger station wagon for commercial purposes.

The SPEAKER. How does the gentleman from Delaware desire that this shall be determined; by division? or roll call?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong this but I would suggest that we have a division and see how close it is.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, more than a majority of the Members having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill or the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall be pleased to be interrogated.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I call the gentleman's attention to page 4 of the bill where it defines a suburban motor vehicle and states, "Every passenger motor vehicle with a convertible or interchangeable body usable for both passenger and commercial purposes."

I would like to ask the gentleman if this is intended to include the type of vehicle which is registered now as a half-ton truck, which has a front seat finished as a passenger vehicle and is used as a passenger vehicle and as a commercial vehicle?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the answer is, no.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Does the gentleman not agree that under that definition which I read that would be included as a suburban vehicle?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the 1958 models when they first came out were the type of vehicle that the gentleman is speaking about, which is very popular for small stores and in certain phases of small business. When we inquired this definition pertains to what you and I commonly call a station wagon, and I believe that we cannot disagree that a station wagon covers the vehicle that we know to be that type of vehicle as defined and not the truck that the gentleman is speaking of, the little half-ton commercial now licensed as a half-ton commercial vehicle.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I will not prolong the interrogation on that point.

I will ask the gentleman another question and that is, whether this bill as presently drawn would require the owners of the very small station wagons that are now coming on the market, such as the new ones being put out by the Big Three and the small foreign station wagons to be registered as suburban vehicles would it require them to pay an extra $2?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if the new vehicles and the foreign vehicles about which the gentleman is talking will be a small type station wagon, the answer is, yes.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I will speak very briefly on this.

I covered most of the points I wanted to make when I debated the amendments. I think this a very unfair bill in discriminating against the average person who uses the station wagon for passenger purposes. According to the figures that have been given to me, there were in 1958, 3,506,224 motor vehicles registered in Pennsylvania, and that figure is probably higher today.

At that time, in 1958, the latest figures of the Department of Revenue had indicated that approximately 15 percent of the vehicles being manufactured today were station wagons. What that means is this: it means that under this bill some 425,935 vehicles in Pennsylvania are station wagons, and that is flexible. It may be more or it may be less. Of those, only 25,000 are registered commercially. So that in round figures this will mean an increase per year of $800,000 in license tags or $1,600,000 for the biennium. And that money is going to be paid, as I have indicated, by people who today use these vehicles for private passenger purposes. I think it is very unfair.

The way to correct the situation, I think, is by the amendments that I suggested, and also by other amendments to the Motor Vehicle Code which will permit station wagons to use the roads that other vehicles use even though they are registered commercially.

I think it is a very unfair thing to the people back home who in a great many instances are people with fairly large families who buy these vehicles to transport their children and families, to make them pay 20 percent more than somebody else who does not have a station wagon.

I agree that there are certain difficulties that should be corrected, but I say the bill is a discriminatory way to do it. It seems to me that it would be very difficult back home to face your neighbor who has a station wagon and several children, who does not use it commercially and tell him that he must pay $2 more than anybody else.

I ask all the Members to vote against this bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, is also aware that there are 25,000 now licensed in the commercial class. I think all he would have to do is to check into his own community or mine and find that there are hundreds of them who by right should be licensed as commercial, using the vehicle in both ways, connected somewhat partly with their business, very, very small business, and also hauling their families.

The main thing that this does is to eliminate confusion. It helps these small people in the small industries, small businesses, and these are mighty small people, and also those people who own station wagons who are not in business. It places them all in the suburban class, which gives them all the same rights at an increase of $2.

I think this is good legislation and we should all support it.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. I should like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that you are penalizing the station wagon owner when I can load anything I want in my private car, as a salesman or as a person?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman says is true. He can haul anything in his automobile that he can possibly haul. We will say he is a doctor or some type of businessman or a tradesman with some of the tools he may haul in his truck—

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Say I am a grocer or say I am a hardware dealer delivering supplies from my store in my car.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman says is true. He can deliver groceries or any other item in his automobile and I am sure that many do.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Then, why penalize the station wagon owner because he owns a station wagon, unless it is proven it is purely for commercial purposes?

Mr. McCANN. This is not going to penalize anyone. In a way this will help to eliminate confusion. You will admit that they can haul a little more in a station wagon than can be hauled in their car.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Well, that may be true, but I do not think the volume of merchandise or whatever is put in the car is particularly important. It is the fact that you are using your pleasure car the same as you are using the station wagon, for commercial purposes, you might say.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the gentleman is aware that many automobiles are used almost entirely, if you want to call it that, for commercial purposes. We will say 90 percent of the time they are used for commercial purpose and, of course, they are not subject to any type of commercial license, just the automobile license plate.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Then why penalize the station wagon?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, again I repeat, we are not trying to penalize the station wagon owners of Pennsylvania, only trying to eliminate confusion and I believe this will be helpful to an awful lot of people in Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, could you amend the bill to make it only cover station wagons that are used commercially, strictly commercial? Could you not amend the bill so as to make it apply only to station wagons that are used especially in commercial work?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that is just what we defeated in the amendments a minute ago.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, says by this bill they are not trying to penalize the station wagon owners. In my opinion, that is just exactly what they are doing. There are about 400 thousand of them in the state of Pennsylvania. I think this is a bad bill and I urge everyone to vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the House that from here on all we will do is amend the bills that are agreed to, non controversial, and clear the table. All those who want to go on will certainly want to get away. Some of them have engagements and they have not eaten for a good while. I hope this will meet with their approval.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1597 on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1597, entitled:

An Act amending the "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" approved March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228) requiring persons who distribute catalogs and other advertising material and by reason thereof accept orders for merchandise from residence of this Commonwealth to be licensed and file returns.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. O'DELL asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title; page 2 first to third lines of Title, by striking out "requiring" in last line, page 1 and all of the first three lines, page 2 and inserting "redefining the term "maintaining a place of business in this Commonwealth" to include therein persons soliciting orders within this Commonwealth in connection with the sale, lease or delivery of certain personal property to or the performance thereon of certain services for residents of this Commonwealth by means of catalogues or other advertising; and conferring powers and imposing duties upon such persons"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 301.1), page 2, lines 1 to 15; page 3, lines 1 to 11, by striking out all of said lines

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 501), page 3, lines 12 to 19, by striking out all of said lines and inserting

"Section 1 Clause (b) of section 2, act of March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228), known as the "Selective Sales and Use Tax, Act" amended April 15, 1959 (P. L. 20) is amended by adding at the end thereof a new subclause to read:

"Section 2 Definitions.—The following words, terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

"(b) "Maintaining a place of business in this Commonwealth."

(3) Regularly or substantially soliciting orders within this Commonwealth in connection with the lease, sale or delivery of tangible personal property to, or the performance thereon of services for residents of this Commonwealth, by means of catalogues or other advertising whether such orders are accepted within or without this Commonwealth."

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, August 12, 1959

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

O Thou great Eternal God and Father of us all, we come to Thee this morning hour as humble children of Thine seeking to know and do Thy will. We humbly pray that Thou wilt make us obedient, observing, and objective. Call us we pray to listen to that which is true and right, and ever keep us following Thy guidance; awaken within us the truths of life, and always enable us to see the opportunities of service which confront us day by day; and challenge us with the goals and aims of Thy Divine Will, and eternally direct us in accomplishing great results for Thee; so that Thy kingdom may come and Thy will may be done on earth as it is in heaven: through Jesus Christ, Thy dear Son, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, August 11, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE ON MEMORIALS

Messrs. McCANN and A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 12, 1959.

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a Select Committee on Memorials, consisting of six Members of the House of Representatives, to fix a time and arrange a suitable program for Memorial Services in memory of the Members of this House of Representatives who have died during the Session of 1959.

MEMBER OF OHIO GENERAL ASSEMBLY WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. We have as our guest today a Member of the Ohio General Assembly, the Honorable Michael A. Sweeney, who is one of the representatives of Cuyahoga County.

By reading the papers I understand that in the Ohio General Assembly they generally have a calendar on which there are not more than twelve bills, that when the House convenes all of the Members are invariably in their seats and only death or disaster can keep them away, and that there never, never, never is the slightest trace of disorder. I only know that from reading the papers. The Member from Ohio, Mr. Sweeney, did not tell me that, but he is here and I have asked him to favor us with a few remarks.

The Honorable Michael A. Sweeney, from Cleveland.

REMARKS BY HON. MICHAEL A. SWEENEY

Mr. SWEENEY. Mr. Andrews and Members of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, I want to say one thing to leave with you, one thing to impress upon you, that I am here as an individual and not as an official representative of the Ohio General Assembly. My wife, family and I are on our way through. We took a chance that you were in Session and were greeted very hospitably. The Leadership here is certainly the kind you would want in every state capitol. They are most kind.

A few thoughts on what strikes me as I gaze about the House here; your Assembly is, of course, much larger than the Ohio Assembly. We have 139 Members in the Ohio House and 33 Senators. We have a Democratic Governor, Governor Michael DeSalle, and, as a Democrat, I prophesy that Mike DeSalle will become perhaps one of the finest Governors in the history of Ohio.

We have a Democratic majority in the Ohio House and a Democratic majority in the Ohio Senate, and I certainly take exception to what Mr. Andrews has stated about non-controversial Sessions. We Democrats fight like a pack of cats, believe me.

We have completed our Session which we started the first Monday in January. We finished up on the 24th day of July. We do come back this Friday under sine die to attempt to override, if it seems feasible, some 12 vetoes that the Governor saw fit to place upon our bills.

One of the difficulties of addressing a group like this, and I know it happened a few years back in Ohio, is that in making remarks I might inadvertently favor one side or the other in the very heated contest now going on on the floor. Believe me, any remarks I make now are purely in ignorance of any current issue.

We in the House introduced somewhere around a thousand bills, perhaps eleven hundred. In the Senate they introduced somewhere around three or four hundred bills, a total of some fifteen hundred bills. About three hundred bills will eventually see their way to the Governor's desk. Out of about three hundred bills he has seen fit to veto approximately twelve so far.

We in Ohio have an automatic roll call, so that when the Speaker calls us to attention after the debate has ceased he will ask, "Are you prepared to vote?" Then we will vote by means of a "Yea" or "Nay" button on our desk, and on each side wall there is a large score board with our names, a red light and a green light, the green meaning that we are voting for a bill, the red light for voting against the bill. The Speaker will ask, "Have all voted?" Then he will signify to the Clerk to press an automatic tabulating mechanism. The votes are recorded in the time of about two or three seconds, and we will know immediately what the vote is that is registered. In the Ohio House we need 70 votes to pass a bill, in the Sena'e there is the necessity of having 17 votes, one over the bare majority.

Our problems are similar to yours. I was reading the paper here today and I thought I was reading the Columbus, Ohio, paper—Gasoline taxes, school problems. We from the big city and county were sending down too much money and not bringing back enough. We have that fight every year. We put two cents on gasoline raising it from five to seven, two cents on cigarettes. We tripled our corporate franchise tax. We Democrats think we had a good reason for doing that.

Briefly, during the war years our Governor Lausche, who was a Democrat, built up a surplus of some $200 million. The money was designated for building, but because of lack of facilities certain buildings could not be built in Ohio and a surplus was built up. There was little or no poor relief, times were good. During the latter part of his administration and during Governor O'Neill's administration the income was far below the expenses of the state. Governor Lausche did not see fit to levy new taxes, neither did Governor O'Neill, and the surplus was gradually eaten up so that when Mike De Salle came into office, like Mother Hubbard's cupboard, it was quite bare. He had a minus $13 million to work on. Therefore, like yourselves, he had to do an unpopular thing and levy necessary taxes for the minimum requirements of the state.

I gaze down at you and I do not envy you. We are through. We are on vacation. I look at your haggard faces, your haggard eyes. You are tired, you are on edge, you are ready to fight with your best friend. I do not envy you. I can only hope that you readily and quickly bring this Session to a close and that after it is over you will realize one thing, that if your favorite bill gets beat, it is the will of the majority, it should have gotten beat. It was premature, perhaps. It was no good, perhaps. If it is a good one, it will pass. It is hard for me to realize that, but after we get out of the Session for a month or two we suddenly realize that the bill just did not have the weight, the necessity, to pass.

I wish you good luck. I wish you God speed, and that you do hurry home to your families.

Thank you very much.

The SPEAKER. Will Mrs. Sweeney and her interesting family, if they are in the Hall of the House, please rise? They are in the rear of the House. Our thanks, Mr. Sweeney.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, before the gentleman from Ohio leaves our surroundings, I would like to make a few brief remarks.

It is a real pleasure to have Mr. Sweeney here with us and to have him see our House in operation. He told you about some of the things they do in Ohio, and I think I would like to tell you a couple of other things they do out there from which perhaps we could take a lesson.

Number one, they allow no visitors on the floor of the House of Representatives. All the visitors must sit in the gallery.

They permit one thing that I do not agree with and I am sure you will not either. They permit the members of the Press to circulate among the Members of the House and sit beside them if necessary.

The SPEAKER. Never, no never.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the reason I rise is to tell a little experience I had just two years ago, when I was Speaker of this House.

I had an occasion, for business reasons, to visit the city of Columbus. I found out when I was there that the Legislature was in Session, so I took the liberty of introducing myself to the Chief Clerk and to the Speaker of the House, sending my card down from the gallery that I was present. I had two or three visits from the Sergeant-at-Arms. He came to my seat in the balcony about three different times during my short stay there, and he asked me during the little talk we had if I had any type of a card of identification to prove that I was a Member of Representatives of Pennsylvania. Unfortunately, even though I had been Speaker here, I did not have with me the type of card I had signed for every Member of this House. However I did have the card that was signed by the gentleman from Cambria in the 1955 Session when he was Speaker, and I gave that card to him. He took it down to the Speaker of the House, Speaker Cloud, and in a few minutes he came back to me and said, the Speaker will accept that card, and we would like to have you come to the rostrum and say a few words. Which I did.

The interesting part was this: Following the Session I was trying to find out why they were so very, very careful. They said they had had an experience, I think just a Session or two before, where a person who visited the Capitol of Ohio had identified himself as a Senator from one of the New England States, and they rolled out the red carpet for him. They took him to committee meetings, they let him talk to the chairmen of the various committees, and they just rolled out the red carpet. Two days later they discovered that he was a escapee from a mental institution of one of the New England States.

So, Mr. Speaker, I hope we were not quite so tough on the gentleman from Ohio, Mr. Sweeney. We did not make him identify himself, because I am sure from his discourse from the rostrum this morning he proved without question that he was a Member of the House of Representatives, and I am sure we are happy to have had him with us.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RENWICK from the Committee on Game and Conservation, reported as committed, House Bill 1907, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), clarifying the provisions relating to shooting across or at wild birds or animals on highways.

Mr. MUSTO from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 97.

BILLS RE-REFERRED

Mr. FRANK from the Committee on Game and Conservation, returned with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries, House Bill No. 488, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law," approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), providing for payment for bear damage to field produce by the Department of Agriculture, and making an appropriation.

The SPEAKER. The bill is re-referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries.

Mr. FRANK from the Committee on Game and Conservation, returned with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries, House Bill No. 1826, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), by removing groundhogs from the category of game; and requiring the commission to pay certain bounties from the killing thereof.

The SPEAKER. The bill is re-referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to a resolution adopted Monday, June 15, 1959 the following bills were read the first time:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1907, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), clarifying the provisions relating to shooting across or at wild birds or animals on highways.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed. Now there is an interval open for miscellaneous discussion until the floor leaders prepare the calendar.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that this will be of interest, not only to the Speaker but, I am sure, to both the Majority and Minority Leaders, to Mr. Helm, if he is present, Mrs. Reibman, if she is present, and to others.

From time to time the Speaker, on his own authority, may have seen fit to suggest the appointment of certain committees, suggesting to both sides that they appoint a committee of, say, four on one side and four on the other, to deal with specific problems.

Bear in mind also that we have specific committees in the House. To be more specific, since this does concern one Committee of which I am a member, the Education Committee. I understand the Education Committee has been laboring quite strenuously on various bills and problems, and I am sure the members of the House will deem that Committee quite competent.

I understand, on the other hand, that the other side of the House has seen fit, on their own motion, perhaps deeming that the Democratic side has not appointed certain committees to function or certain Members to function, and to be more specific, —I notice Mr. Helm is quite attentive, and I have suggested to him that perhaps this matter may be brought up in the House or otherwise, and

I think it is a proper matter for discussion—have appointed a four-member committee, or maybe eight members, the number makes no significant difference, to go ahead and request certain Members or certain people, both in professional and business life, to appear before the particular group they have seen fit to appoint.

My point of parliamentary inquiry is this, Mr. Speaker: To what extent can one side or the other, on their own wishes and motion, just because the other side has not seen fit to appoint a particular committee, when there has been no motion on the floor to appoint any particular committee or granted by the Speaker or otherwise, go ahead and request different people to speak, to appear before them, take testimony and then eventually bring it before the House on their own motion? What legal authority and what other authority do they have, and to what extent are their actions bound?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will reply to the gentleman.

First of all, we recognize the authority and function of a party caucus. If a party caucus desires to authorize the functioning of a particular group for a particular purpose, it is, of course, its privilege to do so.

If Members of either party on their own motion, although they have no official status, decide to devote themselves to the consideration of a particular problem, they are entirely within their rights to do so. And if on either side special groups study education, they have a right to invite anybody they want to appear before their group. Of course they would not be endowed with the power of subpoena.

I would say, if on the Speaker's left there are those who are studying particular problems, I welcome their endeavor because in the pursuit of information I don't know any group that needs it more.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I could not agree more fully with any decision you have ever made than the one you made just now.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, brought my name into the discussion, and I presume he is talking about the special committee that the Republican party has on education.

We have appointed in our Republican Caucus a six-man committee to study the various ramifications of House Bill 1108 and any other phase on the educational problems of this Commonwealth.

The thing that apparently so badly upset the Chairman of the Committee on Education, as well as some of the Majority Members of that Committee, was the fact that we happened to be meeting at the same time a meeting was called of the Committee on Education.

With that I cannot find too much fault. I believe they have every right to resent that fact, perhaps, because we were not able to attend the regular Education Committee meeting. However I do take exception to the gentleman from Philadelphia, as the Speaker did. When the day arrives that either party in this House of Representatives cannot appoint a committee to study any problem, I don't care whether it be education, finances, or whatever the problem might be, if that day ever arrives, if we do not have the power in our own caucus to appoint a committee for the sole purpose of gathering information concerning that problem, I shall have no desire to be here. I want to say to you that the people who appear before that committee are there purely and simply by invitation, and all they have to do if they do not want to appear before the committee is to say no, they refuse our invitation.

As the Speaker so ably said, we have no power of subpoena; we have no way of forcing anyone to come to that committee to give us information. But everyone we have invited up until this moment has been very cooperative. They are coming to us voluntarily, they are giving us their information, and the information we are gathering will be of great help not only to the Republican membership of this House but to the entire membership of this House.

We certainly are going to first clear that information with our own caucus. We are not selfish in the matter, we are willing to share the information, and I think it will be of help not only to the Education Committee as such, but to the entire House.

I say to you again, Mr. Speaker, if the time ever arrives when we do not have the authority to have such a meeting in this Legislature of ours, Heaven forbid that I am even a Member of this body. Because we are operating as a democratic type of government, we are privileged to meet and talk with anyone we desire to get the information we want. I have no desire to be a Member of this House if we are not permitted to do that very thing.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the gentleman, Mr. Helm, for his remarks.

I had mentioned to him heretofore that I did not disagree personally with Members meeting together. I have taken it upon myself upon occasion to go ahead and ask people in, but I felt the Members of the House should, in slightly more detail if we are not that well learned in parliamentary procedure, find out to what extent we have the authority.

I do not disagree, as I stated, with Mr. Helm, and I certainly welcome the gentleman's remarks.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STROUP asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for a good many weeks now I have been awaiting some positive developments in this House of Representatives which might point the way to a solution of the serious educational problem that faces our Commonwealth.

On April 6th, 1959, House Bill No. 1108 was placed in the hopper. Since that time the administration has not seen fit to date to pay attention to that bill at all. I would not be speaking upon this matter if Mr. Sherman had not brought the problem of education in this Commonwealth so forthrightly to our attention here this morning by the comments that he has made.

Sometime later, I believe early in the month of June, there was sponsored a bill, House Bill No. 2142, which creates a permanent Legislative Educational Committee designed to work with the State Council of Education as an arm of the Joint State Government Commission in order to try, during the next biennium as a permanent body, to find some solution to this harassing educational problem that faces the Commonwealth. That bill came out and now languishes in the Appropriations Committee.

The point of my remarks, Mr. Speaker, this morning, briefly is just this: I do not see how long either the administration, the Majority Leader, the Speaker or, for that matter, the leadership on this side of the House, can continue to delay some positive action on the problem of education, particularly the financial situation that faces our Fourth Class Districts. I call upon the Speaker, with his long experience and his committed interest in education, I call upon the Majority Leader, I call upon, also, the leadership on this side of the House, to now get to work with due speed and haste to resolve this very serious situation.

I recognize the fact, that there has been seen fit, after a fashion, to designate or earmark a certain $28 million for subsidies in the next biennium for our school districts, and all of us are well aware that it is not only totally inadequate, but it is sophistry that means very little to correct the serious financial problems which these school districts face.

Yes, it is true that when we have tax bills before this House, many of us would readily vote for taxes for the administration if the administration had seen fit in its budget at all to recognize the education crisis that faces these school districts. But the administration's budget provided not one dime to help that situation and, instead, we come up with a program for a budget which ignores it and a tax program which also ignores it. Subsequently, how can those of us who come from the fourth class, school districts be expected to vote to raise money when we know that close to 1200, or at least very close to it, of these Fourth Class School Districts face insolvency.

I had not intended to take the time this morning but I see the Leaders are still working on the calendar. I had not intended to raise this question now, but perhaps to wait another week or so.

Now by reason of the dilatory tactics of this House, and I say so advisely, relative to this serious problem, the Republican Caucus saw fit to appoint a six-man committee to work on House Bill No. 1108 and try to come up with some solution or recommendation to its own caucus, or some suggestion. We do not know what it will be, but we are working on it.

Certainly House Bill No. 1108 should not be kept under wraps in the Education Committee and should by this time have been brought forth for study. I do not criticize that delightfully diminutive young lady who is the Chairman of our Educational Committee, whatsoever. But, there is fallacy some place that keeps this thing under cover.

And so, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of this House, I ask all of you now to get behind a very serious problem and see that we work toward its solution in the very near future. Only a vociferous effort, and the demands of the Members of this House will bring action around to where it comes to a successful fruition before there is an adjournment sine die.

Now, Mr. Speaker, with your permission, briefly, sir, if I may, I should like to turn my attention to another subject.

From time to time my colleagues and I, in this House, have been gratified to receive from the desk of the Speaker, certain priceless epistles which point up matters of interest, call our attention to certain problems that face this House, and while indeed they are the written epistles of the distinguished Speaker, they do not at all times agree with us, nevertheless, we read these epistles with great interest and get a considerable amount of information from them.

This morning I have before me and received in my post office box, as did the rest of you, from the office of the Speaker, August 12, 1959, "Dispelling the Fog." I want to say that this is the outstanding of these letters, the outstanding one that has been received to my mind. It deals with House Bill No. 636, and I received it with such deep pleasure, and am so thoroughly impressed with the statement that the Speaker has given us in this particular epistle, that I intend and desire to endorse the remarks of the Speaker in this letter relative to House Bill No. 636, and offer this letter, if I may be permitted to do so as a letter endorsed by me for the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman together with the communication will be spread upon the record.

Mr. Stroup submitted the following letter.

August 12, 1959.

From The Office Of The Speaker:

DISPELLING THE FOG

Some of the editors intimate at various intervals that we Legislators are very diligent when it comes to taking care of ourselves, and forget to serve various deserving causes.

The answer to that statement is—First; it isn't true, Second; in order to serve the Commonwealth efficiently we must have an efficient organization and increased efficiency must needs be purchased at a price.

There are some forgotten causes, however, which should be served in the interests of justice and which in addition have an emotional appeal. The Pennsylvania Retired Public School Employees Association presents such a cause. That cause can be served through the enactment of House Bill 636.

We have all received letters from the Association. These letters speak the bare, bleak truth when they say:

"House Bill 636 provides for a long overdue increase in the minimum retirement allowance for retired school employees. It guarantees a minimum of $50 per year for each year of accredited service in Pennsylvania."

Who will House Bill 636 serve? It will serve: 1269 retirees who receive less than $50 a month. 1367 retirees who receive between $50 and $75 per month.

1490 retirees who receive between $75 and $100 a month.

4126 retirees who receive less than $100 per month.

It is a reproach to us, as Members of the General Assembly, a reproach to our Commonwealth, that any of our retired teachers who served faithfully and well, who evidenced a devotion to their profession not surpassed by those who serve us now in our schools, should be compelled in many instances to seek public assistance as a means of ministering to their necessities.

Sure, you say, something should be done for the retired teachers who have been so long forgotten, but where are we going to get the money? It is our business as Legislators to see to it that we raise enough money to do the things that should be done. Our economy has raised the standard of living for the multitudes. There should be no forgotten groups. Neglect should not grow fat by feeding on the bodies of the forgotten.

What would House Bill 636 cost? Competent actuaries estimate that the cost for 1959 would be $3,359,211, and with each passing year that total would decrease. The retired teachers whom House Bill 636 is designed to serve, in many instances, are living on borrowed time. Their cause will not long continue to harass our consciences. They are the members of a generation that is trudging into the sunset. We cannot afford, as a matter of conscience, that their companions as they travel should be NEED and SORROW.

Let's get House Bill 636 on the Calendar, pass it, and provide the money!

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SHERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we as Members of the House, certainly appreciate various remarks at these various intervals, at which we can talk in this way. Of course, I may be speaking only for myself and not for any other Member of the House.

I wish to inform the previous speaker that a good many on this side of the House have delved into the educational field long before they ever appointed a committee. A good many of us on this side of the House have been in conversation with leading men of our communities and our cities and are well familiar with educational needs. I may be speaking for myself, as I stated, but we have at this time, already concluded, to a great extent, what the needs of some of the education in perhaps our own vicinity and the vicinity of our great city in which we are interested and their needs and requirements. We have made mention of this matter on the floor of the House both by this speaker and perhaps by others. That the matter of education may be a specialized field in itself because of the large amount involved, the wants and needs of our teachers and the children in our various schools, and that we should go ahead and do something about it.

It was mentioned by the previous speaker that there was such things as dilatory tactics. Who he is referring to, I do not know. But, he himself as well as others on his side of the House and perhaps members on this side of the House may also be to blame, because my own belief is that where any group of legislators are guilty the entire membership suffers and our constituents suffer. I do not think anyone can be accused of such things as dilatory tactics. We want to serve the needs of the various people of this Commonwealth, whether it is education or otherwise. I and others do hope that the educational problems of the teachers of the schools, of the students and of the pupils will be well considered in the very near future, either by active concentration in the matter of three weeks' definite Session, not necessarily by any special session, and I say that because we do not have to go to the expense of a special session to take care of the educational needs. I do hope those educational needs can be properly served, not three years or four years hence but in the immediate future.

The SPEAKER. As Members of this House know the Chair long has been greatly concerned by reason of the fact we have not prepared ourselves in sufficient fashion to attack educational problems basically.

There is no program pending that makes the basic study which must begin with the foundation dealing with permanent financial support, the allocation of responsibility as to local responsibility and state responsibility, the creation of sound administrative units and a basic reappraisal of curriculum. I doubt that those problems can be solved unless the Commonwealth is equipped to gather the forces necessary to make a six month study to prepare the agenda, and then with an agenda prepared to convene for the purpose of making a basic study of our long continuing problem.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency which was read as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1427, Printer's No. 1236 and

House Bill No. 1690, Printer's No. 1356,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 63, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors," prohibiting drag races and providing penalties.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 63, Printer's No. 1285 is the so-called drag racing bill.

I believe we do not need an awful lot of explanation about this proposed piece of legislation. I think all of us have lived in our communities wherever we may be in our respective counties and we have seen time and time again where this so-called drag racing has been the cause of many unnecessary deaths.

I think we can recall most recently here in Pennsylvania, time and time again, where there have been screaming headlines in the papers, in which for some unknown reason this drag racing occurred and the innocent people travelling the highways were part of a major vehicle accident in which they lost their lives.

This legislation attempts to abolish drag racing in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and we certainly hope it will do that very thing, or try to stop this drag racing as it is commonly called in the Commonwealth.

I ask that every Member support this proposed legislation.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to concur with the Majority Leader. This bill is designed with the hopes that it would be just another step in stopping the slaughter on our highways. I feel that it is a good bill and I hope that everyone will vote for it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, the question I am raising today is the same as I raised yesterday on this type of legislation. I probably will vote for this bill, possibly as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, says a half a loaf is better than none. If you go halfway down the street there is no reason why you should not go that far, even though you cannot go the whole way.

However, there is a weakness there because we do have within our reach to go the whole way down the street and take the whole loaf. I am as firmly convinced today as I was yesterday, and I hope to read in the record in the near future absolute proof that juveniles cannot be prosecuted under the vehicle code. This bill will not reach the juvenile, that is the driver under 18 years of age, and I say again that is one of the largest class of violators.

I do not think the bill here goes far enough. I think the other bill ought to come out so that we can do a real job but I think I will vote for this bill for what help it might give.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCANN, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, does this bill prohibit local police from setting up regulated drag strips under their control?

Mr. McCANN. On public lands or public streets or public highways, yes.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Would you prohibit such drag races under police control, let us say, on an abandoned airport owned by a municipality.

Mr. McCANN. I believe, Mr. Lippincott, if it was owned by a municipality, even though it was abandoned, I believe it would be prohibited. That would be public land, would it not?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I believe it would be, yes.

Mr. McCANN. But, it does not prohibit drag racing on fair ground areas, on race track areas, on areas that are operated by private companies or corporations that are not public.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. The bill seems to prohibit racing on public ground, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. It does prohibit drag racing on public ground.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, the bill is not limited to drag racing. It says speed contests or language to that effect. Would this prohibit an automobile race at a county fair, for example?

Mr. McCANN. It would not, sir.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. It seems to me if you read the language in the bill as presently drawn, it would do just that and I think the bill should be corrected to spell that out.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Lippincott, I believe that there was a committee that attempted to define drag racing in that bill. Is that correct? The definition defining racing.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, that may be but all I am saying is that the bill does not define it too carefully because on page 5 of the bill it says, "it shall be unlawful for any person to operate a vehicle upon any highway in a physical endurance contest or a speed contest." Now a speed contest would be an automobile race, I would think, on a highway, and I am asking if such a speed contest is permitted on publicly owned fair grounds.

Mr. McCANN. The answer, Mr. Lippincott, as I understand it, would be no on publicly owned ground or public highway. Therefore, so called fair grounds, the so called speed tracks in Pennsylvania that are owned by companies, corporations or stock companies are private and could operate speed racing contests, and, Mr. Lippincott, we could insert in here without a question of doubt a very clear legislative intent. That is what you are seeking, and I think we ought to do it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I think it would be advisable.

Mr. McCANN. I believe we should insert in House Bill 63, the legislative intent. As the bill is drawn it does not in anyway forbid the qualified regular automobile races, whether they mean midgets, large cars, small cars, stock cars, that are operated under proper control, such as an organization, a proper AAA outfit or various other organizations as long as it is operated on the proper tracks or areas not dealing with public highways. This would permit all of our regular fairs to have their races if they have them scheduled in that manner. This would be the House's legislative intent, in definition of that. Is that satisfactory?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that a vote be taken on that legislative intent.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair rules that if that vote is to be taken it must be taken after the vote on this bill. It is an entirely separate matter.

We will entertain the gentleman's motion after this roll call, if he is so disposed to make it at that time.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I am very much inclined to agree with Mr. Lippincott.

The intent of this bill is good; it is excellent. We should stop all types of racing on the public highways, but we should not stop racing where it is controlled and sponsored by some organization. That, I am afraid, is what this bill will do, whether the intent is there or not.

Many of the organized races and speed contests are held on airports which may be municipal airports, and on fairgrounds which are owned, maybe, by a township, which would be public land. Therefore I think, just to be sure we do not stop organized and controlled racing, this bill should be recommitted and those amendments put into the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 63:

The need for a bill to prohibit "drag races" is so obvious that discussion is not necessary.

Citizens of Bucks County, especially in the Hilltown and Bedminster Township areas were among the prime movers in securing this legislation. I commend them for their initiative and energy.

LEGISLATIVE INTENT OF HOUSE BILL No. 63

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in putting the motion, just a word of explanation.

I believe there are cases on record where legislative intent has been inserted specifically into the record on certain bills, and the appellate courts of this state have deliberately chosen to ignore that legislative intent. That is the reason I am insisting upon a vote on legislative intent, so that the courts, I feel will be bound by the legislative intent.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move that the remarks of the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, the Majority Leader of the House, referring to the legislative intent on House Bill No. 63, Printer's No. 1285, be voted upon, a roll call vote be taken upon that legislative intent.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out another defect, it seems to me in this bill, which might be considered as part of the legislative intent when we vote on it.

Under this bill a vehicle cannot engage in a speed contest on a public road. Unfortunately the bill on page 5 does not say a motor vehicle. Now a vehicle, under the Motor Vehicle Code, would include a soap box, one of these little wagons they use in the Soap Box Derby; it clearly includes that. A vehicle also includes these little go-carts that the kids race with on school grounds, under supervision.

MOTION TO AMEND

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I therefore move that it be the legislative intent of this body to permit Soap Box Derbies and also to permit these little go-cart races on municipal or school grounds. The same roll call can be used to make this a part of the former declaration of legislative intent, unless the Majority Leader feels it is his desire to prohibit Soap Box Derbies.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Delaware realize there is a motion on the floor made by the gentleman from Blair, and does the gentleman from Delaware wish to amend that motion?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Yes I do, Mr. Speaker. I had talked to the gentleman from Blair previously, and he, I believe, will accept that amendment.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In that instance the amendment will be accepted without objection, but that would require a vote on the amendment and then a vote on the motion. Could we have the original motion redrawn and remade by the gentleman from Blair to include your amendments?

We are attempting to put the question, and I will ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, to yield to the Majority Leader.

The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I was only going to state that the amendment was satisfactory, but I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, brought to the attention of the House that these soap box races would probably be included in this legislation, I just want to bring to the attention of the Members of the House that during many local affairs in various communities they hold bicycle races too. Would this not be considered as a vehicle?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair repeats that we are in some confusion as to what motion is before the House. The Chair calls upon the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, to withdraw his previous motion and to restate it, and include the proposed amendments the gentleman from Delaware suggested.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I will try to do it.

Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my previous motion and, for the purpose of clarifying the records, restate the motion.

MOTION AS TO LEGISLATIVE INTENT

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I move you that the remarks made by the gentleman from Green, Mr. McCann, the Majority Floor Leader of the House, on House Bill No. 63, Printer's No. 1285, and also the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, as to legislative intent on the same bill, be made a matter of record by a roll call of this House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to answer the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo. A bicycle is excluded from the definition of a vehicle under the Motor Vehicle Code.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. AUKER and LIPPINCOTT and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 748, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) making it a crime to sell or offer for sale certain home appliances without proper identification.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to ask a question before the bill is voted on about used appliances and things of that sort, wherein the dealer was not able to identify the model that he was offering for sale because the tag was lost, is he still a criminal when he does that? Unintentionally, that can happen in a business day on appliances particularly.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Murphy from Washington, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, the question was in regard more to used than to new appliances. Does this bill intend to make a criminal out of any used dealer if he cannot find the numbers and designations of the refrigerator that he has in stock?

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, I might say that, of course, the dealer cannot be a criminal. This is a summary offense. It is not a court of record and he cannot be characterized as a criminal for failing to do so. He would be, however, guilty and subject to a summary fine on conviction.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me to be a terrifically high fine for such a small offense, and that in a good many cases he would be innocent and unable to comply with this law.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman, and that is why the bill was amended yesterday to make the fine not exceeding $100. formerly the bill read a fine of $100. We recognized that and decided to place the words "not exceeding" so that the magistrate might take into consideration such a circumstance and could fine the man as low as $1 and costs.

Mr. MERRY. Well, I just wanted to go on record as saying that the bill in its intent seemed to be good, but still it is laying open for prosecution a good many salesmen who had no intention to defraud the people.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1542 Printer's No. 1253

was passed over at the request of the Speaker pro tempore.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. For the information of many of the members who have been asking as to our time schedule, we intend to break at 1:15 for lunch.

Mr. Speaker, many people have held off eating lunch because I have asked them to stay here and that we would have a break in the cafeteria after the normal noon-hour lunch is over. In that way we can handle our people a lot quicker, so we will work until 1:15. We will only break for 30 minutes and everybody eat lunch and come right back, for the sooner we get back the sooner you can leave and go home. I think everyone should do that because some of the Members who have talked to me here this morning said they had been waiting a good while to eat lunch and if it is too far away they will have to leave now and get a bite, since some have not eaten breakfast yet.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1597, entitled:

An Act amending the "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" approved March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228) requiring persons who distribute catalogs and other advertising material and by reason thereof accept orders for merchandise from residence of this Commonwealth to be licensed and file returns.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1597, Printer's No. 1355, was amended yesterday to make the bill somewhat better by some correctional amendments by the gentleman from Erie, Mr. O'Dell. He informed me that the bill is in very good shape.

We have caucused on the bill prior to the amendments and the amendments made the bill a better bill. If the bill is on the Members' desks now we would like to vote on it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

House Bill No. 1055, Printer's No. 1309;

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. These bills have been amended and we have not caucused on them. The understanding was that there would be an explanation made on the floor by those who are on the special committee as to the effect of 1173 and 1175 at the present time as amended, and if the explanation was satisfactory it would be all right to roll the bills.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, 1173 and 1175, the two bills that—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman?

Mr. McCANN. I would be most pleased to, sir.

Mr. BOWMAN. I dislike raising this question, but at least in the files of this section we do not have that bill in print.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. The only thing I would like to say is that I think these bills should be caucused on. The understanding of the Committee was that they would be put in print and then caucused on. They have a very real effect on all the Members of this House, and I think that should be done.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1873, entitled:

An Act amending "The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act," approved June 2, 1915 (P. L. 736), requiring employers to furnish employes with instructions on their rights in the event of an accident.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Sakulsky, on 1873, desires to explain the position pertaining to the bill about the pamphlets that the insurance companies have available and have been distributing.

Mr. SAKULSKY. Mr. Speaker, and . . .

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield? Does the gentleman desire to explain both bills at this time?

Mr. SAKULSKY. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. SAKULSKY. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1873, an act amending the Workmen's Compensation Act requires employers to furnish employes with instructions on their rights in event of accidents and states that every employer liable under this act to pay compensation shall at the time of hiring any employe furnish such employe with a brochure of instructions in such form as the department may prescribe, setting forth the rights of such employes in the event of an accident and informing him of the time and manner in which claims should be filed. Such employers shall furnish said instructions to existing employes within ninety days after the effective date of this amendatory act.

Under this Act an employe may become better acquainted with his legal rights under the Workmen's Compensation Act, and in event of an accident, the employe would know the procedure he must follow to become eligible for benefits.

This bill, if allowed to become a law, will not cause a hardship or undue expense to the employer, as most insurance companies have such a brochure available for employes. However, under the present law they are not compelled to furnish employers with their brochures. The Department of Labor and Industry, through the State Department's Insurance Fund, issues the brochure to such employers to be distributed amongst the employes. This brochure will not only benefit the employe but the employer as well, as the brochure explains not only the law but gives the employe instructions in event of a claim under such Workmen's Compensation Act.

Since the insurance companies, the Department of Labor and Industry and the State Workmen's Fund have been publishing a brochure, giving full instructions to the employee and his legal rights in event of an accident, or an occupational disease, the cost will be relatively small in requiring the employer to furnish the employee with such a brochure.

I am sure that all insurance companies issuing workmen's compensation policies to their assured will not object to supplying the necessary brochures in the amounts needed by the employer.

This brochure would also benefit the employer because many employees plead ignorance as to their knowledge of the Workmen's Compensation Act and the Occupational Disease Act, and in many cases the employees based their reasons for not filing claims in time on such ignorance of the Workmen's Compensation Act and the Occupational Disease Act. Since all insurance companies do their own printing, the cost will be relatively small.

The type of brochure that is issued by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund is the type that I am holding in my hand. Various insurance companies and unions furnish this type of brochure.

House Bill 1877 is a companion bill to House Bill 1883.

I ask that every Member vote for House Bill 1873 and also 1877.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 371, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682), entitled "The Insurance Company Law of 1921," increasing the amount of salary compensation or emolument which may be paid without prior vote of the board of directors.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 637, Printer's No. 689;

Senate Bill No. 683, Printer's No. 740;

Senate Bill No. 772, Printer's No. 969;

Senate Bill No. 811, Printer's No. 937 and

Senate Bill No. 833, Printer's No. 1073

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 968, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" authorizing the sale of newspapers on Sundays.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 968, Printer's No. 1108, is a bill which, following the passage of Senate Bill No. 405, even though there is the assurance that newspapers can be sold on Sunday, will specifically state in law that they can be sold on Sunday. Since we want to see that the newspapers have that right to sell, we ask for everybody's support.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair wishes to thank the membership of the House for the order that was maintained today. We were able to proceed without a recess for lunch.

The Chair wishes at this time to turn the gavel back to the Speaker of the House.

THE SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny for the able manner in which he presided over this sometimes troublesome body. Generally service up here is rewarding.

COMMITTEE ON MEMORIAL SERVICES

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives August 12, 1959, for a Select Committee to conduct Memorial Services in memory of our deceased Members, the Speaker appoints: Messrs. RUDISILL Chairman, FINEMAN, MUSTO, EWING, DAVIS and WOOD.

RESOLUTIONS AND BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. Without objection, all resolutions and bills not considered today, will be passed over.

The Chair hears none.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Members of this House, I want to apologize to the House. This morning when I looked over some of my mail very hurriedly before the opening of today's Session, I was informed by a little note from one of the girls that anytime after 10 o'clock this morning the young ladies would be most pleased if I would come to room 245 to get a piece of the birthday cake for our Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

So, Mr. Speaker, since we did not have a resolution and I did not know it was his birthday until this morning, I would like to have the House wish Mr. Polen of Washington County a most happy birthday.

The SPEAKER. The years touch him so lightly that they leave no trace.

The gentleman from Delaware will lead this body in praise to the gentleman from Washington.

(Happy Birthday was sung by the Members, led by Mr. Dengler).

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the youthful gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Chair for those remarks.

Actually my birthday is not until tomorrow, the 13th, but my office force thought perhaps I would not be here, so they did arrange for a cake for me.

I want to say that I have had a very happy time during my lifetime, and I think the happiest years I have had have been spent right here in the House.

I thank all of the Members for their greetings here today.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. FOX. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, August 17, 1959 at 3:30 p. m. E.S.T.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 12:40 p. m. E.S.T.) the House adjourned.

No. 79.

SENATE

MONDAY, August 17, 1959.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, FATHER REGIS O'BRIEN, Professor of Philosophy and Homiletics, St. Francis Seminary, Loretto, Cambria County, offered the following prayer:

In the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

Almighty God, Creator and Sovereign Lord of the Universe, grant the Members of this Assembly, your devoted servants, keenness of mind to apperceive full well that all law is a rule of reason, adopted by those lawfully sharing Your authority for the Commonwealth.

Grant them grace to subjugate what is of benefit to themselves, as individuals, for that which is the good of the governed. Enlighten them to realize that anything bordering on oppressiveness through increasing the burden of the governed is categorically offensive to Your Majesty. Give them that especial gift of efficacious grace to put aside party fidelity where legislation runs counter to the basis or all legislation, the natural law which is the manifestation of Your Most Holy Will, as written in the heart of every man.

In brief, dearest Lord, grant both them and the governing the serenity to accept things they cannot change, the courage to change things they can, and the wisdom to know the difference.

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I request leave of absence for my colleague, Senator Miller, for the week.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears no objection, and the leave of absence is granted.

INTERROGATION

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I am sorry, I could not get to a microphone. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. FLEMING. Senator Seyler, you just asked for leave of absence for your colleague, Senator Miller. You did not give a cause. Would you be willing to give a cause for his absence?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I understand that Senator Miller is engaged in public business on behalf of his constituents which I believe will have him in Washington, D. C., for part of this week.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit further interrogation?

I have the feeling that Senator Seyler is answering questions, as it is.

Mr. FLEMING. I think he is being interrogated by the Majority Leader in private. I would like to interrogate him in public.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am sorry; I was engaged otherwise. What is the question?

The PRESIDENT. Your privacy may now be set aside. The gentleman will now stand another question, Senator Fleming.

Mr. FLEMING. Do I understand that the leave of absence is requested for the entire week?

Mr. SEYLER. That is correct.

Mr. FLEMING. Senator Miller, then, will not be here to vote either for or against the tax measure, if it is voted upon this week?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have no idea when the tax measure will be presented. However, I have asked for leave of absence for the week, for Senator Miller.

Mr. FLEMING. May we be at ease for a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, could I request that Senator Seyler, for the time being, withdraw his request for a leave of absence for Senator Miller?

The PRESIDENT. Would Senator Seyler consider the withdrawal of his request for leave of absence for the present, for Senator Miller?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I see no reason for doing this. I have heard no reason offered for so doing.

The PRESIDENT. Would you state your reason, Senator Fleming?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I yield to the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Berger.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would suggest to the gentleman that we will not object to his entering this request later. However, as the request stands at the present time—

The PRESIDENT. Senator Berger, I hate to interrupt you, but I have a real problem on this score because I have already granted the leave of absence, due to the fact that no objection was made. Senator Fleming then got to his feet. I think, probably, he was snowed under by the crowd, and—

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, if I may interrupt, I was trying to get to a microphone. On the basis of that, I would ask the Chair to reconsider his decision on there having been no objection to the leave of absence.

Mr. BERGER. If the gentleman will not withdraw his request, Mr. President, I will ask that the question be submitted to the entire Senate for a vote.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Seyler, do you wish to stand on this?

Senator Fleming has stated, and I think it is a good point, that he was unable to reach a microphone in order to object. If he were to insist, at this moment, for a ruling from the Chair, I would rescind the granting of the motion. I would then put the question again.

Senator Berger has asked whether or not you will, at this time, withdraw your request for the granting of a leave of absence so that we may consider it at a later time in today's Session.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, pursuant to the request of my colleague, Senator Miller, I have asked for a leave of absence. I understand it has been granted, without objection, and any future action on that I think is up to the Senators who would object to it. I do not intend to withdraw my request.

The PRESIDENT. All right, then I will rescind my granting of your original request.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I do not think the Chair is in order. The Chair cannot rescind the request. It has already been granted.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is rescinding his granting of the request, Senator Donolow. The Chair is within its rights because Senator Fleming said that he tried to get to a microphone to make an objection and he could not reach the microphone in time.

Mr. DONOLOW. May I ask the Chair under what authority he can now withdraw that granting of the request?

The PRESIDENT. Under the authority of the Chair. If you wish it, I will put it to a vote.

Mr. DONOLOW. Does the Chair have the prerogative to do that?

The PRESIDENT. I think it is a matter of courtesy to any Senator that his objection not be allowed to die simply because he did not reach a microphone.

Mr. DONOLOW. I would agree to that, Mr. President, but I think that it has already been granted. Just to now arbitrarily withdraw it, seems to me not to be in order.

The PRESIDENT. I am doing it on the basis of Senator Fleming's request that it be denied on the basis of his inability to file an objection. My granting of the leave of absence was based entirely on the fact that not a single Senator objected to my granting the leave of absence. I did so grant it. When a Senator gets up and says, "I am sorry, sir, I could not reach a microphone in order to object," I feel it is a matter of courtesy, which I would accord any Member of this Senate, to give him his chance to object. I will be glad to put it to a vote of the body, if you wish it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I was not paying particular attention when Senator Seyler took the floor and requested the leave of absence. However, I would like to know from the Chair if Senator Seyler stated the reason for the leave of absence.

The PRESIDENT. He did, only after Senator Fleming made a request to interrogate Senator Seyler. Senator Seyler, at that time, permitted himself to be interrogated by Senator Fleming. This occurred after the Chair's ruling.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we are putting the cart before the horse. What I would like to know is what were the reasons for Senator Miller's absence from the Senate, as stated by Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDENT. Of course, Senator Lane, that will come next.

Mr. LANE. My point is this, Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. I granted the leave of absence under the apprehension that none of the Senators present objected to the granting of that leave of absence. Now, a Senator, the gentleman from Allegheny County, Senator Fleming, stands and he says, "I wished to object, but I could not reach a microphone before the Chair's ruling was made. Would the Senator permit himself to be interrogated?" Whereupon, Senator Seyler said, "Yes, I will permit myself to be interrogated." Actually, under the particular procedure, the Chair should now put the question as to whether or not the leave should be granted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am speaking in regard to the Chair's ruling at this particular time. The point I am trying to make is whether Senator Seyler said that he requested a leave of absence for Senator Miller due to illness or due to other business. Did he state a specific reason?

The PRESIDENT. He did not.

Mr. LANE. All right, Mr. President. Then, in case Senator Miller is ill, would you then reverse your decision?

The PRESIDENT. Yes.

Mr. LANE. You would. Then, would you haul him in here on a cot, if necessary?

The PRESIDENT. I do not know whether that last part is true.

Mr. LANE. Well, if the gentleman is ill and could not—

The PRESIDENT. If the gentleman were ill, there would be a question, the same as would exist concerning any other reason for his being absent. There is an objection at this point, Senator Lane, and that must come from the Body.

Mr. LANE. However, Mr. President, you have already handed down a decision. I do not like to quarrel with my good friend, the Lieutenant-Governor. I have a lot of respect for you, but I do say that the Chair has handed down its decision and I believe that the decision actually should stand. There are extenuating circumstances. Senator Miller may be seriously ill or he may be involved with very important business, for all we know. If the Chair rescinds his decision, then I guess you are going to send out and bring him in here, regardless of the conditions.

The PRESIDENT. No, Senator Lane. We have this kind of a situation on our hands. Unfortunately, it is not the sort of thing which has been said to lawyers many times. When a judge rules in your favor, you should immediately get out of the courtroom. He cannot change his mind. In this particular case, we had a situation where, if the reasons for Senator Miller's absence are brought forth, the Body, itself, can then pass upon whether or not the leave of absence should be granted.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, you are then inferring that Senator Seyler more or less gilded the lily when he agreed to the interrogation. Is that correct?

The PRESIDENT. I think Senator Seyler, when he permitted himself to be interrogated, immediately opened my decision up again.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have served in this Senate quite a long time and, actually, I have never had this experience before, where the Chair reversed itself just because there was an objection after the leave of absence was granted.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, when you asked for any objections and there were none, this, it seems to me, was, in effect, closing the question. For example, if we have a roll call and a gentleman is not recorded and comes into the Chamber and says that he was not here, I do not believe it would be the Chair's decision that at that moment he could be recorded, after the vote had been recorded. I would suggest to the Chair that the Chair is somewhat in that position now.

We all know in this Senate that asking for a leave of absence and its granting, by tradition, is an accepted thing. It is certainly highly unusual that any Senator, asking for a leave of absence, would find any objection to the request for a leave of absence.

I have been requested by my colleague, who sits next to me—and I suppose that is the reason he did me the honor to make the request—to ask for his leave of absence. I think it would certainly be incumbent upon anyone, who would ask the Chair to reverse its decision as to the vote on this matter, to offer substantial and serious reasons why this traditional position of the Senate should be reversed. Mr. President, I have not heard any such arguments offered. I am unaware at this moment as to why the gentleman wished to decline to give Senator Miller the leave of absence which was requested.

I think we should consider this from our colleague's point of view Senator Miller is a Senator and a Member of this Body. He is certainly entitled to all the courtesies which go with being a Senator. In taking such an action and in reversing unanimous consent, in face of a Senator's request, I think it not a right thing. I think we should seriously consider the precedent that this sets with regard to the request of the Senator.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman is exactly right, except for one premise which does not exist. You said that the Chair should not reverse its decision when there has been unanimous consent granted by all the Members of the Body. However, we have a gentleman who has stated very clearly to us here that the action occurred so fast that while he struggled to get to a microphone, he was unable to reach that microphone. Therefore, he said, in effect, that there was no unanimous consent. On that basis, we are just saying here, as our ruling, that should we rescind the granting of the leave of absence, it would then be put to a vote of the Body and it would then be determined whether or not unanimous consent was granted.

I think it is just that simple. We are arguing about a ruling which can be decided immediately by simply referring it to a vote of the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, my objection is to the rescinding of the decision of the Chair. I will have no objection to a motion made by a Member on the otherside. In fact, that is probably the proper action, if they care to take it. At that time, I, of course, will want to inquire of them what reasons they have for making such a motion. However, I do have considerable objection, after the result of the vote has been announced, to then allow a Member, who, by his own statement, was perhaps negligent in not being in position to register his vote, to have another chance. I think the gentleman always has the possibility of making a motion on this subject. If he does, Mr. President, I have no objection. However, I am thinking of my colleague, Senator Miller, and I want to do all I can to protect the rights and privileges of my colleague.

The PRESIDENT. I am thinking very seriously of Senator Miller's rights, too. I want to make such that they are protected. However, I also want to see that the rights of every other Senator in this Senate are carefully protected, as well.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, do these rights include the right to change a vote after the result has been announced? If so, it seems to me that this is a new—

The PRESIDENT. Senator Seyler, you are not accepting the facts as I understand them to be. Senator Fleming said he tried to reach a microphone to object and could not do so. You must admit that the actual granting of the leave of absence, my announcement of it and the question which came from Senator Fleming were almost simultaneous. There was no degree of passage of time.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to interrupt this discussion, but I am wondering whether we can be at ease for just one moment, please.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

DECISION OF THE CHAIR TABLED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I understand a leave of absence has been requested on behalf of Senator Miller by Senator Seyler, and that an objection was made to it by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming. I would like to move now that this matter be tabled for the present moment, until time for adjournment.

My understanding is, from the information that I have, that Senator Miller will be present at the Session today or possibly early tomorrow. Therefore, the leave of absence for the entire week may be completely out of order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there a second to that motion?

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, is it my understanding then that the discussion is being tabled? Is that correct?

The PRESIDENT. The whole matter is being tabled, including the decision of the Chair.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, when it is brought up again, I would like to be recognized.

The PRESIDENT. I shall be happy to do that, Senator Lane.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I did not understand the motion of Senator Weiner to call for any changing of the decision given. My understanding was, from Senator Weiner's motion, that he was simply tabling the discussion on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct, including the Chair's decision. Nothing has been changed, sir.

Mr. SEYLER. The leave of absence is now granted. Is that correct?

The PRESIDENT. I have not rescinded it, but unless there is something which changes my mind before the end of today's Session, I will, at that time, rescind the grant which I made at your request.

Mr. SEYLER. As it now stands, the request is granted. Is that correct?

The PRESIDENT. As it now stands, the grant was made.

Mr. SEYLER. Thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I want it clearly understood that—

The PRESIDENT. I could not have made it more clear.

Mr. FLEMING. You could not have made it more clear to me, Mr. President, but I want it still understood, so there is no question, that before we adjourn today this will be lifted from the table and that you then will recognize my right to object to the granting of that leave of absence.

The PRESIDENT. It will be within your prerogative, Senator Fleming, to make such a motion to lift it from the table.

Mr. FLEMING. Thank you, Mr. President.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which were read as follows:

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILLS Nos. 444, 665, 771, 784, 345, 513 and 579.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROONEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, for the last two or three weeks in the Senate of Pennsylvania, I have heard much about highway safety and the highway safety program in Pennsylvania. I feel that the bill which I am about to introduce will do much to improve highway safety in Pennsylvania.

This bill will require an applicant for a driver's license in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to submit the application along with three photographs; one of which will be attached to the operator's permit, one will be retained in Harrisburg and the third, if the operator successfully passes the examination, will become a part of his driver's license.

Mr. President, I think this will eliminate abuse in Pennsylvania whereby other experienced drivers are taking tests for drivers who can neither read nor write. It will also give the State Police of Pennsylvania some jurisdiction in some way, so that when they arrest drivers, it will eliminate someone else driving a car with another driver's license.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. ROONEY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1082, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled "The Vehicle Code," requiring photographs of an applicant for an operator's license to be affixed to the application, permit and operator's license.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, on behalf of the group of Senators who represent that part of Pennsylvania known as The Delaware Valley, and a group of Senators from this side, I am privileged to introduce a bill in the interest of Temple University.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

EDWIN F. RUSSELL

PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. Before we go to the next order of business, the Chair would like to present to the Senate, and ask him to say a few words, Mr. Edwin F. Russell, Publisher of the Harrisburg Patriot-News. He has just returned from the trip which Vice President Nixon made to Russia. I think we would all be interested.

Mr. Russell, would you please come up to the dais?

REMARKS BY EDWIN F. RUSSELL

Mr. RUSSELL. Governor Davis, Senator Taylor, Distinguished Gentlemen of the Senate and Ladies and Gentlemen: Needless to say, I am honored and, of course, flattered and also dreadfully embarrassed. I am not sure that the embarrassment does not deprive me of a certain amount of the pleasure that this honor you do me would otherwise afford me.

There are no experts on the Soviet Union and very few Westerners are well enough informed on the great enigma which that Country presents, in order to formulate sound opinions. I certainly do not consider myself in the latter category, much less the former. However, I will not impose upon your kindness by protesting further. I will immediately launch into a series of categorical statements which I hope you will recognize not as originating with me, but coming from sources much better placed to form opinions than I assume.

First of all, the American public will be very much remiss if they expect anything tangible or anything apparent from the visit of Mr. Khrushchev. If we are able to get the machinery of international diplomacy off the dead center on which it has found itself for the past two or three years, something will be accomplished, but it will not be apparent. The most important thing that could come of this, and I am sure we will not know of the results for some time, is that perhaps the very serious and dangerous misconceptions that this man has of the United States may be corrected. There is even some serious doubt about this because these Communists seem to have a way of deluding themselves and even distorting their own vision and the recording of that vision. The important thing, however, is that if Mr. Khrushchev is able to sense something of the spirit of the American people, it may effect, favorably to us, his future decisions. He may know about our material welfare, but, from some of the answers he gave the Vice President, it is apparent that he does not take all of the reports he has received at their face value.

The Soviet objectives have not changed. The international junkets and these exchanges of visits between the heads of States have lessened the tension to some extent, but it is extremely unlikely that the Soviets have any different objectives than they have had in the past. They have a great deal more confidence in their own ability today than they had a few years ago. They are pretty well satisfied that they can prevail, through means of peaceful competition, as they put it. However, their objective is to lick us. This they may do because they are working, they are producing and they are not afraid of automation. They are not seeking means to reduce their own production, as we sometimes engage in, but the most important thing is the spirit of the Soviet people, or the Russian people,—perhaps more properly put—which is difficult to convey. They have something of the spirit of a student body on the eve of a big game. They are good natured, but they are deadly earnest. They have certain complaints. They feel certain that they are being deprived of some things which they might otherwise be entitled to. However, at the moment, the important thing is to win this contest. They will tell every foreigner who visits there, particularly every American, that they are going to lick us at our own game.

To do this, they are going to have to make some changes in their own Country, and this may benefit us substantially. They have managed to throw off some of the fetters of Stalin's monolithic state. Managers are beginning to manage. They are given a certain little freedom in obtaining materials and in seeking markets for their produce. More important, they are being very well rewarded, bonus wise, for the production and the gains which their factories make. These bonuses are being handed on down through the plant, not from manager to employee, but are being provided to the employees who produce. As a result, there is a stratification and a class difference building up in that Country which, if it continues at the present pace, may very well exceed anything that we have known in the United States in my lifetime.

Material benefits are apparent. At any rate, they are apparent to those of us who have visited the Soviet Union before. Most Americans and Westerners who visit that Country for the first time are struck with the drabness, the austerity and the monotony of Soviet life. On the other hand, the Soviet citizen is absolutely dazzled by the progress and the magnificence of his present lot in many instances. Of course, averages do not hold true for everyone.

It avails us nothing to visit a brand new Soviet apartment and discover that the plaster is cracking, or the paint is peeling, or the door is warping, or the hardware is not functioning, or that the kitchen has only a small cold water sink and the stove is only a wood burning stove. To the Soviet citizen who has just moved into this apartment, it is entirely a new way of life. To some degree, he now controls his own life. At any rate, those he has to consider are his wife and his children, and not his nieces, nephews and in-laws, with whom he had been forced to live in the past. Therefore, an entirely new vista has been opened to him. The fact that the paint or plaster is chipping in his apartment is not important because last year, there was no apartment. He has certain rights which he was never aware of before. He does not hesitate to criticize his government on occasion, although very guardedly. He may now own land, build a house on it and sell it at a profit if he so chooses. He presumably can do with his returns what he pleases. Of course, if I might digress in the atmosphere of this room, I might observe that his income tax is remarkably small, on a national basis. However, his sales tax is not four per cent, but rather it runs anywhere from fifty to 100 per cent.

When their progress in that Country, becomes more apparent, there are going to be some very substantial changes in their method of operation. They are still dreadfully hampered with bureaucracy. Trade unions only function today if they get more produce and more production out of the workingman. I think it will not be long, after the workingman has his own apartment and maybe his pea patch in the country and perhaps, a small car or conveyance which he can call his own, before he begins to demand for himself a voice, or a larger voice, in his own affairs and the trade union will eventually have to represent him. What happens in that Country at the time when they approach the difficulties that we knew here twenty or twenty-five years ago, may afford us an opportunity for hope.

If you ask me what the future holds, I do not know. Quite obviously, none of us do. If you ask me to speculate on what our relations with this Country will be for the next several years or what results there will be from exchanges that are now taking place, I would guess that we have one generation, or maybe two generation of continued tension, at which time we will resolve very few problems in terms of specifics. During this period of tension. I think there is no doubt that the Soviet Union is going to progress very substantially. They may reach the state that we are in today and they may very well be on a par with us in another generation. However, in this progress that they make, they are going to take many larger steps away from Communism. In the Soviet Union today, there is no Communism. There is merely precious little Socialism. There is a great deal of colossal Capitalism in the form of State ownership. Also, there is beginning to be these little evidences of individual Capitalism. There is nothing we can do which is going to substantially alter that except if we should go to war and destroy everything. On the other hand, our relations with them and our relative position in the future, as far as we can control it, will depend to a much greater extent upon what we do here at home to recapture the spirit, the drive, the ingenuity upon which we built our lives and our standards of living. Perhaps, it may rest to an even greater extent upon the will with which we resist the pressures to legislate this spirit, this enterprise, into some old fashioned status.

Thank you very much for the honor that you do me. I will not impose further with personal observations on a problem for which the great statesmen of the world have found no solution.

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the Senate, Mr. Russel, we indeed thank you very, very much for this enlightening discussion.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FAMILY OF THE LATE JUDGE HERBERT E. MILLEN

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 51), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 17, 1959.

A great German philosopher once coined a phrase that succinctly summarizes the essence of the contributions of the late Herbert E. Millen, Judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia who died while visiting in San Francisco, California, on July 25, 1959: "Perceptions without out conceptions are empty-conceptions without perceptions are blind." Still another philosopher said that "Justice judges the cause by the effect and Mercy judges the effect by the cause."

Judge Millen, in attaining an impeccable mastery of tempering justice with mercy, was superbly qualified for the complex duties of a member of a judicial tribunal, namely, the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, that is now being hailed not only in Pennsylvania, but throughout the entire United States as an ameliorative agency second to none that mends and heals broken lives and families.

Judge Millen's perceptions were blessed with a cleanliness of purpose and an incisive, dedicated, intelligent and compassionate understanding of distraught humanity that in an endless procession comes daily before the Domestic Relations Branch of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. By understanding the causes of delinquencies that beset our society today, Judge Millen applied soul-searching conceptions of his judicial duties and thereby effectively succeeded in administering a justice marked by firmness and fairness to all and, at the same time, tempered by mercy for the downtrodden and underprivileged.

Judge Millen was the first Negro named to the Judiciary in the State of Pennsylvania, and the thirteenth Negro Judge in the United States.

His deep anchorage in the finest American loyalties and his fervent dedication to the various causes which he espoused as a great American generally and as the towering leader of the Negro community in particular, both in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania, singled him out as a indefatigable tiller in the Vineyards of Democracy. Judge Millen's inspiring leadership in such fields of civic endeavor as the National Conference of Christians and Jews; the Community Chest; Lincoln University; Downingtown Industrial School; and especially the Mercy Douglass Hospital, have been time and again been acclaimed. To each one of these pursuits, Judge Millen brought a sincerity of dedication, integrity of mind and a grasp of principle which earned for him the admiration and respect of all those who had the privilege of being associated with him.

Judge Millen's positions of public and private trust were too numerous for mention within the scope of this Resolution. Thus he served Pennsylvania as Deputy Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; secretary of the Philadelphia County Board of Public Assistance; Philadelphia's and the nation's first Negro assistant director of Public Safety; Judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, by appointment in 1947 as the first Negro to be named to the bench in Pennsylvania and by election in 1949 to a ten-year term; the first Negro to serve on the Philadelphia County Board of Law Examiners; president of the Board of Mercy-Douglass Hospital; and vice president of the Board of Lincoln University, to which, as an alumnus of the class of 1910, he was particularly devoted and where, as at the University of Pennsylvania Law School later, he had received an education against great financial odds.

NOW BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania pay homage to the memory of a great Pennsylvanian, who rendered such distinguished public service to the Nation, Commonwealth and his native City of Philadelphia.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania tender its deep sympathy to his wife, Madelene G. Millen and to the members of Judge Millen's family in the hours of their sad bereavement.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RIPP asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, the Allegheny County Sportsmen's Association, in past years, has selected the sportsman of the year. In past years, Mr. Art Rooney, President of the Pittsburgh Steelers, was selected as the sportsman of the year in Allegheny County. Last year, Mayor Lawrence, now Governor Lawrence of this Commonwealth, was selected as the sportsman of the year. The Allegheny County Sportsmen's Association, this year, has selected General Richard K. Mellon.

At this time, Mr. President, I am offering this resolution, honoring General Mellon.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO GENERAL RICHARD K. MELLON UPON BEING SELECTED AS THE "SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR FOR 1959"

Mr. RIPP offered the following resolution (Serial No. 52), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 17, 1959.

General Richard K. Mellon has been selected as "Sportsman of the Year for 1959" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen's Association. Previous recipients of the award have been Meyer "Buck" Gefsky, well known Pittsburgh banker, and former basketball great; Arthur J. Rooney, President of the Pittsburgh Steelers, for aiding in the advancement of professional football; and the Honorable David L. Lawrence, then Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, now Governor of this Commonwealth, for his personal interest in all sport projects.

The Allegheny County Sportsmen's Association is composed of leading sportsmen and other civic leaders residing throughout Western Pennsylvania. Their selection of General Mellon continues the line of outstanding men selected for this coveted award.

General Mellon's sense of competition and fair play has not only made him a giant in the world of business, but also a persuasive force in the cultural, educational, scientific and philanthropic fields. In all of his activities, General Mellon carries with him the traits and attitudes that have won him the acclaim of his fellow sportsmen. He has annually spear-headed the world famed Rolling Rock Steeplechase Races at Ligonier, Pennsylvania. Each phase of his varied careers as soldier, sportsman, citizen and philanthropist is accented with a feeling of equity and fairness to his friends and competitors; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania extend its heartiest congratulations to General Richard K. Mellon, humanitarian, public servant and civic leader, for being selected as the "Sportsman of the Year for 1959;" and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented to General Richard K. Mellon.

REQUESTING THE FURNISHING OF PROPER ADDRESSES IN CONNECTION WITH THE FORWARDING OF RESOLUTIONS

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the hard working staff of the Senate, may I ask each of you Members of the Senate to kindly give us the address to which a copy of a particular resolution is to be sent, because we have trouble in ascertaining such addresses. This does not apply to the last resolution because I am quite sure it can simply be addressed to the General in Pittsburgh. However, I think in cases of others less known in our State, it would help a great deal if you could give us the names and addresses of the persons to whom you wish a copy of the resolutions sent.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution, which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 17, 1959.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene Monday, August 24, 1959, at TWO o'clock P. M., E. S. T. and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, August 24, 1959, at THREE-THIRTY o'clock P. M., E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO TEMPLE UNIVERSITY IN MAKING USE OF THE MAXIMUM NUMBER OF HOURS AVAILABLE TO TEACHING

Messrs. WADE, PROPERT, EHRGOTD, SEYLER and HAYS offered the following resolution (Serial No. 53), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 17, 1959.

Temple University, one of the greater institutions of higher learning in the Commonwealth should be commended for their forward looking approach to the problem of the increased number of students looking for a college education.

In order to give the opportunity of education to thousands of additional students, Temple University has virtually a twelve month program. The University operates day and evening classes for twelve months in each year and is closed for two weeks only, one during the Christmas holidays and another at Easter. Each weekday classes begin at 8:30 A.M. and continue until 10:00 P.M.

As far as the use of space is concerned, all national studies point to Temple as one of the few institutions that uses its space to a maximum. There are only a few institutions of higher learning in the state that can say they use all their classrooms fourteen hours per day.

If all the colleges and universities in the State followed the program of Temple and the other institutions who have similar schedules there would be a great deal more room and added facilities available for those who would like to receive an education; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate congratulate Temple University for its fine display of forward thinking in making use of the maximum number of hours available to teaching and in using all the space available to them; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate urge the other colleges and universities throughout the State who have not already done so to look into the Temple program of space and time utilization; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Millard E. Gladfelter, the president of Temple.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE (By request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1091, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "The Vehicle Code," providing periodic examinations or re-examinations of operators and penalties for the violations of licensing provisions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

He also (By request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1092, entitled:

Senate Bill No. 170, Printer's No. 1053; and

Senate Bill No. 387, Printer's No. 1242.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 1302, on third reading go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chairs hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 243, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 15, 1955 (P. L. 865), entitled "An Act requiring rents and royalties from oil and gas leases of Commonwealth land to be placed in a special fund to be used for conservation recreation dams and flood control authorizing the Secretary of Forests and Waters to determine the need for and location of such projects and to acquire the necessary land" earmarking a certain portion of the fund for the establishment development and construction of a State park and dam in Indiana County.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on Senate Bill No. 243, I have received a letter from the Department of Forests and Waters on this matter, and I would like to have the Senate have the benefits of that communication. The position taken by Secretary Goddard is that he feels there is no money in the program, or the present budget, for this project.

I would just like to read this letter, from the Secretary of Forests and Waters, to the gentlemen in this Body. It reads as follows:

"I would like to go on record with your office as being in opposition to the provisions of Senate Bill No. 243 introduced by Honorable Arthur E. Kromer on February 16, 1959 and referred to the Committee on Forests and Waters— Game and Fish—on the same day.

"It is quite apparent on a review of the projects approved under the provisions of Act 256—a copy of the list of said projects recently submitted to the Budget Office of the Governor—that the present balance of that fund has already been committed and that additions to the fund for some years hence will be similarly encumbered thereby.

"Obviously, our entire program based upon the provisions of Act 256 depends upon the discretionary power of the Secretary of Forests and Waters. That fact was clearly spelled out in the original Act and it has been upon this premise that our program has been formulated. Any withdrawal of that discretionary power from this office and any placing of all or part of it under any other body regardless of its make-up or position will place our program in jeopardy and render our plans ineffective.

"Sincerely yours"
/s/ "Maurice K. Goddard"

Mr. President, I am sure there must be a need for a recreation park and dam in Indiana County. However, I am certain that some of the Senators sitting on this side, as well as those sitting on the other side, also have projects in their counties. I am sure that they, too, would like to dip into this fund for those necessary projects.

If we are going to set up, as we have under Act No. 256, a fund to take care of these projects and ask the Secretary of Forests and Waters, or the person who is in charge of this fund, to project out his thinking to take care of those problems which come up in the Commonwealth from time to time and, on the other hand, we then superimpose our own thinking and pass legislation to overcome what we might think is his best thinking, we are certainly not going to get anywhere. What is going to happen is that these plans and the fund, after all, are going to become chaotic.

I think our best plan is to turn this over to an administrative officer, whoever that might be—we have already decided that by Act No. 256—and let him operate it. If we do not feel that his operation is a correct one, I think we should address our problems and our questions to him. I do not think we should supersede his actions by legislation.

I have no doubt that the project in Senator Kromer's area is not only needed, but necessary. Knowing Senator Kromer well and having a great regard for him, I do not think he would do anything that would wreck any fund or any program. I think the problem is one which he should take up with the Secretary of Forests and Waters, rather than with the Senate and then have to fight this problem out in the House, where he may or may not get cooperation. Basically, I think that is where the problem lies.

If the gentleman is anxious to have this bill go over in order, in order to have an opportunity to talk to the Secretary of Forests and Waters, I will join in that motion. If his desire is not to do that, I believe the only action that I or anyone else can take, who speaks for the Administration, is to have the administrator review this measure. If he finds that it is not in the budget, then he should have the necessary action taken either by the House or by the Governor when this matter comes to them.

I, therefore, ask that my colleagues vote "no" on this measure.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "no" to "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz.

YEAS—33

Berger,	Kalman,	McMenamin,	Taylor,
Blass,	Keller,	Murray,	Van Sant,
Camiel,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wade,
Chapman,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Propert,	Wagner,
Confair,	Kromer,	Rooney,	Walker,
Ehrgood,	Madigan,	Scott,	Watkins,
Elliott,	Mallery,	Shafer,	Whalley,
Flack,	McCreesh,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Harney,

NAYS—11

Barr,	Lane,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Donolow,	Mahady,	Seyler,	Weiner,
Hays,	Mullin,	Silver,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 275, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949" increasing the compensation of the county board of school directors for attendance at meetings.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I was going to ask that Senate Bill No. 275, Printer's No. 299, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations. This may have been overlooked after the bill passed second reading. The reason, therefore, is that it will require doubling whatever expenses have been allocated already for this activity.

We raise the amount from $5 to $10, and from $60 to $120 per year. Whatever money has been allocated for this purpose, I think will have to be taken up by the Committee on Appropriations in order to make the necessary adjustment, either in the budget or in the measure, itself.

The PRESIDENT. The bill is now on final passage. Therefore, if you make such a motion and it is seconded, we would be in a position to recommit it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 275, on final passage, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the bill has passed third reading, has it not?

The PRESIDENT. It has passed third reading and is now on final passage.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 323, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1933 (P. L. 624), entitled as amended "Banking Code," extending the time in which the department may approve articles of incorporation amendment or merger changing the requirements for restatement of articles of incorporation and articles of merger providing for appointment of honorary or emeriti directors trustees and members of advisory boards providing for contributions by institutions and ratifying contributions heretofore made enlarging the powers of institutions to deal in fractional interests of evidences of debt extending to trust companies a limited power to borrow money and further providing for the powers and limitations on powers of corporations authorized to engage in a banking business.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted, "aye", the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 971, Printer's No. 1140; and

Senate Bill No. 972, Printer's No. 1141.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1034, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1046) entitled "State Tax Equalization Board Law" requiring the use of 1959-1960 valuations in determining reimbursement fractions for the 1960-61 school year.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, next to last line of Title, by striking out "1959-1960" and inserting: "1957."; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 15), page 3, lines 13 to 19, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting: "notwithstanding any provision of this act or any other law, for payments of appropriation to be made to school districts for the school year 1959-1960 and payable during the school year 1960-1961, each school district's market valuation to be used for purposes of computing its basic account standard reimbursement fraction, subsidiary account reimbursement fraction, and capital account reimbursement fraction shall be the market value of the taxable real property in the school district as finally adjusted and determined by the board for 1957, certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction on June 30, 1958, and used for making payments of appropriation in 1959-1960."

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendments?
They were agreed to.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I have no objection to the amendments as offered to Senate Bill No. 1034. However, I do want to call to the attention of the Senate that this bill, as it stands today, has been dubbed a bill to rob Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. These words were used by a very responsible newspaper in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

We, on this side, have prepared amendments to this bill which, if adopted, will make it possible for us to vote for this bill. The amendment which I have, a copy of which I have given for consideration by the Republican Caucus, would permit Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and those other school districts which receive an increase in appropriation subsidies from Pennsylvania, to retain them. Those who lose them will lose them gradually, at the rate of twenty-five per cent this year, twenty-five per cent next year, fifty per cent the following year, and so on. It will, therefore, be easier on those school districts

As I said, I am not offering these amendments today, but Senator Ripp and I intend to offer them tomorrow. We hope that the Republican Caucus will decide to go along with us.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1034, Printer's No. 1221, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

SECOND READING CALENDAR
BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 141, Printer's No. 1303, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not objecting to this bill going over in its order. However, Mr. President, I am a little bit concerned about this piece of legislation in so far as the bill has been amended. I think the amendments change the bill completely. I notice that the title has been slightly changed. I think that the sponsors of the bill, or the persons who are in favor of it in this Chamber, should give this bill some careful consideration before we vote on it, because we might be passing an unconstitutional bill, aside from the substantive material and just from a purely legislative point of view, in the sense that the title may not be consistent with what is included in the bill.

I also think that the amendments to the bill might receive some careful consideration before we act on it because it will have to go back to the House for concurrence. Perhaps, it might be well that we consult some of those persons in the House before we take any action.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 283, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3 1937 (P. L. 1333) entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" providing for special elections in case of tie votes in certain county-wide elections.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 573, entitled:

An Act prohibiting persons engaged in financing the purchase of real or personal property or of lending money on the security of real or personal property or their agents or employes from interfering with the right of any person to select an insurer of his choice providing for the giving of notice of such right of free selection prohibiting the making of a change against any person for substituting an insurance policy of one insurance company for that of another providing penalties providing for civil and criminal remedies including damages and penalties and fine and/or imprisonment and for the loss of license of an insurance agent or broker and making the penalties and remedies concurrent and repealing inconsistent acts.

The first, second, third and fourth sections were read and agreed to.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. RIPP offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 5, page 4, line 14 by striking out "of" and inserting in lieu thereof: "not to exceed"; Amend Section 5, page 4, line 14 by striking out "for" and inserting in lieu thereof: "not to exceed".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The sixth, seventh and eighth section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE SAEGERTOWN AREA HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Mr. SHAFER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAFER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 54), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 17, 1959.

On Friday evening, August 14, the eyes of the Nation were focused upon an annual football classic; that game in which the professional world champions, this year the Baltimore Colts, met the amateur world's best, the College All Stars.

During the half-time intermission, the Nation was en-tained with a sparkling performance by the Saegertown Area High School Band.

The general excellence of this half-time show was best noted by Vice President Nixon who voiced the lavish praise which the band so richly deserved; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania congratulate this wonderful musical organization from Crawford County, Pennsylvania, on its spectacular achievement and thank all who participated, for so well representing our State before the Nation; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the supervising principal of the Saegertown Area High School and to the director of the Saegertown Area High School Band.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to make an observation here. I believe, in the resolution, it was stated that Mr. Nixon was very lavish in his praise. I think the gentleman has done a fine job in Russia and that his sentiments have changed in his thoughts about Russians and people who are closely associated with them, from what they used to be a few years ago. There may be some inconsistent statements, but I am willing to take the words of Emerson who said, "Consistency is the hobgoblin of small minds."

However, Mr. President, I am beginning to feel that Mr. Nixon is becoming the all-American boy. There is hardly a sports event which takes place that he does not attend. Whether it occurs in Chicago, Los Angeles, or even out here in Saegertown, he will be there. I would also like to point out that I think some of the other people in the Republican Party are certainly entitled to equal time.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe that this mazurka will be the last one which will be offered on behalf of Vice President Nixon for the next few days.

An the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO RETURN TO THE ORDER OF BUSINESS OF LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, with the agreement of the Majority Leader, I wish now to ask for unanimous consent to return to the order of business under the heading of Leave of Absence.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, there is no objection.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, we will return to the order of business of Leave of Absence.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, in the rather long duration since early this afternoon, I have had a telephone conversation with my colleague, Senator Miller. As a result, I would like to ask that the leave of absence, so generously granted by the Senate to Senator Miller, be now limited to the duration of just today.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection to the leave of absence for the gentleman from Beaver County, Mr. Miller? Are you objecting, Senator Silvert?

Mr. SILVERT. No, Mr. President, I proudly join in the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, This was unexpected. Are there any objections?

There being no objections, the leave is granted for today's Session.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I realize that this is probably funny to my colleagues on the other side. However, I would like the record to show, and you have shown, that the leave of absence is for today's Session only.

The PRESIDENT. It was very clearly so stated, Senator Fleming. It was stated by Senator Seyler at the same time, and I simply followed his request.

Mr. FLEMING. All right, Mr. President.

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request at least a one-half hour recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Finance, to be held in the Finance Committee Room on E Floor.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a one-half hour recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHALLEY, from the Committee on Finance, reported as amended, House Bill No. 660, entitled

An Act amending the act of June 1 1889 (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine" continuing in effect the rate of tax of fourteen mills heretofore imposed upon the gross receipts of certain companies limited partnerships associations joint-stock associations copartnerships and persons and imposing the tax upon the gross receipts of gas companies and municipalities engaged in gas business for a limited time.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I realize the hour is late, but I cannot pass up the opportunity to say just a few words about the Republican County Chairman of York County. I understand from the newspapers that the Republican County Chairman of York County has taken to writing letters. Of course, this is his privilege, but a rather unusual way in which he chooses to do it.

According to my reading of the newspaper articles, he is very interested in my vote on the four per cent sales tax. In the account I read, he cited the fact that Mr. Gailey, who is a Representative in the House, from York County, has called the legislation, which is pending, a Republican tax bill. Also, Mr. Freed said, I believe, that if Mr. Gailey and I both recorded votes against the bill, we would "make hay in York County." I do not know exactly what that means, but it sounds very promising.

I think it is a bit unusual, Mr. President, for the County Chairman of the Party opposite to that of the elected Senator to be so interested in the Senator's activities. I have heard that some County Chairmen do have influence in the House or in the Senate, but usually this influence is exerted through a Member whom they helped to elect. Perhaps Mr. Freed is taking a short cut the hard way, I guess, as to elect a Senator and then have some influence on how he votes.

Although a recent meeting I attended deprived me of the privilege of listening to it personally, I also hear that Mr. Bloom, who I believe is the State Chairman of the Republican Party, showed considerable interest likewise in my vote. Of course, I am flattered by this attention from both of these eminent gentlemen.

It may not be generally known, but Mr. Freed is a candidate in the coming election. It may be that one of his motives was to attract a little bit of additional attention to his candidacy. Most of the comments I have heard from Republican friends in the past were to the effect that Mr. Freed did not engage in enough activity and this is, perhaps, his way of making up for lost time in the past.

The people of York County have simple and rather uncomplicated minds. I think they realize that in this Senate there are twenty-eight Republican votes, and I think, being simple and uncomplicated in their thinking, that their feeling would be that if the Republican Senators thought this bill which is pending is a bad bill, they would be in a position to defeat it. On the other hand, if they feel that it is a good bill, they are in a position to pass it. I imagine if the bill passes, these simple and uncomplicated thinkers in York County may come to the conclusion that the Republicans approved of the bill and it would be difficult for me, even if such were my desire, to unconvince them of such a conclusion.

In conclusion, Mr. President, it may be presumptuous of me to attempt to advise the Republican Caucus—much more presumptuous than even Mr. Freed's attempt perhaps—but I would like to say to them, for what it is worth, that I doubt that Mr. Freed is going to be a very great addition to the eminent coaching staff which, I understand, already is at the command of the Republican Caucus. I doubt very much whether he will be a great asset to them.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I only wish to remark that the Republican Caucus will accept the advice of the eminent gentleman from York for what it is worth.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I just want to recite for my friend, Senator Seyler, an old adage in politics: "Never write a letter, but never throw one away." I hope that he has a copy of that letter.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CANCELLATION OF RADAR DEMONSTRATION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, for the benefit of those who are going out to the radar demonstration, particularly Senator Wade, it has been called off because of the meetings and the lateness of today's Session.

The PRESIDENT. I thought it was called off because of rain.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to inform my good friend from Allegheny County, Senator Barr, that through mutual agreement with the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Pennsylvania State Police, there will be no demonstration tomorrow. Probably a later date will be set, if approved by my committee.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Watkins. That takes care of radar for the night.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, August 18, 1959, at 12:00 o'clock, m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:52 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, August 18, 1959, at 12:00 o'clock, m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, August 17, 1959.

The House met at 3:30 p.m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Father Humphrey Caputo, O.F.M., guest Chaplain, recently returned from the Mission in Honduras, presently a member of the faculty of Christopher Columbus High School, Boston, Massachusetts and guest of the House Chaplain, Rev. David. R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and merciful Father, all wise Creator of mankind, ever present observer of all man's actions, to Thee do we direct our thoughts and aspirations, in this brief moment of meditation.

Aware of Thy unlimited power, our own feebleness; Thy boundless wisdom, our own measured knowledge; Thy unstinting providence, our own inmate selfishness; we ask Thy assistance and guidance upon this week's session.

With Thy all-powerful grace illuminate our minds and strengthen our wills that all our deliberation and judgment be directed towards Thy honor and glory and the benefit of the people of the Commonwealth which we represent, Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, August 3, Tuesday, August 4 and Wednesday, August 5, 1959? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last Wednesday this House was honored by a visit from a Member of the House of Representatives of Ohio. This gentleman, the Honorable Michael Sweeney, enlightened us by stating that visitors were barred from the floor of the House during sessions. Subsequent to his talk I asked him this particular question, "Does the same apply to lobbyists in the State of Ohio?" and he answered in the affirmative.

Accordingly, I broach this matter to the House with a bipartisan basis, that all visitors, including lobbyists, be barred from the floor of the House during the time of Sessions. I make this suggestion and recommendation not in derogation of the wonderful work done by these so-called Legislative Engineers, but because I believe that their removal from the floor of the House will allow us to carry on our duties more properly, more silently, and more deliberately.

During the last four years, during the terms of our former Speaker, Mr. Helm, and the prior term of our present Speaker, Mr. Andrews, we have had Session after Session interrupted by the presiding officer stating time and again, "Will the gentlemen in the aisle please take their friends to the Conference Room?" I have talked to Members on the other side of the House, the Honorable Mr. Capano, from the County of Washington, and I believe he agrees with me in this respect.

I would like to have the caucuses of the Republican and Democratic parties take up this matter. The galleries are not crowded today. I look up there and I see a young gentleman about ten years of age with his mother, probably from the County of Adams, for some reason or other. I say that we should be able to conduct our business with the lobbyists and the visitors—

The SPEAKER. The thoroughfare is no longer occupied by travelers.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, what has just occurred is an example of why I want to have the aisles reserved for members of the House exclusively. Time and time again, as I said before, our Session is interrupted. These chairs on the side should be removed so that no wig-wagging system can be worked out, so these Members of the House can attend to their duties calmly and orderly.

If we require the attendance of any bureau head or any administrative head, we will have plenty of space up in the left corner there and in the right corner to discuss these matters. I submit this particular suggestion and recommendation for your sincere attention and deliberate action, so that this particular Commonwealth and especially the Legislative Body, the House, can move ahead and discuss and handle the problems in the manner to which we are entitled.

The SPEAKER. The convention in the rear of the House will disperse.

The gentleman from Allegheny will proceed.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. The convention having ceased in the rear of the House, I use that as the best argument why my plan should be adopted, and I hope it succeeds.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement on the comment the gentleman made. I heard it stated that the gentleman would like to have the chairs removed from the aisles of the House. I would suggest that those chairs be left there and reserved for families of Members of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LEONARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to concur in the remarks presented to the House by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

I have been a visitor to the Ohio State Assembly; I have been a visitor to West Virginia. Nothing went on there like goes on in here at any time. If there is anyone back of the rail there or in here some place that we want information from we can go get it. They do not have to come down here and disturb us while we are in Session.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. CIOFFI asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Counties to meet during the session of the House.

The SPEAKER. During the interval the Chair might remark that he has always considered himself the servant of this House.

Just as one must be governed by public sentiment in the end, in the matter of legislation, so the Chair irrespective of the power with which he might be endowed, is bound to respect the public opinion of the membership of this House.

During the first months when this House honored me by making me Speaker and during the first two years of the administration, if I had felt at liberty to exercise my own discretion, there would not have been a chair along either wall. There would have been chairs reserved at the left and the right of the Speaker's rostrum; there would have been chairs at the rear of the House, on each side. The chairs in front to the left and right of the rostrum would have been reserved for former Members and the members of their families. The chairs to the rear of the House would have been reserved for our visitors. When there was an overflow, the visitors, of course, would have been invited to go to the gallery.

However, at that time, the probabilities were that such a move on the part of the Speaker would have outraged the sensibilities of some of the Members and that might be true at the present time.

The Chair would be very glad, indeed, if the matter brought up by the gentleman from Allegheny were referred to the respective causes. If the Speaker had some way of ascertaining the desires and wishes of the Members of this House, it has always been the Chair's view that it has been incompatible with the dignity of this assembly that the sidelines should have been manned by persons personally interested in promoting legislation.

We lack one thing. The architects who designed this Chamber made it very beautiful but they did not have any idea as to utility. There should be ample quarters provided in which Members can confer with their friends. When someone wants to talk to a Member, there should be a conference room to which they could repair. We lack that conference room. We have not served the convenience of our Members. We have been more diligent in serving the convenience of our visitors. There is much to be done if we are to bring this House in its conduct and its atmosphere up to the standards that its responsibility and its inherent dignity dictates.

At any rate, the Speaker would be very glad to hear from the respective caucuses concerning a few moves that might be made to set us apart, not as a popular assembly but as a legislative body, part of the government of this Commonwealth and to be something that is not a spectacle. I do not like that boulevard over at the left. It is a thoroughfare.

INTERROGATION

Mr. McCORMACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. A. M. LEE.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, in last Sunday's Bulletin, August 16th. there appeared what purported to be a statement issued by a gentleman, and I quote that portion of the statement which I am about to speak on, and ask him whether or not he has been accurately quoted.

This particular statement pertains to the Skid Row bill and the vote last week. In that statement the gentleman discussed the futility—and this is by way of background and it will lead to my question, if you will bear with me I will put the question, after I give you the background—the futility of Mayor Dilworth in sending telegrams to House Leaders asking that the amendments be defeated, and that statement goes on to quote the gentleman as follows:

“Rather than waste taxpayers' funds on wires, Lee said, Dilworth should seek an audience with Boss Bill Green right here at home. Green can produce 34 “Wooden Indians” to vote for or against almost anything at the State Capitol.”

Now, is that the gentleman's reference; are they his words?

Mr. A. M. LEE. They are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. That's just the point I am getting at.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might interrupt the gentleman from Philadelphia. Mr. Lee, of course is acquainted with the fact that he would not be required to answer an interrogation concerning things that were said in another place.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I am willing to submit to the interrogation, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentleman mind stating what he means by “Wooden Indians”?

Mr. A. M. LEE. Does the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, wish me to explain what I meant by the statement which I gave to the Philadelphia newspapers?

Mr. McCORMACK. I am sorry, I did not hear that.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I will repeat, Mr. Speaker. Does the gentlemen wish me to explain what I meant by the statement I gave to the Philadelphia newspapers?

Mr. McCORMACK. No sir, I would rather have the gentleman answer the question as to what he meant by “Wooden Indians.”

Mr. A. M. LEE. In order to answer that question, Mr. Speaker, I have to explain to the gentleman what was behind the statement and why I gave it to the papers. I have to give a little background too.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, you can do that under unanimous consent, I suggest, but for the purpose of—

Mr. A. M. LEE. I prefer to do it under your unanimous consent.

Mr. McCORMACK. If you want to make a speech now go right ahead. As far as I am concerned it is all right.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I just say, Mr. Speaker, that this was the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack's idea, this interrogation, and I am perfectly happy to answer any and all questions, but I must insist that I answer them in my own way.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would agree, it is a free for all, no holds barred and no rules.

Mr. McCORMACK. Go ahead, that is perfectly all right, let the gentleman answer it any way he can, sir.

Mr. A. M. LEE. The meaning behind that statement, Mr. Speaker, was that on Tuesday of last week we had here before us a bill, Senate Bill No. 424, which purported to deal with the question of taprooms in concentrated areas and giving to the Liquor Control Board certain discretion in turning down those applications for either transfer or a license if it was detrimental to the health and welfare of the particular community involved. At the time amendments were offered to the bill to insert into it subject matter of other legislation which had already passed this House of Representatives. I sat and I observed all of the Philadelphia Democrats present, except one, vote in favor of those amendments. In my own opinion this legislation is seriously needed in the City of Philadelphia in a great number of our areas. Many of those Legislators represent those very areas which are in need of this particular type of legislation.

I felt that I had to speak out on the subject because the Mayor was sending wires up here to Harrisburg, when actually what he should have done was to go and to talk to the local leader in Philadelphia, Mr. William Green, who is Chairman of the Democrats City Committee. When I made the statement that Mr. Green could produce 34 Wooden Indians, for or against almost anything, I meant just exactly what I said in the sense that I have watched all sorts of legislation out on the floor of this House, and I have seen the way Mr. Green operates. He can pull that block of votes together for almost anything. We had tax bills and he said no, and of course, everybody jumped the reservation. As soon as he gave them the green light, right away they all jumped on the bandwagon. So that is the reason I made the statement.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to both gentlemen that there will be a period, undoubtedly, tomorrow when the Floor Leaders are marking the calendar and the Chair, if they so desire, will reserve that time for an extension of the pending conflict.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well Mr. Speaker, I would like to continue if I may, I will not be long.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say that we recognized the gentleman because there was an interval during which the Floor Leaders were marking the calendar, and the Chair would request that the gentlemen let us now proceed with the calendar. As the Chair said, tomorrow is another day, and there is a lot of business, if there is something to be said tomorrow, there will be a time when the Chair will recognize the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. McCORMACK. If the Chair is asking me—

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not accord his unanimous consent to miscellaneous discussion at this time, and the gentleman is speaking by unanimous consent.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is the Chair revoking the unanimous consent that was given?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is now, in order that we may consider the calendar, revoking the unanimous consent. He no longer consents.

The Chair will recognize the gentleman tomorrow.

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not wish to be recognized tomorrow, Mr. Speaker, thank you.

SENATE MESSAGE

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1861, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) transferring the State Hospital at Hamburg to the Department of Public Welfare and creating a board of trustees.

The first to third sections inclusive were separately read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HORST offered the following amendment:

Amend Bill, page 6, by inserting between lines 14 and 15 "Section 4. The operation, control and management of the building known as Pennhurst Annex No. 1 located on the premises of the Samuel G. Dixon State Hospital at Mount Alto and the equipment, fixtures, furnishings and personal property therein are hereby transferred from the Department of Health to the Department of Public Welfare as a part of Pennhurst State Hospital. Utilities, including light, heat, water, sewage facilities and necessary maintenance shall be supplied by the Department of Health at the expense of the Department of Public Welfare.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I would like to have permission to make a few remarks concerning this amendment.

The amendment to House Bill 1861, which I have just introduced, prohibits the transfer of Pennhurst Annex No. 1, by departmental ruling now located on the campus of Samuel Dixon State Hospital, Franklin County.

About two years ago the Department of Health gave the Department of Welfare permission to use the building known as the Children's Hospital at the Samuel Dixon State Hospital, Franklin County. Around $150,000 to $200,000 was spent to equip this building for mentally retarded and physically handicapped children. A part of the visible expenditures to equip this building was the erection of a 15-foot cedar fence around part of this building at a cost of approximately $25,000.

Now if Pennhurst Annex is turned back to the Department of Health for the treatment of tuberculosis patients this fence and the rest of the money invested will be wasted, and additional money will have to be spent to re-equip it for tuberculosis patients.

The Annex at the present time houses 415 mentally retarded and physically handicapped children. About 18 months ago these children were moved here from Pennhurst, Grove City, and now the Welfare Department wants to move them to Hamburg. I have been advised by medical authorities that these children should not be relocated or re-adjusted, from a health standpoint.

In January of this year I received a telephone call from a Doctor in Franklin County who is vitally interested in the welfare of the mentally retarded, physically handicapped children. He told me he understood from reliable sources that the Health Department was considering surrendering the Charles H. Miner Tuberculosis Sanatorium to the Welfare Department, and moving all the tuberculosis patients there to Samuel Dixon Hospital in Franklin County. At the same time the Pennhurst Annex children would be moved to Hamburg.

I asked the Doctor how many patients were at the Samuel Dixon Hospital. He replied there were approximately 500 tuberculosis patients receiving treatment there for about a thousand beds, not including the Children's Hospital. He also said there was one building known as the Nurses' Dormitory has been idle for two years.

Upon inquiring as to the number of doctors at the Samuel Dixon Hospital for tuberculosis patients he said there were 16. I then asked the number of doctors at Pennhurst Annex. He replied Dr. Jaslow, a full time doctor, and Dr. Wolfinger, a part time doctor, and Dr. Lowman, a chiroprapist, who was there about four or five hours per week. These three doctors take care of 415 children. In regard to the number of tuberculosis patients at the Charles H. Miner Hospital, he replied there were between 250 and 300, and that he understood there were approximately 14 doctors there.

Several weeks later I received a notification from the Franklin County Medical Association that they had adopted a resolution unanimously that Pennhurst Annex stay at Samuel Dixon Hospital, from a health standpoint; also that the mentally retarded and physically handicapped children should not be moved. The Nurses' Association of Franklin County and various service clubs and organizations have also objected to the removal of the Pennhurst Annex.

This amendment to House Bill 1861 I feel sure will save the Commonwealth several hundred thousand dollars by leaving the children in their newly-furnished, well-equipped and economically-operated building.

Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of the House, in the past several years I have heard and read in the newspapers that this Legislature has not been interested in the mentally retarded or physically handicapped children of the state. I stand here today pleading for these poor children who are unable to speak for themselves, through no fault of their own, and are wholly at the mercy of those who care for them.

In closing, Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I request a slow roll call. I would like to take this opportunity of thanking you for your kind consideration in support of this amendment.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the amendment offered by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst, to House Bill No. 1861, Printer's No. 1054, would in effect take the existing Pennhurst Annex No. 1, now located at the Samuel Dixon Hospital at Mount Alto, and leave this Annex as a department of Welfare Annex at the hospital located at Mount Alto.

I think all of us in this House will agree, first, that the various civic groups and organizations in Franklin County have certainly done an outstanding job in providing help, financial assistance and many other untold hours of effort in helping to make the guests at the Pennhurst Annex as comfortable as could humanly possibly be expected of any community.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments for the following reason: I know it is difficult for the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst, to look at the picture other than just the Mont Alto Hospital, or the Samuel Dixon Hospital at Mont Alto, but in turn let us look at the entire statewide picture.

Number one, since January of this year the TB patients at the Hamburg State Hospital have been continually reduced in preparation for this transfer. Number two, if you will check the budget on page 58, of which you have a copy, it lists all the hospitals and the change in the program.

What are we trying to do here? We are trying to provide approximately 600 more beds for welfare patients in the overall plan of the Department of Public Welfare in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

What have we done by making this very move? By taking the Pennhurst Annex that is now located at the Samuel Dixon Hospital at Mont Alto the patients from that Annex would be transferred to the Hamburg State Hospital, which would be a Department of Welfare hospital. Right now that hospital is a TB hospital. The patient load at the TB hospital in Hamburg has been continually reduced until, if you look at the records, you will find that it is, at the first of the month, approximately 150 TB patients, where at one time it had 500, in anticipation of this move.

We have to provide more space for our Department of Welfare patients, and particularly in this field we want to provide as much space as possible. The gentleman would say then, well leave the Annex at Pennhurst, but also take over the Hamburg State Hospital for the welfare program.

The TB patient case-load in Pennsylvania is reducing, thank goodness it is, and moves are foreseen in which initial hospital space will eventually become available.

In this move we are faced with what? We are hunting in the neighborhood of 2,600 bed space for the TB load, statewide. This includes Pittsburgh, Mont Alto, Cresson, Philadelphia, as each of these hospitals would be in the TB class. In the budget, very carefully, there was a reduction of $1.2 in the Health Department in anticipation of this move, and it appears in the budget.

None of us have any quarrel, absolutely none, with the amendments by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst, regarding the Pennhurst Annex for this has operated very, very well. There are some collective statements regarding the statements that Mr. Horst has made. I have in front of me from the listing of the expenditures at Mont Alto Annex No. 1, Pennhurst, itemized and certified to, showing that the total expenditure at this Annex was $151,169.03.

This money will not be wasted, nor will there have to be an additional large sum of money spent to convert that building, or buildings, that are now known as Pennhurst Annex No. 1, to be used in the TB patient load.

What are the plans for Mont Alto Hospital in the entire picture? The present capacity of Mont Alto TB Hospital is 920 beds. Including the Annex and the new building that will be opened up, that the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst, spoke about, it will provide us with 1400 beds for TB patients at Mont Alto in Franklin County. By shifting the patients from the Pennhurst Annex No. 1 this becomes available and the hospital at Hamburg, would, in turn, become the Welfare Department hospital for this program. This, in turn, means that the Health Department is relinquishing what? Better than 120 beds. So that we, in turn, can gain 600 beds for the children in this program.

I rise to oppose these amendments and ask that the Members of this House support the position of opposing the amendments offered by the gentleman from Franklin County, Mr. Horst, on the grounds that the overall program is extremely important. It is very important that we provide the 600 additional beds. It is extremely important that we operate our program at the least possible cost to the Commonwealth.

As I mentioned before, in the budget you can check, the Department of Health reduction in figures is $1.2, and the TB case-load at Mont Alto the costs per patient will be a reduction of approximately $3 per day in this overall program. This is another example of getting the most for the dollars that you and I spend in providing the best possible human care for each of these respective classes of patients, whether they be TB or Department of Welfare cases.

I think it is fitting to say in closing that all the patients now located in Hamburg State Hospital have received their notifications quite some time ago regarding the transfer to Mont Alto. It is also a matter of record that the personnel involved in the two hospitals operated by two different departments, Health and Welfare, have all been interviewed and all been given an opportunity to either transfer to the new hospital or, as in many cases, remain with the hospital in the respective location they are located now. Of course, the doctors would be transferred, as well as highly technical people in each of their respective fields, and the intentions are to do that very thing. So, there in no problem about the personnel, and the people who were employed in this field in Franklin County did an outstanding job in taking care of these guests at the Pennhurst Annex No. 1.

This is good, sound welfare legislation, to provide the additional beds we need at the lowest cost we can provide, to reduce our cost in the TB program, to provide the care that we need to give to our TB patients. Most important any area hates to give up a program that it has done so well with, but the overall important program of the state is just as important because of the tremendous caseload awaiting for entry in this field to our various hospitals.

I ask that the Members oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst, to House Bill No. 1861.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what it is going to cost to revamp the Hamburg TB hospital into a mentally retarded institution?

Mr. McCANN. The expenditure, at the present time, to revamp the Hamburg State Hospital into the Department of Welfare program is estimated as $50,000 and is so stated.

Mr. HORST. What does that include?

Mr. McCANN. That includes, basically, the items that are needed in the change of the hospital for some additional equipment that certainly would be needed because some of the bed load would increase. The equipment would be needed in the hospital. Basically, the hospital is rather well equipped with its kitchen equipment, with its equipment for other operations of the hospital which has operated for quite some time, and the expenditure would be extremely light, except for the small amount, as I stated, of $50,000.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me how much for the new kitchen and the new laundry, which is proposed by GSA, is in that figure which you gave me? How much is that going to cost?

Mr. McCANN. No, that would not be in that figure Mr. Speaker, whether you transferred this or not. You would have the problem of the laundry, which is a capital expenditure, and the bakery, as indicated by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst. I would like to say that the estimated expenditure for capital improvements, I believe, when the budget will come out here, will be approximately $460,000, sir.

Mr. HORST. Plus the $55,000?

Mr. McCANN. Plus the $50,000. But, the $460,000, I repeat, would have no bearing whether the hospital remained in one category or another. This is a capital expenditure in which these improvements are needed and would have to be made if you just maintained it continually at a per patient load as a TB hospital.

Mr. HORST. Did not the gentleman just say, Mr. Speaker, that the kitchen and everything was in very good shape and operating efficiently, at an efficient level, and would not need any expenditures and that only $55,000 would be expended?

Mr. McCANN. Again I repeat, so you have no misunderstanding, $50,000 is the estimated operating expense that would be incurred at the Hamburg State Hospital to make it available and ready to operate as a Department of Public Welfare hospital handling the Department of Public Welfare patients in this field.

Mr. HORST. Plus the additional cost of the $200,000, $300,000, or $400,000 to have the kitchen and bakery enlarged.

Mr. McCANN. Those are capital expenditures, Mr. Speaker, which would be listed in whatever category the hospital would operate in.

Mr. HORST. What will it cost to revamp Pennhurst Annex from the Health Department to TB?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the cost to revamp Pennhurst Annex No. 1 from the present program to the TB program would be nothing.

Mr. HORST. It would be nothing?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the cost would be nothing.

Mr. HORST. Well now how about the beds, the equipment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the beds for the hospital, in the transfer of the hospital, would not be purchased for that particular wing or annex, as you call it.

Mr. HORST. What do they intend to do with this children's hospital which was designed for the treating of children TB patients?

Mr. McCANN. It would be used in the treatment of the 1400 TB patients at Mont Alto. The present hospital has room for 920; the annex that you speak about, including the wing that will be opened up, will make a total bed capacity at Mont Alto of 1400 TB patients, and that annex would be used for TB patients.

Mr. HORST. Well, this amount we have had at Mount Alto ever since it was built. I do not know whether you know it or not, Mr. Speaker, but this building was designed for children. The rooms are larger, as group units. Now it is not designed for one or two patient beds; it is for four and six patient beds in these rooms. Now, do you mean to tell me, Mr. Speaker, that is not going to cost anything to revamp that building?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there are no intentions to revamp the building in its interior, as the gentleman from Franklin quite well knows. I assume he means tearing out the walls, replacing them with other locations of walls, since it was designed basically as a children's TB annex at the time it was built, sir.

Mr. HORST. What will become of the equipment that is at Pennhurst Annex once the children are moved into Hamburg?

Mr. McCANN. What equipment do you speak of, sir?

Mr. HORST. I am talking about the equipment used in the treating of mentally retarded and physically handicapped children, which is entirely different equipment than that used for the treating of tuberculosis.

Mr. McCANN. That equipment, which is used entirely in one field, will be transferred to the Hamburg State Hospital, but that equipment which is used normally in every hospital, which is listed on the $151,000 expenditure would be retained at that hospital because it is used in that hospital, or any other hospital, where patients are located.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader, what is the cost per day per patient at Pennhurst?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have at my fingertips the cost per patient, per day, at Pennhurst Annex No. 1.

Mr. HORST. The reason I brought that up is because you dwell on how economical this operation would be by just sending them all down to Hamburg. Now, the latest figures I have are $3.17. Now, what is the cost at Pennhurst Annex per day?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would not have the Pennhurst Annex figures.

Mr. HORST. Could you get them for me?

Mr. McCANN. I am sure the Appropriation Committee Chairman can get the cost per patient, per patient day of Pennhurst Annex No. 1, separately from Pennhurst Hospital.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, are there any other annexes in Pennsylvania operated?

Mr. McCANN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I believe that there were some other annexes—am I correct that there was one in Selinsgrove at one time?

Mr. HORST. No, I mean one now. Is there any other annex now in Pennsylvania?

Mr. McCANN. I believe there are other annexes and there have been other annexes in each field.

Mr. HORST. What is the operating expense of the Annex at White Haven?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would have informed me that he wanted to know the operating cost of any annex, or any hospital, the figures could be supplied immediately.

Mr. HORST. Would it be too much trouble to just pass over this debate until you get the figures and start in then? Since you started to give the overall picture that this building is not economical and so forth and so on, I had to dig some figures out and I thought I would ask a little bit.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, so that we would have no misunderstanding, would the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst, notify the House here of any figures that he might like to have so that the Appropriations Committee Chairman could secure them immediately?

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman spoke about 151 odd thousand dollars. Now, how much did it cost to excavate? Do you have an item of excavation in there?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, of the $151,000 that I mentioned in the debate, all but $36,000 is in equipment; $36,000 deals with parking lot, excavation, entrance—

Mr. HORST. How much for excavation, the excavation under the building, I am talking about?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, any item that the gentleman wants we can get. I have it broken down into a total. There was $151,000 spent in the Pennhurst Annex No. 1. All but $36,000 is in equipment. In that money is included the entrance, the parking lot, the excavation, the fence, all of the items that the gentleman has in mind, and we can get them for him, the entire cost on any questions that he asks.

Mr. HORST. Did you know that the excavating alone ran around $25,000 to $28,000? And that the fence, on your record you told me the other day, was $12,000; and Mrs. Horting, I pinned her down twice on how much the cost of the fence and the erection would be, and she replied, around $12,500. I came back and asked the second time and she gave me the same answer, that the fence would cost that much. Now the fence actually cost about $23,000 and what will become of that fence? My taxpayers in Franklin County are wondering what we are doing here in spending money foolishly.

Mr. McCANN. The fence located at the Pennhurst Annex No. 1 that the gentleman speaks about certainly is there and it was paid for at the time it was built.

Mr. HORST. How long ago?

Mr. McCANN. I think maybe I could answer it this way: at the time you pinned down Mrs. Horting you could have found out when the fence was built.

Mr. Speaker, I'll be more than pleased to answer any question the gentleman cares to ask on any financial matter regarding Pennhurst Annex, and I assure him I am not trying to evade any costs on any subject.

Mr. HORST. Well, so much until you get your figures.

Now I have something else. The gentleman told me that Hamburg when equipped, ready to go, will have 600 beds. Is that right?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will check on page 58 of the budget he will find listed Charles H. Miner State Hospital, Hamburg with a patient capacity of 600.

Mr. HORST. Is that for TB or is that for mentally retarded?

Mr. McCANN. Patient capacity as it is now listed, of course, is for TB. So it would be 600 or more.

Mr. HORST. Now, how many children are there at Pennhurst Annex?

Mr. Speaker, I do not have in my notes right here the number of patients now located at Pennhurst Annex No. 1, Department of Public Welfare. Whatever the gentleman says is, without a doubt, the correct figure.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, there are 415 beds for mentally retarded, physically handicapped children at Pennhurst Annex as of Friday evening at 4:30. Last Friday there were 413 patients in the Pennhurst Annex.

Now you, Mr. Speaker, say that you are looking for more beds for these mentally retarded, physically handicapped children. You intend to move from Pennhurst Annex which is efficiently operated and where they are treated fine. You have admitted to that. If you take 413 from 600, how many does that leave you, to go into this new building in which you say we are going to save money, and going to spend a half or three-quarters of a million dollars to revamp?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the hospital at Hamburg has a 600 bed capacity as a TB hospital. There is no question in anyone's mind that it will handle more than 600 children. When it is equipped and in a position to handle 600 adults as its capacity load, it would have to be 600 or more children, and I am confident it would be more.

Mr. HORST. Last February when we met with a bipartisan group from our county, including the Democrat judge, our friend, Chauncey Depew, Senator Elliot, the doctors and so forth who were interested, and the people who were interested in the mentally retarded program of Franklin County, I understood Mrs. Horting to say that the capacity would be about 1,000.

No I understand from you that there are about 3,000 people who are looking for treatment by the Commonwealth in our mentally retarded and physically handicapped institutions?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the figures he is using are approximately correct. The Appropriations Committee has information which says that approximately 2800 are on the waiting list desiring treatment in this field.

Mr. HORST. Now if we could leave the children at Penn Hurst Annex, the 417 children there, and revamp the Charles H. Miner Institution into the Hamburg Mentally Retarded Institution, which I am one hundred per cent for, we would be able to put 1,000 of those 2800 in an institution under our direction, and take care of the children at Pennhurst Annex. Am I correct, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. McCANN. The way you add it up, you could do that. There is no question that is what that would equal when you add it up.

Mr. HORST. How would you add it up any other way to get economy and utilize everything we have at our command and get the most out of it?

Mr. McCANN. That is true, that is how you would add it up, but when you took that space of the Annex which is listed for TB patients, and I told you the overall TB case load and patient load in the Commonwealth, then would you not have reduced at least that figure in the TB field?

Mr. HORST. Mr. Speaker, according to the Health Department on February 8—that happens to be my birthday—there were 853 patients at Mont Alto. I do not know whether you know it or not, but there are actually only 550 patients receiving treatment. The rest of those patients some 200, are still carried in order to keep the load up, showing a good load. They are on the payroll, a lot of those people. They work up there. Yet they have been patients who have been discharged; their lungs are clear, but they stay up there and work and are carried on; as our program shows here, 853.

Now if you remember, I made a statement of 575 TB patients receiving treatment. You made a statement that there were approximately 1,000 beds, 1400 beds. This nurses' dormitory has 100 beds that have been idle for two years and they have been heating it until a couple weeks ago when they put the windows up and aired out the buildings. Take that off and you now have 1,300. Take 400 off of that and you still have room enough to take care of all the TB patients at Hamburg and move them up to the sanitorium of Samuel Dixon.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I disagree with the gentleman. The TB hospital at Mont Alto now is of 920 bed capacity.

Mr. HORST. Sure. I . . .

Mr. McCANN. When you add in Pennhurst Annex No. 1 and the building you are speaking about, you will then come to a 1400 TB capacity hospital at Mont Alto, sir.

Mr. HORST. How many patients have been moved up and are going to be moved up from Hamburg?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there will be somewhat over 300 total in the transfer. At the first of January, 1958, Hamburg had 500 TB patients. First of January 1959, it had 400 TB patients. It is being reduced continually. Hamburg had at the first of the month approximately 158 patients on the list, and notices have been given to each of them transferring them. The transfer also includes Philadelphia and Hamburg and Mont Alto, sir.

Mr. HORST. How many are moving out of Hamburg? 150—some patients, in round figures. Is that right, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. McCANN. In January—

Mr. HORST. We are not waiting until January. There are some who have left. We are talking about the patient load now or within the last week.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this move has already been in progress, to transfer these patients, and we are transferring them in the various areas, both Philadelphia, Hamburg and Mont Alto. There is no question that on the first of the month there were 158 patients at Hamburg. And a notice to each of them telling them of the transfer has been given. I am sure you have seen a copy of this as it is given to the patients, each patient at the Hamburg State Hospital.

Mr. HORST. Are you ready to give me some operating figures?

Mr. McCANN. The Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations informs me that he will give to Mr. Horst all the figures on everything for which he has asked.

Mr. HORST. I happen to have the figures. I do not know if they are exactly correct. I just wondered whether you had them. I wanted to verify them.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say this. I hope the gentleman's figures are correct and if they are incorrect, he has the information, although the first figures he used, I believe, had some discrepancy as outlined by the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Horst.

Mr. HORST. That is why I am asking for the correct figures. We want the record correct.

What I would like to know, Mr. Speaker, what is the per day operating cost at Pennhurst Annex? What is the state average?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman have the figures? If he does, tell the Majority Leader.

Mr. HORST. Well, according to the figures I have here, the Majority Leader's first figure was wrong, but it is $3.17 for Pennhurst. Now that is down at the big institution. The Pennhurst Annex, was $3.68. White Haven was $4.50; that is an annex. The state average was $3.78. Now if you take the state average, the Pennhurst Annex $3.68 against $3.78, we are working the boys up there at the Annex, Pennhurst Annex, about 10 cents an hour under the state average.

The gentleman has implied this operation up there would be impractical. For two and a half years this institution has been under the direction of Pennhurst, down in the eastern part of the state, where patients have been taken care of. When they arrived at Pennhurst they were averaging anywhere from 70 to 80 epileptic fits per month. Today their average is 5 to 15.

The less you disturb mentally retarded people, or the less you disturb anybody—some of us sometimes get disturbed—the better off you are. I am not a doctor but I have inquired, and the doctors have advised that this should be left where it is.

This administration of the Department of Health and Welfare has seemed to agree that they are going to take Pennhurst "off the hill" as we call it, and take over Hamburg. I am 100 percent in favor of that. I am in favor of the TB and the mentally retarded programs. I wouldn't want to see anyone hurt, but I am here also, and I think it is time for each and every one of us to use a little economy and try to make our tax dollars go as far as humanly possible.

The Record-Herald in Waynesboro, the Public Opinion in Chambersburg, have printed articles and editorials by various people who are vitally interested in this program, and they all have come up with the same answers, that it would be a mistake to move that when we need so much more space in this state.

I plead with you folks to think what you are doing by voting down this amendment this afternoon. You are kicking the mentally retarded program back instead of forward. I have no crows to shoot or no plums to pick. I am here on behalf of these poor mentally retarded people who cannot speak for themselves and who through no fault of theirs are a wholly responsible ward of this Commonwealth. We elected several years ago to take this obligation on and I think we should utilize our space, every available space, in this state and not have institutions less than half filled here, there and elsewhere and operating expenses going up because of the vacancy of occupancy in the operation of these institutions.

I thank you. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have a slow roll call and only those present answer to their names.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. Horst and Merry and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1726, Printer's No. 1306

House Bill No. 1802, Printer's No. 1255

House Bill No. 1948, Printer's No. 1358 and

House Bill No. 1984, Printer's No. 1184

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2092, entitled:

An Act amending the act of January 5, 1952 (P. L. 1833) entitled as amended "An act to provide for the coverage of certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions under the old-age and survivor insurance provisions of Title II of the Federal Social Security Act as amended * * *" by changing and clarifying the coverage and scope of agreements and substituting "division" for "referendum."

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2092, Printer's No. 1359, is an amendment to the social security legislation. The passage of House Bill 2092 with its proposed amendments, with the amendments in the bill, would accomplish the following items:

One: It would strengthen the definition of the Federal Social Security Act by clarifying our responsibilities as the Federal Act is from time to time amended.

Two: Updating the language of our enabling Act by making reference to the approved procedure of providing a retirement system in Pennsylvania.

Three: It would change the authority of the state agency by limiting its authority to accept plans without the exercise of optional exclusions by political subdivisions.

This is consistent with the present declared policy of the General Assembly to extend Social Security on as broad a basis as possible. This amendment would materially reduce misunderstandings in coverage which arise as a result of these options being presently provided for.

House Bill No. 2092, is legislation which certainly would be most helpful in the field of social security enabling legislation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and for this reason, Mr. Speaker, I ask that all the Members support House Bill 2092.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 424, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "Liquor Code" further regulating the issuance and transfer of liquor licenses.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON SENATE BILL No. 424

Mr. P. E. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 424, Printer's No. 1274, entitled:

"An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled 'Liquor Code,' further regulating the issuance and transfer of liquor licenses."

was agreed to on third reading as amended on Tuesday, August 11, 1959, be reconsidered.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Perry vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. P. E. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I have been advised that several moves will be made in reference to the bill in question, Senate Bill 424, and in order to conserve the time of the House, I do not feel that I would want to debate each move as it is carried out. However, at the appropriate time I would want to be recognized for discussion of the matter which is before us. It is evident that through some flurry, through some types of political capitalization we have found movements being made at the present time to undo a matter that we had accomplished here in this House by a resounding majority in the past week.

However, I would want the record to show for myself that I am in opposition to the move to reconsider.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE AGREEING TO AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL No. 424

Mr. P. E. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the amendments to Senate Bill No. 424, Printer's No. 1274, were agreed to on Tuesday, August 11, 1959, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I think at this time it would be appropriate that we know the import of the present motion that we are voting upon, and if I am not correct, I hope that the Chair would correct me, which I know he would do.

We would now by the effect of a vote, in event that the vote would prevail, undo the passage of the appeals amendments in Senate Bill 424 that was passed last Wednesday 103 to 85.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call on this motion to reconsider the vote by which the amendments passed last Wednesday.

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. PETROSKY and P. E. PERRY and were as follows:

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, August 18, 1959 at 11:00 a. m. EST.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. TOMPKINS. A motion to adjourn is not debatable, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman, if he will consult the Rules will find he has a right to be heard for two minutes but that is the only debate permissible under the Rules. The Majority and Minority Leaders, on the question of adjournment, may each, under our Rules, speak for two minutes.

The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am quite well aware that the motion to adjourn is not debatable but, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cameron quite well knows that there are bills agreed to for amendment that are to be called from the calendar here today.

Mr. Speaker, if that is the way we are going to operate here, then it is now time that we sit down and talk sense. I have passed over bills daily because you have failed to caucus on them and I think it is time that a gentleman's agreement is always a gentleman's agreement. The motion to adjourn may stand, but tomorrow morning the bills will move in order whether you caucused or not. You can vote against every one of them.

The SPEAKER. If the Minority Leader has designated an acting floor leader, the Minority Leader's designee would be permitted under the Rules to speak for two minutes.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I yield to Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. The Minority Leader yields to the gentleman from Cameron for two minutes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in connection with passing over bills which we have not caucused on, we can not attempt to touch any of those bills today. We understood we had a gentleman's agreement that we would adjourn.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to adjournment. I think the gentleman knows that last week, and the week before, and the week before that I passed bills over, and he knows quite well the bills on the calendar that are agreed to be amended today. The Minority Leader and the Whip went over those bills and have the amendments in their possession.

The SPEAKER. Nothing is in order but the motion to adjourn.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the motion to adjourn is quite satisfactory as far as I am concerned, and I suggest we favor the motion to adjourn at this point.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to make a statement. I will withdraw my motion to adjourn.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the gentleman from Cameron would make a motion, which under the circumstances the Chair will consider privileged.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron.

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I know there are bills on the calendar that could have been amended. I tried to have that procedure followed without calling the bill which is now under consideration because I knew it was going to take a long time to debate it, but that procedure was not followed.

I have no desire to disrupt things in this House, but when we have Monday night after Monday night come to a point where we were going to adjourn at 7:30, and we call up controversial bills that keep us here until 8:30, which disrupts our time, our meals and our health, I don't think it is fair. I will withdraw my motion to adjourn.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman withdraws his motion. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Just so the record is clear, the Minority Floor Leader's calendar would be marked the same as mine, Senate

Bill 424, motion to reconsider today, and I believe you will find those marks on everyone's calendar.

The tentative agreed upon time was 7:30. Senate Bill 424, outside of the extra debate now, took exactly 19 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, I would like at this time to have permission to amend the bills that were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments presented by the gentlemen from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, on August 11, which were as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title, by inserting after "licenses", "and further defining the powers of courts on appeals."

Amend Sec. 1, page 4, by adding after line 6:

Section 464. Hearings Upon Refusal of Licenses, Renewals or Transfers; Appeals.—The board may of its own motion, and shall upon the written request of any applicant for club hotel or restaurant liquor license, or any applicant for any malt or brewed beverage license other than a public service license or for renewal or transfer thereof, whose application of such license renewal or transfer has been refused, fix a time and place for hearing of such application for license or for renewal or transfer thereof, notice of which hearing shall be mailed to the applicant at the address given in his application. Such hearing shall be before the board, a member thereof, or an examiner designated by the board. At such hearing, the board shall present its reasons for its refusal or withholding of license, renewal or transfer thereof. The applicant may appear in person or by counsel, may cross-examine the witnesses for the board and may present evidence which shall likewise be subject to cross-examination the board. Such hearing shall be stenographically recorded. The examiner shall thereafter report to the board upon such hearing. The board shall thereupon grant or refuse the license, renewal or transfer thereof. In considering the renewal of a license, the board shall not refuse any such renewal on the basis of the propriety of the original issuance or any prior renewal of such license. If the board shall refuse such license, renewal or transfer following such hearing, notice in writing of such refusal shall be mailed to the applicant at the address given in his application. In all such cases, the board shall file of record at least a brief statement in the form of an opinion of the reasons for the ruling or order and furnish a copy thereof to the applicant. Any applicant who has appeared before the board or any agent thereof at any hearing, as above provided, who is aggrieved by the refusal of the board to issue any such license or to renew or transfer any such license may appeal, or any church, hospital, charitable institutions, school, or public playground located within three hundred feet of the premises applied for, aggrieved by the action of the board in granting the issuance of any such license or the transfer of any such license, may take an appeal limited to the question of such grievance, within twenty days from date of refusal or grant, to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the premises applied for is located or the county court of Allegheny County. Such appeal shall be upon petition of the aggrieved party, who shall serve a copy thereof upon the board, whereupon a hearing shall be held upon the petition by the court upon ten days notice to the board, which shall be represented in the proceeding by the Department of Justice. The said appeal shall act as a supersedeas unless upon sufficient cause shown the court shall determine otherwise. The court shall hear the application de novo on questions of fact, [administrative discretion] law and such other matters as are involved, at such time as it shall fix, of which notice shall be given to the board. The court shall in its own discretion either sustain or over-rule the action of the board and either order or deny the issuance of a new license or the renewal or transfer of the license to the applicant. The parties to the proceeding may, within thirty days from the filing of the order or decree of said court, appeal therefrom to the Superior Court.

The jurisdiction of the county court of Allegheny County conferred hereby shall be exclusive within the territorial limits of its jurisdiction.

Section 471. Revocation and Suspension of Licenses.—Upon learning of any violation of this act or any laws of this Commonwealth relating to liquor, alcohol or malt or brewed beverages, or of any regulations of the board adopted pursuant to such laws, of any violation of any laws of this Commonwealth or of the United States of America relating to the tax-payment of liquor or malt or brewed beverages by any licensee within the scope of this article, his officers, servants, agents or employes, or upon any other sufficient cause shown, the board may, within one year from the date of such violation or cause appearing, cite such licensee to appear before it or its examiner, not less than ten nor more than fifteen days from the date of sending such licensee, by registered mail, a notice addressed to him at his licensed premises, to show cause why such license should not be suspended or revoked. Hearings on such citations shall be held in the same manner as provided herein for hearings on applications for license. Upon such hearing, if satisfied that any such violation has occurred or for other sufficient cause, the board shall immediately suspend or revoke the license, notifying the licensee thereof by registered letter addressed to his licensed premises. Such suspensions and revocations shall not go into effect until twenty days have elapsed from the date of notice of issuance of the board's order, during which time the licensee may take an appeal as provided for in this act. When a license is revoked, the licensee's bond may be forfeited by the board. Any licensee whose license is revoked shall be ineligible to have a license under this act until the expiration of three years from the date such license was revoked. In the event the board shall revoke a license, no license shall be granted for the premises or transferred to the premises in which the said license was conducted for a period of at least one year after the date of the revocation of the license conducted in the said premises, except in cases where the licensee or a member of his immediate family is not the owner of the premises, in which case the board may, in its discretion, issue or transfer a license within the said year. In all such cases, the board shall file of record at least a brief statement in the form of an opinion of the reasons for the ruling or order. In the event the person whose license was suspended or revoked by the board shall feel aggrieved by the action or penalty of the board, he shall have the right to appeal, and a hearing de novo, to the court of quarter sessions or the county court of Allegheny County in the same manner as herein provided for appeals from refusals to grant licenses. Upon appeal, the court so appealed to shall, in the exercise of its discretion, [sustain reject, alter or modify the findings, conclusions and penalties of the board, based on the findings of fact and conclusions of law as found by the court] make its own findings of fact, conclusions of law and decision and on finding the licensee guilty of any violation of the law or the regulations of the board, shall in its own discretion impose a penalty as provided for by this act. The aforesaid appeal shall act as a supersedeas unless upon sufficient cause shown the court shall determine otherwise. The licensee or the board may, within thirty days from the filing of the order or decree of said court, file an appeal therefrom to the Superior Court. In those cases where the board shall suspend a license, the board may accept from the licensee an offer in compromise as a penalty in lieu of such suspension and thereupon rescind. In the case of a manufacturer of malt or brewed beverages, the offer in compromise shall be at the rate of one hundred dollars ($100) for each day of suspension; in the case of a liquor importer, sacramental wine licensee and a malt or brewed beverage importing distributor, thirty dollars ($30); in the case of a distributor of malt or brewed beverages, twenty dollars ($20) for each day of suspension; and in the case of a hotel, restaurant and club liquor licensee, and a retail malt or brewed beverage dispenser, or transporter for hire, ten dollars ($10) for each day of suspension. No offer in compromise may be accepted by the board in those cases where the suspension is for a period in excess of 100 days.

The jurisdiction of the county court of Allegheny County conferred hereby shall be exclusive within the territorial limits of its jurisdiction.

Where the court shall order a suspension it may also recommend to the board that it accept an offer in compromise for all or a portion of the period of suspension.

Amend Bill, page 4, by adding after line 6:

Section 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, at this time, of course, parliamentarily it would be proper to make several moves.

I think the most sensible would be a motion for recommitment, so that the legislation before us can then, of course, be considered without the resulting confusion with what has happened up until now. Then again a motion to lay Senate Bill 424, Printer's No. 1243, which is now before us, together with the amendments, on the table. I am certain the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, knows it will take considerable debate to follow through on the adoption of the amendments to this bill or the dropping of the amendments.

I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, that Senate Bill No. 424, Printer's No. 1243, together with the amendments be re-committed to the Committee on Liquor Control for further consideration and possible amendments.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion made by the gentleman from Westmoreland to recommit Senate Bill 424, Printer's No. 1274.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist on a roll call or will he take a standing vote?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, we will take the previous roll call on the motion to reconsider the passage of the amendments, and those who want to make any changes can stand and change.

Mr. A. M. LEE. For purposes of clarification, Mr. Speaker, on the last roll call I voted to reconsider the amendments. I voted "aye." I don't want to be recorded as voting "aye" on the motion to recommit.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the only difference will be that the "ayes" all become "nays." The 130 to 47 would take the reverse position for recommitting.

The SPEAKER. That is what the clerks were going to do, but in order that there may be no misunderstanding the Chair will order a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. PETROSKY and P. E. PERRY and were as follows:

SENATE

TUESDAY, August 18, 1959.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, FATHER REGIS O'BRIEN, Professor of Philosophy and Homiletics, St. Francis Seminary, Loretto, Cambria County, offered the following prayer:

In the Name of the Father, and the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

Almighty and Eternal God, Whose providence watches over us and every human event, we earnestly beseech Thee to keep us from all pettiness. Let us be large in thought, in word and in deed. Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off all self-seeking. May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face, without self-pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous. Let us take time for all things and make us to grow calm, serene and gentle. Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid. Grant that we may realize that it is the little things of life that create differences; that in the big things of life, we are as one.

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF PHILADELPHIA STATE HOSPITAL

August 18, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Mrs. Mary Devlin, 8301 Algon Avenue, Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, for appointment as a member of the Board of Trustees of Philadelphia State Hospital, until the third Tuesday of January 1961, and until her successor is appointed and qualified, to fill a vacancy.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

HOUSE MESSAGES

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL No. 1690, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence, House Bill No. 1690, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code," approved April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), by eliminating the requirement that no one may park or leave standing any vehicle or tractor upon a highway unless an unobstructed width of fifteen (15) feet remains.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the votes had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDENT. The bill, as amended, will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL No. 1721 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR,

He also presented for concurrence, House Bill No. 1721, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code," approved April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) extending the use of manufacturer's, jobber's and dealer's registration plates.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the votes had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDENT. The bill, as amended, will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

He also presented for concurrence bills of the House, as follows:

House Bill No. 1709, entitled:

An Act amending "The Penal Code," approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), prohibiting the manufacture, sale or offer to sell certain plastic bags within this Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

House Bill No. 2092, entitled:

"An Act amending the act of January 5, 1952 (P. L. 1833), entitled, as amended, "An act to provide for the coverage of certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions under the old-age and survivor insurance provision of Title II of the Federal Social Security Act, as amended; * * *," by changing and clarifying the coverage and scope of agreements and substituting "division" for "referendum."

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

In the Senate, August 17, 1959.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

NOMINATION RETURNED TO THE GOVERNOR

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the nomination just read by the Clerk be returned to His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The nomination will be returned to the Governor.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, about five or six months ago, a bipartisan group of Senators sponsored Senate Bill No. 52, which would have provided for the creation of an Industrial Development Corporation in Pennsylvania. We had several meetings with the Secretary of Commerce and, upon advice of his counsel, it was decided to rewrite this legislation.

Therefore, Mr. President, we plan on abandoning Senate Bill No. 52 and we will try to have this legislation enacted into law.

This legislation provides for the incorporation of regional business development corporations to assist, promote and encourage, through their institutional and corporate stockholders, the development of properties and the advancement of business and economic welfare of various regions of the Commonwealth. It also prescribes their duties and powers, and confers certain powers upon the Department of Banking.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of my colleagues, Senator Pechan, Senator Watkins, Senator Scott, Senator Whalley, Senator McMnamin, Senator Camiel, Senator Kalman, Senator Murray and myself, I am presenting this series of bills.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. LANE, PECHAN, WATKINS, SCOTT, CAMIEL, KALMAN, MURRAY, WHALLEY and McMENAMIN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1093, entitled:

An Act to provide for the incorporation of Regional Business Development Credit Corporations to assist, promote and encourage through their institutional and corporate stockholders the development of property and advancement of business and economic welfare of various regions of the Commonwealth; prescribing their powers and duties and conferring certain powers and duties on the Department of Banking.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1094, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682), entitled "The Insurance Company Law of 1921," permitting purchase or investment in shares of business development corporations.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1095, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1933 (P. L. 624), entitled, as amended, "Banking Code," permitting purchase or investment in shares of business development corporations.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1096, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 5, 1933 (P. L. 457), entitled "Building and Loan Code," permitting investment in State and regional business redevelopment corporations.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. SILVERT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1097, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania, East Falls, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Messrs. MULLIN and ROONEY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1098, entitled:

An Act amending the act of 1705 (1 Sm. L. 25), entitled "An act to restrain people from labor on the first day of the week," permitting process to be served on Sunday on non-resident motorists charged with a violation of "The Vehicle Code," on a Sunday.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

Messrs. SEYLER, HAYS, WAGNER and PECHAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1099, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," providing a general standard reimbursement fraction for all purposes where reimbursement fractions are used and revising the basis for reimbursement on account of instruction.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. SEYLER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1100, entitled:

An Act defining and prohibiting waste in the production of oil and gas, defining the powers and duties of the Oil and Gas Conservation Commission with respect to the prevention of waste in the production of oil and gas from certain geological horizons the protection of correlative rights, the spacing of well drilling operations, the unitization of lands and horizons for the purpose of regulating well spacing, providing for the enforcement of this act and the issuance of rules, regulations and orders; prescribing the rights, obligations and duties of owners and operators of interests in lands and leasehold interest therein with respect to the drilling of oil and gas wells thereon; providing for hearings and the procedures to be followed therein; imposing duties upon the courts; providing methods for the enforcement of the provisions of this act; imposing penalties and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mineral Industries.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the resolution I am offering, on behalf of myself, Senator Berger, Senator Kalman, Senator McMenamin and Senator Shafer, relates to juvenile delinquency. This is a problem which I am sure all of us realize needs some corrective legislation. In the first place, we are not being fair to our young people and, secondly, we are not being fair to our older people. We have developed a group of people in Pennsylvania who, by reason of their youth, flaunt all laws and respect no one.

Mr. President, I am afraid the time has come when we must judge an individual not by the number of years he has lived, but by the hardness of his heart, by his own conduct and the point to which he has sunk in social degradation.

This resolution would refer this problem to the Joint State Government Commission for study. I think it is one which certainly needs some thoughtful and considerate study.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE JUVENILE COURT LAWS

Messrs. WALKER, BERGER, KALMAN, McMENAMIN and SHAFER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 117), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, August 18, 1959.

Since the adoption of our present juvenal court laws over twenty-five years ago, experience has proven that such laws are not accomplishing their intended purpose. These laws were adopted with the principle in mind that persons of tender age did not possess the hardened concepts of criminals and thus should not be treated as such. It is becoming increasingly more apparent that age itself is no longer a valid basis of differentiation.

Many youths who still fall within the age limits of the juvenile courts are hardened criminals, as dangerous and vicious as their older counterparts, and are in no way entitled to special treatment. In fact, the special treatment afforded such juveniles under the present juvenile court system causes them to brazenly disregard the law and law enforcement officers, as they know that they will not be prosecuted as adults.

It is imperative that the prosecution and confinement of juveniles be conducted in a realistic and forthright manner; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representative concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be authorized and directed to make a thorough study of the Juvenile Court Laws, their intended purpose, and whether or not this purpose is being accomplished, with a view toward repealing the existing laws and substituting a procedure whereby juveniles who are actual criminals will be treated as such, but yet protecting those juveniles who may occasionally commit unlawful acts but are not vicious or habituals.

Such study should also determine a more realistic approach to confinement of such offenders and determine which ones should be confined in separate institutions and which ones should be committed to adult penal institutions and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its findings and recommendations together with drafts of legislation to carry such recommendations into effect to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. KALMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. KALMAN, LANE, MURRAY, WEINER, McGINNIS and PECHAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1101, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "The Vehicle Code" requiring optometrist's or physician's statement of normal or correctable vision with applications for learners' permits and prohibiting issuance on noncompliance.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATION

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

The nominations were read as follows:

MEMBER OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOL EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT BOARD

August 17, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Charles R. Wilson, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, for appointment as a member of the Public School Employees' Retirement Board, from November 19, 1957, until his successor is appointed.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF SCOTLAND SCHOOL FOR VETERANS' CHILDREN

August 3, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, may we be at ease a few moments?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

RECESS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request a one hour recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus and a Republican Caucus, to be held in the respective Caucus Rooms.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a one hour recess of the Senate.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments to this bill, and I wish to say a few words prior to introducing these amendments.

Mr. President, one of the most important parts of this Session which we are faced with today is the means of raising funds for the next biennium in this Commonwealth.

The tax bill we have before us, Mr. President, is a four per cent sales tax. By this time, it is obvious that this tax of four per cent is obnoxious to the Democrats, on this side, and I assume, by the way the Majority Party of the Senate is acting, it is obnoxious to them. It is obnoxious because if they wanted this tax, my friends on the other side certainly have the votes to pass it. If they are against it, they certainly control the votes in order to defeat it.

All during the Session, my learned colleagues on the other side of the aisle have used their votes to pass legislation in which they were interested and to defeat that legislation which they opposed. So, as we arrive at the moment of passing a tax bill, we find that we Democrats are being charged with the responsibility of providing twenty-two votes. We are told by the Republican leadership that we must supply the twenty-two votes and they will only give us four votes. Therefore, Mr. President, the only conclusion that thinking people can come to is that there is something wrong with this bill. I agree that there is something wrong with it. I feel that passing a four per cent sales tax, one of the highest percentages in the Country, certainly is not carrying out our obligation to the people of Pennsylvania.

Furthermore, Mr. President, to say to the people of Pennsylvania that those who are least able to pay, the men with the big families, those who earn small earnings and salaries, must carry the burden of this tax and then have a distinction for industry is certainly unfair.

As we sit here and look through the pages of this tax bill and see the people whom it affects, we cannot help but feel that those who are living on Social Security are affected. The man who finds himself, through no fault of his own, living on Workmen's Compensation because of injury is affected by it. The man living on Unemployment Compensation, the man and woman who are living on a pension for the blind, or on Public Assistance are all brought within the web of this tax. Regardless of earnings, regardless of their amount of savings and regardless of social position, this tax affects everyone.

Mr. President, certainly this is not a good tax philosophy. Some of us feel that it is not the type of philosophy which we would like to agree to. However, if the tax position of this Body is to be a sales tax and if that is the only type of tax that will be acceptable, let us make it a fair tax. Let us make it a tax where everyone contributes. Let us make it a tax where the man who works with a pick and shovel in the mines, or the executive or the industries, which are making the greatest profits in the history of this Country, will share equally and contribute equally. I think the people of Pennsylvania will welcome this.

I do not think people care about paying taxes, if everyone carries his burden. Those of us who get down to the people and meet the people feel that that is the universal feeling, "We do not mind paying, but let everybody contribute." this money which we will take from taxes, no matter from what source it comes, will do good things for this Commonwealth. It will promote education, mental health, together with all the various other appropriations which we shall pass later in the Session.

Mr. President, along with some of my colleagues, I have suggested in these amendments that possibly we should amend House Bill No. 1285. We suggest that we keep the sales tax feature and keep the other features that it has, but reduce the tax from four per cent to two per cent. Then we suggest that we make it an across-the-board tax, thereby taxing everyone, without classification, without exclusion, and with just a few exceptions; one, to exclude take-home food; two, to exclude clothing for the family; and three, to exclude purchases by hospitals, charities and religious institutions. They shall be the only exclusions in this bill, according to the amendments which we are presenting. Everybody else, whether it be the big corporations of this Commonwealth, with their great earnings, or whether it be the little fellow with five or six children, shall equally be made to pay. We shall have no exclusions. Under the present bill, if a man buys a screw driver for his house, he must pay, but if big industry buys a screw driver, that is included in production and is excluded. The bill, under our proposed amendments, will hit everybody. It will reach everyone equally. The burden will be distributed easily and no one will be affected.

Mr. President, I am sure that the man on the street has no objection to getting the sales tax reduced. Industry will pay a two per cent sales tax which will be deducted from its income tax earnings. As I read the returns weekly from the big corporations, two per cent should be very meek, less than possibly one-eighth of one per cent in actual cost to these companies after income tax deductions.

Mr. President, I feel in this Session if we are realistically going to face this picture of taxation and if we are going to go home and face our people, that we should, as I said before, think of the little guy, I can look across the aisle, on the other side, and see many men over there who came up the hard way. I do not think any man on either side of the aisle was born with a golden spoon in his mouth. I think we all realize the hardships. I hope every man, both on the Republican and Democratic side of the Senate, when they vote, will keep in mind the little people.

Therefore, Mr. President, I say to you in all sincerity and in all fairness, if we are to walk out of this Chamber and feel we have done a good job, these are the amendments which we should pass to the sales tax. Then we can go back home and say that we have distributed the burden equally and that everybody is paying for the ride in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, on behalf of my colleagues, Senator Lane, Senator Camiel, Senator McCreesh, Senator Mullin, Senator Murray and Senator McMenamin, I am offering these amendments.

REQUEST THAT AMENDMENTS BE LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I might suggest to the gentleman and to anyone else who has amendments which they intend to offer, that they present the amendments prior to speaking upon them in order that we may have some time to look them over.

At the present time, Mr. President, I must request that the amendments be laid upon the table until they can be examined and proper disposition made of them, upon the suggested adoption.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved by the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, that the amendments offered to House Bill No. 1285 be laid on the table, temporarily.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not believe that Senator Berger can move to lay those amendments on the table. We must either accept them or reject them. Is that not true?

The PRESIDENT. My understanding of parliamentary procedure is that they may be laid on the table for further conference.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to oppose the motion made by the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDENT. There has not been a second to that motion.

Mr. LANE. All right, I will withdraw my opposition until it is seconded.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Before the vote is taken, Senator Lane, you have a right to speak on the motion.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, my request to lay the amendments on the table, I did not put in the form of a motion. I merely wanted to examine the amendments in order to know just what they might entail. I realize the gentleman made an explanation of them, but I find in here, for instance, certain features relating to trade-ins, which I would have to read very carefully before I could agree to them.

Mr. President, I want to remind the gentleman, in connection with these amendments, and the sponsors of the amendments, that the bill which we have before us, House Bill No. 1285, is the only tax bill which the House of Representatives has been able to pass. If these amendments were adopted, it is highly debatable whether there could ever be concurrence in the House on such an alteration of this bill.

We also consider the rate of four per cent very high and oppressive. However, Mr. President, I reiterate, it is the only tax bill which the House, which must originate all tax bills, has been able to send to us.

Therefore, Mr. President, I suggest, in order that the Administration, which is represented by the gentlemen on the other side, may begin to receive the revenues which it says it sorely needs under this tax bill, that we proceed to consider the tax bill as passed by the House, rather than in a very highly altered and amended form which might not receive attention and passage in the House for a long period of time.

Accordingly, Mr. President, if the gentleman is offering amendments, I request that they be read, and I will ask my colleagues to act upon them after they have heard the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments. The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 14, by striking out "SUB-CLAUSE (L)" and inserting: "subclauses (1) and (2)"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 5, line 2, by striking out "for any purpose" and inserting: "other than for resale"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 5, lines 5 to 8, by striking out "for any purpose except purchases from a 'manufacturer of malt" in line 5, all of lines 6 and 7, and "the meaning of the "liquor code" the" in line 8, and inserting: "other than for resale. The"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 5, line 9, by striking out "not."

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 5, line 12, by striking out "but" and inserting: "and"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 7, by inserting between lines 11 and 12:

"[(2) There shall be deducted from the purchase price the value of any personal property actually taken in trade or exchange within this Commonwealth in lieu of the whole or any part of the purchase price. For the purpose of this subsection (f), the amount allowed by reason of personal property actually taken in trade or exchange shall be considered the value of such property.]"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 10, lines 6 to 17, by striking out "notwithstanding the meaning ascribed to the term "tangible par-" in line 6, and all of the lines 7 to 17.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 13, line 10, by striking out "for any purpose" and inserting: "other than for resale"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 13, lines 13 to 16, by striking out all of lines 13 to 15 and "the "Liquor Code" the" in line 16, and inserting: "other than for resale. The"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 13, line 16, by striking out "not."

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 2), page 13, line 20, by striking out "but" and inserting: "and"

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, for the reasons that I have stated, I request my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, is he discussing just the one section at this particular time, which he requests the Membership to vote "no" on?

The PRESIDENT. I have only laid before the Senate the amendments to Section 2.

Mr. LANE. Thank you.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we are talking just about Section 2 of the amendments, and not the entire set of amendments. Is that correct?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, sir.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section

It was agreed to.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Messrs. DONOLOW, LANE, CAMIEL, McCREESH, MULLIN, MURRAY and McMENAMIN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 2), page 14, line 15, by inserting a parenthesis before and after "J.1."

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 2), page 14, line 17, by inserting a parenthesis before and after "J.2."

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section

It was agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Messrs. DONOLOW, LANE, CAMIEL, McCREESH, MULLIN, MURRAY and McMENAMIN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 4, Page 15, line 2, by striking out "Paragraph (17) of."

Amend Sec. 4, page 15, line 3, by inserting after "amended:" "April 15, 1959 (P. L. 20) and"

Amend Sec. 4, page 15, line 3, by striking out "amended to read" and inserting: "repealed"

Amend Sec. 4, page 15, by inserting between lines 3 and 4:

"Section 5. Section 2 of the act, amended April 15, 1959 (P. L. 20), and June 16, 1959 (Act No. 98), is amended by adding after clause (k) a new clause to read:" Amend Sec. 4, page 15, lines 6 to 20, page 16, lines 1 to 18, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "(1) 'Tangible Personal Property,' 'Corporal personal property of any nature.'"

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it seems that the Majority Party is taking the position that these amendments are inconsequential. I feel, at this time, that I should make a few remarks in regard to our position on these amendments and about just what we plan to do.

Mr. President, I think quite a number of the old heads, on both sides of the aisle, have noticed that during this Session, I have had very little to say. I have sat here, listening to this hot air going back and forth across this Senate for a matter of several months. During that period of time, it seems to me that we, of the Democratic Party, are actually dancing to the tune of a Republican fiddle. It seems, too, Mr. President, that the Republican Party has absolute control over its Membership and that the distinguished President pro tempore of the Senate is really the Pied Piper. He is the man who is the boss. I do not mind him bossing the Republican Members, but I do feel that he should not try to control us on the Democratic side. This was indicative in a statement which was released to the newspapers not long ago, whereby quite emphatically it was said by the leadership on the Republican side that they would supply four votes for their Republican sales tax. In turn, we on the Democratic side would supply twenty-two votes for a bill which is Republican.

I realize, Mr. President, that we, in the minority, have a difficult time. However, it seems to me that Senator Berger beats the drums; Senator Pechan waves the flag; Senator Taylor calls the shots and everybody jumps. I observed, too, that last week, the Republicans in the House and in the Senate were so determined to pass the Republican sales tax that there were ten or twelve extra votes. Yet, again, they say that this is a Democratic tax. I agree with the preceeding speaker that this is, without a doubt, the most obnoxious piece of legislation that ever hit this Senate.

I remember when Senator Mahany was the Republican Floor Leader, when they first passed the original sales tax and, at that time, Senator Mahany said it was a Republican tax and that the Republicans would take all the credit and all the criticism. Now, we are up to five per cent.

I might say, Mr. President, that one of the compelling reasons why we sponsored these amendment was to try to collect the tax. I recall, when we held our budget hearings, that quite a number of the gentlemen on the other side were present. One of the officials of the Sales Tax Division stated, in answer to my interrogation, that about seventy-five to eighty per cent of the tax, as far as sales were concerned, was actually collected. In other words, eighty per cent of the people of Pennsylvania were paying one hundred per cent of the tax. The reasons, as enumerated by this gentleman from the Department of Revenue, were due to the classification. I firmly believe and, as a matter of fact, I think everyone else believes that we will have a very difficult time in ever collecting ninety per cent of this four per cent tax. It is virtually an impossibility. However, with these amendments, proposing a two per cent across-the-board sales tax and exempting the necessities, I believe there is a possibility of collecting ninety per cent of the tax. I am very sincere when I make that statement.

I voted for taxes. I sat here and voted for the three and one-half per cent tax because I felt it was badly needed. You did not hear a word out of me. I voted "aye." I realize that all of us have a responsibility to finance government. However, Mr. President, whenever, we are dictated to by the opposite Party and told what to do, I believe it is time to speak up a bit. I also believe, Mr. President, that if we follow through with the position we have taken during this Session of the Legislature, the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania is going down to disaster and ruin, and, eventually, political oblivion. Even though we are in the minority, we should take a firm position as far as additional taxes are concerned. We should take a reasonable position, too, in regard to the collection of this tax. I do not believe that the people of Pennsylvania want the Democratic Party liquidated. I believe that is the intent of the Republican Party. I believe that when they concocted this sales tax, they did it with the idea of capturing the Governor's Office at the next election. I would also say that the gentlemen on the other side have done a magnificent job along that particular line.

However, I know that you are going to vote against the amendments. I also know about your agreements and what you plan on doing, but I am going to make the effort to let the little people of Pennsylvania know that there are some spokesman in this Senate who speak for the public in general, and I know that around the halls of this Senate there are quite a number of lobbyists who are being protected. That is their business. I have no quarrel with lobbyists. However, Mr. President, we have to divide up this responsibility, as far as revenues and taxes are concerned. I feel it is grossly unfair to the people of Pennsylvania to ask them to pay a four per cent tax on practically everything except the necessities of life. Those in the lower income groups are suffering as it is. It was mentioned on the floor here about the pensioners. These old coal miners are receiving $187.50 a month. How in the world are they going to pay this four per cent sales tax? It is a punitive piece of legislation. I am not happy about supporting a two-percent across-the-board sales tax. However, our intent was to divide up the responsibility and let everyone pay his share. In that way, we might be able to help out the widows, the orphans, the pensioners and the aged people who have limited incomes. I think it is only fair that we make this effort. I know that you will probably get six or seven votes here today. However, we have made the effort to let the people of Pennsylvania know that we are liberal Democrats, protecting their interest and their welfare.

Mr. President, I will stand on this floor all day, if necessary, to speak my piece on what I think is right and on what I think is fair. You fellows inaugurated the sales tax. You forced it on us. Now the Republican leaders are saying, "This is a Democratic tax." This is not a Democratic tax. This is a Republican sales tax, inaugurated by Republicans and advocated by Republicans. They were so worried about the House that they made sure the votes were over there in order to pass this bill over here. Now they say, "Produce those twenty-two votes for a four per cent sales tax." I say, Mr. President, this is ridiculous; absolutely ridiculous.

They are laughing about the amendments. I have not studied them too well, but we had experts prepare them. Just the same, we want you to know exactly how we feel. I hope the public understands very clearly that this four per cent tax is the brain child and the illegitimate child of the Republican Party here in Pennsylvania.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I may not agree with what my colleague said, but I will defend with my life his right to say it.

I have not looked at the amendments, but I presume that they are patterned pretty much after the California bill. I was talking to a friend of mine, whose figures are pretty accurate, and with these amendments, this would bring in approximately $490,000,000. The bill, as it is now on our desks, would bring in for this biennium $750,000,000, counting when it was at three and one-half per cent, but being collected as a four per cent tax for nearly everyone and the Commonwealth only getting three and one-half per cent. If we pass this bill, I find out from the front office, as some of you call it, that we are going to be $90,000,000 short. If we adopt these amendments, we are going to be $350,000,000 short. That just does not add up because I must think of our institutions of higher learning; I must think of our schools and hospitals.

Once you take out food, clothing and things such as that, the tax drops to little or nothing. I have been very fair in my voting here on taxes through the twenty years that I have been here in the Senate. There was only one time in my life when I said I would never vote for a tax and that is that I will never vote for a tax on take-home food.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call vote.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DONOLOW and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—10

Camiel,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fifth and sixth sections were read and agreed to.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, may I request that the Clerk read the amendments to all of the sections and the vote be recorded on each section as announced?

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to second that motion.

The PRESIDENT. Senator McMEnamin, it was a request and not a motion, but if there is no objection, the Clerk will read all of the amendments and the vote will be taken on all of the amendments at the next taking of the vote.

Messrs. DONOLOW, LANE, CAMIEL, MCCREESH, MULLIN, MURRAY and McMENAMIN offered the following amendments:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I believe that the first duty of everybody elected to public office is to govern. It is obvious that we need additional money to carry on the functions of the Commonwealth in the next biennium. I think it has also become obvious, during the last six years in Harrisburg, that about the only tax which can raise major revenues that can pass, where Republican votes are needed, is a sales tax.

We are presented here today with a four per cent sales tax to vote upon. I, for one, offered to sign these amendments in the hope that they would be adopted. We understand from the Department of Revenue that these amendments, as drawn, will bring in $700,000,000 and they are an acceptable substitute for the bill as it now stands. in so far as raising money is concerned.

However, primarily, I believe what is most important is that too much of the philosophy of the Republican Party in Harrisburg in recent years has been to shift the tax burden onto the people and to exempt industry. Some years ago, I understand a great Pennsylvanian said that you cannot put all the taxes on the bleachers and none on the grandstands. What we are doing, with this four per cent tax bill which is on the Calendar, is just that. Everybody is exempted from this tax bill, it seems to me, except the people. Almost every conceivable industry and business are exempt, and the people just cannot forever bear the total burden of taxation in Pennsylvania.

These amendments would make it possible to cut the sales tax in half, by reducing it from four per cent to two per cent, and letting half of it be borne by the people and half by industry.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I wish to explain my "no" vote both on the tax and the amendments to the four per cent sales tax. It is based upon the idea that a man, raising a family, should not have to pay a sales tax on food or clothing. That is, indeed, an aspect of consideration for the poor and those who desire to raise families. That should be noted.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, to correct the last speaker, these amendments which my colleagues and I have introduced do not include take-home food nor clothing. Those are exempt. The amendments do not include purchases by hospitals, charitable institutions or religious institutions.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I request a roll call vote.

The PRESIDENT. Would there be any objection to using the roll call vote on the last group of amendments?

The Chair hears no objection and—

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, just to clear the air,—and it will not take too much time—I believe the roll should be called again.

The PRESIDENT. Then you are objecting, and the Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. LANE. Yes, sir.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and were as follows, viz:

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have here a resolution which I am about to present to the Chair. I am going to ask for unanimous consent to present to the Chair a privileged discharge resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection? The Chair hears no objection, Senator Lane. You may proceed.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator McMennamin, Senator Weiner, Senator Murray and myself, I present to the Chair a discharge resolution.

The PRESIDENT. At this point, Senator Lane, the Chair recognizes the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, will the gentleman state the privilege of the resolution?

Mr. LANE. This resolution will discharge the Finance Committee from further consideration of the personal property tax.

Mr. BURGER. The resolution may be read, Mr. President.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 656

Messrs. LANE, McMENNAMIN, WEINER and MURRAY offered the following resolution, which was read by the Clerk:

In the Senate, August 18, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 656, Printer's No. 413, entitled:

"An act reenacting and amending the act of June 22, 1935 (P. L. 414), entitled as amended 'An act to provide revenue for State purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment collection and lien of the same and the distribution of the proceeds thereof imposing duties on executors administrators registers of wills recorders of deeds prothonotaries and court clerks and on persons copartnerships associations banks national banks trust companies and other corporations receiving deposits of money and on certain corporations and limited partnership conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments imposing penalties and making appropriation' by reenacting and clarifying the State personal property tax increasing the rate thereof and of the corporate loans tax granting certain additional exemptions and credits and providing for the valuation of stock in certain investment companies."

Having been referred to the Committee on Finance on June 30, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I understand that the resolution just presented for discharge of the Finance Committee from further consideration of the personal property tax bill is not a privileged resolution, under the rules of this Senate. I, therefore, request that it be referred to committee.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I requested unanimous consent and there was no objection. Now I guess Senator Berger has changed his mind. Let us have a definite ruling here today. It seems to me that the Republican Leadership is playing "footsie" over there. I wanted to test their sincerity. Here I am, sponsoring a resolution and after it is accepted, and after I received unanimous consent, the Majority Floor Leader objects.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that once a Member asks for unanimous consent and it is granted, without any objection, I believe that whatever statement he makes thereafter is to be considered.

I would just like to make one other observation for the Members of the Senate, and that is that this measure would raise $55,000,000. I do not think it is something which we can discuss very lightly and discard in the same vein. I think what Senator Lane is trying to do, along with the other persons involved on this side, is to bring this to the committee's attention. If they will not consider this or properly handle it, he is asking that they no longer consider it and it may be that some other committee or the Senate will act as a whole to consider this problem while we are taking up the tax picture.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would suggest at this time that the resolution lay on the table which, I believe, would be the proper procedure.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the offer made by the gentleman was to present a privileged discharge resolution.

The PRESIDENT. I agree with you, sir.

There is no doubt about the fact that the gentleman asked permission to introduce a resolution. What happens to the resolution after it has been admitted, is something else. It would be in order for Members of the Senate to speak on it. I, personally, feel that it should lay on the table at this time.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would have to look up the rule on that. I felt that since this is a privileged resolution and we complied with all regulations, it should be considered. However, what we wanted to do was to smoke out the Republican Majority in regard to that $55,000,000, which is lying over there in the Finance Committee office and which we know will never see the light of day.

This legislation was passed by the House, too, you know. It is now lying there in committee and I am wondering whether the Republican Majority is very sympathetic to the problems of government, especially the financing of government, when they object to this resolution. I believe it is common knowledge—it was in the newspapers—that this legislation was dead as a dodo, and I believe it is. There is no question about the fact that it is as dead as a dodo. If you fellows do not plan on moving it, I would like for the public to know that there is $55,000,000 more going down the drain.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman asked for unanimous consent to present a resolution. I believe that is correct.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct. He was given unanimous consent to present the resolution.

Mr. WEINER. That is also correct, Mr. President.

I believe that what is before us is this resolution. If there is a motion to table the resolution, that is a different matter. I did not hear such a motion, however, I believe that this matter is before us. I, therefore, move that this resolution be taken up by this Body at this time, unless there is another motion which might supersede it. I do not know.

The PRESIDENT. That phase of it is perfectly proper. The only question I have on it is whether or not it is a privileged resolution. We do have a decision on that in exactly the same, identical case where on May 7, 1951—if I may read you the case—Mr. Dent raised the question as to whether or not a discharge resolution was a privileged resolution.

"The Chair, Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood, ruled that it is not and quoted from Section 406 of Jefferson's Manual the following:

"The motion to discharge a committee from the consideration of an ordinary legislative proposition is not privileged."

Therefore, it is a resolution which has been offered at this point.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, there are two fundamental problems in the decision which you gave. If I might respectfully suggest to you, sir, we are not operating any longer under Jefferson's Rules of Order. They were not adopted in the early part of this Session. Secondly, the case which you cited here is distinguished from the problem that is before us now. That had been a discharge resolution already presented, and the Chair was being asked whether it was a privileged resolution.

In this case, the distinguishing feature is that the gentleman, Senator Lane, asked for unanimous consent to present a privileged resolution and it was granted. That resolution is now before this Body. Nobody is questioning whether it is privileged or not privileged. Once unanimous consent has been granted, I believe it is the duty of this Body to act on it. If somebody is questioning whether it is a privileged resolution or not, I think that right has been lost by the fact that unanimous consent was granted.

The PRESIDENT. If we can go back to just one point, and that is whether or not this resolution is offered as a privileged resolution.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, what is the order of business which we are under at this moment?

The PRESIDENT. Petitions and Remonstrances.

Mr. WEINER. If this gentleman said, at this time, that he would like to offer a resolution and asks for unanimous consent to do so, regardless of what business we are on, and that request for unanimous consent is granted, how can we now withdraw that unanimous consent? In other words, you are now proceeding, if there is a question before us, back to the point of the unanimous consent. If there was no objection at the time it was presented, there should be no objection at this point. We are beyond that point at this moment.

The PRESIDENT. I would agree with you.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I ask the Chair a question?

The PRESIDENT. You may.

Mr. BARR. Is not a discharge resolution in order at any time?

The PRESIDENT. I do not believe it is at any time, sir.

Mr. BARR. Can we move now for the adoption of this resolution?

The PRESIDENT. I would say that that would be perfectly in order.

Mr. BARR. I so move you, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I wish to point out that the gentleman asked for unanimous consent to offer a privileged resolution. The resolution was read and it turned out not to be a privileged resolution.

The PRESIDENT. He did not mention the word "privileged" in his request to present a resolution.

Mr. BERGER. I believe he did, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Is that correct, Senator Lane? I think you would know better than anyone else.

Mr. LANE. At that time, I asked for unanimous consent to present a privileged resolution. I received unanimous consent to present it.

The PRESIDENT. You did receive the right. Now the question lies in the fact as to whether or not this is a privileged resolution. Will you stand on that point?

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. Could I confer with the Majority and Minority Leaders, please?

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. I would like to confer with the Majority and Minority Leaders at this point.

(The Senate was at ease.)

DECISION BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has reached a decision. I am referring the resolution to the Committee on Rules. Since there was no request to start with for its immediate adoption, therefore, it should go to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President—

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I had a motion on the floor for the adoption of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. I did not hear the motion, Senator Barr. Are you making it now?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I made the motion before you conferred with the leaders.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Barr, this resolution did not carry with it a request for immediate adoption. Therefore, it normally should be referred to the appropriate committee.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I hate to disagree with my friend, the Lieutenant-Governor, but I had a motion on the floor and I think, if you look up the rules, a discharge resolution is in order at any time.

The PRESIDENT. I did not hear you make such a motion.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, just before you—

The PRESIDENT. It was not seconded.

Mr. BARR. Certainly, it was.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President—

Mr. RIPP. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. I know it is being seconded now, but it was not at the moment it was made.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may we have the record read back?

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. May I have the record read back, please? I am a great believer in the record. Let us hear it, please.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. I would suggest that the Reporter read it into a microphone, please.

The Senate will be at ease for a moment.

(The Senate was at ease.)

(The Reporter complied.)

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, when are you going to recognize me?

The PRESIDENT. I will recognize you next, Senator Ehrgood. Would you wait long enough for me to amend my ruling?

Mr. EHRGOOD. Yes, Mr. President.

DECISION BY THE CHAIR AMENDED

The PRESIDENT. Since I am going to amend my ruling, the gentleman may as well hear it.

I have referred this resolution to the Rules Committee. I now add one addition to that reference. I refer this resolution to the Rules Committee to determine whether or not it is a privileged resolution, and to report back to the Body on that question.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President—

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. This is a choice. However, I have promised to recognize Senator Ehrgood. If it is on this question, I will stick to my statement that I will recognize Senator Ehrgood.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, August 19, 1959, at 10:00 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT. A motion to adjourn is always in order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if this microphone had been on, you would have heard that I asked for a point of order, which supercedes anything that is taking place on the floor at the moment. I asked for a point of order before this gentleman got up. I think that I, no doubt, would have been recognized, but these microphones are off some of the time and—

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I was at this microphone for a half an hour.

The PRESIDENT. I am sorry, gentlemen. A point of order can always be raised at any time. Therefore, the Chair recognizes Senator Weiner.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not wish to debate the gentleman's motion, because a motion to adjourn is not debatable. However, I do feel that before we close this business, we should complete it. If the Chair please, I would like to take an exception to his ruling on the resolution going to the Rules Committee. Now, if you would like to accept Senator Ehrgood's motion, I believe that would be in order.

The PRESIDENT. The exception is granted, for the benefit of the record. However, Senator Ehrgood, I did not hear the adjournment motion as to the time and the day.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, August 19, 1959, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, may we have an exception noted on the record to the Chair's ruling?

The PRESIDENT. I would call your attention to the fact that this Legislature passed a law which stated that an exception was automatically recorded on the record of any judicial proceeding. I think it would equally apply to a legislative procedure. Therefore, I would expect that you have your exception duly noted.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, about a week ago, we passed another bill in the Senate, amending that bill because some people thought it was not broad enough to include all subjects. I am not sure what has happened to it over in the House.

The PRESIDENT. Is there a second to the motion to adjourn?

Mr. TAYLOR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 6:12 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, August 19, 1959, at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, August 18, 1959

The House met at 11:00 a. m. EST.

Mr. HELM in the Chair.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker is attending various official meetings and has requested the present occupant of the Chair to preside.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Gracious Father, Thou Whose love and care and concern for the well-being of mankind goes far beyond our highest expectation or furthest anticipation, we come before Thee this day with the recognition of Thy fullness within our lives; grant to us we humbly pray the ability to utilize that fullness not only for our own advancement, but open our hearts to opportunities which are ours to be of assistance in the lives of our fellowmen; enable us to see ourselves as stewards of Thine, workmen who rightly divide the Word and Truth; and challenge us to use our talents for the enrichment of the people of this great Commonwealth; for, we humbly pray in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, August 17, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mrs. PASHLEY, Messrs. McCANN, MULDOWNEY and FRACELLA. RESOLUTION No. 103.

In the House of Representatives, August 17, 1959.

No one knows exactly how many of the mentally ill could be discharged from our hospitals unless there is an opportunity to find out. The Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) carried out a small project in 1947 to find an answer to this most important question by taking 20 of its most disturbed patients from the worst building and gave them enough attendants to meet their needs, to teach them to take care of themselves, to take them for a walk, to talk to them, to help them back to reality.

At the end of six months five of the 20 were out of the hospital. Another five were able to take care of themselves and were allowed the freedom of the hospital. Over the next year several more were discharged. This result is highly encouraging. In fact many authorities estimate that with good treatment and care, almost 85% of all patients in the average mental hospital can be released in a year or two.

Why cannot the successful pilot project carried out by the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) be applied to all mental patients? The answer is simple—it can—provided sufficient funds are available.

The American Psychiatric Association has set standards for the number of doctors, nurses and attendants needed to give patients good treatment. To meet these standards the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry), which currently operates on $3.10 a day per patient, would need to spend about $6.00 per day per patient. Pending legislation will raise the amount to $3.45 per patient at Byberry and all of the other 16 State hospitals in Pennsylvania will receive $4.00 or more.

Byberry cannot do more for less just because of its size. Each of its 6,000 patients needs as much care as any other patient in a smaller hospital. Byberry, the largest State hospital, has long past the point where large purchases result in reduced prices.

Insufficient funds mean improper treatment for our mentally ill with a proportionate decrease in the number of persons who can return to normal living; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a study of caring for the mentally ill in the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) and investigate and compare the financial aid supplied to the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) with the amount of assistance given other State Hospitals; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations for supplying the Philadelphia State Hospital (Byberry) with ample funds for its proper operation and maintenance, together with drafts of such legislation as may be necessary to carry its recommendations into effect to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in that granting of permission, I would like to preface my remarks by interrogating the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he is not an alderman in and for the county of Allegheny, and how long he has been in that office?

Mr. WILT. I am, Mr. Speaker; approximately nine years.

Mr. AUKER. In your capacity as an alderman have there been brought before you violations of the Motor Vehicle Code by drivers between the ages of 16 and 18 years?

Mr. WILT. There have been many.

Mr. AUKER. What disposition have you had to make under the law pertaining to that class of drivers?

Mr. WILT. Well, I must start at the beginning to explain that question.

In the first place when an officer makes an arrest he has approximately 15 days to file the information in an alderman's or justice of the peace office. After he files that information, you have approximately seven days to mail it out. Of course when he brings the information to the office, all you have is the name and address, the motor number, et cetera; you do not know the age of the person. Therefore you mail out the information, and they have ten days to pay for the violation on the information which is mailed. If they do not pay it, then you in turn make a motor violation warrant out, give it to a peace officer and he performs his duty by going out and apprehending this person. At that time you find out if he is a minor. If he is a minor between the ages of 16 and 18 he cannot be placed under arrest. A justice of the peace or an alderman cannot hold a hearing on this particular minor. Therefore you have only one other alternative, and that is to notify the juvenile court about the violation which this minor may have been part of.

Mr. AUKER. What has been your experience in having these offenders between the ages of 16 and 18 years turned over to the juvenile courts?

Mr. WILT. After they have been turned over to the juvenile court from my office, I have had the experience of never hearing one word about them, or anything about the disposition of the case.

Mr. AUKER. From your experience in the treatment of this class of violator under the Motor Vehicle Code, do you feel the action taken by the juvenile court has been a deterrent to this class of driver in the violation of the Motor Vehicle Code?

Mr. WILT. Oh, I definitely do. I would say this to you, these violators who are between the ages of 16 and 18 in many cases are not familiar with the law, and some of them pay directly to the justice of the peace or the alderman, but after you file them with juvenile court, then you never hear of any disposition of them.

Mr. AUKER. Do you feel that this treatment by the juvenile court is acting as a deterrent to this class of motor vehicle violators?

Mr. WILT. I do not want to get myself in trouble with the juvenile court here, Mr. Speaker. I am not one to say how the juvenile court should conduct its business, and therefore I do not want to make a statement here that might place me in an embarrassing position with the juvenile courts of the state of Pennsylvania. I really do not know how they dispose of them; I want to be truthful in that part of what you are asking. I never hear what the disposition is when they are sent to juvenile court.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he has had a recent case of a bad violation of the Motor Vehicle Code, particularly with regard to speeding by a driver between the ages of 16 and 18 years?

Mr. WILT. Yes.

Mr. AUKER. How fast was that driver going?

Mr. WILT. I think he was clocked at 80 miles an hour.

Mr. AUKER. And you have not heard of the disposition of that case?

Mr. WILT. No. In that particular case the boy, I think, got legal advice, and he and his father came to my office prepared. I think the father came with the thought that we were going to hold a hearing on this boy. The first thing I asked the young lad was how old he was. He said he was seventeen years of age. I looked at his father and said to him, "You know we are not permitted to hold a hearing on this boy." He said, "I know you are not." So I had no alternative but to turn the case over to juvenile court.

Mr. AUKER. That is all, Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, by taking the floor on this subject, juvenile motor vehicle operators,—that is, those operators of motor vehicles between the ages of 16 and 18 years, and who are under the law of Pennsylvania classified as juveniles,—I am not seeking to stir up an argument per se, or attempting to arbitrarily create an issue; nor am I attempting to ram down anyone's throat that they were wrong in the previous discussion of this matter on the House bill recently considered in this House regarding the raising of fines for speed violations.

It is simply my idea, as it was at that time when I brought it to the attention of the House, that there is a large class of motor vehicle operators who are not subject to the Motor Vehicle Code.

By means of my interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Wilt, who is and has been for many years an alderman in the county of Allegheny, I simply wanted to emphasize the point I am trying to make, and to further substantiate the interrogation by a written formal opinion from the Attorney General's Department, a synopsis of which reads as follows:

I am enclosing a copy of Formal Opinion No. 333, dated March 13, 1940, which I believe fully answers the questions propounded by you in your letter of August 12, 1959.

You will note, as set forth on page 4 of the Opinion that the juvenile courts have full and exclusive jurisdiction in all proceedings affecting delinquent, neglected and dependent children, and a delinquent child is defined, as set forth on page 5, as one who has violated any law of the Commonwealth or ordinance of any city, borough or township.

Mr. Speaker, I am bringing this out so as to clarify this situation that seemed to be somewhat muddled in the debate on this previous bill last week.

This I believe substantiates fully and proves my statement previously made on the floor of this House that juvenile operators of motor vehicles are not subject to the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code, and especially the penal provisions under the Code. The penal provisions of the Code, of course, are in the Code because of the deterrent effect they are supposed to have on Vehicle Code violators.

Now here we have a large class of violators who by law we have set up as a special class under the Motor Vehicle Code. I have no criticism of the fact that we do classify the people between the ages of 16 and 18 as juveniles in their consideration and the treatment of them for crimes committed or allegedly committed. I do however, very seriously and emphatically criticize the fact that they do not come under the provisions, and especially the penal provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code. I do not believe anyone can argue too strenuously on the point that if they are old enough, are fit enough, and are granted the privilege of having an operator's license for motor vehicles, then certainly they should be made subject to all the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code and especially the penal provisions. To say otherwise is to say of this large class of drivers between the ages of 16 and 18 years, there is no actual deterrent to the violators of the Motor Vehicle Code for you boys and girls between those ages.

Mr. Speaker, to resume, as I tried to show by the interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Wilt, the control and supervision of this class of drivers under the juvenile courts of our state is apparently not working as a practical measure and as a deterrent to this class of driver in the violation of the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code. From reports that I have received from police departments and in many instances from the State Police, their complaints are all the same. We have no power of enforcement, no power of restraint or deterrent against these juvenile motor vehicle operators in their violations of the Motor Vehicle Code. They inform me that their experience has been that they laugh at the courts and laugh at us, the enforcement officers of the municipalities of the state.

There has been a bill introduced on the floor of the House, I believe several bills in fact, to accomplish this very purpose. I have not sponsored such a bill because I knew bills were introduced to that effect, and I do not believe in stealing or copying other Members' bills; that is to put this large class of drivers under the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code and insofar as the Motor Vehicle Code is concerned, to remove them from the juvenile class.

I cannot prove this point. It possibly could be classified as merely hearsay, but the word I get from the juvenile court judges of this state is that they are blocking and preventing this particular bill to accomplish this purpose from being reported from committee. If that is so, and I wish to state that I am not stating this as a fact, that they are blocking the bills, but if that is true that the juvenile courts are blocking this bill, then I believe it is high time that this Legislature assert their prerogative and pass legislation which they feel is needed and is vitally necessary as a measure of safety for the Highway Safety Program, and not let the courts dictate to the Legislature. That is not the court's prerogative or their right or privilege to do so.

We do have a very large class of drivers who are recognized as a very large class of Vehicle Code violators between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years. Very many of them are very serious violators and we are letting them go practically scott free. I believe this is a very important matter and should receive the very serious consideration of this Legislature and of this administration.

The administration has made a great hue and cry for a highway safety program. A large series of bills have been introduced and passed in this body to carry out that new look, so called, of the highway safety program by this administration. With the idea behind that program I have no criticism whatsoever, but I do say this very emphatically, that if this administration is as sincere as they say they are in this new highway safety program, then they should use every means at their disposal to eliminate this particular class of juvenile drivers between the ages of 16 to 18 years and use every means in their power to bring them under the Motor Vehicle Code and its provisions.

Law enforcement officials are emphatic that they are helpless against this class of drivers and that the juvenile courts certainly have not been successful in their treatment of these juvenile drivers in deterring them from motor vehicle violations.

In my viewpoint I believe this Legislature should do everything in its power to back up in every way possible their enforcement of the Motor Vehicle provisions, especially as relating to the Highway Safety Program. This they cannot do unless we eliminate this special class of pampered drivers and put them in the same classification and under the same rules and regulations as other motor vehicle operators.

I certainly hope and trust that before this Session is over that a bill will be passed removing this favored treatment of this large class of juvenile drivers between the ages of 16 and 18 years. Here we have a chance to do a real job on the Highway Safety Program, and I might even go so far as to say if it is not done by this administration, then one might easily infer and deduce that this administration is not really sincere in its Highway Safety Program, is not really behind it in spirit, but merely giving it lip service.

I again sincerely trust that the proper action will be taken at this Session of the Legislature to correct this very bad situation. At least there is still ample time to have the committee hold a hearing on this bill and have all interested parties before it, and from that hearing and testimony get a true picture of this situation from this class of juvenile operators.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the proposed legislation that the gentleman from Blair, Mr. AUKER, was discussing here certainly deserves our attention and consideration.

I know there is far more than one proposed piece of legislation in this field, particularly dealing with the minors, so that they would be subject to the Motor Vehicle Code, not juvenile court, between the ages of 16 and 18.

In fact, Mr. Speaker, I believe it would be well to say that arrangements should be made to choose one of the various bills sponsored in this field and present it to the House for debate and consideration. I hope that can be done in the very near future. I personally am very much in favor of such legislation and I, too, feel the same as the gentleman from Allegheny County that I am not a person who opposes what the juvenile court now does or may do, because I think they do an excellent job, but I do believe that the people who drive automobiles, the youngsters between 16 and 18, are just as subject to every law as you and I are, and it is extremely important that they be handled in the same manner. I hope that this can be done, and I thank the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, for his very good discussion in this field of legislation and hope that we can accomplish it in the very near future.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STEWART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, this morning I introduced a bill which will amend the Home Rule Charter of the city of Philadelphia in a very important aspect, one that I think is absolutely necessary after the shocking disclosures made in Philadelphia by former Governor Stassen.

These disclosures go to the very heart of the problem of government known as "Profit in Politics." It has been charged by Mr. Stassen, and admitted by Mr. Dilworth's law firm, that there have been vast sums of money taken by that firm by way of fees. There has been at least a tacit admission of the sum of $150,000.

The letter has been very, very finely drawn by a group of lawyers with legal language. What they have overlooked is the fact that the law firm of Dilworth has obtained millions of dollars out of endorsing the bond issues of the city of Philadelphia. What it has overlooked is that the law firm has done business with the city, with its many administrative boards, and has attracted many thousands of dollars in fees. The charge has been made and admitted, and this bill would prohibit the Mayor and the District Attorney or any of his law partners or associates from doing business with the city of Philadelphia.

I believe this is a piece of good government legislation, and I call upon the Democratic majority in the House to report the bill out and pass it over to the Senate.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1694, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) providing for architects' plans to be furnished by the Department of Public Instruction for elementary and secondary school buildings.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1427, Printer's No. 1365 was passed over temporarily at the request of the Speaker pro tempore.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 56, entitled:

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships school districts and county institution districts to file tax and municipal claims not filed within the time specified by law * * * and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 56 as originally introduced was similar to the bill which we have been passing every two years for a good long time. The purpose of the bill is designed to correct omissions by municipalities and solicitors in not filing liens within the time prescribed by law.

From time to time we have passed the validating acts which make legal the mistakes of omission which occurred during the previous two year period, and so we in effect extend the statute of limitations in each one of these particular items.

Since this bill was introduced it has been amended to read that we are allowing corrections of all mistakes heretofore made, and we are extending it to cover any mistakes or omissions hereafter made. In effect what we are doing is saying to any solicitor or any particular municipality or borough, it is all right if you do not file your lien within the time required by law because under this bill you can file it any time and it will be all right. So we are called upon today to make what I consider a major decision, and that decision is: Shall we allow limitations of time in which certain actions must be completed by municipalities, boroughs or solicitors, or are we going to say in effect, don't worry about the time limits that is placed in a particular law, if you do it anytime it will be all right, and you can establish your lien.

I think this particular bill will lead, perhaps, to some negligence, carelessness and an attitude upon the part of municipalities and solicitors to allow things to slide until they find time to do it. In other words, this group of liens should be filed by next week, but I will do something else right at the present time and realize, perhaps, a little better use of my time, so I will just put it off until next week, the fact that the limitation applies does not mean anything. I think this is a step in the wrong direction.

I have continually believed that validating acts should take place. We should continue to reenact them from year to year, but I do object to allowing the door open for all time and try to correct all of these mistakes which you are going to have maybe ten years hence. I do not think it is right, and I think this a wrong step in this particular bill.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman has tried to explain the bill fairly, but he has not gone far enough.

He has said to this House that the effect of this bill would be that there would be no limitation or time within which a lien should be filed. That is not correct.

As the gentleman has stated, under the law municipalities and school districts are given a certain period of time in which to file certain liens. For example, if a paving job is done in front of someone's property, a lien must be filed within six months. Now, if for one reason or another that lien is not filed, because of a mistake or because of an oversight on the part of someone, and I might say it is not always attorneys, but it has been, and in other instances it has been secretaries of municipalities who have failed to send in the list of liens--but in any event if the lien is not filed in time, the municipality is the one that suffers. The taxpayer is the one who should have paid the bill, and if he does not pay it he may get an unfair advantage over the municipality in being able to sell his property without paying this lien.

Every Session, as the gentleman has stated, we pass an enabling act which allows the municipalities to file these liens which they had failed to do, or allows them to revive liens which they failed to revive every five years as required. I think if you will check the statute books you will find that every two years, going back almost as far as you can find, this validating law has been passed. This bill would put the validating law on a permanent basis. The only possible person who might be harmed by this would be the delinquent taxpayer who has not paid his bill.

This bill in its present form will greatly benefit municipalities and school districts throughout this Commonwealth by permitting them to file liens which have been carelessly overlooked. It will be a very beneficial bill to these municipalities and school districts.

I say the bill in its present form is a good bill. It is a bill that has been needed for a long time, and it does not in anyway change the time within which a lien must be fled. A lien still must be filed within six months, or three years, or whatever the statute of limitations is, and must be revived within five years, and if that is not done the lien is lost on the property. This bill will prevent that. It will avoid the necessity of having people wait until the Legislature passes the bill each Session. I say it is a good bill and I hope all the Members will vote for it.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of this bill, we know that in every Session of the Legislature, we are compelled to pass an act of this nature in order to allow the municipalities to file their lapsed liens. I think that the amendments to this bill are good and proper. I think it will save us an awful lot of legislative time in the future by reenacting this law every two years. There are a great many instances when municipalities feel as though they want to give their taxpayers a little more time, a little more time, and finally the time for filing these municipal liens lapses. We are then caught in a pinch where we have to wait for the next Session of the Legislature before we can allow the municipalities to collect the money they having coming to them.

A bill of this nature, once it is enacted and made of a permanent nature, which is what these amendments will do, will then save us time from reenacting the bill and can certainly not hurt anyone. Once the bill is enacted it will mean that at any time we may file on these municipal liens. These people owe the money to the municipalities and they should be entitled to collect them at any time, not suffer the penalty of a lapsed lien and not have to come back up here every Session of the Legislature and reenact such legislation.

I sincerely urge the Members on both sides of the House to support the bill as amended.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I hold no brief for the people who owe these liens. They owe the money, and, as I say, every two years we reenact this law. I think it is proper that we should do it, so that people would not avoid a proper debt. However, I do oppose any law which is going to destroy an orderly process.

Under our present law, every municipality and every solicitor make an attempt, at least, to file his liens on time. This particular type of legislation is going to allow them to slide, it is going to permit them to, well, just ignore as it were, the limitations that are in the bill, because if they filed a month late it would still be valid.

We have on the statute books a law which says that a lien must be filed, let's use the example, within one year, and every solicitor and school board or whatever it might be now tries to live up to that deadline of one year, but once this bill is passed they know that they can take one year and two months and the lien is all right; they can take one year and three months and it will be all right; they can take a year and six months and it will still be all right. In fact, they can decide to file any time they want to. I say to you that there are people in communities where there will be lax administration, they will let these things slide and it will go on for maybe two or three years without the liens having been filed, with the knowledge on the part of the solicitor and the particular municipality that any time they do file it, it will be all right. As a result, sometimes properties are going to be sold with liens not having been filed, and some municipalities are going to find when they attempt to file their liens that time is gone and the lien has not been filed because the statute of limitations had not been complied with. I think this is a wrong step to take. That is a personal opinion and, of course, I am merely pointing it out to the Members of the House and let them use their own judgment.

Mr. AUKER. To keep the situation level, since their has been one Republican who spoke for the bill, one Democrat who spoke against it, and one Democrat who spoke for it, I feel that I as a Republican should take the floor also and be a Republican who speaks against this particular type of legislation.

I do not like to disagree with my very good friend from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, or the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy, but I do have to agree with the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, that this bill with the amendments here, the way it is, is bad legislation.

I do not feel that we have any right to come down here and by an enactment of law put a premium on carelessness, neglect and mistakes. That is implied if not expressed in what we are doing by this legislation. It would be much better to pass a bill every Session of this type of legislation, rather than to make it permanent and, as I say, by impliedly or expressly putting a premium on carelessness, neglect and mistakes on the part of the officials who are paid to do their job properly and if they make mistakes be held accountable for them and not ask the Legislature to correct them for them.

I ask every Member to vote down the bill in the present form unless the sponsors of the bill are ready to amend it to take out this permanent feature.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, before I make the next motion I would like to announce to the House that we will act on this bill, and there will be a half-hour break for lunch. The Republican Floor Leader, Mr. Johnson, has asked for a caucus which will be announced at that time.

BILL AND AMENDMENTS TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 424, Printer's No. 1274, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled "Liquor Code," further regulating the issuance and transfer of liquor licenses.

together with the amendments be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, on August 11, 1959?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I do not believe it will be entirely necessary to go into a detailed explanation of the amendments that are before us, for I believe the membership of the House is well aware of their import inasmuch as we took the greater part of an afternoon last week in the adoption of these amendments, and certainly the membership of the House knows their import.

Since that time, however, it has come to pass that because of certain allegations and assertions made by the newspapers throughout the Commonwealth we have had a flurry and an excitement created among some men who are concerned primarily, I believe, with personal political ambitions. Events have led up until this moment to place the bill back into its original position as it was passed by the Senate and the repeal, of course, of the appeals amendments which I have offered.

I again today maintain and submit to the membership of this House that in no way do these amendments affect the wording or the language of Senate Bill 424 as it passed the Senate. Certainly I could not and will not support this bill in this position. Likewise I must state that all of our services, civic, fraternal and social organizations, club organizations, throughout the state are opposed to Senate Bill 424 as now written. In fact I may say they are vehemently opposed to it because of the dire impact it could have upon those organizations. It, too, is opposed very bitterly by the retail industry throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

This opposition does not stem from the fact that these organizations and these business men want to see what the proponents of this bill contend that this will eliminate, namely, Skid Row operations, but they are opposed to it because they can see the broadening and the scope of the power, arbitrary power of the board, could impair their right to a livelihood in this industry, and their right to the associations and their respective club organizations as they have followed them down through the years.

The proponents of this bill, as is evidenced by the language in it, are endeavoring to curtail the powers of the courts. The amendments that I offered are nothing more than clarifying amendments, clarifying the Acts passed in 1949 and incorporated in the classification of the Liquor Control Act of 1951. They are amendments that clarify the appeals to the court and are spelled out in easy to understand school boy language so that there may be no misunderstanding. I believe that we should concern ourselves not with what is practical for political purposes at this time, but rather than discredit the action of this House by passage of such a proposal without the amendments, we should concern ourselves with what injury we may do, not to that small minority of people who bring discredit to this industry in the Commonwealth, but with what injury we shall do to the great majority that are in the industry in this Commonwealth; how much injury can we do by the passage of such a piece of legislation.

In order to take cognizance of that we should vote favorably upon the amendments so that those who could be aggrieved by such a broad scope of power that we give to a board, whatever the administration, such great arbitrary power, that they then would have the right to appeal to their courts. I venture this, and I say to the House, I am perfectly confident that in my county my courts will act in accord with what is just, right and equitable to everyone concerned. Where to me the sustaining of the board's decision in the case where the health and welfare of certain people are concerned, this certainly would not sustain them. I suggest to those proponents of the bill who are pressing for its passage without the amendments, that if your courts are not in order then run the right candidates and correct your situation locally. Do not thrust upon us a situation that we do not need, we do not have to have, and we are getting along very well without.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I again submit to you as I did last week, that these amendments are a good proposal to a very bad piece of legislation that will bring iniquity into every county in this Commonwealth. I ask for your support of the amendments that I have offered.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not propose today to rehash all the arguments that were made pro and con on this bill at the initial time it was considered, but I will say that the Legislature has long ago decided, in its wisdom, that this was one industry in our Commonwealth that should be regulated and they decided a long time ago that proper liquor regulation should be an administrative board, one which was completely familiar with all aspects of this industry.

Mr. Speaker, if these amendments are introduced into this bill, we will render our present system of administrative regulation of the liquor industry of Pennsylvania a nullity for it will mean that any decision of the board may be appealed anew to the court just as if there had been no consideration at all by the Liquor Control Board. I think I need not point out the contempt this would breed for the Liquor Control Board if its decision were in effect rendered a nullity because a new decision could be made by the courts upon appeal. This immediately or perhaps over a period of years would break down our present administrative regulation of the liquor industry. We have operated this way for a long time, I think, despite fulminations against the Liquor Control Board on occasion by Members of this Assembly and by others, that it is operated well and successfully. I think the amendments should be defeated and the bill passed as it was in its original form.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Is it not true that Senate Bill 424 as originally passed only covered the subject-matter of granting of licenses in certain areas?

Mr. PETROSKY. The granting of licenses and the transfer.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Is it not true that this bill only applies to future licenses, it does not affect existing licenses?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct. However, now it concerns present licenses that want to be subject to transfer.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the second of the amendments sponsored by the gentleman from Westmoreland relates to suspensions and compromises? Will the gentleman tell me what the relation is between suspensions and compromises and granting of licenses?

Mr. PETROSKY. The relationship is not material in this instance, Mr. Speaker. Certainly there is no relationship. One would know that. The presentation of my amendments, as I indicated, was principally on the appeals for both the licenses and transfers, together with carrying out fully the same type of appeals into the field of suspensions and relocations and so forth.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that the licensee today has the right to appeal to the Court of Common Pleas?

Mr. PETROSKY. The gentleman well knows that we hashed that out last Wednesday.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Yes, well, that is all, Mr. Petrosky.

We hashed this out and the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, fought very successfully in one instance and in the second unsuccessfully on behalf of the tavern bill for they need this particular legislation.

I will repeat that the ordinary citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania needs the defeat of this amendment and passage of the bill in its original condition as it came from the House. We say again and we ask all of you to stand behind the Democratic and Republican platforms and defeat this amendment.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the first speaker, Mr. Petrosky of Westmoreland County, made some statements which I feel were not strictly correct and perhaps bordering on the offensive.

He stated that there was a flurry and excitement following the action of this House last week. He stated that this was brought about by persons concerned with "personal political ambitions. Is the gentleman referring to the Governor of this Commonwealth? He is not a candidate. Is he referring to the Democratic city Chairman of Philadelphia, Congressman Green? He is not a candidate. Is he referring to Joseph Barr? Is he referring to Mayor Dilworth? He does not specify.

If he is referring to Senator Barr or Mayor Dilworth, I do not think it needs to be pointed out that both these gentlemen do come from the very areas which are vitally concerned with the legislation in question and they have a legitimate right to speak out for what is best for their communities. I said, Mr. Speaker, that this is skid row legislation. This is an attempt to affect those low-income areas that breed crime and vice, and there is a vital need to do something about these areas in the larger cities in the Commonwealth.

The gentleman referred to granting arbitrary powers to the Liquor Control Board, but he omits the fact that House Bill 796 and House Bill 797 exactly accomplish the purpose that he has in mind. There is no need to add the amendments as the gentleman requests or desires except for the purpose of killing the bill.

I say to you that 796 and 797 are in the Senate. If they meet death there that is beyond our control, but at the same time if we were to amend the bill as the gentleman seeks, we have no more assurance that our amendments or our amended bill would meet any different fate in a conference committee. I say to you Members of the House, the only purpose behind these amendments, the only purpose at all, is to kill the bill.

The only purpose behind these amendments is to present a bill which is different than that which has already passed the Senate, with the expectation and hope that no bill at all will come out of the Conference Committee.

I therefore ask that we pass this bill exactly as the Senate passed it and get it to the Governor with all possible speed.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of the record I would like that several things should be pointed out.

One of the first speakers pointed out there was such a great clamor for this particular legislation by a tremendous number of people. I believe I am in receipt of communications from the people, and being a member of the committee to consider this legislation just about as average a number of communications would get as the other Members of this House, and to this date I have not had one communication in favor of 424 from the rank of our people in the Commonwealth. Another of the gentlemen has referred to the type of personalities and so on.

We have been considering legislation here and we all know just what is incorporated in the bill and just what it is proposed to do is not all that meets the eye. There are a great number of economic factors involved as well, the same as we had here in the consideration of Senate

Bill 405, the Sunday closing bill. The same thing holds here, where you have the powerful influences that can reach into the political life in administrative places and seek out the favors, but the little fellow down the street cannot have those contacts, get that type of favors.

I want to say here to those people who represent the areas that are primarily interested in this because of the church people, recognize too where is your appeal where an arbitrary position of a board would place a license into a particular area that you did not want it in? Can you go to your local court and have the order of that Board revoked? You cannot.

One of the gentlemen has said that the purpose of the amendments is to kill the bill. Let us review the record. Let us see what the people say whose very life line, their very business life, would be jeopardized by Senate Bill 424. Let me read an excerpt from a communication from one of these groups. I want to read an excerpt from the group of the Pennsylvania Federation of Fraternal and Social organizations, and it is my understanding, even though I have no communication, that the Tavern Association and all the other affiliated groups in the 67 counties of the Commonwealth feel likewise.

"Surely no one is going to object to the appeal amendment. It is in the identical words which the House already voted in this Session when it passed House Bill 796 and 797, and these are the same words which the Senate in 1957 voted in favor of 40 to 3. As Senate Bill 424 is now, that is after the appeal amendments are put in, we withdraw our objections and we are supporting the bill.

Now, Mr. Speaker, there is no intent to kill Senate Bill 424. The appeal amendments merely provide a safeguard to give a right, a day in court for the aggrieved person, and I want to say to the membership here, recognize if you will that if an arbitrary board wants to put an establishment within an area where your people feel that the very well-being of your community will be hurt, you have no way of getting back and having the orders of the Board set aside.

I ask the Membership of the House to vote for the amendment.

Mr. P. E. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I want to get up here to admit that last week in voting for the amendment I made a terrible mistake and I publicly admit that it was a mistake.

When I got back home on Thursday I received several protests in my office about voting for this amendment. Thursday evening I toured skid row areas in Philadelphia. I do not have one in my district and I had no idea or imagined that any such condition would be allowed to develop in any civilized city. It was a Thursday evening, the day before pay day, when there would probably be the highest trade in those areas, and what I saw pretty near turned my stomach.

I offered a motion to reconsider the vote on the amendment and I am grateful for the opportunity to cleanse my conscience by voting against this amendment.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, when these amendments were considered last week I not only voted for the amendments, but I debated for the passage of these amendments.

Today I have to reverse my position and I feel compelled, because of the change in my vote, to explain to the Members of the House why I am changing my vote.

I feel no less strong about the propriety of these amendments this week than I felt last week, but I have been reliably advised and informed by a source that I consider unimpeachable that if this bill were to pass with the amendments it would unquestionably never get to see the light of day. It would never come on our statute books.

I am concerned, as is every Member of this House, about skid row conditions. I am also concerned about preserving every individual's right to have his day in court, but when I balance equities, as I am constrained to do, when I compare the possibility of the failure of this bill, when I compare that situation with the alternative that is presented, I must come up with the conclusion that in the greater interest of the greater number of people, I want this bill rather than no bill at all. For that reason I am going to vote against the amendments.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I only want to say this to the Philadelphia Democratic delegation. I welcome them to the ranks of the Philadelphia Republicans who voted against those amendments last week and shall do the same today.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I think our Representative Fineman pretty well expressed my sentiments. I do not agree, of course, with the previous speaker. He ought to check the record a little bit, and I think he will see that he has changed his position. He has changed horses a few times mid stream here, so that it does not come with good grace from my friend, Mr. Stewart, to make the remarks that he did.

In the debate on these amendments last week I thought I made myself very clear that I was in favor of 424, very much in favor, and that I would vote for 424, with or without the amendments. I resent, as representative Petrosky did, an inuendo that these amendments were put onto 424 in an attempt to defeat 424. I resent it very bitterly. I was honest in my statement that I felt everybody, whether he be a licensee or whatever he is, is entitled to his day in court, and I say to you, those amendments would do nothing other than that.

However, when we come down to a point of whether we are going to have 424 or not, as Mr. Fineman put it, you will have to balance the equities, and I agree that 424 is more important than the amendments and, therefore, on the vote on the amendments, I must vote against the amendments in order to make sure that 424 survives.

Mr. CAPITOLO. Mr. Speaker, I voted for the amendments. I am not sorry I voted for the amendments. I feel this way: an owner of a license has a right to be heard in court. I know about skid row; I happen to be a district manager of a liquor Company and I say to you, with the amendments or without the amendments, Bill 424 can still get rid of those skid rows. So I am still going to vote for the amendments of Mr. Petrosky, to give the individual, the owner, the licensee, the right to be heard in court.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, less than a majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like the record to show that I voted "no" on the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, although I know, and it appears very evident, that the bill will pass by an overwhelming majority, I certainly could not lend my vote to the passage of a bill as diabolical as the one that is before us and one that is so far-reaching in its impact upon our citizenry.

I am going to oppose the bill and, without wasting the time of the House, I only say that the day will come that many of us who are sitting here who voted in behalf of it will regret the day that they have.

Mr. Speaker, I am vehemently opposed to the bill as are the organizations that are interested with the import within the written pages of Senate Bill 424 as it now appears before us.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, although I am very much in favor of the bill, I just cannot sit by and see our parliamentary procedure and rules disposed of. I think I have to raise a point of order at this time, that the bill that we are now voting on is not in print. If it is I would like to know the printer's number.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would advise the gentleman that the bill that we are voting on is Senate Bill No. 424, printer's number 1243. It is in the Members' files.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am sorry and I withdraw the point.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The Chair will repeat, the bill we are going to vote on is Senate Bill No. 424, Printer's No. 1243, which is the print of the bill without the amendments inserted by the House on Tuesday, August 11, 1959.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

CONGRATULATIONS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair notes with a great deal of pleasure that the lady sitting in the front row, the lady from Northampton, Mrs. Reibman, is very tastefully adorned with a beautiful orchid.

We call the attention of the Members that today is her birthday.

We ask our Music Master to take the microphone and lead us in "Happy Birthday" to Jeannette.

The Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Reibman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair extends the birthday greetings of the House of Representatives to the lady from Northampton, Mrs. Reibman, and recognizes the lady at this time.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I take this opportunity to thank the Members of the House for the lovely, lovely songfest, and to thank my colleagues from Northampton County who would not permit me to forget it was my birthday by sending me this lovely orchid, and to the unknown admirers who sent flowers. I wish I knew who they were. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I am sure the House would be interested in the unknown admirers.

STATEMENT BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Westmoreland would like to clear a point.

I contend that the statement you made is correct regarding 424. Would the Chair repeat the statement pertaining to the bill as amended by this House, in which the amendment placed by the Committee was taken out, and therefore the prior Printer's number of the amended bill, amended by this House, was voted on and passed by 151 to 41? The amendments he offered were the second amendments and Printer's number to the bill; is that correct, sir?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct.

The bill was originally amended in this House under date of August 4. The amendments that were offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland were offered on Tuesday, August 11. Those amendments have now been removed from the bill, and the bill goes back to the condition it was in under the date of August 4, under Printer's No. 1243.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I beg to differ with the Chair and with the Majority Leader.

The bill as transmitted to the House from the Senate was Printer's No. 456. The bill then was amended in committee and came out as Printer's No. 1028. Subsequently in the House, on August 4, the amendments that were placed in the Senate bill in committee were taken out by amendments that were offered on the floor by the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein. Then the bill was amended and became Printer's No. 1243, which in effect is the same position as the bill under Printer's No. 456, as transmitted from the Senate to the House. It then was amended on August 11, and became Printer's No. 1274, which amendments we took out.

So I contend, Mr. Speaker, and I ask the Chair to rule that the bill is in the same form at the present time as it was when it was transmitted from the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is of the opinion that the gentleman is in error. The bill is presently in the form as it was amended under Printer's No. 1243 on August 4.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, the language of the bill is identical to the language as it was transmitted from the Senate with the subsequent amendments and reamendments in it. Is that correct?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is correct.

Mr. PETROSKY. The only difference then, other than the language of the bill, would be a printer's number?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is correct also.

Mr. PETROSKY. Then we are in accord when we say for the record that the bill, in its printed words, is identical with the bill that was passed by the Senate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair believes that is a correct statement, however, the latest Printer's Number of the bill with that wording in it is Printer's No. 1243.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, to clear the next point which was brought up, Senate Bill 424, as it came from the Senate, had a different print number. Senate Bill 424 with the Printer's No. 1243, which we pass now, does not require concurrence of the Senate because it is as it passed the Senate even though it is a different print number.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman perhaps is correct in the assumption that it will not require concurrence by the Senate; however, the reason the Chair ruled that the bill would be returned to the Senate for its concurrence was because the bill had been amended in the House and the amendments inserted, but the Chair now believes it will not require concurrence by the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. VARNER. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I missed the roll call and I would like the record to show, if I may have unanimous consent of the House to put it in the record, that I would support Senate Bill No. 424 in its present form.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FILO from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1109, entitled:

Mr. O'NEIL from the Committee on Counties, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 483, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 13, 1949 (P. L. 1328), entitled "An act fixing the fees and mileage of the coroner in counties of the sixth class," increasing certain fees.

Mr. WYND from the Committee on Counties, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 484, entitled:

An Act fixing the fees and mileage of the coroner in counties of the seventh and eighth class.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. COMER from the Committee on Highways, returned with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations, House Bill No. 1484, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1956 (P. L. 1944), entitled "An act providing a permanent allocation of a part of the fuels and liquid fuels tax proceeds to cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships for their road street and bridge purposes * * *," defining the formula used to determine the amount of payments to be made to the political subdivisions.

The SPEAKER pro tempore: The bill is re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to a resolution adopted Monday, June 15, 1959 the following bills were read the first time:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2322, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), known as the "Public School Code of 1949," providing for additional payments to certain school districts.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

DEMOCRAT AND REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that all Democrat Members take their House calendars with them. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a recess of one hour and thirty minutes, 30 minutes for lunch; on our side 45 minutes for lunch and 45 minutes for caucus.

The cafeteria will take care of all our Members. We would like to say when we come back following this recess, special orders of business will come up regarding the highway program, income tax resolution, the Mine Legislative Commission's Report on the disaster and various Senate Bills that will be agreed to be voted on today.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a recess of one hour and thirty minutes.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, during the one and a half hour recess on the Republican side we will lunch the first 30 minutes and we will caucus then for one hour.

The reason for that one hour is that we have not covered any bills on third reading. Will the Members on the Republican side bring their calendars and come to the caucus room as promptly as possible so that we can cover in the caucus this rather large third reading calendar and we can get on with the business of the day?

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, and with the approval of the Speaker of the House, the Chair now declares a recess until 3:45 Daylight Saving Time.

The Chair hears none.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. ODORISIO for the remainder of today's session.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. ISAACS for the remainder of today's session.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. SCHWARTZ asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. PETROSKY asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Public Utilities and Corporations to meet during the session of the House.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. STEWART. HOUSE BILL No. 2328.

An Act amending the "First Class City Home Rule Act," approved April 21, 1949 (P. L. 665), prohibiting certain persons, partnerships or corporations from contracting or doing business with cities of the first class.

Referred to the Committee on Cities—Counties First Class.

By Mr. FINEMAN. HOUSE BILL No. 2329.

An Act amending the act of July 11, 1923 (P. L. 1032), entitled "An act providing for the abatement of nuisances caused by the improper grading or defective paving or encroaching fences in alleys, in cities of the first class; * * * changing provisions relating to the assessment of costs and enforcement of claims and liens; limiting the rights and powers of cities; and providing for appeals.

Referred to the Committee on State Government.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the hall of the House of a former distinguished Member, none other than George Goodling of York, Pennsylvania.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 133, on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1333, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors" and changing the definition of the term "school zone" and provisions relating to certain traffic signs.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1590, on page 10 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1590, entitled:

An Act amending the "Fuel Use Tax Act" approved January 14, 1952 (P. L. 1965) increasing the permanent excise tax.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the House I would like to have permission to debate the two bills which are companion bills.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be so privileged.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1590 and House Bill 1593 are commonly known as the highway tax program or the one cent gasoline tax increase program for the Department of Highways.

These two pieces of proposed legislation would tend to bring into the Department of Highways or the Motor Vehicle Fund approximately $31 million a year or, approximately, $62 million revenue from the yield of the gasoline tax increase for the Motor License Fund.

An additional piece of legislation on this calendar today would also allocate to the political subdivisions the proportionate share of the money from the one cent gasoline tax increase that these two pieces of legislation would provide in the Motor License Fund.

The questions that should be answered is the need for additional gasoline tax increase, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, can best be stated in general terms.

There are approximately 4,000 bridges located in 66 of the 67 counties in Pennsylvania that need to be replaced, widened, straightened, that at the present time are limited as to their carrying load, which should be replaced to take care of the modern traffic or the traffic that exists on these bridges.

There are 21,000 miles of 100 per cent state highways in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's highway system. This 21,000 miles of road needs to be in every county in Pennsylvania or, rather, in 66 of the 67 counties. There is mile after mile that needs to be replaced, resurfaced, widened, or straightened out.

The so-called Pinchot roads of a bygone day that have served their purpose so well, have served for a great number of years, are the little rural roads, the farm to market road, that need to be replaced and on which there has been a very light highway program for the replacement in this field. The proposed gasoline tax increase to the Motor License Fund for the operation of our Department of Highways for the present biennium is so badly needed that no one can dispute that from their county, anyone of the 66 counties, they have requests in the Department of Highways for either replacement of existing 100 per cent roads for rewidening, surfacing, or betterment of the existing highways, as I mentioned, from the 21,000 mile, 100 per cent state highway system in Pennsylvania.

I, at no time, have mentioned the fact that there are over 40,000 miles of highway system in Pennsylvania, but the balance of the highway system in Pennsylvania falls within the scope of the Federal interstate system or the Federal A. B. C. program, which means that Federal funds can be used and are used in projects on those particular roads.

For many weeks we have talked about highways, and for many years we have discussed highways. The greatest thing we can do in Pennsylvania is to continue to build our modern highway program and then also to build under that 100 per cent state program that all of us have such a deep interest in, an interest of which many of you have spoken about to the Secretary of Highways and to various Members of this House, in regard to roads in your respective district.

What does the Secretary of Highways intend to do with this money? I think you will find the answers clearly defined in the reports which were given to the various Members of this House indicating clearly that 95 per cent of this additional revenue will be clearly earmarked for the 100 per cent state program, that in the present biennium 300 of the 4,000 bridges, because there are over 4,000 that need to be replaced, that in the existing Pinchot roads, program after program of resurfacing to protect these highways or betterment of the surfaces, which is 100 per cent state cost, and each county has requested numerous such projects in their respective county.

In the Federal field, or in the Federal highway program, at the present time and in the present year, the budget that you have before you indicates that there are $30 million, approximately, earmarked for this program, not knowing what the Federal government may or may not do. Thirty million dollars would clearly be $27 million Federal money and $3 million state money. This would be an absolute minimum that could be adjusted depending upon what Congress of the United States may do in the field of Federal highway programs.

In addition to this one cent gasoline tax for the 100 per cent state highway program and the replacement of bridges that we plead and ask for, there is also the legislation which would allocate the additional percentage of money to the political subdivisions. In every county in Pennsylvania, in every political subdivision that you and I represent, the figures are here as to the approximate increase of funds that would go to your township, your borough, or your city, an increase in which the fathers of your various communities, the commissioners or the councilmen also need the money to take care of their street or road projects which fall under their jurisdiction and scope of repair or replacement.

This is the type of legislation that, without a doubt, implies the carrying of the platform pledges for an efficient highway system, and certainly to provide the revenue needed to operate the state government. It is our honest belief that one cent gasoline increase does not have any objectionable features with the citizens of Pennsylvania; that they are in favor of the necessary gasoline tax increase to insure the construction of the highways that they are also interested in for their respective counties.

This is the type of legislation that we in both Democratic and Republican circles agree is needed, for we certainly do not disagree that a vigorous road building program must be carried on in Pennsylvania and be expanded. This is the type of legislation that we can support. One cent gasoline tax increase, an increase in which the small average person who only drives 10,000 miles a year pays how much? A very minimum amount by the fact that if his car gets 15 miles to the gallon and he drives 10,000 miles a year, he has paid an additional five, six, seven dollars a year, depending upon the mileage that he has driven his car. It is a bona fide user's tax, those that use will pay. When you and I travel 100,000 miles a year we will pay our additional share of a tax that really and truly is a users' tax, a tax of which the trucking industry certainly will pay its great, great major share, for they are the heavy users of our fuel consumption for our vehicles, depending upon our field of business or private life, who will pay accordingly. It is really a tax to which no one objects because those that use, pay, a sound, sensible tax program to insure the field of construction of, and again I repeat, that which has long been neglected, the 100 per cent state highway program and bridge program of this Commonwealth.

I urge every Member of this House, Republican or Democrat, to bind themselves together and vote for the passage of this measure and the companion bill in this package.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in one of the rare occasions when I get up to resist a tax program. I think you will find that in my career here I have pretty much supported taxes to finance our state government. We have pretty thoroughly discussed this gasoline tax and the extra fee on operators' licenses in our House Republican caucus, and at this point we are pretty soundly of the opinion that we should not vote for these taxes at this time.

We have been here since January, and we very early received word, as I have said here before, that the bank account of the state would be overdrawn unless we borrowed from the Motor License Fund. We soon received word that there was a deficit left on Governor Lawrence's doorstep by the preceding administration of $178 million, which has been reduced to $141 million.

Then along came the Governor's budget for the General Fund in which he asked for not only the $178 million, later reduced as I stated, but he wanted around $280 million increase in the budget over that of the recent Governor Leader. Then along came this highway budget seeking an increase of $117 million in taxes for the Motor License Fund. I understand they are going to put in an unemployment compensation bill this week which will raise the payroll tax by about one percent to bring in I don't know how many hundred million dollars in the next biennium. Then, besides, this week you are going to ask us to vote for an amendment to the Constitution permitting this General Assembly to put on a graduated income tax. I am just pointing this out to you as I am wondering whether this Session will not go down in history as one of the most tax-minded Sessions in the history of Pennsylvania.

Instead of that song that goes "Kiss me once, kiss me twice and kiss me once again," you could say "Tax me once, tax me twice and tax me once again" is the Democratic line. I could really sing you quite a song on it.

I am just pointing this out as a little background to what I am going to say to you. I am not saying this in derision or anything; I am just kind of summing up into a nutshell what the Session has portrayed to date.

I know we have put on a 4 percent sales tax, and some of us on this side voted for it. We have gone over the General Fund budget and we know that in many of those categories that money is absolutely needed for the bare minimum services of the state.

Let us go to this gasoline tax increase. I think it would be wonderful if they would repair all those bridges and do all the road jobs that you are talking about, if the Department was able to do it in this biennium. That goes without saying. I am just wondering, with the staggering load we are putting on the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, that we will have to put on them for the bare necessities of this Session, whether the people can carry it, whether they can stand what we are being asked to put on the people.

Let us get back to the $117 million increased taxes which the Governor requested for the Motor License Fund. Many of us on this side attended the hearings when the Secretary of Highways came before the Appropriations Committee and requested the extra $117 million. That was on Monday night, the 8th of June, 1959. We pretty thoroughly cross examined the Secretary of Highways, whom I consider a very fine, high type gentleman, and got some answers from him which I am going to point out to you here today.

For instance, of the $117 million increase, the general public was led to believe, and I am not saying there was anything wrong about it, but everybody thought that we had to have these extra taxes or we would lose Federal funds. Through cross examination of the Secretary we found that out of the Motor License Fund this biennium, in order to get every dollar of Federal aid, we would have to put up a total of $88.2 million, which is $16 million more than last biennium. In other words, last biennium it cost us $72 million to match Federal aid, this biennium it is going to cost us $88.2 million. So that of the $117 million new money needed, only $16 million of it would be required to match all the Federal aid we could get.

By the way, we should commend our Highway Department, for Federal aid will total the sum of $332.7 million. This is a lot of money to be spent on the interstate system and on the 50-50 Federal aid roads. I am pointing out that of the $117 million in new taxes demanded, only $16 million is required for Federal aid.

Continuing the hearing, we said to the Secretary, well, this is the 8th of June; the paper you are reading from tonight gives the same bank balance that you estimated you would have last April as of May 31. He was asked, Hasn't the picture changed? He turned to his comptroller and the comptroller said no, not appreciably because the liabilities have gone up, we have a little more money, and one offsets the other.

Apparently Governor Lawrence did not know what was said on Monday night because on Wednesday after we left town Governor Lawrence announced from his office that he had found $35 million in the Motor License Fund, and instead of wanting $117 million he only needed $82 million, or a drop of $35 million.

All right. I say now to you people who are in the territory that if the shortway goes through, I know you are wondering whether you are going to get all the Federal aid for that road. I would like to see it built as rapidly as possible, even though I favored Route 6 because I come from that territory, and tried to have Route 6 made the interstate system, but once it was decided that it was the shortway, I am the kind of person who is for it after the decision is made, and will do all I can to see that the shortway is built immediately. But in order to get all the Federal money that will be available for the shortway, as I say, you only need $16 million extra, and you can take that out of the $35 million the Governor found. That means there is $19 million available for distribution for these other items that Mr. McCann has talked about which probably should be fixed.

So I hope I have shown you people who are in the shortway area that you should not be misled by stories that there will not be money to match Federal funds, because there will be ample funds to match the Federal funds, even within the purview of this present budget.

Just to show you what is taking place with respect to our Highway Department, and what the picture is. In the 1955 biennium, the first biennium of Governor Leader, he asked only $462 million to be spent by the Highway Department. The figure jumped in the 1957 biennium to $748 million, or an increase of $220-some million. And now for this biennium, if we do not put on these taxes today, but with the $35 million that has been found, there will be $900 million coming into the Highway Department to be spent for the various items that are requested in the budget.

It seems to us on this side of the House the Federal government is most assuredly going to put on the extra penny, and from what newspaper reports say, it will represent an increase in Federal aid but it will not represent an increase in Federal aid until the 1961 fiscal year, starting June 30, 1961. Therefore, from what we understand, the Federal aid that is in this budget will all be available from existing money, and if you take $16.5 million out of the $35 million, you have the money to match this very critical Federal aid program.

If the federal government puts on another penny gas tax, that is about a $60-some million tax that is going to be put on the backs of the people of this state, which adds, of course, to the burden of life here in Pennsylvania. I am saying to the Highway Department, here is the budget; if you do not get this money today, here is $900 million. It is $150 million more than was available in the '57-'59 biennium, according to the Special Fund budget. For the balance of this period, with this money, I believe you can do a good, sound job in this state. You spent some $94 million on 100 percent state roads in the last biennium. You spent some $70 million, I believe, in the previous biennium, or an increase of $24 million. I am just wondering whether by good husbandry and sound planning that $94 million will not pretty much cover the job to be done with the available plans you have and what you have in store.

I know this is a critical item, it is one that is being handed out as bait—if you vote for this, there is $30 million more that is going into 100 percent state roads.

I want to say this, here is what is wrong with this whole situation. We are handed this budget by the Secretary of Highways. It probably is honestly prepared, but the trouble with it is, we, as Members of this General Assembly, do not have anything to say about the budget. The budget is only for information purposes. It is binding on nobody. It is not the result of a bill passed by this Legislature in any way, shape or form.

We have given the Highways Department a blank check to spend this money any way it wants to, and if the threats are carried out that were made to various Members and that were made to me, that the vote of the Members will be watched as to where the roads are built, on their side of the House, you can bet this $94 million for 100 percent state roads will be pretty well sprinkled out in the counties where you got votes for this additional gas tax. Even though the $4 million is in present existing money, these Members on this side do not like a sledge hammer like that on their heads.

Here is another thing, when we had this hearing and Secretary Martin was called in, I reported the next Monday to our caucus as I do as a Floor Leader. There was a motion made in caucus that I write a letter to Secretary and ask him for a statement concerning if he got this revenue where would the roads be built in the next two years and the next four years. I wrote that letter to the Secretary. He did send me a compendium, a history, of what is being done up to this date. I grant you, that there has been resurfacing done and this and that done. Then his letter merely said by way of summary, if you give me this money and I will spend this total on 100 percent, I will do this and I will do that. We did not get a breakdown of how many roads are going to be built in Delaware County or what is going to be done in my own county—not that it makes any difference one way or another as far as I am concerned—but it would be interesting to know what work would be done in all the several counties in the Commonwealth if the tax should pass. We did not get that. Maybe that was an unreasonable request to the Secretary of Highways. I do not know. Maybe it was something that he could not give us, but if they have the plans ready and can start this program when we give them the money, he could have said of the $124 million for 100 percent state roads we have the following plans ready in the following counties totalling so much and this is what we expect to do. But I did not get any such a statement, nor did any other Member on this side of the House.

By way of summary of what I have said, this is a tax Session, I am sorry to say. We are loading on the backs of the people of this state the greatest budget in the General Fund in all history, we have to make up the greatest deficit in all history, we are apt to make the sales tax the highest of any state in the union, and, in addition, we are being asked to put another penny on the gas tax.

I say this, let us try to live within this $900 million. Let us build roads for the people back home and let us cut out a lot of these fancy by-passes like they are building up at Amity Hall, costing millions and millions of dollars. I do not know whether it was necessary or not. Maybe up there you could have got along with just a bridge over the Juniata River instead of spending all the money you did in that beautiful valley up there at Amity Hall. It seems to me that was an unreasonable expenditure at this time when we need the roads throughout Pennsylvania. You could have built a lot of roads for the funds that have gone into that by-pass in that beautiful valley. I am just saying this, I feel, and our caucus feels the same way, that in the framework of this $900 million with sound planning, good husbandry, you could get along very well and do a colossal job in this state.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Will the gentleman from McKean inform the House whether he is in favor of the continuance of the Federal interstate A. B. C. program to the full, matching of every dollar that is possible for Pennsylvania, both now and next year whatever Congress may do?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I will make an answer and explain it, if that is permissible.

To repeat, I am for this 90 percent interstate system. As I said, I am for the Keystone Shortway. I would rather have had it up on Route 6, but as long as the Shortway is it, I am for it and I want to see it built. The figure of $332 million which is in this budget and which is all the money that you are going to get will require $88 million matching on the state level or $16 million more than last biennium, and if you take it out of the $35 million, you have it.

To answer your question then I say, yes, I am for it a thousand percent.

Mr. McCANN. That is good, Mr. Speaker.

Now would the gentleman tell us if you are in favor of that program which I believe the prior records would show that you are, in prior Sessions even, are you then also in favor of the additional state program, 100 percent state program, for the bridges and the legislative roads, 21,000 miles that can not be at any time in the present Federal scope a part of the matching funds?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. McCann, I will answer that and also explain the answer.

I would say, yes. I was pleased to see that on the 100 percent roads in the 1955 session you spent some $70 million on them and you spent $94 million last biennium. I grant you that if you do not get this money you are going to spend the $94 million and about $18 million of the $35 million that would be left after you have matched Federal funds. Where are you going to get more money? You could get more money in this way—

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman answer the question?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I have answered the question, and I am answering it by telling you I am in favor of what you say and I am asking you where you are going to get the money to do it. There is an item in the budget showing you spent $55 million last biennium for engineering firms. Mr. Martin says we are going to do a lot more engineering in our own highway district office but even so I want $6.6 million more, or $60.6 million for engineering. I just wonder whether we cannot again in this state get back to where we build up the strength of our district offices, get them so that they can design roads, survey them, have them drafted in those district offices and I believe we could save substantial sums of money right in that one category.

You want $12 million more for administration this time. I do not know what that is for. It has been explained that I believe they are going to jump administration from $94 million to $106 million or something like that. I think you can make a saving there.

I pointed out that in Berks County, they tell me, you have added materially to the office force and the personnel down there in the district office and in the local office. I say there are savings that can be made which could be used for the items that you mentioned.

And here is another thing. You have money in the budget to do quite an adequate job on bridges and 100 percent state roads anyhow, even without this contemplated increase. Then if you have the savings which I talked about I believe you can do a job based on the ability of the department.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnson, would you inform the House then, of course, the figures you read you do not read out of the Motor License Fund Budget, because if you read on Page 8 carefully, the increase in administration is $17 million in 1957-59, 1959-61 recommended, if you read very carefully, $21,566,131 or $4,566,000 increase. Now then, page 8, the administration very carefully outlined—

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The item I was thinking about, pardon me, I was confused between road maintenance and administration.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. In other words, though, the administration has gone up from $12 million in the 1955 Session to $21 million contemplated this Session pretty nearly double.

Mr. McCANN. Now, Mr. Johnson, again I ask you to tell the House your opinion, and the position of your party, in other words, whether the amount of money allocated for the 100 percent state program you think is sufficient and that then there should not be more money to do this bridge program and the 100 percent state road program, that this one-cent gasoline tax is clearly earmarked for, and you know in the investigation and in the hearings that this is what this request was for? Do you believe then that there should not be anymore in this field in the present biennium in Pennsylvania?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I believe if you take the $94 million that you have allocated for 100 percent state roads last biennium, add to it $18 million left out of the $35 million, which will give you, 94 and 18 is $112 million, that with that sum of money properly handled and done on a contract basis and not expensively by the Highway Department, I believe that will go a long way to doing just about all the work you can do with what plans you have ready and what you can do this biennium.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnson, is it also your position that the approximate $12 million that would go to the political subdivisions in the respective counties of Pennsylvania, that you do not believe that they should also have this increase? For example, is it fair to say that you come from McKean County, that you are the Representative, and that McKean County will get $71,500 more than they got before but that they should not have this money?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. McCann, let me tell you something. That is naturally a very critical political item. You have got the bill riding on this calendar, 1887, which does the very thing which you are saying. It is one of those things that sweeten the pot and makes it hard to vote against the penny gas tax. I grant you that. I would say that most municipalities could spend that money and do an excellent job in spending it. The question is whether we should ask the taxpayers of Pennsylvania to reach in their pockets and provide the money at this time. I am not saying that the municipalities could not spend that money and spend it wisely.

I think you will find the gift of my argument is that with the staggering load that we are asking the taxpayers to pay right now, I am just suggesting that with $900 million if the Highway Department would re-appraise their whole program, they certainly ought to be able to do a good job with that amount of money, particularly when only $300 million of it approximately is for the Federal system. That would leave—

Mr. McCANN. Well, Mr. Johnson, can we assume then that you are not against it, and you are not for it?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I am going to vote against the tax.

Mr. McCANN. All right. Mr. Johnson, I am sure that you are aware of the situation of the maintenance buildings in Clarion, McKean and Sullivan Counties, and I believe that is in the northern tier area? You are aware of the estimated cost of fixing these buildings of which $1,762,380 is to be expended during the present biennium?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. McCann, there again you are putting your finger on soft spots. You are singling out fellows from up in the northern counties. The role of the person who wants to save taxes is hard, I will say that. Now, let me tell you something. I believe you have $16 million in the budget for service operation.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Last biennium it was $8 million.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I know that out of that extra $8 million you plan to build some new highway barns and beautiful buildings.

Mr. McCANN. Would you agree that you also know where they are to be built?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I realize that some of them will be built up in the northern tier. That is correct. That is right, but I am wondering again whether we should put the load on the people at this time in view of what we have already done and in view of some other things that are going to be very costly to the school districts back home and to everybody.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnson, the reason I led into these questions, you quite well know that I am not an attorney, but first you said that the Secretary of Highways does not tell us what he is going to do. Now I ask you carefully, who passed the law that says he is to program this and not outline point by point, road by road, so that there would be no log-rolling?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I would say the General Assembly backed whenever that ear-marking amendment passed, and it probably was Republican-controlled. I can not say.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnson, of course, the record would show that it was, and may I say that is the way it should be. I should have a right to know what Greene County will get, that I can come in here and ask that you outline every road for McKean County, that you outline every road that is going to be in this project, but the Secretary of Highways has divided it equally as needed all over the Commonwealth and that piece of law that you passed is on the books is as it should be.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. May I answer that?

Mr. McCANN. Yes, sir.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. First, with respect to the present law wherein the General Assembly does not have the power to appropriate according to counties and according to need, we have felt on this side for a good many bienniums that that law was a mistake, but try and get it repealed. No Governor today is going to be deprived of that extraordinary power that we placed in his hands. That goes without saying. You were justifying the act that is law and you say that we should be entitled to know for two years in the next biennium where these roads should be built.

Mr. McCANN. Meaning each of the roads, each project? The answer to that we say is no, and we believe you agree.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. No, we feel, Mr. Speaker, that in view of the estimates by other departments that they want $124 million for 100 percent state roads, they know where that money is going to be spent, they know what road it is going to be, and they must have known or they couldn't have arrived at the figure of $124 million.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnson, could I ask you this? You are in receipt of a report as of June, a copy of which was furnished to you listing every project of every type in Pennsylvania, in every county.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is being done at the present time.

Mr. McCANN. You have it in your possession and a revised report, of course, would be available now, because at that time there was 1668 projects in operation, now there are 1699, so it would have to be revised. But I ask you when you checked this report, and you looked up county after county, did you find anything in the report that would lead you to believe that if the county was Democrat or Republican the projects were there?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I would say, Mr. McCann, that in examining the report there is a pretty general sprinkling of roads where work is being done all over the Commonwealth. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. I believe that would certainly be a correct statement.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. Now, a moment ago you said that the Secretary of Highways, in an Appropriation Committee hearing, made a threat or held a hammer over your head. Now, would you be kind enough to just bring that to the light of day, because I remember distinctly what was said.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Well, now let me tell you, there was a recording made of it and I suggest that you go get the recording and play it.

Mr. McCANN. Do you not agree when the Secretary of Highways on a recording was discussing the additional gasoline tax and it was discussed about voting for the tax, that the Secretary of Highways in a joking manner said, you were there, I will certainly consider those who voted for it. He smiled and laughed, isn't that right? It is on the record.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Maybe that is what he said. Many a serious thing is said in jest.

Mr. McCANN. Would you call that the threat that you speak of?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. No, I would say that is part of it and I would not want to devulge what was said in our Caucus but—

Mr. McCANN. No, I am not talking about the Caucus.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. There were some other expressions made which I will not repeat at this microphone.

Mr. McCANN. Well you see, Mr. Johnson, what you said in your Caucus is immaterial, what was said on the disc was recorded.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. And that is what was said, sir.

Mr. JOHNSON. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. Now, then, Mr. Johnson, I think you can say that you know the Secretary of Highways about as well as I know him. I know of him. I know his name and I knew his reputation before he was Secretary. I heard you say that you consider him a fair and honest man. Is that right?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I said that on my record. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. Right. Now, I know of no threat that he made. In fact, I know of road projects that have been approved of Members sitting on that side of the aisle, county by county, which God knows will never have a Democrat vote. Would you say there was any type of a threat could exist in the possibility of this particular program that this additional gasoline tax would provide?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. McCann, I would say in answer to that question, about the only way you are going to find out the answer to that is two years from now when you see just exactly what has taken place, I would say.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnson, I thank you very kindly, sir.

Mr. Speaker, I believe it has been clearly outlined here that the Secretary of Highways, both of us can agree and all of us can agree, is a fair and honest man. He has never made any threats and I do not know if he ever will make any.

I think that you can agree that when you study the report which was given to Mr. Johnson under date of June 23rd, 1959, a copy of which is in the office covering every county in Pennsylvania that you can check what is going on in your county, what type of project, the amount of money, the mileage, it is all there, he has it. A revised report will be there and I think that you will agree that the one cent additional tax is needed badly, that there are many counties in Pennsylvania particularly in the rural areas and yes, you, in the northern belt and across the great parts of Pennsylvania where you have a lot of mileage of State highway that is purely one hundred percent. This is one time you can vote for a bill that is helping yourselves, a program that you all talked about that you want.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the support of every Member of this House in the passage of this legislation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. HELM, HOCKER, and TOMPKINS.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Brown,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 169 on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 169, entitled:

An Act amendig the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code, the Tractor Code, the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors" providing for an operator license period of two years and fixing fees relative thereto and permitting the Secretary of Revenue to divide motor vehicle operators into categories and to vary the issuance and expiration dates of operators' licenses in accordance therewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FRASCELLA asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 2, thirteenth line of Title by striking out "(ACT NO 32)" and inserting: "(P. L. 58)."

Amend Title, page 2, next to last line of Title, by striking out "of TWO years."

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 2 by striking out "(ACT NO 32)" and inserting: "(P. L. 58)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 615) page 3, lines 6 and 7 by striking out the brackets before and after "year" and striking out "period of TWO years."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 615), page 3, line 10 by striking out "SECOND."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 717), page 5, line 6 by striking out "PER YEAR."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 717), page 6, line 5 by striking out "TWO YEAR" and inserting: "revised."

Amend Sec. 3, page 6, line 7 by striking out "3" and inserting: "2."

Amend Sec. 3, page 6, lines 8 to 14 by striking out "THE OPERATOR'S LICENSE FOR A TWO YEAR PE-" in line 8 and all of lines 9 to 14.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The amendments will do as follows, the present bill calls for a biennial license, the issuing of an operator's license once every two years at an increase of from one to three dollars. This will make the license once each year at a period of three years.

Mr. Speaker, I made a slight error. I guess I said amended to three years. I beg your pardon, it amends once each year, three dollars per year.

It would be the same as it is now in which the license would be issued annually except the present rate of one dollar would be three dollars. The present bill says biennial.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2264 on page 18, of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2264, entitled:

An Act authorizing and requiring the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries to make examinations to determine the accuracy of maps plans and drawings submitted to it.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Tn the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, this is the third bill of a package of bills which came out of the Special Investigating Committee of the House and Senate of the Knox Disaster in Luzerne County.

I rise to ask the Members on both sides of the House to vote for this bill and the entire package. I feel as if our mines will be made safer when we pass these bills in Pennsylvania.

I also, at this time, would like to commend the members of that Committee who spent countless hours, many days and many months, outside of this House, investigating this disaster. They were a fact-finding committee. I believe they have done their work well and have given us a package of recommendations by these bills today, which I feel, as I said previously, will make our mine laws more safe in Pennsylvania.

I ask the full support of all the Members of the House on these bills.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 263 on page 2 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 263, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania exempting income taxes on persons and corporations from requirement of uniformity.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Messrs. STIMMEL and STROUP asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after "uniformity": "in certain cases."

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 1, by inserting after "laws": "No income tax on persons or corporations which is graded or graduated or which provide for exemptions may be enacted at the same time that a tax on the sale or use of personal property is being levied and collected."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STIMMEL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lehigh tell us if the amendments offered by himself as they are written would prohibit both the enactment or having on the books a sales tax and an income tax, if the people voted in favor of such legislation—of such change in the Constitution, excuse me?

Mr. STIMMEL. I would say yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman tell the House clearly then that these amendments that came over here, just a moment ago, that these amendments when added to the bill in Section 1 of the Constitution, when the people would be voting on this bill they would be voting if they favor such an item, if they had an income tax—a graduated income tax—then the sales tax would have to be repealed or abolished at the time the income tax was placed on the books?

Mr. STIMMEL. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. STIMMEL. I have a brief statement, Mr. Speaker, on the reason I offered these amendments.

The amendments I have offered will place a Constitutional prohibition against having both the sales and the graduated income tax assessed at the same time on the people of our Commonwealth. Much has been said by the Democratic leadership to the end that the sales tax is Republican philosophy, and the graduated income tax is Democratic philosophy. On August 10, I voted for the right of self-determination by the public to express at the polls the type of tax they would prefer. Caption writers, however, of the newspapers have left a mistaken impression that the public is to be saddled with a graduated income tax forthwith, and quite possibly both the sales tax and income tax. To clearly and distinctly and without question avoid the possibility of both, I offer these amendments and I ask the support of the membership on both sides of the House.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of the original resolution I want to say this on the gentleman's amendments; they certainly concur with my thinking and I believe they adequately and effectively portray the philosophy of the Democratic party. Certainly I, as a sponsor, am in accord with the amendment and I am going to vote in favor of it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel, our party has never caucused on such an amendment, but I believe that the thinking and the former debate on House Bill No. 263, would certainly lead me to believe that I am within my right, as the Floor Leader, to speak for the Democrats and say that we accept these amendments and do so graciously.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, just to keep the record straight I want the record to show that I voted against these amendments.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to be recorded as voting no on these amendments for the reason that this is contrary to the fundamental policy of the Democratic party, which has stated time and again that the restrictive features of the Constitution are stumbling blocks against proper administration of the revenue measures of this Commonwealth.

They have now reversed their thinking for some unknown reason, because they think it is a good political thing. I want to be recorded as voting no. It is unsound legislation.

Mr. RIGBY. I want to be recorded as voting no on the amendments because I agree wholeheartedly with Mr. Goldstein's statement.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I voted yes for these amendments. If the gentleman, Mr. Goldstein, will recall, when the graduated income tax bill came to a vote the last time, our Majority Leader did state on behalf of the Democratic Party that if they were to pass this graduated income tax bill there would be no need for the sales tax. Therefore, it is in accordance with the wishes of the Democratic party.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I want you to know that I am against the amendments for the reason that Pennsylvania presently receives about $40 million in sales tax from out-of-state residents who pass through Pennsylvania. That includes the hotel occupancy tax. I think it would be altogether wrong for us to travel to Florida or west and pay taxes, and exempt those traveling from those states through Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, have we adopted the amendments at this point?

The SPEAKER. The amendments have been adopted.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inter-rogate the Majority Leader, if I may.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall be glad to be inter-rogated.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I would like to ask the Majority Leader if he realizes the adoption of this constitutional amendment and the imposition of an income tax would thereby immediately eliminate taxes on liquor, on cigarettes and probably on gasoline and things like that?

Mr. McCANN. I am certainly aware of that and I am sure you are as confident as I am that we do not necessarily have to have a sales tax to place a tax on liquor.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. But the gentleman would agree that it would eliminate the sales tax that would cover those items?

Mr. McCANN. Well, on the items that would be covered now by a bona fide sales tax,—that's what I asked Mr. Stimmel—they would be eliminated according to the amendments.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2315 on page 20 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1365, Printer's No. 514, on page 5 of today's calendar, bill on final passage postponed.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 268, Printer's No. 1123;

House Bill No. 309, Printer's No. 1197; and

House Bill No. 325, Printer's No. 999.

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 347, entitled:

An Act amending "The Third Class City Code" approved June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932) providing a method of computing the pensions of certain employees.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Cities—Counties Third Class.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 348, Printer's No. 1199;

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 504, entitled:

An Act repealing section 650 of "The Penal Code" approved June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) relating to pawnbrokers dealing with minors.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will one of the sponsors tell me the purpose of this bill?

The SPEAKER. Any volunteers?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to repeal Section 650 of the Penal Code.

Under Section 650 of the Penal Code it is crime for a pawnbroker to accept for pawn any article from any minor under the age of 16. We have at the same time on our statute books a section in the Pawnbrokers Act which makes it a crime to accept anything to be pawned by a minor under 21. In other words, our law is presently in conflict. The Penal Code says under 16; the Pawnbrokers' Act says under 21.

In order to clarify the law we wish to simply repeal the applicable section in the Penal Code and make it very clear that it is our intent that it shall be a crime for anyone under 21, that is, for any pawnbroker to accept for pawn from anyone under 21. We feel this is a desirable thing because many youngsters perhaps steal things, or accept stolen articles, and we want to discourage any pawning by such youngsters.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is satisfactory. Thank you very much.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. I read this bill very carefully Mr. Speaker, and, as I see it, it does not do a thing that the Game Commission does not have the authority already to do. Therefore, I am voting against the bill. I think it is useless legislation.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. OGILVIE, BROWN, SELTZER, HEFFNER, A. M. LEE and ZIMMERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 18, 1959.

On Sunday, August 16, 1959, Mrs. Lucinda Barton of Duncannon passed away in a hospital in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Barton was well known to the members of this House. Her husband R. M. Barton, and her son-in-law John H. Moody are former members and her son Carl M. Barton is now a member of the House.

Mrs. Barton was born in Spruce Hill Township, Juniata County, on November 18, 1887, the daughter of Samuel and Jennie Graham.

Throughout her entire life Mrs. Barton gave unselfishly of herself and her time to her church, her community and her State. She was a member of the Duncannon Presbyterian Church, Mission Society, Duncannon Women's Club, Duncannon Women's Republican Club and the American Legion Auxiliary.

But her many activities never interfered with her most important role, that of the good wife and mother. Her happy husband and the wonderful family they reared attest to the excellent job she did; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their deepest sympathy to her husband, R. M. Barton, to her children Harry G. Barton, Carl M. Barton, Warren H. Barton and Mrs. John H. Moody, to her brother Edgar T. Graham and to her six grandchildren, all of whom will so sorely miss her and bid them take heart in the knowledge that she has found eternal life in the mansion prepared for her in her Father's house; and be it further Resolved, That copies of the resolution be forwarded to R. M. Barton at Duncannon and to Carl M. Barton at New Bloomfield.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1959

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, FATHER REGIS O'BRIEN, Professor of Philosophy and Homiletics, St. Francis Seminary, Loretto, Cambria County, offered the following prayer:

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name forever in this Hall of the Legislature.

And now, most loving Lord, the Members of this Legislature, in unison of mind and heart, earnestly beseech You to make them instruments of Your peace in our very much disturbed society.

Where there is hatred, let them sow love.

Where there is injury, prompt them to pardon.

Where there is doubt, let them champion faith.

Where there is darkness, let them be bearers of light.

Where there is sadness, let them create joy.

Grant these servants that especial gift that they do not seek to be understood so much as to understand.

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO RAMSEY S. BLACK ON HIS SEVENTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Messrs. LANE, MCGINNIS and RUTH offered the following resolution (Serial No. 55), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 19, 1959.

Ramsey S. Black, a native of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, will celebrate his 78th birthday on August 20, 1959.

In 1900, Mr. Black entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad where he attained the position of passenger conductor. His service to the State began in 1916 when he was elected to the General Assembly from the Harrisburg District. Thereafter, he was elected a member of the Dauphin County Board of County Commissioners in 1923 and re-elected in 1927. In 1934, he was appointed Postmaster in Harrisburg and served in that office until February 1, 1938, when he was appointed Third Assistant Postmaster General of the United States. He continued in that office until May 6, 1945, when he took the oath of State Treasurer of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Black, an active figure in Harrisburg civic affairs, served as president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y.M.C.A. and was secretary and treasurer of the Pennsylvania Association of Postmasters. He is a member of Harrisburg Lodge No. 617, Order of Railroad Conductors and for twenty-five years was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend its hearty congratulations to Mr. Black on his 78th birthday; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. Ramsey S. Black.

THIRD READING CALENDAR BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 660, Printer's No. 1387;

House Bill No. 661, Printer's No. 1369; and

House Bill No. 662, Printer's No. 1370.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REVENUE BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1285, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228) entitled as amended "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" defining or redefining certain words terms and phrases imposing tax on certain additional tangible personal property or services providing certain exemptions providing certain exemptions providing for uncollectible accounts adding provisions concerning refunds increasing the rate of tax imposition and changing the bracket schedule and basis to reflect certain tax increases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the learned gentleman from Washington County, Senator Lane, yesterday coined a very amusing expression. He said that our venerable President pro tempore blows the bugle—or something of that kind—Senator Pechan waves the flag and Senator Berger beats the drums.

To use Kipling's expression this morning, apparently, "The captains and kings depart." Therefore, everything is quiet and I think I have a chance to say a few words about my position on House Bill No. 1285.

I do believe that it is an obnoxious bill. However, I am going to cast my vote in the affirmative. On this occasion, I would like to make an appeal that in the future, when the time will come to cut the melons, sectionalism be put aside in order that Philadelphia should not be forgotten.

There was here, once upon a time, a Senator from Fayette County by the name of Cavalcante, who always used to have a certain theme. The theme of all his debates was the fact that Philadelphia and Pittsburgh ganged up against Pennsylvania. He was not the only one. The Constitution of 1874, if you examine it, has the same sentiment: "Do anything you can to Philadelphia, lest Philadelphia vanquish the entire State." Apparently, this sectionalism, here and there, still recurs as a refrain.

We need a lot of help in Philadelphia. I do hope when the next stage comes to pass all those appropriation bills, that you will remember one thing; that Philadelphia belongs to Pennsylvania, and the same mosquitoes which infest Delaware County also annoy Philadelphia. This is with due respect to Senator Watkins. He always talks about Delaware County, but he forgets that if it were not for Philadelphia, the mosquitoes would make life bitter in Delaware County. It took Philadelphia to knock out the mosquitoes.

Coming back to my request, I do hope after this bill is passed—and it will be passed because we cannot stop the inevitable—that when the time comes to cut up the melons, the knives of Senator Pechan, the plans of Senator Berger and the commands of Senator Taylor will be most merciful to Philadelphia.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, in spite of the curiosity of certain people in my county, I have delayed somewhat in making a decision on voting on this bill. I hope this will not be construed as a congenital indecision or a defect of character because it is my conviction that on a matter of the importance of this bill, considerable thought should be given and time should be given for the possibility of all of the pertinent facts which might enter into a person's decision being on the record.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that in making a decision there are certain criteria that one must consider, as far as any given tax bill is concerned. There are certainly criteria in everyone's mind as they consider a tax bill. However, it seems to me that sometimes the criteria are not those which are based on reason or logic, but are rather such criteria as are engendered in the kind of atmosphere we have in a political situation such as we have in this Legislative Body. They may be concerned with how many points can be scored in the kind of game that is going on, or what advantage can be gained for a party or for an individual. I do not think these are worthy criteria.

I think there are three criteria which should be considered. First of all, is the tax needed? Second, will this tax adequately meet the need? Third, is it the best tax that is available to meet the need?

On the first criterion, Mr. President, there seems to be no doubt in anyone's mind that taxes are needed. As a matter of fact, Mr. President, my only criticism of the large budget, at the time it was submitted and since, was that in my opinion the amounts appropriated were inadequate, particularly in the areas of public welfare which include public assistance now, and public education.

As a matter of fact, Mr. President, I am a co-sponsor of a bill introduced only yesterday, which would, if passed, make it necessary to make an additional appropriation for public education. I think this is defensible. I think unless something is done, we will not be able to give an adequate program to the school children of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, I would first of all say as to the first criterion, definitely there is a need for the amount of money that this tax would raise.

Secondly, will this tax meet the need? Here, Mr. President, there is some question and in considering this question, one must take not only the tax which is before us, but the situation in regard to other possible tax sources and whether they, together with this tax, will meet the situation. On this matter, I am not sure. On the basis of discussions I have heard, I have reason to believe that it is the intention of the Majority in this Chamber to inadequately for State Government in some of the areas in which I am particularly concerned. I am voting on this tax bill today without an assurance that it, together with the other taxes which will be approved, will form an adequate answer.

The third criterion, Mr. President,—since the first test has been passed and since the second is contingent upon future action in this case—is certainly the decisive one and that is, is this the best tax available? I think we must look at this matter from two points of view; one from the standpoint of equity, and one from the standpoint of its effect upon the economy of the Commonwealth. I think both of these are important.

Some people will say, "You have admitted to me that you are even guilty of advancing or introducing legislation which would call for more funds. Therefore, you are obligated to vote for any tax measures presented." Mr. President, I do not go along with that idea. I was glad to hear at the time of the passage of the three and one-half per cent sales tax that Senator Pechan did not go along with that idea. In other words, we all know that we are deceiving the people if we try to make a case that this is the only tax that is going to be possible. It is the only tax that is going to be possible—if that is true—because of the action of this Body and the House, taken collectively and individually.

We are all thinking people. We are not unable to do anything that we collectively decide to do. Therefore, there are alternatives which, to my mind, as I think about it at this moment, would be preferred both from the standpoint of equity and from the standpoint of its effect upon the economy of the Commonwealth.

I am not, Mr. President, going to take each piece of legislation which has been introduced and subject you to the ordeal of listening to my analysis of it. However, I will say there are certainly taxes that have been prominent in the news and which would be preferred by me. I think the Dougherty tax package, to give one instance, was a tax program which was preferred. I think we have some taxes still in committee, both in the Senate and in the House, which, to me, would be preferred to this tax. I think one bill which has been overlooked—which to my mind is one of the most equitable taxes and, from the standpoint of efficiency and ability to enforce at low cost, is probably one of the best tax proposals offered—was House Bill No. 2107, offered by my colleague from York County, Representative Nelson, which would impose a uniform tax upon the tax paid by the taxpayer to the Federal Government. This tax would bring in a large sum of income. I believe that it would be a constitutional tax. I believe that it would fall equitably on the people of the Commonwealth. I believe it would be easy to enforce because the Federal Government already has the problem of enforcing its tax returns and since this tax would be based on that, this would be a very feasible tax. However, this tax is not before us and I do not want to debate it. I am simply suggesting, in these instances, taxes which to my mind are available to us as a Legislature and would be preferred by me as meeting the criteria I have offered to the present taxes before us.

How did we get this tax before us? If this is the only feasible tax, if this is the only tax that is possible, as has been argued, why is it? We have to go back a little. We all know that the first sales tax was passed by a Republican Administration, with a Republican House and Senate back in 1951, after considerable wrangling and after defeat of the flat rate income tax which had been offered by the Republican Party and passed by the Republicans in the House. I was a Member of the House at that time.

Subsequently, when it was necessary to get more taxes during the first term of Governor Leader, we all remember that the Administration offered, repeatedly, tax programs which were passed by a Democratic House, without Republican votes, which met Democratic principles of taxation as the Democratic Party saw them and which were equitable from the point of view and the principles of the Democratic Party. These were repeatedly and ruthlessly voted down in this Body.

Finally, after a great effort to pass what the Leader Administration thought was an equitable tax program, and due to the fact that with lack of income, the obligations of the Commonwealth would not be met as to schools, to welfare and to other important agencies, the Republican proposal, as offered through amendments in this Senate, was finally acceded to.

In this present Session, we have had an interesting development. The progress of taxation began before the actual Session began. It began during the campaign when both candidates for Governor went on record as saying that their first step to a solution of this tax problem was to appoint a—in one case, it was called “bipartisan” and in the other case it was called “nonpartisan”—tax commission which should study this question, and be composed of men who were competent to survey the resources of the Commonwealth, and to assay its effect upon industry and the general welfare of the Commonwealth and to bring forth a program which would then be acceptable because it was a bipartisan one. I assumed, in my naivete, that since both candidates offered this and both party platforms supported it, all who were elected or who were members of both parties would feel that this was a solution that they were, to some degree at least, obligated to the people before whom they had gone with this program to support. On that basis, I, for example, supported the three and one-half per cent tax program.

There may be some who ask why I balk at four per cent when I was willing to go along with three and one-half per cent. I will tell you. I went along with the three and one-half per cent tax program and so did many of my colleagues, due to the fact that it was a part of a total program which, to my mind, would meet the need and provide adequately for the finances of the Commonwealth. Although this particular part of the program was not to my mind a good piece of legislation, it was part of a bipartisan program and as it stood, as a part of a package, it presented some degree of equity and that, furthermore, it was part of something that I, as a candidate, had agreed to support. On that basis, I supported it.

Then I was surprised to see, having done that, the clever maneuvering set in. Mr. President, I think we live here in a somewhat unnatural atmosphere. I think sometimes some of the things that we estimate as being very clever are not so clever.

I have great admiration, Mr. President, I will confess, for the clever political figures here. I think there is no question that we have some masters of politics. Some of them were named yesterday, and I would certainly say “amen.” They are clever and they are able politicians. I have seen strategy which was considered very clever in the press, and we more naive Members stood around openmouthed in admiration of the clever maneuvering, so that the outcome would reflect credit to one party and not the other, taking into consideration very little, as I see it, Mr. President, the effect of the bills upon the people of the Commonwealth, but rather determined to do something which will stand as a monument of clever political strategy.

I think, Mr. President, that if the people of the Commonwealth had some way of knowing and understanding what taxes are available—they do not want any taxes, of course. We all assume that as a basis for thinking. However, they do know that needs have to be met and they do ask for services. I think if they had some way of knowing and understanding what the alternatives were, what taxes could be inflicted, and if they knew the effect of a sales tax of this sort on themselves, I do not think for one minute that anyone who voted for a tax like this would ever be returned to these Halls.

Fortunately, the people do not know. The great majority of the Legislators, let us confess it, have a great deal of difficulty in understanding and appreciating the effects. I suppose the task is almost insuperable, to try to pass on this understanding to the people who do the voting and who pay the taxes. However, if it were possible, Mr. President, I do not have one single doubt in my mind that a program like this would never pass or, if it did, we would have a considerable turnover in the ranks of the Legislature in the succeeding year.

Finally, Mr. President, a situation developed as a part of this type of political strategy which, I think, is very unfortunate, in which a party was prompted to say, “We will give only four votes.” I do not know what prompted this statement. I heard at least one Senator say on television, in answer to a question, that he thought this sales tax was a good tax, but he admitted that he did not vote for the three and one-half per cent sales tax and probably will not vote for the four per cent sales tax.

I do not understand this reasoning. However, I do understand that it is a part of all of this clever political maneuvering which I am, perhaps, too naive to follow.

It is an unfortunate situation. My own problem with this was added to when a letter was written which more or less put me in the center of the controversy, for it was obvious that if only four votes were to be given, twenty-two votes had to be supplied and if one person, therefore, is reluctant, that person is carrying the whole weight and onus of the situation. I regret that I was singled out. I would have not sought such a position and I would have not sought such publicity. I regret that it happened. It adds to the responsibility that I feel. However, on the other hand, I think it presents an impossible situation.

In the first place, I have no way of reading the minds of the Members on the other side. However, it may be that there are many people on the other side who honestly feel that this alternative is better than the other alternatives I have mentioned. As I understand it, they are bound now in a situation in which, just as a matter of strategy, they may be in the position of having to vote against a bill which they honestly think is the best solution. On the other hand, there may be other people on this side who are in a position of feeling an obligation to vote for a proposal which they really feel is not the best alternative that could be selected.

These are some of the reasons, Mr. President, why I have been hesitant. My final conclusion has to be made today because there will be a roll call soon and, unless I take a jet out of here, I think the President is going to insist that I vote. Therefore, the situation comes down to this. I must vote on this matter on principle. I do not think that this is going to injure me. I think before the roll call comes down to the S's, the situation may be resolved. However, in all honesty, I want to say that if today the fate of this proposal hung on me, I would have no other means at my disposal but to vote according to the principles involved as I see them.

Mr. SILVER. Mr. President, Senator Seyler has covered the philosophy of this tax and the theory of this taxation so thoroughly that I am going to take a brief moment to make a few comments.

I regretfully say that I intend to vote for this bill. I say this because I know from the bitter experience of the 1955-1956 Session that this is the only tax that the Republican Members of this Senate will go for to finance the needs of our State.

I just want to make this further comment, and then I will stop. We have on the Calendar today, in addition to House Bill No. 1285, two other bills, House Bill No. 660 and House Bill No. 661. House Bill No. 660, which has been passed over in order, is a tax on gas companies. I call to the attention of the Senate that while the four per cent tax, which is a tax on the people, is made a permanent tax and does not expire, the two taxes on business, which produce only a fractional part of the money provided by House Bill No. 1285,—one of which is on gas companies—you will note are affective for a limited period. I understand, and I am glad to say, that the gas tax was made permanent yesterday. However, I still say that the other tax, the tax on the shares of banks, which goes from four to eight mills, is made temporary and expires on May 31, 1960. I make mention of this as a symbol of the tax philosophy of our good friends on the other side.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this apparent difficulty that we are having with tax programs, I think, makes it very evident that there is no such thing as a popular tax program or a popular tax.

I do not think that the Senator from York is as naive as he protests to be, because I think he is a pretty bright gentleman and he has been around here long enough to realize how these things come about. I think possibly he put his finger on it better than anyone I have heard express it so far. How are these tax programs arrived at? How do we come to a program of a sales tax as opposed to an income tax or as opposed to any other kind of a tax? Why is one more palatable than another, and why can we get X number of votes for one bill when we cannot get X number of votes for another?

I believe that all of us who have been here for a week or so realize that a good bit of this maneuvering, as my good friend from York tends to term it, takes place not only during the Session, but after the Session and within the parties themselves.

The fine gentlemen sitting here to my left, who represent the press, are also not blameless in this matter. They must share full blame in it, because, unfortunately, they, work for people who have a proprietary interest in the tax programs, and having a media which they can use and which they can distribute very readily and very easily, they decide to take a position. Sometimes they are very subtle about this position and at other times they are brutally frank. The result that they try to achieve helps dominate the thinking of the gentlemen who make up this General Assembly, all of whom happen to have all of the human frailties which most people do possess. They are not supermen just because they happen to be elected to the State Senate or the State House of Representatives. They suffer from all of the different problems that all of the other human beings who make up this Commonwealth suffer. Therefore, they set out to create a controversy where none exists or, if there is a controversy, they elaborate on it. They misquote, they twist and they turn, not because they have any purpose to achieve ostensibly, but I think underlying it all, the people who own these newspapers have arrived at a result that they would like to see achieved and so they set out to follow this result.

Let me cite a very simple example. The problem of tax program, I think, concerns not only all of the people of this Commonwealth, but primarily the Members who make up this Body. There are fifty of us. We receive, if the source of payment is any criteria or indicia of where we belong, a check from the State of Pennsylvania paying for our wages and our expenses. These checks do not come from Allegheny County, or from Lackawanna County up in the northern region, nor do they come from Dauphin County or any other county. They come from the State of Pennsylvania, paid for by the people of Pennsylvania. Therefore, our first duty and obligation is to the State.

To get back to the case in point, one of the newspapers in this area carried a statement made by one of the responsible Members here that Democrats must produce twenty-two votes or so-and-so will happen. One of the other things that appeared was that one of the other gentlemen who lives near the Philadelphia area was quoted as saying that there will be only four votes, no more or no less, and twenty-two votes must be produced or we do not go anywhere.

I am not so sure that these gentlemen actually made these statements. I am not so sure they are even being quoted correctly. However, these things happen to sell newspapers. I know a number of times I have been quoted in the newspapers where a gentlemen never spoke to me, never got my comment, and he decided to write this out of somewhere which suited him best and happened to fill the present story.

I do not find fault with this, only to the extent that this is misinformation that is being given to the people. I do not find fault with the gentlemen who are sitting here to my left because they are, like myself and like many people in this Chamber, workingmen who have to work for a living, and they must produce or do what their employers tell them to do or decide that they must do, or else they will not be employed by them. I am not so sure that all of the time when they report X or Y facts, that they come out the way they reported them. They may come out X prime or Y prime, or even turn out to be A or B, depending upon the particular bent or story the newspapers is on. Enough about that.

Some of the things that we are duty bound to cover and take care of before we adjourn are the hospitals, the institutions, the infirm, the indigent and the people who are unable to take care of themselves or do anything for themselves. I think that includes almost all of the people whom we can think about who are unable to come here and make themselves heard.

Superimpose upon that, if you will please, these very finely dressed gentlemen who come here every Monday and Tuesday, and will stay through until Friday. I am only putting a plug in for them because I want their employers to realize they are here working on the job.

When these gentlemen who are here finish button-holing everybody on this floor—and that goes for the gentlemen on this side as well as the gentlemen on the other side—and making their wishes known and making their pleas, we are all put in the juxtaposition of trying to achieve a result that will be fair, that will be equitable and that will provide for the needs of the people. By the same token, we are also in this awkward posture of having to face these same people, who have certain pressures they can bring to bear, to take them out, to take their friends out, or to at least put in someone else.

These very same gentlemen in the same breath that they are telling you that you are going to injure them, either their industry or their particular activity, are talking about people that they know well and who have a problem which they would like the State to solve. Why they do not talk with themselves, before they talk with us, and come to a clear solution on both of these problems escapes me. However, that is the way life is up here, and I think that we are not unmindful of it.

I would like to expand a little bit upon what Senator Seyler said because I think his point was well taken. In deciding on any tax program, not only must the criteria be met of whether the tax must be raised, whether there is a need for it, and whether it is the best tax; but I think there is a fourth point which he made in passing, rather than as a point itself. I think that is, can you pass this tax program once you have decided on it? This is more important in the practical aspect of this than whether the other three criteria are met. I think I would be less than candid with you if I did not say to you that we are of the Minority Party in this Chamber. Being in the minority position, I think our duty—as a party which has the Administration at heart and also desires to assist with what they are trying to carry out in the way of their programs—is to do what we can to aid in raising these funds so that the Administration can carry out its programs and its pledges made to the people.

Being in the minority position, suppose I were to today promise, along with the other gentlemen sitting on this side, that we would vote all our Members for this particular tax. The best that we could achieve is less than a majority. Having achieved that, we would not have passed the program, so that we would not have provided enough money to carry out what our problems are. The Governor, finding himself in that position, then realized that he must do something affirmative. He just could not sit back and wait for the Legislature to take action itself. Therefore, he tried before he was sworn into office, to get together the best possible minds that he could find, trying to touch upon all possible interests that could be concerned, and have them meet and try to have them evolve a program that would be palatable to everyone here. That was the Hood-Kennedy Report. I do not want to recount ancient history. However, I believe it was February of this year that the Governor had all the responsible Members who make up both Bodies meet in the Governor's Mansion to go over the Hood-Kennedy Report, with the members who made up that committee present.

At the conclusion of the reading of that report, I do not believe anyone voiced an objection to the report, other than perhaps to ask a question or two. I do not believe that anyone has ever taken exception to this report or even taken the committee to task. No one got up on the Floor and said, "This is a terrible program. I am not for it, and I will never vote for this program."

What did actually happen? The machinery was put into operation by these very fine gentlemen—who sit here with us, and who also accompany us occasionally on little trips and once in awhile try to buy dinners for some of the gentlemen here—then saying that this Hood-Kennedy report was bad. Unfortunately, none of this ever got into the record, and none of them ever came to anyone here and asked that they be a spokesman for them. However, immediately this report and the activities of this committee were abrogated by the very fact that a firm position was taken; that we would veto any legislation that dealt with this report, and we would not support it.

There were problems on both sides in getting this report before us, and so the first part of this report, the three and one-half per cent sales tax, came to us with certain modifications and I believe that everyone of the Members sitting on this side voted for this program. We had hoped that this, with some of the other programs presented by the Hood-Kennedy Committee, would come over here and receive favorable consideration so that we could provide the necessary funds. However, that was not to be. The motion that had been set in action was too strong and too powerful, and some of the Members, unfortunately, felt that they had to go along with some of these people who were their friends and who had befriended them in years past and try to meet their particular objections. When this was done, we found that we had no uniform program, and that the best that we could get out of it was possibly a compromise, and even this would not be too good because there would still be quite a bit of money lacking.

I would like to point out here, gentlemen, in passing, that even if we pass the four per cent sales tax, we have not solved the State's fiscal problem, nor are we providing enough money to carry out the programs as indicated in the Governor's budget.

I have so far, and that is up to the present date, not heard of any cut being made in any department or in any area. If such a cut is contemplated, I am completely and totally ignorant of it, as I believe are most of the Members on this side as well. Even though we have asked a number of times whether we need less money and where is the area where we need less money, we have not been so informed by anyone in a responsible position on the other side or at least, informed of the areas where they are intending to make these cuts or whether there would be some discussion in regard to this type of desire.

Unfortunately, as the Senator from York pointed out, the people do not know what is going on. This is because of the earlier discussion that I gave here regarding the newspapers and other media that are interested in fostering certain activities which best suit their needs or their desires. So, the people do not really have an idea of the kind of problems that we face up here, how we go about solving them or what finally takes place. The best thing we will probably get out of today's activity is discussion or debate, and most of that will probably be relegated to the last page, and that which does appear on the last page will probably castigate the gentlemen sitting on this side, which is par for the course on any given day.

One of the other things that I think we are a little bit confused about—and I would like to say this unequivocally, as I have said before on this Floor, and also stated to the gentlemen of the press and through any other media I have had the opportunity to meet—is that I am against the sales tax. It is alleged to be a broad-base tax. However, how can you have a broad-base tax when you have the same taxation hitting the same persons again and again and again? The persons who are being hit the hardest by this are those people least able to pay it. The man with a family is constantly struck by this tax. The individual, who is a wage earner, is hit again and again. The gentlemen who can afford to pay a tax, and pay a fair share of it, never quite get around to it because of the economic situation and our social life being what it is.

I am sure there is not a gentleman sitting in this room, if we were to vote at this minute for any kind of welfare or social legislation, who would be against it. However, the problem that I seem to have most of the time is that if you are voting for this type of legislation and are interested in it, why not do something to implement it? It is very easy to vote for appropriations and vote for people who are in need. It makes good sense, it is good public relations, and it is even helpful in the District where you come from. However, when we get around to talking about supplying the money for these activities, the first cry we hear is inflation. The next cry is that we do not need it, and the third thing we hear is maladministration of these funds, if they are ever received. Sometimes we go a little further if we are out on the stump, and we hear people say this is strictly political and it is only a means of providing jobs.

All of us, I think, have been here long enough to realize that regardless of which party is in power, they all try generally to do a good job in taking care of the needy and the sick. I do not always say that the approach by both parties is the same. In my humble opinion, I feel that the Democratic Party has taken a rather lighter and possibly a more liberal approach to this problem, but, as I say, that is merely my opinion of the process.

Gentlemen, I do not see how we can fail—after we work on this legislation which is before us today and try to do the best we can with it—to not trot out some of the other bills that have passed the House and some that are now in committees in the Senate and at least have a look-see at these other types of taxation. I do not think that we can take the position that it is a sales tax first, last and always and the people be damned. I think that is a very shortsighted, and a very narrow attitude. I think it is one which ill-becomes us, and I think it behooves us to at least look into these other forms of taxation. If we cannot get any action in this Session, at least we will be laying the groundwork and the foundation toward doing a better job in the next Session or the biennia to come.

I would like to also state here that many of us on this side who have never voted for a sales tax, who have been against it and who have spoken against it very vigorously, I believe are wrestling with our own consciences. However, if we resolve in favor of this tax, it will be because we feel the needs of the people must be met and that we are not particularly concerned about spending a great deal of time in this room with nothing else further happening in the way of helping the people.

I do not believe that any of us have been elected, regardless of the area we come from or regardless of our political affiliation, to remain here over a long period of time wrangling without any kind of result coming out of our work or out of our efforts.

I, therefore, state here for the record, that although the Democratic Party has been opposed to this tax and has taken a firm position against it, if we resolve in favor of voting for this tax, it is with great reluctance and it only because we realize that we are a Minority Party, that we cannot do anything, and that we find ourselves in the throes of trying to accomplish a dual purpose; one, to aid the people; and, second of all, to clean up our business so that the State can get on with its business.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I want to draw to the attention of this Body the first sentence of the preamble to this Act. It is labeled: "An act to provide revenue for purposes of public education."

I think that sentence explains really what is happening here today. Since the fourth estate has been mentioned, I think it should be mentioned again. If there is anything which they have fallen down on it is the fact that they have not communicated to the public. The letters that I have received from my constituents, and from throughout the Commonwealth, certainly accentuate the fact that the people do not realize that the four per cent sales tax or the three and one-half per cent sales tax is to provide revenue for public education.

There is no question about the fact—as one of the great Lords of England, in the House of Lords, said—that newspapers thrive on controversy, as of necessity. When people agree, it is not news. It is the controversy and the tax which, naturally, to the reporter is the news. The job of his editor is to educate and to explain to the public.

The fact here today remains, however,—and I say it to all of you, on both sides of the aisle—that when it is generally known and accepted that the only tax which can be passed for this purpose is the four per cent tax, then it is high time that public education not be a part of politics and that no group or individual will say, "We are not assuming the onus for education to have the bare necessities." Members from both sides of the aisle have gotten up and said that this is not enough money for education and that we are going to need more. This is not enough and, yet, they say there are four Members on their side who will vote money for education.

Are we playing politics with education or are we saying, "How many are there in the Hall today who will lay aside what they think to be best and to be practical, in the interest of education?" How many are saying, "We cannot get the money anywhere else so, regardless of our personal feelings, our personal thoughts or what we personally desire, we will be practical and we will provide the money." If there is a responsibility of losing office or losing an election, we are not interested in that. The primary consideration is, are we going to have schools with the basic necessities and the basic money necessary for them?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I did not plan on talking very much today about this legislation. However, I thought I would make a few passing remarks and then sit down.

First, Mr. President, I want to say that Senator Stiefel mentioned something here in regard to the phrase which I coined yesterday. I meant that phrase as humorous. I do not want the gentleman whom I mentioned to think that it was personal or any affront to their dignity. I have the highest respect for them and I feel that they certainly are astute politicians because they have maneuvered us into the position of being on the defensive all the time, all during this Session.

I thought I knew a little bit about politics, but at this Session I received a liberal education. I find them in a position whereby they are demanding twenty-two votes for their tax program.

Mr. President, in explaining my position in regard to this tax program, let me say this to you. My father, who I always thought was a very great man, a man who served with great distinction in the Halls of this Legislature long before I came here, always told me, "Be thine own true self and be a believer in your own convictions. When you feel you are right, although it may be unpopular, you follow through with your convictions." Naturally, I cannot get that out of my system.

I did make one mistake, however, at this Session of the Legislature and I have regretted it ever since. That mistake was when I voted on this floor against increased pensions for some old firemen and some old policemen in the Pittsburgh area. I have regretted it ever since. If I had it to do over again, I would have rolled up my sleeves and battled for them because I guess I must be a humanitarian.

Let me also say, Mr. President, that these tax study committees which are created—and I would also say selected by—the Executive Branch, of course, consist of distinguished individuals. However, they have not been elected to anything. They concoct a program and hand it to the Legislature. I served under John Fine on a tax study committee with a number of outsiders. That tax program did not get off the ground. If we are going to have a tax study committee, it should consist of Members of the House and Senate, in my opinion, who could get together and actually determine what the needs are. Then, of course, they should take it to their respective Caucuses. That has not been the case.

I am going to say something else here that is a little bit unpopular. Someone mentioned education. I think if the Legislature of Pennsylvania had a little more determination and intestinal fortitude, we would get rid of some of the drones in public education who are drawing huge salaries and not doing anything for their money. People who have probably gone to a Teachers College for two years and never took any additional courses, whatsoever, are all eligible for these huge increases. Sure, it is becoming a monstrosity as far as taxes are concerned. However, we must think, too, of the taxpayers, of the little people.

I come from an area where, at the present time, it is a labor surplus area. We have thousands upon thousands of good people who are unemployed and willing to work. Do you think I am going to stand here and vote more taxes all the time? There are other tax programs besides this sales tax. I suggested something to the Members in the House quite some time ago. I had a bill prepared. Let us do something about taxing some of these pinball machines and things like that. After all, it may not amount to too much, but it will amount to some revenue for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Let us not tax the little people all the time.

I guess I am rather conscientious in the position I take. I do not suppose that I will ever change. I believe every man here should vote his own conscience, not just for politics. I do not want to hurt the Administration. I think Governor Lawrence is one of the greatest men I ever knew. He never told me he was for a four per cent sales tax. Even if he would have, I do not suppose I would have voted for it. However, at the same time, we have passed some revenue measures. I think we should re-evaluate our position. Let us go over this tax program again, in detail, and see whether we cannot come up with a better figure.

Mr. President, I am going to close my remarks by making this statement. I think one of our greatest forefathers, who was one of the founders of this great Nation, said: "Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience."

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate I had a brief speech here to make, but the distinguished gentlemen from Washington and Westmoreland almost forced me into a second speech. However, I do know that the Lieutenant-Governor is supposed to make a speech in my town at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and he is going to have trouble making this appointment, thereby disappointing a lot of people up there, unless we bring this to a conclusion pretty soon.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Hays, I have until 4:15 o'clock.

Mr. HAYS. You should not give these gentlemen such liberty, Mr. President.

However, Mr. President, I must take exception to the remarks made by the gentleman from Westmoreland, whom I admire very much, because I have consistently maintained that putting this little phrase in the preamble of the Act about this money being for education is a kind of a snare and a delusion. We all know that it all goes into the general hopper.

Yesterday, one of my preceptors, Senator Barr, advised politicians never to write letters. I guess that is good advice, but about a month ago, before he got around to telling me that, I wrote a letter to the House leadership. I asked them to seriously consider a two per cent across-the-board sales tax. Therefore, I want to point out in the beginning that my vote for the two per cent across-the-board sales tax, yesterday, was not a desperation measure. If, as it seems apparent now, this four per cent tax is going to be voted down, I hope that serious consideration will be given to this two per cent tax. If the facts are true that it will secure as much in funds as the four per cent tax, I would hope that a majority of this Body would support it.

I got on this merry-go-round later than Senator Seyler. This is my third time around on the merry-go-round. I was on the 1955 merry-go-round, which took seventeen months. In the end, the Commonwealth received a tax program which the gentlemen on the other side, the Republican Party, wanted. In 1957, you will recall that the opposition was in control of both the House and the Senate and the Democrats had the Governorship. The tax program at that time, and the appropriations voted for at that time, were Republican taxes and Republican appropriations. We wound up with a $135,000,000 deficit, I understand.

If this tax, which we are voting on today, only affected the twenty-eight young, not-so-young and old men on the other side, and the twenty-two young, not-so-young and old men on this side, this would be an easy decision. If the tax only affected the organizations whose central offices are located at 510 North Third Street and 15 North Front Street, in Harrisburg, this would be a relatively easy job. However, that is not true. This tax bill has a direct bearing and affects the mentally ill of this Commonwealth. It affects the blind and the near blind, the unemployed, and the children in every village, farm, town and city. They are all citizens of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but have no vote other than the voice, at the present time, of the fifty men who make up this Senate. So far—I do not know whether they have not had the opportunity yet—no one has called this a good tax. According to Senator Seyler's criteria—he is pretty tough on these—it does meet one criterion, however, and that is that it will provide funds.

Therefore, Mr. President, as I approach my vote on this tax, I make it a kind of analogy with the case of my wife or son being stricken with a disease—and I declare to you that Pennsylvania is running a pretty high temperature, as I understand it, going $118,000 in debt every day—and needing medical care and with our family physician being out of town. I would not refuse to go to another family physician. On the tax question, of course, the opposition has sent my favorite physician to the salt mines, I think, and I am not able to get at him. If I cannot reach my first physician, I will not allow my wife and son to suffer. I will go to the second choice physician. If they deny me the opportunity, and kidnap him and take him out of town, as they did with the two per cent sales tax yesterday, then I will go to another doctor to whom some of my friends go, even though I do not think his reputation is quite as good as my doctor or the second doctor, but some people who I know use him.

That is where I find myself, Mr. President, as I am about to vote for this four per cent tax. I hope that with my vote, I may be joined by at least twenty-five other Senators.

Now what I am about to say is heresy. I think the greatest thing that could happen to Pennsylvania, since this is not a good tax, would be if thirteen of these Senators should be from one side of the aisle and thirteen from the other. I think this would be the most wonderful thing that could ever happen to Pennsylvania. I doubt whether it would hurt either political party.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this tax measure today. However, in a broader sense, I do not consider myself as voting for the four per cent sales tax. I am thinking of the people who are going to be benefited by the revenue from this tax. I am voting for the people in the Philadelphia State Hospital. I am voting for the people in all the State Hospitals. I am voting for the people in all of the State positions of government where governmental responsibility is, in order to prevent anarchy in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to keep Pennsylvania operating as a governmental entity.

At the same time, I realize, from a little publication which was on our desks this morning, that 26,000,000 people have incomes so low that they cannot purchase food which is necessary toward a healthy existence. I am certain that a goodly number of that 26,000,000 people are in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As a matter of fact, I know hundreds of them myself. I also know that the money from this tax is coming out of their incomes.

I see no sense in smooth politicians who think they can live a lie and say that this tax is a person's tax or somebody else's tax or some party's responsibility. I do not think that is smooth politics.

A man named Matthew Quay, many years ago, as a Senator in Washington, D. C., said that he did not like President Benjamin Harrison because he wore the seat of his trousers too close to the ground. I think that is what is happening here. He meant that Benjamin Harrison was a crude politician and he did not have the refinement of a politician which Mr. Quay considered that he had. I also know that his criticism was correct because Benjamin Harrison served only one term and he was succeeded, I believe, by Grover Cleveland.

I am not influenced by any of those crude, political lies which are being lived in this Majority Party in the Senate today. I intend to vote for this tax for the reason that I stated. I believe the people of Pennsylvania, and I think of my District, realizing that nothing else could happen, would want me to vote that way.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I have sat here and listened with great interest to the men on my side of the aisle, who all spoke with great sincerity and with great belief, no matter what position on this bill they have taken. I do not think that any man, who has taken the microphone here today in this Senate, had anything but sincerity in his heart when he advocated his position.

Mr. President, I have sat in this Senate for a few years. I have seen many bills on the Calendar being considered. However, in all my experiences in this Chamber, I have never seen a bill that has been handled more like a hot potato, or as the unwanted child or illegitimate child of either Party, than House Bill No. 1285 which we have before us today. The Republicans say that they want no part of it. They have the votes to pass it or defeat it. They say they will only give us four. I hear, however, on the floor that perhaps the newspapermen misquoted some of these men on the other side and, maybe, we will get more than four votes. We will see when the roll is called whether the newspapermen did their job properly.

However, Mr. President, no one wants to claim either authorship or relationship to this bill. My Democratic colleagues claim that the bill is no good and I think they agree on the four per cent. The theory, however, is that we must pass this bill because we need money. We need our hospitals and our educational institutions. Our other services throughout this Commonwealth must be provided for.

I took a pledge, along with the forty-eight other Senators sitting in this Chamber, that I would vote for appropriations. I reiterate that pledge here today; that I will vote for appropriations. I will vote for money for hospitals, I will vote for money for the mentally ill, and I will vote for money for public assistance. However, I will vote for a tax bill that is fair and just to the people of Pennsylvania.

They say, "I will vote for the four per cent sales tax because we need this money." Does that justify casting a vote for a bill that is not just, not fair and not equitable to any man? It is just like representing a criminal in the courtrooms and saying to the Judge, "My client robbed a bank because he has five children at home to support." That kind of a defense or explanation has never been accepted. You do not justify an act which is unreasonable because you have something of an obligation to fulfill. I am mindful as far as my obligation to the people in Pennsylvania is concerned. I am as mindful of my obligation to those who are in mental institutions and in the schools as any other man in this Senate. However, I am not going to do it at the expense of the little man. I am not going to do it at the expense of the workingman, and I am not going to do it at the expense of those who are least able to pay.

As I said on this floor yesterday, and I will repeat here again today, I am for a bill where all of us will put our shoulders to the wheel and all of us will kick in to the kitty. Industry is no more of an exception than the man with the pick and shovel. I have no more right, because I own stock and mortgages, to be exempt from a personal property tax than the little man with ten children who has to pay a sales tax of four per cent. Because I have the ability to earn, and I hold stock, is no reason for a personal property tax bill to be lying in committee and thus saddling the little people of Pennsylvania with a four per cent sales tax. It is wrong to take the candy away from the children in my district. A lot of the families cannot afford it. It is wrong to take away the soda water, the pop and the other little luxuries of life.

Therefore, Mr. President, I will not vote for this bill. In talking about appropriations, I am happy to see my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, standing here with his hat in hand, pleading, if you will, that our Philadelphia General Hospital will be considered; pleading that Philadelphia will be brought into the county health plan and pleading that our port we will be taken care of. How about that? I would like to ask my colleagues, "Do you have a promise from the other side that we will be in the county health plan, that our Philadelphia General Hospital will be taken care of and that we will receive $1,000,000 for our port in order for our people to obtain employment?" Yes, if we get that promise or if the other side will permit us to take back to our people the little meek things that we are asking for, maybe you are justified in saddling our people with a four per cent sales tax.

I tell you here today, and I make a prediction, that if you pass this four per cent tax and go home to Philadelphia, you will not get an appropriation for the Philadelphia General Hospital of four and one-half million dollars as you were promised in previous Sessions. You will not get three and one-half million dollars for the county health plan, and you can be sure of that. Unless we are promised what is due us and our people in Philadelphia get as much as they do in the rest of Pennsylvania,—our people have needs in Philadelphia as they do elsewhere—we have no right to saddle our people with this type of a tax.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I think every Senator on this floor knows that I am a single taxer. If I had my way, I would nexer tax a thing which is made by the hand. However, I know that I could never push a bill like that through this Senate, and so we have this bill before us now.

I live near the State of Ohio where they have had a sales tax for many, many years and, during those years, I saw industry after industry move out of Pennsylvania into Ohio. Ohio is one of the most progressive States in the Union today. All of the States around us have sales taxes. I think we should make a climate here to hold our industries and give jobs to people.

We were here for seventeen months during the Leader Administration. We tried hard to put over a manufacturer's use tax and an income tax. I did not like either very well. A manufacturer's use tax would drive more industries out of the State, and people do not like an income tax because they have to pay it in a lump. We pay our Federal Income Tax in a lump and we pay our real estate taxes in a lump, but with a sales tax we do not have to keep books, we do not have snoopers around to bother us and check up on us, and we pay a few cents daily.

When we first had the sales tax, people did not like it. They do not like any new tax. However, they have gotten used to it. They have gotten used to it, and they do not dislike it because they can pay every week and not be bothered with a lot of snoopers around.

There has been an atmosphere in this State for many years to soak the manufacturer—soak them. However, we are getting over that. This sales tax is one of the best taxes. It is a broad-base tax. It encourages industry to stay here and to come here. Since we have had the sales tax, more industries have come into Pennsylvania than in any other period.

I do not object too much to increasing the sales tax from three and one-half per cent to four per cent. We do not have one-half cent money in this State. I buy one dollar's worth of cigars at a time, and I pay one dollar and four cents. I do not pay three and one-half cents. Therefore, if we want to pass a tax to which the people are accustomed, let us pass this four per cent sales tax.

We passed a sales tax during the Leader Administration and have had a Democratic Governor since. I was elected last year and I got the biggest majority I ever received in my history, and I voted for the sales tax because I know that the people who pay the sales tax say that it is the easiest tax they ever paid. They pay it in dribs and drabs and when the year is over, it is all paid.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would not attempt to expound the philosophy of the broad-base tax, as represented by the sales tax, with any hope of achieving the explicit, clear and enlightening language that has been used by the gentleman from Allegheny County. Suffice it to say that as a philosophy of the tax,—as compared to other taxes called broad-base, but which in reality are not the broad-base type as is the sales tax—the sales tax is much superior in every respect.

However, Mr. President, although we may embrace the philosophy of the sales tax, the tax we have before us today is not such a tax as I would espouse. The only real reason, Mr. President—and we are inclined to overlook some obvious things in the discussion of these matters—that we have this bill in this form, as represented by House Bill No. 1285, is that it is the only tax measure that could be passed in the House of Representatives where there is a Democratic Majority. The type of sales tax which is embraced in the Hood-Kennedy recommendation, and which was submitted to the House of Representatives by Governor Lawrence, could not muster sufficient votes by the party in majority in that House to send it over here. I do not say what might have been done over here, but I think quite probably that tax might have met with considerable approval had it come over. However, it was impossible to get it over. Therefore, when you speak of alternative taxes, Mr. President, there is no alternative. This is the tax which is before the Senate of Pennsylvania to produce the revenue that the Governor says is required and obviously, money has to be raised in order to conduct the business of government.

We do not accept this tax as the type of sales tax which we would have espoused. However, nevertheless, it is the one which bears the name of the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House. It has been sent over here with the statement that the Commonwealth must have money with which to operate. This is the bill that they sent us. Therefore, this is the bill that can be voted upon on the Floor of the Senate.

Mr. President, again stating the obvious, I find that much has been said about that side being in the Minority, and this side being in the Majority. Let me remind you at that this is the only place where that situation prevails. If I go over to the Office of the Governor, I cannot noticeably find many Republicans walking around there. Over in the House of Representatives, they have a majority of Democratic votes. Over here, it happens that we have a majority of Republican votes. Nevertheless, Mr. President, it is the obligation of the party in the majority to produce the tax revenues, and we realize—again the obvious—that being in the minority here, the Democrats cannot produce the full twenty-six constitutional votes required to pass a tax bill. Therefore, we must meet a responsibility on this side by providing the number of votes required to make up the twenty-six, and adding them to their twenty-two. That, in a very simple way, is exactly the position that we take, the position that we have taken all along, and the one we will continue to take here this afternoon.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I realize that we are on a very serious matter and I do not want to inject a note of levity at this point. However, I think it would be perfectly in order that we give a vote of confidence to the newspapermen sitting over here and tell them that we really love them, except that we recognize the awkward position in which they find themselves from time to time.

I think another thing we should say here, before we go on to vote on this bill, is that we are trying in our own way,—and by using the handicaps that we have before us, which we fully realize are present all the time—to do the best job that we can for the people who live in this State.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, not having heard my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

REMAINING BILLS ON CALENDAR OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the remaining bills on today's Calendar go over in their order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I have no apology to make for my vote. I have been in politics for quite some time and I have always considered the sales tax as one of the fairest taxes.

In other Sessions of the Legislature, we have been here for months trying to arrive on the passage of a bill to defray the various costs of operating the affairs of this great Commonwealth. I understand that every day we spend here, the Commonwealth is losing $1,000,000 or more a week. We could remain here for four or five months and eventually find ourselves in the same condition as the State of Michigan.

Always being in favor of a sales tax, as I have stated, I felt it my duty to vote for this bill, regardless of what the other Members of the Legislature might do. I feel that I am doing a real service, not only to the constituents of the two counties of Huntingdon and Blair, which I have the privilege of representing, but because I think it is the only way and the fairest way of solving our problems.

I have been told, and I believe reliably so, that if we had a tax across-the-board, the farming industry would not enjoy the exemptions that it now enjoys. Therefore, I feel that I am doing what my conscience tells me is the right thing to do, and that I am doing a real service to my constituents and to all of the people of this Commonwealth.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 193, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 5, 1927 (P. L. 787), entitled "An act establishing certain public roads as State highways, . . ." changing a route and adding a new route in Delaware County.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 398, entitled:

An Act amending "The Tractor Code," approved May 1, 1929 (P. L. 1005), providing for the issuance of permits for the movement of certain equipment of excessive size or weight.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1207, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" providing for payments on account of pupil transportation to certain additional school districts.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1537, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" changing provisions relating to the keeping open of schools.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, August 20, 1959, at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:19 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Thursday, August 20, 1959, at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1959

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, in the beauty and glory of this day we recognize Thy majestic power. As we come to Thee in prayer, praise, and thanksgiving, enable us to sense Thy presence; and quicken us to call upon Thee for the guidance which Thou hast to give, and help us to follow the same. Especially, do we ask Thee to be with the members of this House of Representatives. Guide them in the deliberations of this day, watch over them during the remainder of this week, and inspire them during the remainder of this session with Thy Holy Spirit. In Jesus' precious name. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is requesting the gentleman from Greene to preside, the Chair hopes throughout the day. The gentleman from Greene we think, needs a rest, and presiding he will probably find restfulness compared with his former duties. The Chair will not presume to take the floor to fill or attempt to fill the Floor Leader's duties. We are committing that into abler hands. We know that the gentleman from Greene while we would not be able to fill his shoes, will be quite competent in filling the Speaker's shoes. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I present the gentleman from Greene.

Mr. McCANN IN THE CHAIR

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, August 18, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. DOUGHERTY asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Motor Vehicles to meet during the session of the House.

L. 30) entitled "An act requiring that meetings of the governing bodies of political subdivisions and certain authorities and other agencies performing essential governmental functions shall be open to the public, requiring public notice of such meetings and describing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on State Government.

By Messrs. SNIDER, BELL, BONNER, HELM, ANDREWS, McCANN and POLEN. HOUSE BILL No. 2333.

An Act amending the "Public School Employees' Retirement Code of 1959," approved June 1, 1959 (Act No. 77), increasing certain annuities and compensation.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. STONER, LIGHT, POLEN and Mrs. REIBMAN. RESOLUTION No. 104.

In the House of Representatives, August 18, 1959.

The present system of school operation, administration and financing by districts in many instances creates tax inequities and imposes unnecessary burdens on parents and children alike.

Districts consisting solely of residential areas are finding it almost impossible to provide proper facilities with the proceeds from reasonable taxation, while districts having industry within their boundaries have few financial worries in continuing their education programs.

In many districts, single and combined, school children spend several unrewarding hours a day just riding a school bus when there are schools nearby, but which happen to be in a different district.

A duplication of supervisory functions is also a costly and yet a common attribute of our present school system; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission study the administration, operation and financing of public education in terms of county-wide units rather than the existing school districts; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, at the beginning of the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the bill on which the House is now voting is intended to provide a continuity of government in case of a disastrous attack.

The bill provides that the Governor shall call the General Assembly into session and if he fails to do it within a period of 90 days after the attack then the Assembly will convene on its own, at which time the Speaker and the President pro tempore of the Senate will be present and if not present a temporary Speaker and a temporary President pro tempore are elected and then they in conjunction with the political leaders of the various counties appoint temporary Members of the Legislature to serve in the absence of the Members.

The bill provides that the temporary men will only serve as long as the Member himself is absent and is unavailable, then if the Member becomes available, his successor passes out of the picture, as it were. The bill provides that both the temporary man and the permanently elected legislator receive the emoluments of the office if the elected Member happens to be available at a later date.

This is more or less a compromise bill from the one that was previously introduced in the House. It is my personal opinion that this bill does a very good job, as good as can be done, providing for a continuous operation of our state government in case of an attack of a very bad nature. I think it is a good bill and I want to point out to the Members that this particular bill provides for a continuation of the General Assembly and also provides a method of selecting their successor in the event of an attack and the Member is not available.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1175, entitled:

An Act providing in the event of attack upon the United States for the continuity of the executive and judicial functions of the government of the Commonwealth and the governments of political subdivisions of the Commonwealth by providing for an additional officer to act as Governor providing for emergency interim succession to other executive offices of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions providing for special emergency judges and authorizing political subdivisions to enact resolutions and ordinances relating to the subject.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1175 provides for the filling of vacancies in the judiciary in event of a serious attack.

This bill provides only for temporary appointments of judges who will be appointed so long as the judge is unavailable. In the event they determine there is a vacancy, the vacancy will finally be filled by the usual methods provided by the Constitution or by law, which in effect means the Governor will finally make the appointment, filling the vacancy.

This bill provides only for a temporary judge until it is determined whether or not the judge will be available or whether he will not longer be available, in which case the Governor would fill the vacancy. This temporary appointment would be made by the Supreme Court in consultation with the county chairman or political leaders of the party in which the sitting judge was a member when the disaster occurred. This again is a compromise bill designed to continue our state government in case of a disaster and an attack.

Mr. Speaker, I request that the Members vote for this bill.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 263 on page 8 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 263, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, exempting income taxes on persons and corporations from requirement of uniformity.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 263 is a joint resolution seeking to amend the Constitution of Pennsylvania to allow a graduated income tax.

This resolution, if passed by the House and Senate during this Session and one subsequent Session, will then be placed on the ballot for the people of Pennsylvania to decide whether or not under our Constitution we should permit the enactment of a graduated income tax law.

The bill as amended yesterday provides that we shall not have a sales tax and a graduated income tax enacted both at the same time. As I view the resolution it allows the people of the Commonwealth to make a choice as to whether or not they would prefer that this Commonwealth be financed mainly through a sales tax program or a graduated income tax program, using the exemption method also in the graduation.

We believe that the people of the Commonwealth should be allowed to make that choice. It is my personal belief that the graduated income tax method is perhaps a more fair and reasonable way of financing the services of the Commonwealth because it does give us a system of taxes based upon ability to pay. By the exemption method we would be able to exclude the very, very low income group, and of course by the graduation the tax would be paid more readily on the part of those with ability to pay.

That, of course, is a matter of principle, a matter of one's individual belief. There are those who would believe that the sales tax is more fair and more equitable, and with those people who sincerely believe that I have no quarrel.

All that House Bill 263 does is to permit the people of the Commonwealth, the taxpayers themselves, to decide which method of taxation should be used, and I think on this particular subject we certainly can do no harm by allowing the people to select their own method of paying the Commonwealth's bills.

I think this is a good resolution and I believe it should be adopted today and I am asking the Members to vote for the bill.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti states that the intent of House Bill 263 is one that has no complications. I believe that the problem we are facing this morning is not just that simple. I think we are facing a problem that is almost insurmountable because of actions of this House that have gone on in the past, because of poor planning, because of the poor leadership.

On July 22, the majority saw fit to release from Committee House Bill 409, which was a joint resolution to amend the Constitution of the Commonwealth to exempt certain veterans from payment of taxes. This proposal would have amended Article 9, Section 1 of our Constitution.

Then on July 28, just six days later, the majority again saw fit to release from Committee House Bill 263, another joint resolution to amend the Constitution, this time by way of exempting income taxes from the requirement of uniformity. Again it was proposed to amend the same Section of the same Article of the Constitution.

We have seen House Bill 409 approved by the House by a vote of 196-0 and sent to the Senate. We have seen House Bill 263 approved, then later called back to be amended, to add a correction that was first called to the attention of the majority by the Members on this side of the House.

Unfortunately there is still a great deal of confusion concerning these two bills, that is, there is confusion if the majority is sincere in its efforts on both bills. If both bills are to be advanced, then the two must be combined, for as it is, on the one hand we propose to change a given section to read one thing, and on the other hand we propose to change the same section to read something else. We simply can not do both. If House Bill 409 is desirable and all the actions on House Bill 263 have been simply for the record, then we can ignore the confusion that the majority has permitted on this bill and examine 409, the one to exempt disabled veterans from payment of certain taxes. Since that was approved without any dissenting votes it would seem that its provisions are laudable and the Senate could be expected to give it serious consideration. Unfortunately, this bill also leads into confusion. The same error which was called to the attention of the majority on House Bill 263 has been permitted to be carried into House Bill 409. If this were sent through and approved by the people it would have exactly the same effect as House Bill 263 in nullifying the amendment of 1958. Of course, there is always the possibility that the courts would when asked to act on the proposal throw the whole thing out by ruling that we are acting on the same thing, the same issue within the five-year period which is forbidden in our Constitution. So, I believe this whole thing sounds very confusing. I think that because of a lack of coordination in the thinking of the majority we have allowed this thing to get into a state of utter confusion and for that reason, for the reason that both bills cannot possibly be passed and acted upon on the ballot at the same time, I would ask the Members to vote against House Bill 263.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, it is not my belief that the voters should be asked to pass upon these two amendments in one bill. Certainly they deal with entirely different subjects. The one question dealing with veterans should not be allowed to confuse the vote on the income tax proposal. I believe that they should be submitted as separate bills and that we should have the people of the Commonwealth vote on them as separate amendments.

I know of no way that we can separate the issues other than by preparing two separate resolutions. These resolutions we will send to the Senate and at that point the Senate can make a choice and do with each of these resolutions as they see fit. We have already sent the one dealing with veterans over to the Senate and if there is something technically and legally wrong with it, it is my hope that the Senate will correct it and then we must find, I do not know, I am frank to confess at this point, I do not know how the question would be submitted separately, but I am of the firm belief that it should be submitted separately and that the vote on one should not be allowed to interfere with the vote on the other.

There are many people in Pennsylvania who will vote for the Constitutional amendment allowing exemptions to veterans who would vote against the one which we have today, and there are many people perhaps who would do vice versa—vote for the one we have today and against the one which we have for veterans. So it appears to me that they should be submitted to the people as separate Constitutional amendments. Just how it is done I am not prepared at this time to answer, but certainly, somewhere along the line there must be some constitutional expert who will be able to tell us how we can submit two separate questions dealing with the same Article of the Constitution so that they can be voted upon separately by the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, desires to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti. Will the gentleman from Cambria consent to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if both bills amend the same article and the same section of the Constitution.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I believe they do.

Mr. HELM. Is it the gentleman's opinion then that the two questions amending the same Article and the same

Section of the Constitution should be put on the same ballot at the same election?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I have said previously that I do not know the procedural aspects of the problem, but I do know this for certain that they should be submitted as separate questions whether at the same elections if possible, if not, then at a different election, but these questions should not be confused and joined one with the other. It is my opinion that we should send both resolutions over dealing with the separate subjects.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman then if both of these bills pass the House and Senate this Session of the General Assembly, and these bills pass the House and the Senate of the next General Assembly, if both questions will not appear on the same ballot?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the answer to that question would be this, that between this Session and the next Session the Legislature and the courts, perhaps a ruling from the Attorney General, we would have to decide whether or not they can be submitted on the same ballot and both of them be given a vote. If not, in the next Session of the Legislature this body and the Senate would have to make a choice of either this resolution or the other resolution and see which one to submit to the people of the Commonwealth first.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman then if he feels that way, we should have a ruling from the Attorney General, if he would not be willing at this point in the proceedings to hold up action on this bill and get an immediate opinion from the Attorney General as to how the question can be put on the ballot.

Mr. LOPRESTI. It seems to me that today we are voting on the substance of the amendment, rather than the procedure, and since we have another entire Session before us, and since the bill will go over to the Senate, today we are expressing an attitude or an opinion regarding the substance of the bill, not the procedure. We have a lot of time to determine the procedure, and I can see no reason to delay a vote on the substantive matter contained in the particular resolution. The question before us now is, do we favor an income tax resolution or not?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, could I inquire of the gentleman if he is in effect stating that he is only trying to set forth today the legislative intent, that he is not sincere in his effort to have the question put on the ballot?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I resent the implication that I am not sincere. I am sincere.

You have raised a procedural question to which I do not have the answer, but I am saying to you that there is plenty of time to get the procedural question answered. We are now voting on the substance, whether or not we believe the people should vote on the question of sales taxes versus income taxes. That is our present consideration. There is a lot of time for the procedural changes.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the thing that the gentleman is suggesting today is exactly what happened here in this House about two weeks ago when we acted upon something without knowing where we were going, and I would request the gentleman, in all sincerity, to hold up action on this until we can get a ruling from the Attorney General so that we can act in an intelligent manner and show the people that we are sincere in our efforts in trying to bring the question before the people so that they can state their beliefs on the matter.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I can not quite agree with that statement. I do not believe that we are unintelligent when we express an opinion as favoring or not favoring an income tax resolution.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like at this time to make a motion, if I may.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I am advised by the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee that the Attorney General has issued a statement to him that it can be submitted in separate questions on the same ballot.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman have that statement in writing?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I just said that I was informed by Mr. Polen—by phone, he says.

Mr. HELM. Has the Attorney General put that in writing?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I said he had the information by phone from Harrington Adams.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCORMACK. Before I can intelligently vote on this motion I would like to ask the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, a question. Will he permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is it the gentleman's contention that 409 which we passed, was passed in improper form?

Mr. HELM. That is so. It did not have the amendment in the bill that was passed.

Mr. McCORMACK. If this resolution were amended to include the substance of 409 in its correct form, would the gentleman agree to that amendment?

Mr. HELM. Well, I believe you are now trying to bring two issues into this present bill, but I do believe before the question can be put on the same ballot, if that is the attempt, the issues will have to be combined, because they both amend the same section, the same Article of the Constitution.

Mr. McCORMACK. And if it were so amended in 263 to take care of those procedural defects, would the gentleman agree to that?

Mr. HELM. I am only asking you to hold it up until we have a chance to work it out with the Attorney General, and get a ruling as to whether it can be done that way.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, it occurs to me, sitting here, it depends on who is discussing confusion and who is discussing delay. We have heard stories here about delaying tactics on previous bills during this Session. I think this has been a pretty fine maneuver on the right side of the House to delay this particular bill, because in the main I believe it goes against their political leanings.

Let us look back a little bit. First we had a question about the forest reserves amendments which had been omitted. The question was never raised when House Bill 409 was on the floor, but very peculiarly it came up when we considered this particular resolution. Then we were faced with calling the bill back, amending it, putting in the forest reserves, and after we did that we then had the amendments of yesterday, so that there could not be a sales tax and an income tax at the same time.

Now suddenly we are faced with another delaying tactic, the question of the Constitutional issue of whether these things have to be combined in one bill, whether they can be loaded on separately and so forth, ad infinitum. I think this is nothing but an attempt to delay the expression of the Members of this House to give the people of the Commonwealth an opportunity, legitimately, of deciding what type of tax they desire.

I therefore feel we should oppose this motion, and should vote on this particular bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Since my last trip to the mike I have been informed by the Attorney General's Office that not only is it advisable, as I have said, to vote on separate amendments, but since the Constitution itself provides that when more than one amendment is offered to a particular article we must, under the Constitution itself, submit it for a separate vote, and that the only way we could proceed under the Constitution is the method by which we are now proceeding. There would be no other way of doing it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to consult a lawyer, and there are some very good one on the Democratic side.

This is not a delaying tactic on my part. I voted against the income tax amendment as originally proposed and I also voted against the amendments submitted yesterday.

I believe if you want to pass an amendment to the Constitution, you should do so deliberately and have a correct one. I am speaking in favor of the motion proposed by Mr. Helm for this reason, because the proposed Constitutional amendment which is before us now is substantially and fundamentally unsound. I ask you to listen to me carefully.

The amendment which was approved by the then Majority Leader and now the acting Speaker, reads as follows:

No income tax upon persons or corporations which is graded or graduated or which provides for exemption may be enacted—enacted is the word,

At the same time that a tax on the sale or use of personal property is being levied and collected.

Enacted means, according to Webster's International Dictionary, "to make into an act or statute." I submit sincerely and for your serious consideration this particular situation.

If this Constitutional amendment is passed, it will defeat the purpose as stated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, because it is my contention that you can repeal the sales tax in January, 1961, enact an income tax, graduated, one month later and thereafter pass a sales tax.

Please read this amendment carefully, and if you want to have the correct type of tax, why not amend the amendment and put it in proper shape?

We are discussing a Constitutional amendment. Let us vote on it Monday after due deliberation, if I am correct, and if the Attorney General says I am incorrect, let us have a written opinion on the thing, because the word "enactment" is a clear word; it means precisely what it says. No legislative intent can overrule clear English language.

Therefore, I call this to your attention again. You can pass a sales tax under this amendment after you have passed an income tax. You can have both on the statute books at the same time.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the two questions would be whether to amend it separately, which amends the same Article and Section—I have talked to at least a half dozen judges, a couple of them appellate court judges. I want to tell you that they are divided in their opinion on this, and there is only one thing I can see for this amendment, should it be passed with all the circumstances surrounding and existing in it, there would be a court test on it to determine that issue, but not only that issue, but other issues as well.

I am like the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, on a matter so far reaching and fundamental on the rights of the people of this Commonwealth, I am not willing to vote for any legislation unless I am satisfied that the matter is in proper shape and form to do that. I will not, on a constitutional question pass it over to the Senate or anyone else unless it is in sound condition.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand the objection of the gentleman from Cameron, and therefore, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire as to what language the gentleman from Cameron objects in this particular bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am objecting to the procedural matter which you raised and not the substance of the bill.

Since the gentleman from Allegheny spoke, I am inclined to agree with him that the amendment that was put in yesterday could be very much abused unless it is clarified. On procedural matters, I am talking about submitting the provisions of 409 and the provisions of this bill as separate amendments, they being amendments to the same Article and Section of the constitution.

Now where a different Section and Article of the Constitution is involved, I will agree that they must be submitted separately, but where they involve the same Article and Section, I disagree that they can be submitted separately.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

For the information of the gentleman, Burt Glidden who is the official advisor, I believe to the House and the Senate in our Legislative Reference Bureau, has informed me that he also concurs with the opinion that we had from the Attorney General, and I want to read from Article 18 of the Constitution, the last line: "When two or more amendments shall be submitted they shall be voted upon separately."

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, submit himself to interrogation?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, is it the inference of the gentleman from Armstrong that this piece of legislation and the other piece of legislation, House Bill 409, will pass this House and the Senate on two successive occasions at the same time?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would assume that from the fact that they are passing this Session together they would probably be introduced at the next Session.

Mr. GELFAND. Will the gentleman guarantee that both pieces of legislation will pass both Houses of the Legislature at the same time?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair rules that the question is not proper to the debate on at the present time. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia confine his remarks—

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I have no hesitancy about answering the question, when I say I cannot guarantee it and I would not attempt to do it.

Mr. GELFAND. Will the gentleman advise the House as to whether or not it is possible that one piece of legislation will pass both Houses and the other piece will not?

Mr. HELM. That is a possibility.

Mr. GELFAND. Is it not possible then that only one piece of legislation will be submitted to the electorate at one time?

Mr. HELM. That is a possibility also. The possibility exists that both might pass.

Mr. GELFAND. Then does the gentleman agree that inasmuch as only one piece of legislation may get to the electorate, it is wise to act on one piece of legislation at a time rather than two?

Mr. HELM. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker. I say as long as there is a possibility that both pieces might reach the ballot at the same time, then we ought to be very careful about how we pass those pieces.

Mr. GELFAND. Will the gentleman agree then that the electorate at a future time may only have one piece of legislation to act upon?

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman restate his question? I do not quite follow that.

Mr. GELFAND. I will restate it this way: Then is it possible at a future time a Constitutional amendment which we are discussing at the present time may be presented to the electorate, which does not deal with the veteran's exemptions?

Mr. HELM. That might happen, certainly.

Mr. GELFAND. Then is it not true that the question we are raising today may be a moot one?

Mr. HELM. It could be though we cannot be sure of that.

Mr. GELFAND. Inasmuch as we are only operating under possibilities, is it not better then to act on the legislation before us than any other legislation?

Mr. HELM. I would think the gentleman, being a member of his party that has initiated both of these Constitutional Amendments, would assume that both of them are going to pass.

Mr. GELFAND. Is it the gentleman's view then that if any other piece of legislation is introduced in this House on any problem that may confront the Commonwealth, that no other legislation dealing with a similar problem should be presented?

Mr. HELM. No. It can be presented, of course it can, but it certainly ought to be in proper form.

Mr. GELFAND. Is it not so that each problem as it is presented should be considered in itself?

Mr. HELM. Certainly. Of course, now you are talking about the substance of this resolution.

Mr. GELFAND. If the gentleman will desist, he has already answered my question. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has just indicated, as I thought he would, that it is better for this House to act on one problem at a time, and since at the present time we only have one problem before us for discussion, I think we should act upon it. I therefore think we should vote down this motion.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that we are going to be around here a while longer, and I think it is unfortunate that we pass bills over into the Senate and hope that they will correct the bills here.

There is a very simple way that this can be worked out. Previously Article 9, if you look at the Pennsylvania Manual, Page 60, was amended by adding a sub-section 1-B. All we have to do here is to add a sub-section 1-C, then both sections could be voted on by the electorate, and if one fell, or if one passed or if they both passed, there would be no problem whatsoever in interpreting them.

I think we should put this on the postponed calendar until we get this corrected.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Delaware?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman prepare that amendment to take care of the omissions that he claims are in this bill with respect to the exemption of paraplegics and amputees, would you introduce that amendment if this bill were held up?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I am not in favor of combining the two questions, and I am opposed to this amendment. However, as far as correcting the defect in the present bill so that it could be voted on separately, I think that would be a very simple matter to prepare and I could certainly suggest to the Legislative Reference Bureau how it would be done.

Mr. McCORMACK. There is a conflict of authority right in your own party as to whether or not it is proper to have it as one amendment or two separate amendments, is that correct?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I think there is a conflict among legal opinions as to the bills in their present form, that is correct. I think that if you had them as a separate subsection—in other words, one bill would amend Article 1, the other bill, the present bill, should have a new subsection known as section 1-c, and if you will look at article 9 as it is presently written there is a section 1 and section 1-b, so that all you need is a section 1-c covering this present amendment.

Mr. McCORMACK. And you are willing to submit that amendment?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. As I say, I am not in favor of it but I will be glad to assist in having it drawn up.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Since you are the one who originally raised the question as to the conflict between the resolution 409 and this, would you agree with the suggestion made by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, that a new section be added to this bill by amendment?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry, I was in conference, I was talking to the acting speaker along with a couple of other people up front and I did not hear the statement of the gentleman from Delaware. I will abide by the gentleman's decision though. He is a lawyer and I am not and if he states that that is correct I will accept his decision.

Mr. McCORMACK. He says that he would add a subsection to this resolution that would take care of House resolution 409, although he is not in agreement with the resolution. If that amendment is submitted, would you join with him in sponsoring it?

Mr. HELM. The gentleman states that is not what he said.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentleman state his position?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, what I said was that the present bill should be redrawn so that it creates a new section known as section 1-c, which would provide for this graduated income tax. I am very strongly opposed to it. I am opposed to the referendum. I do not care to sponsor it. The gentleman is the sponsor of the bill and I think if we point out to him how it can be corrected, he should be the one to do it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Are you saying that we should not amend this present resolution but we should submit a new resolution?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I said that we should amend the present resolution to provide that it create a new section known as Section 1-C, and that 409 which has already passed should be corrected in the Senate, as it probably will be, to take care of the forest reserve deficiency, and that that should roll on its own.

The resolution would not be changed in wording, only in respect to the resolution 409; 409 would be separate. This would be a separate new section.

Mr. McCORMACK. 409 would not be included in this then, is that correct?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Then you have no objection to passing this in its present form.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. No, I said that we should create a new subsection so that we will not be amending in two separate resolutions an identical section of the Constitution.

Mr. McCORMACK. Can we not create a new subsection without regard to this present resolution on the calendar?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. We can if we amend this resolution, yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. We do not have to amend this resolution to later introduce a resolution adding a new subsection, do we?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I say we do, and the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, frankly admitted there is a very serious conflict of opinion and he is actually not sure how it can be worked out, if both should be voted on or if one should fail. I say there is a clear way to do it, as I have suggested.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I might say that the Attorney General's office concurs in this view that this is the way you could do it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I think we should sweep away the dust now and get back to the fundamental thinking on this particular resolution, which is, shall we submit this question to the voters?

As I have previously stated this Legislature will, at another Session, decide how and when to submit what should be two separate questions, which should be voted upon separately. I will oppose any attempt to confuse and destroy 409, or this particular resolution. These questions should be submitted to the public for a separate vote, one not interfering with the other. I would oppose the motion to place it upon the table, or whichever motion was made, and I think we ought to get on with that question, which is to decide the fundamental question, shall we permit a graduated income tax or shall we not permit the voters to decide whether they want such a tax. That is the fundamental question involved here. As to the timing and the schedule, we have two years' time to decide that.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, the Acting Majority Leader, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I have listened very carefully to the words of Mr. Goldstein, the gentleman from Allegheny, and I am concerned with the problem which he has raised. Does the gentleman from Cambria have any answer to it, or does anyone on his side of the House have an answer to it?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I am not concerned with the problem being raised because I am quite certain that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania would decide the intent of this Constitutional Amendment to be that you do not have two taxes at one time. I think that is clear enough in this particular bill. I think there would be no question but that the Supreme Court would decide the legislative intent that you would have one and not the other.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that he believes that on line 19 on page 2, the use of the word "enacted" would not be a lot clearer if it said "enacted, levied or collected."

Mr. LOPRESTI. It is possible that you may clear it up, sure, but I do not think it is necessary, I do not think that the court would rule that you cannot do something today but you can do it tomorrow. I do not think our Supreme Court would be that foolish to rule contrary to the intent of this Legislature. I do not think there is any question about the intent of the Legislature in this particular amendment.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say then that rather than hold this up for a day or two or maybe even a week, to be absolutely sure that the question that goes before the voters is whether they want an income tax or a sales tax, he would rather have us vote today on what he admits might be a subject of interpretation by the courts?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I am not admitting that this resolution is incorrect. It is my firm belief that it will stand the test in the court.

Any legislation which we pass is subject to court interpretation. Any bill that we pass can be interpreted. I am personally satisfied with the language in the bill.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to make a statement in connection with the remarks made by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, to the effect that we have two years to get this ironed out.

Under the Constitutional provisions for amendments, if we make any changes whatever, even one word in this amendment between this Session and the 1961 Session, we would not then be passing the same resolution, and would have to run this over until the '63 Session before you could get out the vote to the people. Even to the extent of adding it as a subsection, you change the substance and the procedure of this resolution, which would make it necessary to delay it for another two years. Would it not be better to delay it for two days rather than two years in order to get this matter in its proper form?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman has misinterpreted my remarks.

I am not suggesting a change to be made in the next two years with either of the resolutions. I am suggesting, however, that if they cannot be both submitted as separate questions on the ballot in that particular year, that the Legislature wait until the following election, perhaps, and then submit the second question. The choice would be made as to which resolution is to be submitted at each election. If we decide after two Sessions that this is the one we want to submit, and we cannot submit them both, then we will submit this one, and then the following two years submit the other one. Or if they submit the other way, then we will submit them separately, but it is my firm conviction that they should be voted upon as separate amendments to the Constitution.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, if we vote upon the matter the way the gentleman from Cambria suggests, then are we not putting ourselves in a position if we vote both of these in 1959 and both of these in 1961. We have no power to say which one is going to go on the ballot in 1961 and which one you are going to hold up until 1963, and if at the next Session you hold either one of these amendments up then you have a broken record whereby you must have two more successive Sessions of the Legislature approve these amendments. Then you are defeating your purpose all the way through on either one of the amendments.

Mr. LOPRESTI. That, of course, is another case. Perhaps I do not make myself clear. These two same questions will be submitted to the next Legislature. By that time we will certainly know whether we can submit them both at the following election and at that time we can decide whether we can pass one or the other or both of these amendments. That is the time we can decide that. If we decide, then we can at that time reintroduce another resolution so that we will have a delay of two years only on one or the other.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I presume the gentlemen on the other side or the attorneys may be familiar, I hope, with Article 18 of our Pennsylvania Constitution providing for future amendments. There is no other Article or constitutional provision as to future amendments, and Section one of that particular Article specifically states that for any three months after we Members of the Legislature agree, that this matter shall be submitted to the voters in such manner, in any manner that we, as Members of the Legislature, agree upon and, therefore, there is no reason why we, as Members of the Legislature, cannot decide in what manner as the very Constitution itself says.

The same constitution in the same Section states when two or more amendments shall be submitted, they are to be voted upon separately. I cannot see any reason for any dilatory ways. We have had enough speeches on this matter for the last few weeks and I think they know where we stand and we know where we stand. The matter should be voted on today.

Mr. BOWMAN. This debate has unfortunately been prolonged perhaps over misunderstandings, misconceptions. My point and to me the most important two points (a) this House has the highest duty possible in passing legislation that is its best and most clear effort in providing what it intends to provide. That is the highest duty this House has. Second, and with respect to this particular issue, what is the public going to vote upon.

I must firmly disagree with the gentleman, Mr. Lopresti. We do not know, at least I do not know, what the public is going to vote upon if this bill passes. It is not a question now, since the amendment of yesterday, whether this is a constitutional amendment for a graduated income tax or not. It is more than that today but we do not know precisely how much more. The people are going to be asked, do you favor a graduated income tax only if there is no sales tax in effect at the time the Legislature passes it, or are the people going to be asked, do you favor a graduated income tax only so long as there is not a sales tax at any time. Which of those two issues is the public going to vote upon? That is what is facing us today and that is why the confusion.

Believe me, this bill in my opinion, is tremendously confused by this amendment and to further confuse the issue I will point out two other matters which I think cause us to consider this bill and perhaps delay it.

This bill says we cannot, and I will quote the amendment "may be enacted at the same time that a tax on the sale or use of personal property is being levied and collected." Does that mean that we will have to repeal the sales tax before we can enact this tax even though this tax would not go into effect for an extended period of time, perhaps the next biennium. It certainly reads that way to me.

Another point, what about sales taxes which have been levied but not collected. Are they to be excused the moment we enact an income tax. The bill so reads to me. Now if they are these problems, and I think they are serious problems, I certainly believe that this Legislature has a higher duty than politics to put this bill in proper form.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the suggestions made by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, I suggest, do not come in good grace.

After all, we must consider where these amendments came from. These are not Democratic amendments. They were submitted by the Republicans. I can assume that they were discussed by the policy makers of the party, they were discussed in caucus, they were submitted with the fervent hope and prayer and belief that the Democrats would oppose them, and here they are in a dilemma now. The Democrats agreed with them to carry out our philosophy, and now they are stuck with them. The purpose is to delay this and to delay it as long as possible so that it will never come up, and I submit therefore that the suggestions are not in good grace.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I regret that the gentleman from Philadelphia—

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano, rise?

Mr. CAPANO. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, are we debating the postponement, or are we debating the bill at the present time?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question before the House is to place House Bill 263, Printer's No. 1384, on the final passage postponed calendar. Therefore the question before the House is the motion.

Mr. CAPANO. And not the bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. And not the bill.

Mr. CAPANO. I would ask the Chair then to request that the debate be confined to the motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The remarks of the gentleman from Washington are well taken, and the Chair would advise all the Members that they should have confined their remarks to the motion, and not the bill.

Mr. BOWMAN. On chance of incurring the ire of the Chair, I merely want to say I very much regret that the gentleman from Philadelphia said my statements came with poor grace. That is not true. My statements are not inspired politically in any sense of the word.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the motion.

Mr. BOWMAN. I do feel, however, that my remarks as to the defects in the bill are definitely germane to the motion because whether a bill is properly drafted or not properly drafted is very important as to whether it should be or should not be postponed with respect to its action.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti. Just one more question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Armstrong desires to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, perhaps this is repetition, but I would like to again ask the gentleman: If House Bills 409 and 263 both passed the House and Senate this Session and next Session, and both appear on the ballot at the same time and are approved by the voters of this Commonwealth, which one of the amendments to the Constitution, becomes effective?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I have answered that question, I believe, several times before.

I am not positive at this particular moment whether they could be and should be submitted on the ballot of 1960, or whenever it is, but I have also said that if it is impossible that both of them be voted upon separately, then we should delay the passage of one of them two years from now until we can have the separate vote. That is my individual opinion.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Lopresti.

Mr. Speaker, my I interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I asked to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, because he is an admitted expert. It has been admitted on both sides of the aisle that, with his long experience in drafting legislation in the Legislative Reference Bureau, he is a qualified expert in all matters of drafting legislation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. What is the question?

Mr. HELM. I will get around to it in just a minute.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would again remind that the Chair has been very lenient. Remarks should be confined to the motion placed before the House by the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. I would like to bring the gentleman up to date by informing him of the question I asked of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti. I asked the gentleman from Cambria if these two bills, House Bill 409 and House Bill 263 both passed this Session of the General Assembly and the next Session of the General Assembly, and both appeared on the ballot at the same time and were approved by the voters of this Commonwealth, which one of the Constitutional amendments would be in effect. I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin the same question and have him give me his opinion.

Mr. BOWMAN. I am not an expert. I do not even know what the definition of an expert is, at least one I can say here.

That is a very difficult question. In my experience I have never been called upon to precisely face up to or research that question. There is a grave doubt, and the most I can say at this time, is that there would be a grave doubt in my mind, if that factual situation occurred, as to whether either of the amendments would be declared in effect by the vote of the people. There would be a very grave doubt in my mind.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman, and I think that brings out my point as to why we should delay action on this bill today.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, since the question was last asked, I have before me the proper Section of the Constitution.

The Constitution provides that the Legislature shall decide the manner and the time at which amendments should be submitted, and that is precisely what I have been saying here on this floor, that in the next Session of the Legislature we will decide the precise time and the manner in which they will be submitted. I agree with the gentleman from Dauphin that there is question as to their validity if they were both submitted on the ballot at the same time, but two years from now we can decide the time at which we want to submit each of the questions to the people.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. HELM and DAVIS, and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, until the amendment was put into this bill as of yesterday, I had planned to make quite an extended speech about the bill and about the philosophy of the party with respect to the graduated income tax. However, after listening to the debate today about this amendment we have inserted into the bill I am more convinced than ever that I am going to vote against this referendum.

I believe that Mr. Bowman, Mr. Goldstein and others have pointed out some glaring, perhaps unintentional, defects in this amendment which has been inserted into the bill, which certainly will cause the state of Pennsylvania to go into a complete tailspin if somebody at the polls has to vote on this amendment.

Another thing about the amendment that is in the bill today. As you sit here and think about it, should this pass, we will have successfully tied the hands of the sovereign so that there will be only one field of taxation available for the sovereign to run the government, which I believe is an unconscionable thing, and was not intended by the amenders of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from McKean yield momentarily? For what purposes does the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, rise?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would yield, I would like to request that this House pass the bill over temporarily and go to the next bill so that we can go to lunch, and then we will come back to it later.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Cambria requests that House Bill No. 263, Printer's No. 1384, be passed over. The Chair hears no objection. The bill will be passed over temporarily.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the Members on this side would like to know what your time schedule is for today.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, at this particular point I would like to call up another bill and then have a recess for lunch.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I say this about the request to pass the bill over the gentleman just made. Unfortunately, I have to leave the Capital today. I am scheduled to be at another place at six o'clock, and it is a five-hour drive. I did have some thoughts I wanted to put into the record with respect to this bill. I regret that you want to pass it over. Maybe you would just hear me out on the few things I have to say which I think should be in the record.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I think we will meet with the gentleman and decide that question between us.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I did not get the gentleman's reply.

Mr. LOPRESTI. We will meet with the gentleman in just a few minutes and decide what further action we will take, if any, on this particular bill today. Then, if we decide to take further action today, we will permit the gentleman—

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to address the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, requests unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, if we are going to resort to parliamentary maneuvers in order for the gentleman to make his statement anyway, I will not agree to the unanimous consent.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, on that question, I would like to advise the gentleman that I would like to speak on this subject, too. If he insists upon speaking on it, I intend to speak on it.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my request to speak on the bill and permit you to hold the bill over, and you can proceed with the business of the day.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The reason this is being done is that more than one person wants to speak on the bill. Mr. Johnson and various other people, who are going to a funeral, are leaving. We want to take up one bill, a special order of business, so we can break for lunch, and then they will be leaving for the funeral.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 263, Printer's No. 1384

was passed over temporarily at the request of Mr. LOPRESTI.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 169, on page 8 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 169, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29 1959 (Act No 32) entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors" providing for an operators' license period of two years and fixing fees relative thereto and permitting the Secretary of Revenue to divide motor vehicle operators into categories and to vary the issuance and expiration dates of operators' licenses in accordance therewith

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. O'DELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The Speaker pro tempore. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. O'Dell, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. O'DELL. I was one of the sponsors of this bill in its original form. Just for the record I would like to state that the bill has been so changed I am ashamed now that I am one of the original sponsors.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the bill before us raises the operators' license fees in the state of Pennsylvania from $1 to $3.

Then I believe it further provides that the Secretary of Revenue can stagger the license period so the licenses can be issued at various times in the year, and it provides the method of scattering the issuance of the licenses either by date of birth or alphabetical methods.

This, I believe is just a privilege extended to the Secretary, and I do not believe it directs him to do it either way, or directs him to do it at all. It is merely a permissive feature, in my understanding of it. The basic thing in the bill is the increase in the drivers' license fee from $1 to $3.

I think much of the argument of yesterday with reference to the gasoline tax is the same reasoning for this particular bill—to allow greater funds for highway and bridge improvements, principally on the 100 percent state roads. That is the principal purpose of the bill, and I do not believe it is necessary to have any long debate to understand the bill which we are voting upon.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, I too, am one of the cosponsors of this bill, and as I look at the bill I do not recognize it as the bill which I originally sponsored. The bill in its original form gave a licensing period of three years for a fee of $1 a year. The present bill is for one year at $3. Therefore, I wish the record to show that I am now withdrawing my sponsorship of the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

YEAS—81

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we would like to take a break for lunch and then come back here and finish up our calendar. I would like to ask the Acting Minority Floor Leader as to their possible schedule for a caucus on clearing the third reading calendar bills on which we have caucused.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am waiting until I see the marked calendar before I answer that question. It is on its way down here.

May I in the meantime inquire as to how long we intend to operate today?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that would depend upon how long you want to take for a caucus. We would like to have just a period for lunch. We want to break for lunch and have no plans for a caucus. We would like to move those bills on the third reading calendars on which we have caucused this week and last week, and get out of here no later than 5:00 p.m. Daylight Saving Time.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, is it the intention this afternoon to operate on controversial legislation?

Mr. McCANN. It certainly is.

Mr. GELFAND. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Unless you consider 263 noncontroversial.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, so far as I am concerned, every piece of legislation deserves full consideration and may be controversial. However, I am only trying to determine whether it pays to stay here the rest of the afternoon or not.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe each Member on both sides of the House should be here unless he is on a leave of absence or has a bona fide excuse, such as the funeral.

Mr. GELFAND. Such is my belief also, and I would like to affirm what the Majority Leader says. However, on previous occasions I noticed that some Members were absent although we did not have a consent calendar.

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman because, Mr. Speaker, up to the present day there has never been an agreed day for a consent calendar in this Session, although there have been some days when non-controversial bills were acted upon.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, and also the gentlemen throughout the entire House, that there will be no formal consent calendars. We will either have a quorum, or we will not operate.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, on the question of having a consent calendar, or not, we have no objection, but it seems to me just as a matter of personal observation that there are a great many Members of this House who have long distances to go. We should either be here on a four-day basis, or on a three-day basis and get out of here at a reasonable time on the third day so the Members can get home. When you have to stay here until 5:00 o'clock, it seems that a great many Members have to do a lot of their driving at night time. I think it is unnecessary. I think we should either stay here for a fourth day or get done at an earlier hour on the third day.

Mr. McCANN. I would like to reply to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott. I believe we have had some conferences in the past, not too long ago, in which it was agreed that we would work longer hours and stay on a three-day schedule in an effort to get as many of the bills as possible agreed to and voted upon. I am trying to follow that pattern. If 5:00 o'clock is too late, then I misunderstood the conference.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman?

The SPEAKER. The Chair might observe that we are likely to have plenty of time.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman originally to state that we were to come in at 12:00 o'clock and work until 5:00 o'clock. That that was his view. I further understood that when we were going to start at 10:00 o'clock then we would get through sooner than 5:00. Is that not correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. Why has the request come up for the consideration of a short caucus?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is it the Majority Leader's intention, then, to work until 5:00 o'clock even though we start at 10:00 o'clock on all the third days?

Mr. McCANN. Well, that would be very easy to answer. I have had a continuous series of objections on Senate Bills being on the calendar for now the fourth week, and our not having acted upon them. I think the record should show that we have not held these bill up in any way.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I am merely referring to the personal convenience of the Members. It seems to me we should give some consideration to that fact.

Mr. McCANN. I would like to say, Mr. Speaker, that we are trying to take into consideration the convenience of the Members. If that is the wish, then, we will just break for lunch, and evidently the Senate bills cannot be acted on—bills that you people have been worrying about, and that the Senate Republican leadership has asked about time and time again—because they have not been caucused on. My calendar is marked very clearly that at this point you have not caucused on Senate bills on the calendar.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, perhaps I can clarify this a little bit.

It seems as though we have House bills enough to work on, up to and including a portion of page 18. We have not caucused on the House bills on the balance of pages 18, 19 and 20. On pages 21 and 22 they are all Senate bills, and immediately after recess for lunch we will have a Republican caucus, to caucus on Senate bills only on pages 21 and 22.

Mr. McCANN. Would the gentleman inform the House how long he would desire for the caucus? We would like to ask just for 45 minutes for lunch, that is all.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The two pages should not take more than half an hour or 45 minutes.

Mr. McCANN. How long, 30 or 45 minutes?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Make it 45 minutes.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now recess for a period of one hour and 30 minutes.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will declare a recess, but the Chair wants to observe that the various efforts on the part of the Chair to expedite proceedings of the House have been decidedly unpopular with Members.

We have wasted a great deal of time at various times, unnecessarily. I would remind the Acting Minority Leader that a great many times important bills would have been considered, but as the Minority Leader knows, the bills were not considered because the Republican caucus had not acted upon them. It has been very, very hard to expedite the proceedings of the House when the entire calendar has not been considered by both party caucuses. It simply cannot be done.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am well aware of what you have stated. We have tried to make suggestions as to how we can expedite the work of the House, but we can not seem to get together to accomplish that purpose.

We have 10 pages of calendar here that can be acted upon, which in my opinion would take up until 5:00 o'clock this afternoon. We are fully aware, and the Majority Leader is fully aware, of the bills we have not caucused on. Why we should have to wrangle every time we want to caucus on these matters, I do not know.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there is no objection from our point of view about the caucus. Whatever they request, such time is granted.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cameron well knows that when the Floor Leaders on either side request time for an off-the-floor caucus, from time immemorial that has been granted. If either caucus has not caucused on all the bills, that is the fault of the leadership in the respective caucuses.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair declares a recess for one hour and a half.

The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

Mr. McCANN IN THE CHAIR

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 37.

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1931 (P. L. 1206) entitled "The First Class Township Code" authorizing temporary investment of township funds.

SENATE BILL No. 170.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled "The Second Class Township Code" providing that the zoning board of adjustment must give their decision within forty-five days.

SENATE BILL No. 171.

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) entitled "The Borough Code" providing that the zoning board of adjustment must give their decision within forty-five days.

SENATE BILL No. 172.

An Act amending the act of June 24 1931 (P. L. 1206) entitled "The First Class Township Code" providing that the zoning board of adjustment must give their decision within forty-five days.

SENATE BILL No. 325.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled "The Second Class Township Code" authorizing the supervisors in certain cases to construct or contribute money for ponds or dams for the purpose of providing water for fire protection.

SENATE BILL No. 424.

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "Liquor Code" further regulating the issuance and transfer of liquor licenses.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Amended Senate Bills non-concurred in by Senate No. 387.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we spent about an hour to an hour and a half before recess discussing House Bill No. 263 and House Bill No. 409, and all the various ramifications, at which time I made a motion to place the bill on the postponed calendar. That motion was voted down.

During the recess we sat down with the Attorney General's office and the Legislative Reference Bureau representative, and I believe we came to an understanding at least as to procedure and the form that the bill should be in. I am sure that we who represented this side of the House are agreed that the bill can be put in proper form, and that the proper procedure can be followed in enacting the legislation. We did not discuss nor take any part in the contents, nor did we pledge any Republican votes for the bill. In fact we did not even discuss that.

The point I want to make is that had you accepted our motion, which was made in good faith, because we only wanted to get the bill in proper form, I believe we could have avoided a considerable amount of the conflict which took place before recess.

We are agreed now, and the bill is not going to be acted upon today. By Monday I am sure the people who are working on the amendmeents will have them in proper form.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I know the gentleman from Armstrong appreciates that we are not obstructionists, but very nice people to get along with. That is all I have to say.

I request that the bill be passed over.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The bill is passed over by unanimous consent. The Chairs hears no objections.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Tomkins for Mr. STRAUSSER for the remainder of today's session.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has been informed that as of this hour the bills on final passage are not here in print, and would recommend to the Floor Leaders that they consider the bills on third reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1195, Printer's No. 1268

House Bill No. 1205, Printer's No. 1317

House Bill No. 1344, Printer's 1318 and

House Bill No. 1554, Printer's No. 1209

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1578, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29 1959 (Art No. 32) changing certain restrictions as to speed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will one of the sponsors of House Bill No. 1578 permit himself to be interrogated?

The gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENNISON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the gentleman as to whether or not this is a bill that increases the allowable speed in a school zone from 15 miles an hour to 25 miles per hour?

Mr. DENNISON. That is correct.

Mr. PETROSKY. May I further ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether this is regarded as a safety measure in the Highway Safety Program?

Mr. DENNISON. It is.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

I personally had not known the measure that is before us was a part and parcel of the Highway Safety package. It was my understanding, of course, that it was not. However, I cannot by any stretch of the imagination recognize how allowing an increase from 15 miles per hour of speed in a school zone to 25 miles per hour would constitute the proposal as being a safety measure.

I am thinking of an incident that transpired, in my memory some time ago, in driving in a southern state and in one of its principal cities. At the time I noted that the traffic slowed down considerably at the sign of the school zone. Being interested in safety and especially so where the school children are concerned, I stopped and asked one of the traffic patrolmen how they were able to accomplish this condition of slowing down, the automatic slowing down of the traffic to 15 miles per hour in their school zones.

The gentleman advised me and stated this: He said that the people continually kept traveling in the 15 mile per hour school zone at a rate of anywhere from 25 to 35 miles an hour, in other words gliding through. Then they sent in a special detail of traffic enforcement and they had charged for the violation of this school zone speed a great number of motorists for the violation of that zone mileage limit. Prior to the institution of such an enforcement they had had a tremendous number of accidents and a number of school children were killed by these people who were gliding through anywhere from 20 to 35 mile an hour. By the arrest of thousands upon thousands of motorists they accomplished a safety measure in a 15 mile school zone and he advised me that they did not have an accident there in an entire year of operation at 15 miles per hour.

Personally, I believe that this is a very bad piece of legislation. I certainly cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, appreciate where it would be safer in a school zone to travel at 25 miles per hour rather than 15, and I ask the Members on both sides of the House to vote down the proposal that is before us.

I ask for a slow roll call and only those that answer to their names be recorded.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak briefly against this bill.

I was surprised too to learn today that this is part of the Highway Safety Program. In order for this House to determine whether or not a law on our statute book should be changed, I think we first must analyze and look into the reasons why such a law is presently on our books.

The only reason that this part of the Vehicle Code at the present time, this restriction as to speed in school limits, is for the protection of school children. I do not think that anybody can demonstrate today that a measure that would increase the rate of speed in a school zone is for the protection of those people who we decided needed protection by the present law.

I think it is a bad piece of legislation, it is a step in the wrong direction, it is entirely contradictory to all of the other provisions of the Highway Safety Program. I ask that both sides of the House give it serious consideration before deciding whether or not we should change this salutary law.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House, if my memory serves me right this is not part of the Governor's Highway Safety Program.

This bill was recommended to me by different people, and it was understood that nobody goes 15 miles in the 15-mile zone at the present time. Why have everybody breaking the law when at a speed of 25 miles per hour it probably would be obeyed?

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not in any way attempt to break down safety. It is really a safety measure.

As the previous speaker said, nobody drives presently at 15 miles an hour. In order to clarify Mr. McCormack's thinking on this, this law was originally enacted in 1919. There has been considerable improvement made in automobiles and in highway safety since that time, and this bill is designed to give motorists a clearer idea of what is required of them. It is in conformity with the National Code and it has been proved in a number of states that it is a realistic speed limit, and one which does promote safety.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I was happy to hear the gentleman from Philadelphia say that this is not part of the Highway Safety Program. I would hate to have anyone think that it was.

I happen to live alongside of a schoolhouse. I have lived there for many, many years, and I can just visualize what it would be to a six-year-old who has just started to school to have some maniac come along. I can see the difference between hitting that child at 15, which would be bad enough, but 10 more miles an hour would certainly, in my opinion, destroy that child. I tell you people in this House this definitely is a backward step, it is bad legislation. I ask you to defeat this measure.

Mr. IRVIS. Mr. Speaker, the arguments of the proponents of this bill are most interesting. Mr. Dennison informed the House that this bill in its original form was enacted in 1919, and that we have since that time made definite improvements in automobiles.

I might point out to the proponents of this legislation that whereas we might have made definite improvements in automobiles, we have not made any measurable improvement in the judgment of those people who operate these motor vehicles. Quite to the contrary, if this type of legislation set at 15 miles per hour were wise legislation in 1919 when we had much fewer school children, and many less automobiles travelling on our highways, then certainly it is unwise for us to change it and grade it upwards in 1959.

I would say as a former teacher, that this type of legislation is exceedingly dangerous, and I am quite confident that the Members of this House who themselves have children, or who have observed the habits of children, the unpredictable habits of children, will vote against it. I ask all Members of this House to so do.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1651, Printer's No. 1176 was passed over at the request of the Speaker pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1675, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code," approved April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) authorizing the erection of "yield right-of-way" signs describing the duties of operators thereat prohibiting the designation of 4-way stop and other multi-way stop intersections and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1707, entitled:

An Act amending the "Pennsylvania Election Code" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) authorizing at the option of county committees the nomination of candidates for county city borough town and township offices by conventions of delegates primary meetings of delegates or caucuses.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Elections and Apportionment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will tell you why I made this motion. It is a commitment. The Committee was loathe to report the bill out. Incidentally, I very much favor the bill. But the Committee was loathe to report it. I finally made an agreement with the Chairman that if there were not at least 30 Members who were interested in the bill that I would move to recommit.

As I say, I am distressed that there are not 30 Members, I don't know if there are even three Members, but the Chair will pardon me if I take the liberty of remarking that I voted against the uniform primary. I have always been opposed to it. I regard it as an excrescence on the body of representative government, but I am not privileged to make a speech at this time. So I made the motion because it is a commitment.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, it was my understanding from the Speaker yesterday that I would be heard, but if that agreement is not to be kept, then I will say that I support the motion to recommit and these are my reasons which I ask to have spread in full in the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman's remarks in support of the motion to recommit will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill removes democracy away from the people. One of the greatest ways to have democracy live and have the people fully believe in it is to keep the decisions of all Primaries directly in control of the people and let the people "run the show." This is why I have always introduced joint resolutions for a National Primary for the nomination of President and Vice President of the United States, and I oppose House Bill No. 1707, now before this House. If the people "run the show" in our government, we need never fear that any other "ism" or political theory will ever control their thinking on principles of government for the reason that a government operated by the people will be for the people and the people will be satisfied. On the other hand, if the agents and servants of the people in our government tend not to have a full confidence in the competency of the people to make decisions in Primaries, for example, then the people will start to lose confidence in the operations of that government and the government will grow increasingly corrupt in favor of political bums and bosses, and if a sufficient number of the people ever get fully disgusted with our government operations, the personnel of our government would definitely be changed, and if that did not bring what the people want, the form of our government might even be in danger. Now let's keep all our government in control of the people and vote down House Bill 1707.

Mr. STEWART. I oppose the motion because I do believe that the Speaker has the right approach to political campaigns and the selection of candidates. I have already discussed this with him. I think it is a mistake. I think you are fooling the people in pretending that they select their candidates at primary elections. I believe that the approach is as the Speaker has set forth and I think there should be a liberalization of the laws to permit other parties to file in primaries.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, would I be granted the same courtesy to speak on the bill as the previous speakers?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The two previous speakers, the Chair rules did not speak on the bill; they spoke on the motion to recommit, either opposing it or supporting it.

The gentleman is in order when he speaks either to oppose or support the motion to recommit House Bill 1707, but not on the merits of the bill.

The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. BUCHANAN. I certainly am in favor of either defeating or recommitting this bill.

As you know, this bill will make it possible for a county committee to eliminate the primary election. In its place a county committee could institute a caucus or a convention—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair ruled that the gentleman can speak in support of the motion to recommit or oppose it. The Chair ruled that the gentleman must confine his remarks not to the merits of the bill but to the motion before the House.

The Chair rules that the gentleman is now discussing the merits of the bill and not the motion.

The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Asking the privilege to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCHANAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to inquire why he is so eager to flog a dead horse?

Mr. BUCHANAN. This answer may be rather lengthy. I certainly want to establish on the record that I am definitely opposed to this bill. In 1903—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair rules that the gentleman is in order to discuss the motion and not the merits of the bill. The Chair will read the rule:

"The motion to commit or recommit is open only as to the reasons for or against reference to a committee and shall not include a discussion of the merits of the same question."

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, I believe I am being interrogated. I am not speaking on the bill. I was asked a question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair rules that the gentleman is in order to speak for or against the motion to recommit. The Chair has ruled that discussion of the merits of the bill is not in order, in compliance with House Rules.

The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would I be privileged to further interrogate the gentleman?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, requests permission to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Buchanan. Will he permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCHANAN. I shall, if I can answer the questions.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will the gentleman assist me in securing 30 Members who will petition the Chairman of the Elections Committee to re-report the bill, and then we will have nothing to fight about except a shadow?

Mr. BUCHANAN. I am afraid that I cannot cooperate with that request because that would be against my principles. I am opposed to the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. The Speaker agrees with the gentleman; he understands his obligation.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, I request the recommitment of this bill so as to prevent the primary election being eliminated in Cambria County.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, at this point I feel like Mr. McCormack usually feels. I was up about half a dozen times and everybody else was recognized but me. I would like at this time to make the point I wanted to make before the motion was carried, if the Chair will permit.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Acting Speaker apologizes to the gentleman from Philadelphia for not seeing the gentleman rise. I think the gentleman would have the consent of the house if he wishes to state his point.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I want to bring to the attention of the Speaker of the House a lesson in practical politics. I know I was not one of those whom he asked about this bill. I want to bring to his attention that if he is interested in legislation it might be wise to ask each and every Member of the House. I resent the fact that I was not asked by him whether I could be for this bill. I know of another gentleman in the House that you should have asked—we have a birthday boy from Montour County, Mr. Kessler, who very well may have agreed with the Speaker on this issue.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1729, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 29, 1953 (P. L. 1440), entitled "An act providing for the construction and equipping of the Pennsylvania Institution for Defective Delinquents providing for the acquisition of land providing for the reception confinement treatment care maintenance and control of inmates imposing duties and conferring powers on the Department of Justice Department of Property and Supplies and the General State Authority" designating the State Correctional Institution at Dallas for the Pennsylvania Institution for Defective Delinquents.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1733, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicle and tractors" redefining Motorcycle limiting the use of the transcript and the record of a suspension hearing exempting certain vehicles from lighting requirements providing for the designation of inspection stations for trucks and truck tractors permitting the private vehicle of the chief and assistant chief of police to be equipped with a siren extending the time during which a red light must be placed at the end of a load prohibiting parking in certain additional places requiring operators to obey the directions of signs extending the time during which the secretary shall suspend certain operators' privileges and prescribing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BOWMAN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, line of Title, by striking out "(Act No. 32)" and inserting "(P. L. 58)."

Amend Title, page 1, 5th and 6th lines of Title, by striking out "limiting" in line 5, and all of line 6.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out "subsection (h) section 618."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 6, by striking out "(Act No. 32)" and inserting "(P. L. 58)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 618), page 3, lines 18 to 20, page 4, lines 1 to 15, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Bill, page 7, line 14, by striking out all of said line.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, outside of a few correctional amendments which are included in that set of amendments, the amendments which I am offering eliminate the provisions of the bill which state that the transcript of hearing testimony taken before the Secretary incident to a suspension or revocation of a license shall be privileged and shall not be used for any other purpose.

My amendment is to delete that new section in the code which in effect is keeping the present law as it now exists. Under existing law transcript of the testimony developed at a hearing for any proper purpose in the courts on appeal, or for any other legitimate purpose. This amendment attempts to make that privileged. I will try to be as brief as possible in respect to the background of this matter.

First I want to point out that the accident report which everyone is required to file if they have an accident involving property damage over $100 or personal injury, is and continues to be a privileged matter. In other words, the accident report file which is necessary for the obtaining of statistical material and other information continues to be privileged. However, under existing law, if you are called before the Secretary incident to a suspension or revocation, that matter is not privileged, and by this amendment I hope to continue it as non-privileged.

You will hear, I believe, that people come to these hearings without lawyers, which is fine, I have no objection to that at all. You will also hear that these people perhaps might say something at the hearing which might be held against them in court in the future. My answer to that is very simple. Anything said at a hearing should be subject to scrutiny at any time by anybody. How else are we going to get to the truth of the matter at a hearing before the Secretary unless that hearing matter is subject to scrutiny by some person for some purpose? I do not see any real purpose in making the material gathered in a hearing before the Secretary privileged. I see no logic to it, I see no sense to it. On the other hand to keep it non-privileged to me makes a lot of sense. Why? For this simple reason, if you are going to have privileged material go before the Secretary in what possible way is the Secretary going to have any assurance that the material developed there is true. If any people are called before a hearing and they know they have a privileged communication, they do not necessarily have to tell the truth because it is not subject to future scrutiny, and in this case I think that is what would happen.

I also believe that if a person tells the Secretary one thing at a hearing, and attempts to tell the court something else at a subsequent hearing on a civil or criminal matter, what he said before the Secretary is certainly pertinent and important to determine the truth of the matter.

I therefore think there is no basic reason for making this privileged and I request your support for this amendment.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to suggest one reason why the amendment should be opposed.

It has been my limited experience that even when a person called upon to testify before the Secretary is himself represented by an attorney there are situations, and I have had it in personal experience, when the individual and his attorney are refused permission in the hearing room at such time as testimony concerning the circumstances of the accident or the violation is being taken.

To me a fundamental concept in Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence is the right of one person to face the witnesses who say something in accusation or derogation of his particular rights. I suggest that when you permit a witness to testify against a person who presumably or possibly might lose his license, then you are violating that basic Anglo-Saxon privilege.

Now, to go one step further and to say that the record of this particular case, the transcript taken by the hearing examiner can become binding on the individual concerned, I think you go too far. These amendments should be defeated.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I likewise want to oppose these amendments.

To carry on where the gentlemen left off, the hearings held by the Department are many times held in sections. I mean by that one witness will appear one time, and then because of the absence of another witness the hearing will be postponed and somebody else will appear at another time. Sometimes one of the parties is there and at other times one party of the accident will be absent. In general demeanor the hearings are conducted rather informally. Questions are asked which in an ordinary court of law would not be permitted; leading questions and all sorts of things which go on at an informal hearing, and which would not be permitted in a court of law. I think it is wrong to allow these things to be used in a court, and then the witnesses to be confronted with, didn't you say this before the hearing examiner? Taken out of context it could mean a lot of things. The attorney can then argue that he said something different one time about something, and we get into a lot of hassels. I believe these amendments should be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

WELCOME TO MOROCCO REGIONAL INSPECTORS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a group of eight Regional Inspectors of the Ministry of Education of Morocco, who are present with their advisor, Mrs. Cecil S. Garey.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1820, entitled:

An Act amending the "Osteopathic Practice Law" approved March 19, 1909 (P. L. 46) changing standards and qualifications for hospitals in which interns may train.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, originally it was my intention to attempt to amend House Bill 1820 today but, there has been a mess of misinformation given out on this bill, and there has been an instance of what I consider improper, unethical lobbying.

I am not one to criticize anybody for lobbying for a measure they are interested in, but I do believe there is a limit, and in this case the limit has been already exceeded. I understand there are several Members who, in my opinion, are under misapprehension and desire to further amend this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Professional Licensure.

The motion was agreed to.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, for just a brief moment I would like to acknowledge today the birthday of one of our most beautiful and gracious ladies. I want to call to the attention of the Members of the House the birthday of Mrs. Marian Munley, who is today further beautified by a beautiful orchid.

The Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday" led by Mr. Dengler.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, once in a while it is a happy occasion when you stand up here and talk. Perhaps you have all been wondering what that lone light in the darkness is in the rear of the room. That happens to be a nice birthday cake that the friends and neighbors of the gentleman from Montour placed upon his desk today because it is the birthday of Mr. Kessler.

The Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday" led by Mr. Dengler.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the lady from Lackawanna, Mrs. Munley.

Mrs. MUNLEY. Mr. Speaker, being Irish I am sentimental, and something like this really chokes me up. I would like to thank the Members of the House and also our Chief Clerk and his staff for their kindness in remembering me on my birthday. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montour, Mr. Kessler.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. Chairman, it is with a sense of deep humility that I stand before you because when I first came here, I was a stranger and you welcomed me. When I needed aid and help you did everything you could regardless of party affiliation to guide me. Therefore I sincerely and truly say with all my heart, that I think you are the nicest people I have ever known. I thank you.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Senate Bill No. 935 on page 12 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 935, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 21, 1943 (P. L. 571) entitled as amended "The Fourth to Eighth Class County Assessments law" specifying when tax levies shall first be based on assessments from valuations made with use of the permanent system of records.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1959.

No. 82.

SENATE

THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1959

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following was offered by the gentleman from Centre, Mr. HAYS:

I would like to use a prayer that I discovered some months ago.

Let us pray.

Our Father, help us to act on the bit of truth we know. If we say we believe in brotherhood, give us the determination to make full and creative life possible for all people. If we say we believe in love, give us courage to take the risks involved in loving intelligently. If we say we believe in prayer, give us the willingness to face ourselves fearlessly, to think courageously about the problems confronting us, to work for the achievement of a radiant life. If we say we believe we have responsibility to share life, give us a sense of our need to re-consecrate ourselves for their sakes. May we fail none—not those witnesses who have gone before, nor ourselves, nor the youth who follow on. Forgive us our failures, send us forth with resoluteness, that the power which is as available to us as it was to Jesus, and which he used, may be ours. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PROPERT and Mr. TAYLOR, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be ease, awaiting a communication from the House of Representatives.

(The Senate was at ease.)

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE
BILL No. 1285

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1285 entitled:

An Act amending the "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act," approved March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228), changing the definition of purchase price to include within such definition the value of personal property taken as a trade-in or exchange.

BILL SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bill:

House Bill No. 1285, Printer's No. 1367.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, August 24, 1959, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:52 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, August 24, 1959, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, August 20, 1959

The House met at 11:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, as humble servants of Thine we invoke Thy Divine Blessing upon this special assembly. Endow them with Thy wisdom that the decisions which they reach may be in accord with Thy will and Thy way. Bestow upon them that sense of cooperation, so that the best interests of all people may be fostered and served. And furnish them with those natural talents and guide and direct them therein, in order that the work which they do may be done to Thy name's honor and glory: through Jesus Christ, Thy dear Son, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The Speaker. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Wednesday, August 19, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1285, Printer's No. 1367. We are here today to discuss and concur in the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate.

The original bill and a portion of the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate are amendments that at no time offer any resistance or ill feeling for placing a portion of those amendments in the bill. This particular tax bill was greatly the result of a bipartisan tax committee of this House in which tax measures must originate.

The amendments to the bill and the readjusted revenue yield of the bill from the amendments that we are to concur in this afternoon are amendments that some may disagree and some may agree with, but, the bill itself, with the amendments concurred in, becomes a package of—in this one particular piece of legislation—a major addition to our tax structure in the Commonwealth in which we, the Legislative Representatives, along with the Senate, owe responsibility to our people whom we are representing to provide the revenue to operate the Commonwealth.

It is difficult, at times, to vote on amendments, or it is difficult to vote on an original tax proposal, but this afternoon we are here to seek concurrence in the amendments placed in this bill by the Senate.

We have had many long and tedious days and hours in a series of conferences, of negotiations and meetings, not always meeting in mind, but basically agreeing that we owe this responsibility to act justly and wisely, to act on a bill by which concurrence will insure its passage to provide this yield of revenue for the General Fund.

There are so many things that are easy to exempt, and so many things that each of us would like to exempt, that it would be, of course, almost impossible to secure the yield of revenue that would produce the money needed to operate the Commonwealth and provide the services that the people themselves cannot provide and the state must provide.

I did not think that at any time some of the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate would meet with any objection. For example, the amendments of the charitable, religious and educational institutions, exempting certain features within the Sales and Use Tax, for we are no more than human, for the needs of our hospitals and our schools, in trying to provide money for them to operate, and at the same time trying to find a way to exempt them from certain Sales Tax payments which are most helpful in the operations of those institutions and schools.

Some of the basic things in most of these have been discussed very thoroughly, and one of the items that the record can indicate clearly is that following concurrence in the Senate amendments we will have before the House and the Senate a piece of legislation which deals with the procedural items now on the House calendar. This, in itself, becomes an important piece of legislation following the concurrence in the Senate amendments to House Bill 1285.

There are some amendments that were placed in the bill that some of the Members on my side of the House find reason to object to, but also to encompass the entire bill as a package and concurring in these amendments, it is many times an avenue by which you would like to help others, you know that it is impossible, and which you know must place tax burdens on various groups of people, segments of our populations, and in doing that very thing must take the overall picture of the bill in conjunction with the amendments and make your decision according to the wishes of the office to which you were elected to fulfill that responsibility. One of our basic, major responsibilities as Representatives in this Commonwealth in the General Assembly, is the obligation that we owe to operate the Commonwealth, to provide the revenue for that operation, to vote and enact tax measures to do that very thing so that those services may be provided that the state must provide and which are demanded of the Commonwealth by our people.

Mr. Speaker, I request every Member of this House to concur in the amendments placed in House Bill 1285 by the Senate and to enact its adoption today, so that the Governor of this Commonwealth may sign this proposal today. Each week that we have delayed has cost us tremendous amounts of revenue, and each week that we delay from this point is just that much more that we must face in the total problem of financing the needs of our people through the taxes that operate the Commonwealth, and operate the services that they demand.

I can only plead and request, I can only ask. I was interrogated prior to the passage of this bill, and I am sure all of the Members of this House know from the prior interrogation that upon our concurrence of these amendments today the Governor of our Commonwealth will sign this legislative tax proposal into law.

I hope we can agree on many other points at other times; that we can fulfill our obligations as we have attempted to do on occasions in the past, and certainly must do in the future. Each of us has had to give and take, and that is true of this bill as it originally was voted on in the House. We certainly must give and take in voting to concur in the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate.

We are at a crossroads in this Session, a crossroads of importance to complete a major portion of the tax structure. This, without a doubt, without a question of doubt, is a major piece of tax legislation which will be placed on the books in a few hours in this Commonwealth.

I think it is fair to say that I hope the problems we have tried to face in these amendments to this bill will be beneficial to our Commonwealth and our people, that in the end it will produce results in making this Commonwealth of ours a better place for that segment of industry, for our working people, and all of the people who so rightfully deserve our help in the support of our educational institutions and our hospitals and our homes.

Mr. Speaker, I hope every Member will vote to concur in the amendments to this bill.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, we should vote down this four percent sales tax concurrence and stop the growth of this ever increasing "soak the poor" program. The average man and woman are already paying too much tax. So I say to you, let's put the millions instead of the millionaires in control of this state government, and vote against this four percent sales tax concurrence today.

Mr. KOVOLENKO. Mr. Speaker, I am an unemployed steelworker. I represent, in my district, working people. Many of the working people are on frozen incomes. Four percent of their expenditures as compared with the increased exemptions granted since the bill left this House amounts to thievery.

The history of the adoption of these recent amendments amounts to black legislation on the part of the Republican party. Why should the Representatives on this side of the House forget the principle of protecting the people?

I am voting no unless the Senate amendments are removed.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. J. P. O'DONNELL filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 1285:

Although I voted for House Bill No. 1285, I did it because the Administration had to have the money in taxes.

I am against it in principle as it exempts "Big Business" and taxes the "Poor People."

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1285.

An Act amending the act of March 6 1956 (P L 1228) entitled as amended "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" defining or redefining certain words terms and phrases imposing tax on certain additional tangible personal property or services providing certain exemptions providing for uncollectible accounts adding provisions concerning refunds increasing the rate of tax imposition and changing the bracket schedule and basis to reflect certain tax increases.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to announce that the House will be in Session three days next week, three full, heavy working days. We will have the general appropriation bill on the calendar. Caucus at 2:30; there will be no notice go out in the mail.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there are some men waiting to catch that plane. May you catch it, and good luck to you.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, August 24, 1959 at 3:30 p.m., E.S.T.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:45 p.m., E.S.T.) the House adjourned.

Vol. 36.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, AUGUST 24, 1959.

No. 83.

SENATE

MONDAY, AUGUST 24, 1959

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. IRVIN F. WOODROW, Pastor of The Church of Christ, Somerset, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Almighty God, the Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, in this age when we hear so many voices telling us, "This is the right thing to do," help us turn unto Thee and inquire as to what Thou wouldst have us do.

Many have put their trust in men who have gone the way of all flesh, and they were unable to help those who trusted in them any longer. But Thou, O God, are able to help men throughout all ages, for Thou are from everlasting to everlasting.

We pray for the Members of this Senate and ask that Thou wilt invoke upon them Thy richest blessings, so that they may have all necessary wisdom to meet with all of the many problems coming before them.

Help them to better understand the people they represent, so that they may better know the needs of such people. In knowing of such needs, help them to stand for that which is right in Thy sight, for we ask it in Jesus' Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

He also presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., August 24, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

It is now my duty to recommend amendments to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law to the General Assembly.

In this connection I think an understanding of the need for legislative action can best be acquired by reviewing briefly the broad financial and historical aspect of the program.

During the national recession of 1958, the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund paid out $385 million to more than 900,000 Pennsylvania claimants. This was money well invested; undoubtedly it helped tide many over the severe hardships which afflict families when the wage earners are not working. It sustained our economy in every town and county of the State. There is no one who can rightfully say that this program is not tried and proven necessary to the well-being of us all.

The expenditures for the year 1958, however, greatly exceeded the income of $166 million and as a result, through a provision of the law enacted by the Assembly in 1955, the tax rate for all employers rose to 2.7 percent for the year 1959. During 1959 it is estimated income will be in the neighborhood of $220 million, with expenditures somewhat less than $250 million. At year-end 1959, the balance in the Fund will be about $100 million. Estimated income for 1960 under the present law will be about $230-240 million with expenditures in a somewhat lower range. It is clear, then, that the Fund is now almost on a pay-as-you-go basis, but this is not satisfactory. In years of relative prosperity we must put aside reserves for the lean years sure to come, when unemployment rates soar as a result of adverse national economic conditions.

Although the recent national recession was responsible for the heavy drain from the Fund in 1958, there has existed for long years an underlying need to establish a sounder relationship between Fund income and expenditures. In eight of the last ten years outgo has exceeded income. As a result, on November 1, 1948, the Fund held $630 million; by January 30, 1955, the reserve had dropped to $374 million, and after the 1958 recession, it sank further to $98 million by January 30, 1959. During the spring of this year it reached its low point of $43.2 million.

The situation called for emergency action. With exemplary speed this General Assembly passed legislation authorizing the Commonwealth to borrow up to $112 million of interest-free money from the federal government. This provides a safe margin assuring continued payment of benefits until we have an opportunity to act.

At about the same time, the State Senate passed a resolution calling upon the Governor to appoint a non-partisan committee of Pennsylvania citizens to study the situation, identify the problems, and suggest action for putting the program on a sound basis. How heartening it is to note that both Legislative Chambers, in dealing with unemployment compensation, have been completely free of partisanship. How right and how proper it is that partisanship be excluded from decisions regarding unemployment and its attendant hardships!

It was against this background that I called upon fifteen able and well-informed citizens of Pennsylvania to assist the Commonwealth in finding solutions to the numerous and complex problems associated with the unemployment compensation program. They were men chosen equally from Management, Labor, and the fields of public endeavor. Under the chairmanship of Dr. James Creese, President of Drexel Institute of Technology, they courageously and laboriously addressed themselves to the almost impossible task of compiling recommendations that would solve the problems at hand and, at the same time, satisfy all interested parties. They deserve the high praise and gratitude of our people for their hard work, and the results of their endeavors have been placed on the desk of each Member of the Assembly.

Before outlining specific recommendations, many of them based on the deliberations of this worthy Citizens Committee, I should like to make several statements which may serve to clarify our perspective:

1. During the last decade, Pennsylvania has had more areas of economic distress than any State in the Union, as you know. At least a dozen are classified by the national government as chronic. They have been in this condition since the 1940's and this Assembly knows what actions we are taking and what actions we are asking the federal government to take, to cure these long-standing ills. Until the happy day comes when we have substantially diminished or completely eliminated these conditions, we in Pennsylvania will be troubled with an above-average unemployment ratio which calls for an above-average unemployment compensation program with taxes to support this need.

2. Despite the hard and thorny truths of the above statements, Pennsylvania benefit costs have not been out of line with other large industrial states. During the ten years ended 1958, Pennsylvania paid out an average of 2.1 percent of taxable wages in benefits. Our neighboring State of New York also paid out 2.1 percent, and New Jersey 2.3 percent. There are states which paid benefits at a lower rate, but if you make a statistical adjustment to compensate for our higher unemployment rate you will find that the Pennsylvania benefits costs, financially, have not been excessive.

3. Pennsylvania's tax rates during the last ten years have not been as high as those of several industrial states. Indeed, for the ten years ended 1958, New York State collected taxes at the average rate of 2.0 percent, while we were collecting 1.4 percent. It is worthy to note that had we employed their tax rates we now would have in our Fund $500 million and no problem in this field. But this is wisdom after the event. Undoubtedly the inadequate tax measures of the late forties had much sincere support and it is more important to realize where we are than to review what might have been.

To return to the Committee's report, which has been carefully studied; I have given the viewpoints expressed therein much consideration. So impressed am I with the valuable information and beneficial viewpoints resulting from citizen participation in this program, that I plan to revive the State Advisory Council which is already provided for in our Unemployment Compensation Law, adding to it the legislative members of the Governor's Committee who served so well. We must have a continuous review of this great program, so that this office and the Legislature regularly may know the effects of the Law on our economy.

I accept all the unanimous recommendations of the Committee and recommend their adoption by the Legislature. These are:

1. To make every effort to rebuild the Fund to $300 million by the end of 1962.

2. To bar benefits to students when based on summer vacation work, or work performed as a part of the curriculum of a cooperative institute or college.

3. To reduce waiting weeks for maritime workers from three to one, bringing them in line with other covered workers.

4. To correct a long-time inequity in the Law, which has prevented payment of benefits for several days in the case of certain claimants at the end or beginning of the benefit year, and

5. To allow eligibility to persons self-employed in a sideline farm or business who become unemployed in their major employment occupation.

The prevailing view of the Committee calls for the restoration of experience rating, beginning January 1, 1960. I am submitting a proposal which accomplishes this objective by establishing a schedule of rates between 1.6 percent and 4.0 percent through 1962. This means that 40,000 to 45,000 employers whose employment turnover has been of low cost to the Fund will receive substantial rate reductions, beginning 1960, from the 2.7 percent uniform rate in effect this year. This schedule establishes a more direct relationship between an employer's tax rate and the cost of his turnover to the Fund. One of the reasons the Fund was depleted was that the maximum of 2.7 percent paid by many employers did not cover the cost of their labor turnover to the Fund. Therefore, Pennsylvania must, I regret to say, raise the maximum rate for such employers. Employer contributions, generally, must correspond to their cost experience to the Fund.

One of the desirable features of this plan is that it provides an additional incentive to employers to stabilize their employment and thus earn a lower tax rate. I think it is a just insurance principle that lower costs reflect themselves in lower rates.

I am happy to say that new industries coming into Pennsylvania which show a good experience with the Fund will be eligible for reduced rates after eighteen months.

It is estimated that this proposed plan will raise $280 to $290 million per full year, as compared to $230 to $240 million on the uniform 2.7 percent. The additional revenue is raised primarily by the introduction of a Fund rebuilding factor averaging 0.7 percent to produce $60 million. This will be dropped when the Fund exceeds $300 million. The Governor's Committee recommended that the target date for reaching the $300 million Fund level should be December 31, 1962, and it is to be anticipated that barring unforeseen dips in business, this goal can be met.

Attached to this message is an exhibit showing seventeen states which now have a maximum rate exceeding the 2.7 percent which has been traditional for Pennsylvania. The 1954 and the 1957-58 recessions have caused these states to raise their maximum rate and now it is Pennsylvania's turn. In Delaware the maximum rate has been set at 4.5 percent on $3,600 for the next two years. This is equivalent to 5.1 percent on a $3,000 tax base such as we use in Pennsylvania. Illinois goes to a maximum of 4.0 percent in 1960, Michigan is now at 4.5 percent maximum and California's maximum is 3.0 percent on $3,600 or equivalent to 3.5 percent on $3,000.

The submitted experience rating program is sound, and is a revision of the one currently in the law. There are other proposals, supported by employer groups, to amend the present formula and designed to overcome the glaring deficiencies which have developed. While I believe that the submitted proposal is superior, from the standpoint of actuarial soundness and equity, my position is that this is a decision for the Legislature. Any amendments which will restore experience rating in January 1960, and raise the necessary funds and treat employers equitably according to their experience with the Fund, will meet with my approval.

Now, as to benefits: As can be seen from the exhibit attached, many states have increased the weekly maximum benefit amount for claimants. In fact, more than 20 states now allow benefits above our $35 maximum. For example, New York has a maximum of $45 and California of $55; Illinois, from $32 to $50 for those with dependents, Maryland, from $35 to 43, and Connecticut from $45 to $67. The Committee members generally agreed that the level of weekly amounts should be such that the majority of claimants would receive approximately 50 percent of their full-time gross weekly wage, although disagreeing as to the manner and timing of reaching this objective. This recommendation follows the frequently expressed views of President Eisenhower and Secretary Mitchell on this point.

I regret that the financial condition of the Fund will not permit meeting this standard at this time. However, we must make a start in this direction and I therefore recommend that we move gradually toward this goal by raising the weekly benefit amount to $38 on January 1, 1960, $40 on July 1, 1960, and $42 on January 1, 1961.

I recommend that the present allowance of earnings from part-time or casual employment should be changed from the flat $6 per week to 30 percent of the weekly benefit amount, but not less than $6. This will encourage the seeking and taking of part-time employment by unemployed claimants, thus tending to relieve the Fund.

The Committee considered many proposals for corrective measures. After reading the Committee's report, I believe that women who quit work on account of pregnancy should be ineligible for benefits; those laid off because of pregnancy, but able and valuable for work, limited in eligibility to the first six months; pregnant women laid off due to lack of work should be eligible up to the eighth month.

I also ask that eligibility for those who leave employment for a compelling and necessitous cause should be continued, if the claimant is able and available for work. However, such eligibility should not be continued for wives or husbands who voluntarily leave employment to accompany their spouse to a different area unless such person is the sole or major support of the family.

A number of proposals have been and will be made to you, that persons who are unwillingly retired as pensioners, although they wish and need to continue in employment, should be denied or given reduced benefit payments. Most emphatically I oppose any universal application of this principle. The older worker should not be treated differently than a younger person who is involuntarily terminated. In too many areas we already see the doors of employment closed to older workers who are able to do a good and useful job and I feel that this Legislature does not want to discriminate against the worker with regard to his unemployment compensation rights, merely because he has reached a certain age. In this field, the only change I recommend is one which will generally exclude those receiving high-bracket pensions from collecting unemployment compensation unless based entirely on a new work record.

I recommend to the Legislature that it revise eligibility requirements for those earning less than $600 in their base year, in accordance with certain provisions described in an analysis also forwarded to the Legislature. Generally, this means that those whose attachment to the labor market is casual, temporary or seasonal may not be eligible for the benefits available to those firmly in the labor market.

Much has been said about limiting the eligibility of all claimants to one year, unless the second year is preceded by new employment. I am opposed to this. Pennsylvania is a state which has suffered from chronic as well as protracted unemployment. Such a measure would fall with crushing force on many of our depressed areas and I do not think the people of this state would wish to remove this help from their neighbors. Nor is this a problem for certain areas alone. In the last two years we have seen prosperous and bustling industries returning to high employment and production without taking back tens of thousands of workers, leaving them unemployed continuously since late 1957. These people are unemployed because of automation, plant renovation and improved industrial technologies. Unfortunately then, and many others like them, have been and will be unemployed through no fault of their own for long periods of time. We must not change provisions in the Pennsylvania Law, imbedded since 1938, in order to disqualify such people.

These, in general, are the proposals which I submit to the Assembly. They are not generous, nor are they harsh. They are not the kind of proposal which I would submit if the Fund stood at $600 million as it did in years past; but we must face realities. The Assembly and this Administration must accept facts as they are and these facts dictate the proposed measures. As we grapple with these problems and manfully do our duty, I feel sure that the people of this Commonwealth will say, "This is the Legislature acting in its best tradition."

House Bill No. 661, Printer's No. 1369; and
House Bill No. 662, Printer's No. 1370.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 11, 1947 (P. L. 565) entitled "World War II Veterans' Compensation Act" extending the time during which applications may be filed for veterans' compensation and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—50

Barr, Berger, Blass, Camiel, Chapman, Confair, DiSilvestro, Donolow, Ehrgood, Elliott, Flack, Fleming, Harney,	Hays, Kalman, Keller, Kessler, Koprivier, Jr., Kromer, Lane, Madigan, Mahady, Mallery, McCreesh, McGinnis, McMenamin,	Miller, Mullin, Murray, Pechan, Propert, Ripp, Rooney, Ruth, Sarraf, Scott, Seyler, Shafer,	Silvert, Stevenson, Stiefel, Taylor, Van Sant, Wade, Wagner, Walker, Watkins, Weiner, Whalley, Wolfe,
--	---	--	--

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 283, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" providing for special elections in case of tie votes in certain county-wide elections.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to make this observation on this piece of legislation, and I think careful consideration should be given to it. The purpose that is trying to be accomplished by this kind of legislation is a good one, and probably would help out in a situation where you did have a tie vote. However, I think there should be some consideration given to the amount of money it would cost to have a new election within thirty days after you ended up with a tie vote.

I am not so sure that the matter of opening a page of a book, drawing straws or tossing a coin is not equally as good and, I think, a little less wearing on the taxpayer. If the people in a community have seen fit, in a county-wide election, to give both of these people an equal number of votes, it must be that both of them are men of some regard. It means that the people in the community have indicated that regard by deciding on neither one of them. Therefore, I think that if either one of them were to be elected to the office, either by the toss of a coin or by the turning of a page or by drawing straws, very little would be lost because they have already indicated, by their vote, that they both stand in rather high esteem. I think to hold a new election would be rather expensive. I think it would be costly from the point of view, not only as to money, but as to the time involved. You would perhaps have a hiatus in this office for a period of time, especially if someone had died and someone was running for this particular office whom you are trying to elect to take his place.

In that regard, Mr. President, I would ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this legislation because of the expense involved.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am inclined to disagree somewhat with Senator Weiner on his attitude toward this bill for the reason that this bill is the result of a tie election for the very important and high office of Judge, in the county of Bradford. The issue was decided, after many appeals and so forth to the Court of Common Pleas and the Supreme Court, by the turning of a page of a book. It was felt, in discussion with Senator Madigan, that this was a rather casual way to decide such an important issue and that concerning the two candidates, who received an equal number of votes after the elimination of all those who could conceivably be objectionable, the people then should have the right to decide between the two candidates as to which one they preferred to give a majority of their votes. We feel that this would be a more proper way for a high office of that character to be disposed of, rather than by the trivial tossing of a coin or the turning of a page of a book, or how many fingers do I have up. After all, it is a long term office and one which is the highest office in any county in the Commonwealth.

Therefore, Mr. President, I believe this legislation should be favorably voted upon by all the Members of the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, having no desire to prolong this discussion for a lengthy period of time, I can see some merit in what Senator Berger just said and I do not deny it. However, I would like to point out that if you only have two candidates for office, one from each Party, and each one receives a tie number of votes,—of course, probably, the rules of probability would more or less indicate or rule this situation—there is no absolute guarantee that the second time around you are going to get anything like a deciding vote. You may find yourself again in the same position where you will have to toss the coin or you will have to turn the page of a book. I do not know whether the rules of probability would indicate that it might happen twice. However, it could conceivably happen and you have now spent the taxpayers' money twice. Election is costly and I think, also, wearing on the people who help conduct elections, not to mention, in passing, the politicians who take part in them.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, possibly this might give rise to the realization of the ambition of many voters, to vote twice for the same candidate.

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" increasing the minimum compensation payable to election officers in third to eighth class counties in certain cases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. Weiner. Mr. President, I have always taken the position here that I hate to act on behalf of counties without having heard from them. I have not heard from any of these counties. However, the problem which poses itself in my mind, as I go to vote on this measure, is, can the counties afford this increase that we are going to say to them they have to pay to people who now do these jobs in their different communities.

I admit the amount is very small, but the number of people who usually do this task is rather large compared to most other tasks in a county, because they deal with people who work on behalf of the elections. I am concerned that perhaps we are putting a burden on some of these communities which they cannot meet. I do not know the answer to that; I do not happen to live in those communities nor do I represent one in my District.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1034, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1046) entitled "State Tax Equalization Board Law" requiring the use of 1957 valuations in determining reimbursement fraction for the 1960-1961 school year.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, after the amendments have been read, I should like to be recognized to speak on these amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, last two lines of Title, by striking out "requiring the use of 1957 valuations in deter-" in next to last line of Title, and all of last line of Title, and inserting: "providing for additional payments to certain school districts"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 15), page 3, line 20, page 4, lines 1 to 14, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting: "For the school year 1959-1960, where a school district suffers a loss in total State subsidies under the aforementioned sections by virtue of increased market valuations as certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Tax Equalization Board, the Commonwealth shall pay, during the school year 1960-1961, seventy-five per centum (75%) of such loss computed by subtracting the amount to which the school district is entitled under the aforementioned section from the amount to which the school district would be entitled on the basis of the market valuations certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Tax Equalization Board in the year 1958. For the school year 1960-1961, where a school district suffers a loss in the total State subsidies under the aforementioned sections by virtue of increased market valuations, as certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Tax Equalization Board, the Commonwealth shall pay, during the school year 1961-1962, fifty per centum (50%) of such loss computed by subtracting the amount to which the school district is entitled under the aforementioned sections from the amount to which the school district would be entitled on the basis of the market valuations certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Tax Equalization Board in the year 1958; and for the school year 1961-1962, where a school district suffers a loss in total State subsidies under the aforementioned sections by virtue of increased market valuations as certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Tax Equalization Board, the Commonwealth shall pay, during the school year 1962-1963, twenty-five per centum (25%) of such loss computed by subtracting the amount to which the school district is entitled under the aforementioned sections from the amount to which the school district would be entitled on the basis of the market valuations certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Tax Equalization Board in the year 1958."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am objecting to the amendments as read and offered by the gentleman. I understand he wishes to speak on them, to which I have no objection.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, the Pennsylvania school subsidy is somewhat like the Einstein Theory of Relativity. More people talk about it than understand it.

Roughly, it provides for a maximum subsidy of $5,800 per class unit. Then the State looks into the taxable property as fixed by the Tax Equalization Board per unit, and the more property in the school district, the greater the deduction from the $5,800 per school unit. Speaking for Philadelphia, where I am more familiar with the situation, under the present formula, Philadelphia has taxable property, or had taxable property during 1957, in the sum of $712,719 per class unit, and because of that taxable property, there was charged against the $5,800 some $3,118 per classroom, to be raised locally and the State contributed some $2,682 per classroom unit.

Mr. President, the Tax Equalization Board, in its most recent study, stated that Philadelphia, as well as some 300 other school districts, does not have as much property per taxable unit, and they reduced the amount by some $600,000. Because of that, Philadelphia will get a somewhat greater subsidy. I believe it amounts to something like $1,200,000 for the year 1960, and possibly $2,000,000 for the year 1961. We, in Philadelphia, as well as Pittsburgh, have been carrying a heavy burden in State education. I recall when I first ran for the Senate, our annual budget was $53,000,000. At the present time, the Philadelphia budget is approximately $100,000,000, and we are badly in need of some twelve to thirteen million dollars in additional funds.

This bill, as introduced, would knock out that small increase which the Philadelphia School District would get from the State, as well as the small increase that some 300 other school districts would receive.

The purpose of these amendments, as I offered them, is to permit Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the other school districts to receive a slightly greater appropriation, and to make it easier for the districts which lose money from the State to apportion the loss, so that during the first year they would only lose twenty-five per cent; the second year, fifty per cent; the third year, seventy-five per cent; and during the fourth year, one hundred per cent.

I understand the Republican Caucus has refused to go along with what we consider a most reasonable amendment to this bill.

Here we are in the State of Pennsylvania, following a formula of ability to pay. We, as Democrats, do not object to that. I only want to call to the attention of this Senate that when it comes to other forms of taxation, we are always thrown back on the tax uniformity of the Constitution, and we are unable to pass legislation, as far as taxes are concerned, based on ability to pay. This is the one area, the one area of taxation where we base it on the equitable principle of ability to pay.

I say to the Members of this Senate that Philadelphia, with its budget of some $100,000,000 per annum, will only receive roughly twenty-eight per cent of its budget. Compare that with an average of fifty per cent of the budgets for all the school districts. Also compare it with some school districts which receive ninety-five per cent of their cost of education. Certainly, in all fairness, we must say that where our Tax Equalization Board has shown that the value of property for each unit has decreased, this is due to the fact that we have lost considerable taxable property in Philadelphia. Because of the Redevelopment Authority knocking down slums and because of the Mall, a great deal of taxable property was removed, and we no longer have this $712,000 per classroom unit. I think in all fairness, the Members of this Senate should vote in favor of these amendments because it is only just and fair to the districts which have been carrying the heavy load of public education in the State of Pennsylvania, and it is not going to penalize the other districts too quickly or too much in any one year.

I ask the Senate to vote "aye" on these amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this matter was discussed rather at length last week, at which time I stated the reasons for this bill. The adoption of these amendments, while they would do what Senator Silvert has just said they would do, would defeat the purpose of the bill.

Mr. President, in the report of the State Tax Equalization Board, there were some five or six counties, I believe, that would receive an over-all increase and many counties would receive reductions in the subsidy payments, causing considerable consternation throughout the State, particularly in those districts in which there are many which have been unable to balance their budgets for the ensuing school year, much less receive less money.

We have no desire to penalize anyone. There is one significant factor in that report, and that is that the market value of the real estate in Philadelphia was decreased and the assessed valuation was increased. We would like to have that explained, Mr. President. Meanwhile we are obtaining some information about that factor and a few others in the report, we believe that the subsidy payments should be stabilized and no district should receive less money than it had budgeted for in the coming year and for the succeeding year.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am asking my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments in order to preserve the original intent of this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the Majority Leader was correct. This matter was discussed at some length last week. However, I would like to point out to him that the reason the assessed valuation has gone up, even though there are less taxables, is because of the following:

Number one: Most large cities, which want to continue a healthy life, must go through redevelopment, of necessity, requires that certain properties be torn down and that the city, the State or the Federal Government acquire possession, in which event they are not taxable.

Take the area known as the Mall, in Philadelphia, near Independence Hall. That fronts right on Market Street, which is one of the big business areas in the city of Philadelphia, almost in the heart of the city. Those buildings have been torn down. Every one of them was fully tenanted and very few ever had any vacancies. This went on up three or four blocks to the north of this area, and about two or three blocks south of this area. These were huge buildings which not only paid large sums in real estate tax, but also paid large sums toward our sewers and water. Usually, if they were engaged in any kind of light manufacturing, they also paid for excess water. Therefore, these were funds that the city could look to. Also, the people who occupied those buildings paid a personal property tax. Many of them were people of some influence or affluence who owned stock, mortgages and had other kinds of business interests, which provided a certain amount of millage that the city obtained and which it used for its school system and other operations of the city.

I believe the law of supply and demand has never been repealed. I do not believe it has been repealed by this Body, as far as I recollect. When you have less land available to be built upon and less land available for people to occupy, you, of necessity, must have greater value on the buildings which are available. The more area which is being removed, the more valuable the area which remains becomes. That is the precise problem that faces not only Philadelphia, but Pittsburgh and any other city undergoing redevelopment or any kind of renewal type of activity.

As a result of that, we have less taxables, but we have a greater amount of value placed on those taxables which are now present in the city. Therefore, the higher the assessment rate, the less property to be taxed.

Mr. President, at this time, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, earlier in this Session, when we got into some of the education problems, I believe at that time I asked Senator Wagner whether there was a certain amount of inequitable return to certain areas. We discussed the formula or formulae which are used in obtaining the reimbursement. At that time,—if I am misquoting Senator Wagner, I am sure he will forgive me and correct me—he stated that there is a formula which we use, one which is fair and equitable. He stated that this formula has been operating for some time and that everybody receives their just desserts. I think he said it in that term and did not use the words “just desserts” as a means toward an end, as it were.

I would like to ask the gentleman, who is much more learned in these matters than I am, whether he feels that Senate Bill No. 1034, if put into operation, would now change the answer he gave me earlier. Or, would his answer be any different had Senate Bill No. 1034 been in operation when I asked him the original question.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, the question is a very logical, very proper and very understandable, under all the circumstances prevailing.

To go back a number of years, I have repeatedly stood on this floor and said that the formula, which I think Senator Silvert called something akin to the Einstein Theory, was nevertheless, a fair formula. When an odd, occasional or exceptional school district would introduce a bill, as has been done a number of times, to just arbitrarily give them x dollars more than the formula called for, I said that I would prefer to stand by the formula which had always been regarded as one of integrity.

I would like to say to the Minority Leader that I, for one, am not stating orally nor am I implying by my co-sponsorship of Senate Bill No. 1034 that that formula has been doctored, has been arbitrarily misused, or has been designed to do something for Philadelphia at the expense of the rest of the Commonwealth. I am not doing, Mr. President, any of those things. However, I would remind the gentleman that in previous years, since the inception of the State Equalization Board, there never has been a time, up until this moment, when everything seemed to go so completely awry.

It is difficult for the rest of the Commonwealth to comprehend, in spite of Senator Weiner's explanation of ten minutes ago, how the market value of real estate in Philadelphia could be reduced $500,000,000, while the assessed valuation was going up $50,000,000. I would suggest to the Senator that the idea is abroad, throughout the State, that somehow or other we are contriving to get Philadelphia, over the next three years, an additional $4,768.40, while nearly all of the other school districts in the Commonwealth are taking it on the chin. The reason that Senator Silvert's amendments are opposed is because he states that Philadelphia will get this additional money, to which it may or may not be entitled. I would not care to argue that point. However, we would only hit the other districts gradually. Senator Silvert said, “fifty per cent of the loss, and then seventy-five per cent of the loss and then 100 per cent of the loss in reimbursement.”

Mr. President,—if Senator Weiner will forgive me, this is not a very brief answer—I would say, personally, that I have enjoyed friendly relationship with the school people of Philadelphia. I have always been impressed by the way they apparently try to do a good school job. I would like to say that for the benefit of the record. However, at this time the school people from all over the Commonwealth are begging us, importuning us, to increase their subsidies and their reimbursements. Because of the decreasing value of the dollar, they cannot make their budgets balance. We are saying to them that there are not any dollars in sight to do that trick. Then on top of that, not only do we say that there is no additional money in sight to increase their subsidies, but we have to take from them what they have been accustomed to receiving. If it were fair, formula-wise, we are still put in the position—I do not believe Senator Weiner could explain it to the satisfaction of the people around the Commonwealth, if he went from school district to school district—where the impression is out that the rest of Pennsylvania has to pay the freight for these additional benefits to Philadelphia.

Personally, Mr. President, I know of no better way than the way which Senator Stevenson and I are using, in Senate Bill No. 1034, to assure these districts that we would like to keep them from going to pieces by, at least, maintaining the subsidies that they had heretofore. If that can be done, and Philadelphia still benefits from the new figures of the Tax Equalization Board, certainly I, personally, would not resist nor combat such an effort.

Mr. WEINER. I want to thank the gentleman. I would also like to point out to him that perhaps he and I do not travel in the same areas of Pennsylvania. However, the thought is abroad, and has been for some time, that Philadelphia has suffered as a result of other areas of the Commonwealth obtaining a share which is not only fair, but more than fair, at the expense of Philadelphia. Philadelphia is facing a deficit of $13,000,000 in this coming year, and I respectfully point out to the gentleman that the amount they would receive, at best, would be $2,100,000, I think it is, which they would receive under this new formula setup. It appears that Philadelphia is about to get only its fair share or, at least, a proportionate share. We are now changing the rules and the formula.

I would like to point out to Senator Wagner that the feeling has always been that if we were left alone, at our local level, and did not have to involve ourselves with the State, we could well take care of our own problems. There is enough money and taxable problems in our own area to take care of this situation. However, when you are saying to us, "Because you have now fallen below a certain level, it is unfair because you are going to get your fair share or, at least, a proportionate share. Because of this, we now are going to change the rules and we are going to change the formula and go back to when we liked the formula or when it was good to us."

I think no one can quarrel with the Tax Equalization Board. At least, we have not done so up until this present date. I have now been here for about seven years and we have never quarreled with it. I think we should attack this problem from another point of view, completely. I think we should try to find some solution for those districts that are hurt by this type of application of the formula. If the formula was bad in its inception, as it is bad today, we should have changed it then. However, having learned to live with it and having been with it for some time, I think we should not change the rules. I think what we are trying to do would be akin to the problem where you and I engage in sort of this mumbo-jumbo that we participate in here every Session. There is no other way to describe it. We are still reimbursing districts for doing away with the little red schoolhouses, when you and I know they have been done away with for some time. If we would withdraw this fund which is available for the replacement of the little red schoolhouses, which has been done many, many times, some of these school districts would be hard put to live under that type of an application or doctrine. Therefore, we overlook it every year and just go ahead and appropriate the money, just as though this problem still existed.

I think a fairer solution to this problem would be to leave the formula remain as it is. We have more or less learned to live with it or put up with it, as it were. I think we should address ourselves to the problem of how do we help these poorer school districts in another manner. If it means appropriating more money or if it means a form of taxation—and I do not know whether either one of these two things is indicated. However, if they are, I think they would be a more intelligent way than saying, "We are not going to play by those rules any more. We are going to pick up our marbles and, therefore, we are going to go back to the formula, as we like it or when it was good to us, and continue on that vein."

Mr. President, I have not asked whether the gentleman from Schuylkill would permit himself to be further interrogated, but I assume by the fact that he is still remaining at the microphone that he will.

My question to you, Senator Wagner, is supposing we come back here in the next biennium and we find that this formula is even more unfair than it is now,—and I am looking at it from your point of view and not mine—do we again change it or do we go back to the 1957, or the 1955 or do we go back to 1953? When do we stop retrogressing in order to get a fair solution to this problem?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the gentleman that I have not advocated scrapping the formula. I have not accused the Tax Equalization Board of anything at this point. I simply have recognized the fact that after living with this all the years to which Senator Weiner referred, this is the first time we are taking exception to it because this is the first time that everybody, except one or two people, got kicked in the teeth by virtue of it, even though it might be fair.

I do not have the figures with me, but I looked down the list of the market valuations some weeks ago, and found that in most instances when a school district's market value, under the present findings, was reduced, usually the local assessment had been reduced. This seemed to make sense. When another district's market valuations went up, their local assessments had gone up. Sometimes, they had gone up very little, but the trend was up both times or down both times in both ways. However, here we have this unusual situation where the market value goes terribly down and the local assessment goes substantially up.

As far as Senate Bill No. 1034 is concerned, it is not designed to repudiate the Tax Equalization Board nor is it designed to take a slap at Philadelphia. It is designed to show the rest of the Commonwealth which is also in distress, that with their dollar going a shorter distance than it did before, we are not going to reduce the number of dollars.

I will quite agree with the gentleman that it is not probably the most perfect piece of legislation which statesmanship could devise, but it will allay the fears and the alarms which exist all over Pennsylvania. I am perfectly willing to join with the gentleman, and I think the Republican leadership generally is willing, to devise some way whereby we will not be tempted to do this next Session and the Session following this one, no matter where it strikes in the Commonwealth. The chief purpose for this bill, and the reason for which Senator Stevenson and I urge its passage, is because it will send out new hope and new confidence throughout the Commonwealth. If we were to let the matter stand and depend on an adjustment later—I do not know how much money the Administration has, Mr. President. If it has enough money, that Philadelphia could be accommodated with this fat increase and the other districts of Pennsylvania not be put in the position where they seem to have it taken out of their school pockets, I believe we could get together on such legislation and pass it.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, it is not my desire to prolong this debate. However, I should like to offer for the record an editorial on this bill which appeared in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin on Wednesday, August 12, 1959. I do not intend to read it. I just want to read one or two lines.

The purpose of this bill—and I would like Senator Wagner to hear this—"is, collect all you can from the cities, but give them back as little as you can get away with.

"The legislation is simply a bill to rob Philadelphia and Pittsburgh."

I should like also to make this statement, and if I am wrong, I should like Senator Wagner to correct me. Philadelphia, with its tremendous school budget, has raised by local taxation, from the time I have been in the Senate, anywhere from seventy to seventy-five per cent of the cost of its education, while the county from which Mr. Wagner comes, Schuylkill County, if my recollection serves me correctly, has raised somewhere between five and ten per cent locally, and the rest has been contributed by the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, did I understand Senator Silvert to say that the editorial which he read was published in Philadelphia?

The PRESIDENT. In the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, as I understand it.

Mr. WAGNER. I would suggest to the Senator that the same kind of editorials, in reverse, are being printed in towns throughout most of the rest of the State.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator, was I wrong in my estimate that your county has, through the recent years, only raised somewhere between five and ten per cent through local effort for their school needs, while Philadelphia has raised somewhere between seventy and seventy-five per cent through local effort for their school needs?

Mr. WAGNER. Yes, Senator, you were wrong.

There being no objection, the editorial was ordered to be printed in the Journal as follows:

A BILL TO ROB

Pennsylvania's school subsidy formula is a bit like the Einstein theory of relativity, in that more people talk about it than understand it.

The easiest part of it to follow is that it has always been slated to favor the poorer districts, using real estate value as an import part of the yardstick.

Up until now this has been fine with the wide-open spaces in Pennsylvania, which have received millions more in State aid to education than they have paid through State taxes. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have had near-minimal help.

The Tax Equalization Board, which does the computing on real estate values for purposes of the subsidy, announced this year, however, that the big cities are in for an increase. It would amount to about $2.5 million here, and it comes at a time when funds are greatly needed.

Legislators from the thinly populated parts of the State apparently find this intolerable. Hence a bill is being advanced in the Senate to freeze real estates values for subsidy purposes at the 1957 level. This would keep most rural school districts from any cut in subsidy, and it would keep the cities from any increase in subsidy.

The bill is being pushed by Senator James S. Berger, Potter County Republican, who represents the empty Northern Tier and who also represents a familiar legislative state of mind. That is, collect all you can from the cities, but give them back as little as you can get away with.

The legislation is simply a bill to rob Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I see some political figuring going on here today. I happened to read The Evening News, and I saw where the Republicans had a meeting last evening in one of the hostels around town here and they, at that time, said they would not be in favor of the appropriation contained in the bill in the House, which is similar to the amendments which are being offered today by Senator Silvert.

For the benefit of those on the other side. I want to let them know that this bill, if it gets through here today, will never pass in the House of Representatives. Secondly, I asked either Senator Berger or Senator Wagner several weeks ago at the time this bill was on Second Reading, when the Tax Equalization Board made this report, if the shoe were on the other foot with respect to you gentlemen who represent the rural counties of the State,—and we will just take in toto the county of the gentleman who is Chairman of the Education Committee—and this bill helped that county and hurt Philadelphia, Allegheny, Lackawanna or Luzerne County, would this bill be on our Calendar today and I could not get an answer.

I tell you, Mr. President, I think that the people of the State know by this time that sixty percent of the taxes paid into the State come from Allegheny and Philadelphia Counties. At present, for every eight dollars that is handed out or given back by the State, only one of those dollars goes to Allegheny and Philadelphia Counties. These are plain, hard, cold facts.

In order to try and help these rural counties,—and there has been a little milking of the fund for years—under the subsidy plan as it exists over in the House, which I presume does the same thing as Senator Silvert's amendments would do, those who gained under this report would keep their gains, and those of you who lost by your unrealistic market values and assessments in your counties would only lose twenty-five per cent of that this year, twenty-five per cent next year, twenty-five and twenty-five. Of course, it could be that between those years you people would get yourselves in shape.

I remember when this bill was put in. It was introduced by a good and very capable Legislator, Senator Stevenson, and it was his dove. Now it looks like it may become a raven to him. I will say to you, Senator Stevenson, it was good legislation then, and I still think it is good legislation now.

This is going to be a great way of legislating. If you do not like the way the problem is put, when the figures are added and they do not come out to suit you, we will just change the formula. I have been telling Senator Wagner for years that the formula is unrealistic, and he has disagreed with me all through these years. He is the man who says that this is something sacred and cannot be changed. Lo and behold, Senator Wagner, you are very inconsistent. You are the man who is changing the whole thing with this bill today.

I also want to mention to my friend from Delaware County that this bill will hurt his county.

I hope that some of you on the other side will have the intestinal fortitude to support Senator Silvert's amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am little distressed by the statement of the Senator from Allegheny County to the effect that if this bill should pass the Senate and be sent to the House, it will never move in the House of Representatives. We are incorrigible optimists, Mr. President, and we feel that when a good bill passes the Senate of Pennsylvania and goes to the House of Representatives, it will receive proper consideration, and if it meets with the approval of a majority of the Members of the Committee on Education in the House, it will go promptly to the Calendar and be voted on in the House. If that occurs, Mr. Presidents, I would have every reason to believe that this legislation would receive a majority vote in the House, although I would not dare to predict with as much confidence as the Senator from Allegheny has done as to what would be the fate of the bill. I believe, however, that it would pass.

Mr. President, I want to remind the gentleman from Allegheny and Philadelphia—and, believe me, as I said last week, my consideration of their problems is entirely sympathetic—that the whole purpose and the fundamental reason for the passage of the present subsidy law was to provide equalization of education. Those districts which are better able to pay a greater cost of education in their own district are intended to do so under the fundamental purpose of the bill. Those who are not, are intended to and do receive a greater subsidy from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is just that simple.

As far as changing the formula, Mr. President, this bill does not do so. However, I say to you and to the Members of this Senate, in order to preserve the principle of equalization of education, if it become necessary to change the formula, I would support such a move.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, again, I wish that Senator Berger would be consistent. He mentioned that any good bill which passes the Senate would probably be acted upon immediately by the House. I would like to tell him there are a couple hundred good bills which have been acted upon by the House and are laying here in committee, and I think we should do the same.

Perhaps, I should have added one more word when I said that this bill would not pass the House. Yes, it may pass the House, but it will pass with the amendments which Senator Silvert is offering here today. You are either going to vote for these amendments here today or you are going to vote for them when the bill comes back from a Conference Committee.

Secondly, you talked about putting the taxes on those best and more able to pay. You made a Democratic speech. That is our theory. I want to let you know that the market values in the city of Philadelphia and in the city of Pittsburgh have gone down. Therefore, we are not in as good shape as we were.

The Philadelphia School Board is up here asking the Members of the General Assembly to help them because they need $14,000,000. This whole thing we are talking about here for the whole State is only $7,000,000. The School Board of the City of Pittsburgh is in here with three different propositions for us; to levy a one-half per cent wage tax, to increase the millage, or to enact both of these measures and remove the head tax, or do one or the other, because they are short $5,000,000.

If you are going to say, as you said just a few minutes ago, tax those most able to pay, think of us just for once

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I do not think Einstein developed his theory in a very short time, and I imagine it took the authors of this particular formula a long time to develop it in favor of certain parts of the State. However, I do know that figures do not lie. I also know that some people can figure to their own advantage. I think that this formula was made to militate against the interests of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other parts of the State where there are large centers of population.

The Philadelphia Board of Education is $14,000,000 in the red on this year's budget, and it does need money. Philadelphia had nothing to do with the creating of the values in Philadelphia. If you remember, the Philadelphia representative on that Board had not been on there for over two years. If you recall, he was recently reappointed to that Board. So, whatever happened with the Tax Equalization Board, happened through the operation of natural forces. I think that we should not turn back the clock on this formula at this time, as this bill attempts to do.

If the school districts need funds, let us have the courage to raise the funds and increase the amounts that are necessary, and levy the taxes to pay for them.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I just want to make a statement, as Chairman of the Education Committee, which I think should be on the record. It is in regard to several of the statements made by Senator Barr.

Senator Barr has consistently championed the cause of the Pittsburgh School District and, for that, I give him everlasting credit. I think it is proper and I think it is fitting. I would like to remind Senator Barr, and I want to repeat, that I am not advocating scraping the formula or discarding it. I am trying to do for the rural people of the State what Senator Barr successfully did for the city of Pittsburgh schools on two occasions. During a Republican Administration, there was an appropriation made over and above the formula to help Pittsburgh until they could increase their local taxes by a vote of the people. The people failed to vote the increase in taxes, and a second time we gave Pittsburgh additional money over and beyond the formula. When we did that—and I have no doubt that Pittsburgh used the money advantageously—we did not destroy the formula, nor do we propose to destroy it on this occasion.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I appreciate what Senator Wagner said. At one time when you gave us the subsidy, which just equalized us with Philadelphia for one year of the biennium, if I remember correctly, we did not fine anyone else. We took nothing away from anyone else. I want Mr. Wagner to be straight on that. We did not take anything away from anyone else. The school district in Class 1A received the same amount per teaching unit as the school districts in Class 1.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think that in this discussion it might be that we have some misimpression, and I would like to correct that if I possibly can do so.

Senator Berger was absolutely correct when he said they are not changing the formula. That is so. However, I think what they are doing is impeding the formula. In other words, they are saying that we have a formula and each year we put in the factors that make up this proportion. We do our addition, subtraction and division and come up with an answer. This year, we have done all this and we do not like the answer. Therefore, we are going to say that we will not use this formula this year and we will go back and use the formula we had two years ago, because we like those answers better. Therefore, we are going to use those answers.

When the formula is impeded in that manner, my question, which Senator Wagner intended to answer—I do not think he fully gave me a complete answer—is what will we do next year, or the year after that, when we find that the formula still is not giving the right answer because perhaps the factors going into the formula are a little more fair than were used in previous years. Do we still go back to 1957, 1955 or 1953? If that is going to be the case, why have the formula at all? In other words, let us get a formula which will come up with the right answer every year. If the answer is one which the majority happens to like, that is fine, and that is the formula for that year. If the answer is one which is not liked, we go back to a formula which is liked.

This is a matter which changes from time to time. No one knows who will be the Majority Party sitting in this Chamber at the next Session or the Session after that. I think we are setting a bad precedent by doing this. I think it is unfair. While we discuss this matter here, perhaps in a light vein and perhaps our discussion has some value here as a matter of keeping people amused nevertheless, we are still dealing with the children of our school system who are the very basic assets of this State, our people. We all have an interest in the young people of our State, and they should come ahead of any other interest that faces this Body. We just cannot toy with that or fool with those figures or the results, because the results will be disastrous if we continue going the way that we are going now.

Philadelphia would only be getting an additional $2,000,000 as a result of the operation of this formula. I would like to point out to Senator Wagner, if I was not very clear in the beginning, why our market values are down and our assessment rates are high. I would like to point out to the Senator an area which is right opposite City Hall in Philadelphia which, at one time, was covered by a bridge owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad. That bridge has been removed and there are three or four buildings in that area now, known as the Penn Center. Although the buildings do not cover as much area as the railroad bridge and the market value of that railroad site was very great, today the assessment of that area is perhaps ten or twenty times what it was originally when there was just a bridge for the Pennsylvania Railroad to cross, as compared to the present when there may be six or seven thousand tenants occupying those buildings. Also, the investment in erecting those buildings raised the assessable amount that is available to be assessed by the city.

If that is the entire situation, I think the gentleman should at least observe this thing by the eye and look at the record and find out why this situation exists, or what makes it so. It is not anyone toying or fooling with these proportions, because the factors that go into them are of such a nature that it requires really constructive thinking to try to obtain it. It is the same reason that they use the figure of $5,800 as the denominator. Why they use $5,800 rather than $6,000 or $10,000, no one can clearly tell except it is some arbitrary figure arrived at by someone and which is thought to be equitable. It has not operated that way, as we can see here today, because we would not have this legislation before us if it were equitable.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I promise that I will say this and then I will sit down.

I just want to serve notice on the gentlemen in the majority here in the Senate to beware that you do not kill the goose that lays the golden egg. Philadelphia will benefit far more than Pittsburgh under the report of the State Tax Equalization Board. I happen to know the condition of the Philadelphia School Board. I have taken the trouble to check into it.

I will end by saying that if this report of the State Tax Equalization Board had just been the opposite, and if it would have helped the rural counties and would have hindered Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, this bill would not be on our Calendar today. I have always heard Senator Wagner, Senator Berger, and Senator Mahany before them, say that the rules should not be changed in the middle of the game. If ever there was an attempt to change the rules, it is being done by this bill we are debating here today on Third Reading.

Remember what I said. Beware; you may think you know what you are doing. However, if you give this further study, you will come back next week or two weeks later and say, "I agree with you," and you will vote for the bill including these amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. SILVERT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17

Barr,	McCreesh,	Murray,	Sarrafi,
Hays,	McMenamin,	Ripp,	Seyler,
Kalman,	Miller,	Rooney,	Silvert,
Lane,	Mullin,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Mahady,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I would like to know how Senator Fleming voted on this bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe that Senator Fleming is attending a Conference Committee meeting. However, we can call him if the Senator would like us to do so.

Mr. SILVERT. I withdraw the request, Mr. President. May I ask how Senator McCreesh is recorded?

The PRESIDENT. He is recorded as voting "no."

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. SHAFER, from the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1036, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, providing that each county, city, borough, incorporated town and township shall have the exclusive power to provide for all matters relating to the wages and hours of its employees.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I would like to introduce a bill, co-sponsored by Senator Taylor and myself, which Senator Taylor was especially eager to personally introduce, but he had to leave because of a Republican Women's meeting. On his behalf, I am presenting to the Chair a bill, sponsored by Senator Taylor and myself.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WAGNER and TAYLOR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1107, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1949 (P. L. 1210), entitled "An act relating to group life insurance; describing permitted policies and restrictions thereon, the premium basis thereof and rights thereunder; . . ." extending the types permitted to include teachers' federations and fixing requirements thereof.

Which was committed to the Committee on Insurance.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. McMENAMIN, CONFAIR, WHALLEY, FLACK and ROONEY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1108, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228), entitled, as amended, "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act," changing the definition of "soft drinks" and imposing the tax on soft drinks at the retail level.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLACK read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1109, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 5, 1933 (P. L. 289), entitled "Nonprofit Corporation Law," further providing for the use of certain words in the corporate name.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. BARR, CAMIEL, and WATKINS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1110, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled "Liquor Code," authorizing the board to prohibit the sale of malt or brewed beverages by manufacturers at less than cost.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WEINER, SEYLER, ROONEY, McCREESH, MURRAY, KALMAN and MULLIN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1111, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law," to define certain terms, to modify eligibility and disqualification provisions, payments and rates of compensation, to revise and increase rates of contribution, to limit scope of contribution appeals, and to repeal certain provisions concerning employes under Shipping Articles.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1885, Printer's No. 1153, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would tell the gentleman that the words in the title, "for the purpose of erecting a townhouse" are not a printer's error.

The PRESIDENT. Is that of any help to you, Senator Weiner?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, my difficulty is in not knowing the definition of a townhouse. No one has been able to quite define what that might be. People who live in the country usually have a townhouse, and that means some place other than where they generally live.

If this is, as I have just heard, a city hall or a place where business is transacted in a second class township, I think that alleviates some of the problem.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, my explanation was only to guide the gentleman, because there might have been some misapprehension that the word "townhouse" had another connotation or was a printer's error, but that is not correct.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Berger, are you objecting to the bill going over in its order?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have no objection to the bill going over in order.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1096, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 5, 1933 (P. L. 457), entitled "Building and Loan Code," permitting investment in State and regional business redevelopment corporations.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1104, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies, with the approval of the Governor, to sell and convey an easement in lands situate in the Township of Skippack, Montgomery County.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we have heard this afternoon about the Einstein Theory and a good deal about the school subsidy formula. I am going to start by trying to do a little parody. Between the dark and the daylight, when the clouds are beginning to lower, there comes a pause in the Senate's deliberations which is known as the newspaper hour.

My reading over the week end included a news article from the New York Times, which I think presents some very significant facts that the Senate of Pennsylvania should have before it at a time when we are thinking of taxes and the budget. This is a report from the Commerce Department in Washington, D. C., in which it points out the per capita taxes collected for the forty-nine States for the fiscal year ending June 1959, and the average per capita tax was $91.70. For Pennsylvania, it was $81.22. We are always concerned about our neighbors and the kind of climate in which we live. If I may start with the State of Delaware and go around the State, the figures from the Federal Commerce Department indicate that in the last fiscal year, the State of Delaware collected $149.94 from its citizens per capita compared to Pennsylvania's $81.22; the State of Maryland, $107.36; the State of West Virginia, $82.09; the State of Ohio, $78.18; the State of New York, $97.73; and finally, the State of New Jersey, $58.85.

Of course, we must keep in mind in the case of our neighbors in New Jersey that they have little in the way of subsidy to local municipalities, including school districts.

It seems to me if we are to consider properly the role that Pennsylvania should play for its citizens, we should keep in mind what our neighbors are doing.

The next newspaper article to which I want to call your attention is one sentence from yesterday's Patriot-News. It has reference to a bill that I had the privilege to co-sponsor. I just want to correct one statement in the editorial. This says:

"This was also the week that the teachers' lobby got its bill introduced, calling for $100 million more in state subsidies for teacher pay."

I just want to report to the Senate, and to the responsible press, that as one of the sponsors of this bill that has been referred to, I had no knowledge of any teachers' lobby, and I presume they refer either to the A. F. of T. or to the Pennsylvania Education Association. I had no knowledge of them having any interest in this particular bill, Senate Bill No. 1099. I think one of these organizations does have a bill which they have sponsored and that is House Bill No. 1108.

To bring my reading up to date, in the August 16th issue of the New York Times, I noted an article to the effect that Northwestern University had just received a grant of about $80,000 to make a "Conservation of Brainpower Study" for the U. S. Office of Education. This news story went on to say the two and one-half year project will attempt to determine how many high-ranking high school graduates want to go to college but do not do so. Researchers want to find out why such pupils do not continue their education. The project has received a grant of $80,000 from the United States Office of Education. The University said the project has resulted from the need for enough brilliant minds to run the age of the atom and the satellite.

I deem this to be very important, and this question is one which I believe is held to be important by a majority of the citizens of the State. I think this is a matter of national defense, in its best sense, and also a matter of building a better Pennsylvania.

Within the past two weeks, each Member of this Senate, I understand, received a copy of a letter from the President of Penn State University, indicating an immediate increase in tuition, an increase of thirty-seven per cent. With the kind of an era in which we live, this increase in tuition may not be much of a surprise. May I point out that my remarks are not primarily in the interest of Penn State, but, instead, in a much wider interest of which Penn State is only a symbol. The issue, Senators, is higher education for the few, or higher education for the more than the few; particularly whether or not higher education in Pennsylvania is to be primarily for the few or for the more than the few, and more particularly whether or not higher education in Pennsylvania is to be reserved almost exclusively for the children of the more favored economic class, or whether higher education shall be open primarily on the basis of brain power rather than bank power.

The United States Office of Education, as I just indicated, is spending $80,000 on this study, when the facts already indicate that over the United States, as a whole, about one out of three high school graduates are in institutions of higher learning, with many States having a ratio of two out of five in college, and at least one State with a one out of two ratio. Here in Pennsylvania, our ratio has been one out of five, or perhaps one out of four. However, with a severe steel strike in many parts of our State and with the State University's tuition going up thirty-seven per cent, it becomes apparent that the ratio may go down to one out of five or one out of six. Whether it goes down or up, you can readily see that the children from low income families—and I am only speaking now of children with brains—are going to be the ones denied admission to a higher education this fall and in 1960 in Pennsylvania, for when the State University raises its tuition to $480 a year, as Penn State has just been forced to do, you can see that we are practically pricing higher education out of the grasp of all but the children of the well-to-do. With $1,000 as a board and room figure, plus the $480, you get almost $1,500, which puts a price tag of $6,000 on a four year education in Pennsylvania. I for one believe, and many of you also believe, that it is highly unrealistic to expect a sixteen or seventeen year old to borrow $6,000. If they do not borrow, under our present arrangements, we lose them and their brains to the Commonwealth and to the Nation. This is a resource that we can ill-afford to lose.

With Penn State at $6,000, the Teachers' Colleges remain as the only chance for the youth whose family is in the low income bracket, and the tuition at the State Teachers' Colleges has also been creeping up year after year. The Teachers College does have an important role, but not only do we need the best minds, whether their parents be rich or poor, in teaching, but we need the best minds in other fields also, fields that the Teachers' Colleges are not prepared to give or not intended to provide.

Now I want to make a short but very intimate report on a first hand study that I made in eight high schools in one county of the Commonwealth. These are relatively small high schools and, over the last two years, which this report covers, about 1,000 students completed their high school work in these eight schools. This, you will see, is about 500 a year. They are small high schools, but in schools of this size, there is a good chance that a faculty knows very well the aspirations, as well as the abilities, of its graduates. I asked the principals of these eight schools this question: "How many students who made high school records that placed them in the first fifth are not in college due to limited finances?" You see, we ruled out all factors except finances and we limited the study to the top fifth, and the top fifth is rather rich cream. I wonder how many second, third, fourth or fifths happen to be in this particular body. We will not pursue that, however, but instead get immediately to the answers from those eight schools.

I was informed that of the 200 first fifters, and you will recall there were 1,000 in the whole group, fifty, or one out of four—B. S., before steel strike; B. T., before tuition rise—will not be in college this fall because of lack of finances. Once more, this is but the top fifth and many colleges have had very good success with the second fifth and lowerfifths. If these eight high schools are typical, as far as central Pennsylvania is concerned, and I believe that they are typical, this makes me shudder to think of the loss to the entire Commonwealth if the total 1959-1961 budget continues to deny these opportunities to hundreds of youth with brain power, but not bank power.

What are other States doing? I have been informed that Wisconsin has had to increase its tuition also. However, it had to increase it ten per cent instead of Penn State's thirty-seven per cent. Also note, however, that the increase in Wisconsin is from $200 to $220. Penn State's tuition is double that of Wisconsin. Penn State's $480 is now near the top of all similar State schools. If we cannot afford to support higher education for all qualified on a scale similar to other States—a fact that I will not admit—but if we cannot do it on such a wide scale, then I suggest that we make sure that the very, very cream part of the brain power of our youth, say the top 5,000 or even 1,000, are being prepared for the world and its problems, and that this number of scholarships be granted to high school seniors to guarantee that they get into institutions of higher learning, this number of 1,000, instead of the present measly eighty. New York State has State scholarships in the thousands.

On August 10, 1959, a newspaper editor, the editor of the Centre Daily Times, wrote in part as follows on this question. The editorial was entitled, "Public Education Just Fading Away." The newspaper article stated the following:

"Since increases seldom, if ever, are eliminated at a later date, it appears that Pennsylvanians are destined to live with the present situation for a long time. Pennsylvania's legislators have been slow to respond to this problem, and tuition and fees are rising to the point where 'public education' no longer is synonymous with educational opportunity. On the contrary, everything would seem to indicate that fewer and fewer people of modest means are going to be able to provide the educational opportunity their children so badly need and so richly deserve."

On this day, Mr. President, when many of us are giving serious concern to a State budget for 1959-1961, let us not put too low on the list matters relating to needy youth support of higher education, scholarships for brain power and adequate support for basic elementary and secondary education, as well as public libraries, so that our youth will have equal or better opportunities for education with their friends in other States, but, more importantly, with their contemporaries in a Nation known as the U.S.S.R.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, Congressman Dent, during his tenure in this Senate, said many wise things. One thing which I will always remember that Senator Dent said was, "Never start a fight with a newspaper because they publish every day." I scrupulously pursued that policy and I do not intend to change. However, I would like today to pay some attention to some remarks made by the editorial writer of the Sunday Harrisburg Patriot-News, of yesterday, who took one paragraph of his very thoughtful editorial and devoted it to the Senator from York. His statement reads as follows, in part:

"This was also the week that the teachers' lobby got its bill introduced, calling for $100 million more in state subsidies for teacher pay. One of the cosponsors, York County's Senator Seyler, wound up as one of only two Democrats voting against the sales tax. This is indicative of far more than Senator Seyler's own feelings on taxing and spending. It's prize example of the kind of irresponsibility displayed by so many Republican and Democratic legislators back through the years: Vote against taxes on some pretext or another but vote for spending and even urge new spending."

Mr. President, I know something about how newspapers operate, having had a little experience in this occupation myself. I realize the problems of news gathering and I have great sympathy with the gentlemen of the press who report our news. I have a basic conviction that, by and large, they report accurately. At least, they report as accurately as is possible to them, with the resources of time at their disposal. I have no objection to the editorial columns of a newspaper expressing any opinion that may be the opinion of the editorial writer. Editorial writers, of course, Mr. President, are anonymous. While they use Senator Seyler's name in their column, Senator Seyler has no way of identifying the writer of the editorial. However, this is all right because I take it that this reflects the views of the newspaper in question. There are some statements, however, Mr. President, which seem to me to be not merely opinion, but which touch on questions of fact. Had they been reported in their news columns, I think their news reporters would have been much more careful about them.

First of all, I would like to say just a few words about the opinion of the editorial writer as to the fact that he considers it wrong for someone to be willing to vote for appropriations and to vote against taxes. Mr. President, all of us vote for appropriations because appropriations are necessary. We may not vote for all appropriations because we consider some of them not justified or not needed. Similarly, that is the case when we come to taxes. The fact that we realize that appropriations are necessary certainly does not commit us to the position that, therefore, we must vote for any tax which is presented.

Obviously, there is a choice between taxes, as well as there is a choice between appropriations. I indicated, in stating my position in debate on this measure, that I had voted for taxes and I was willing to vote for taxes. I even specified tax proposals which I was willing to vote for which would have brought in more income than the tax measure that I found myself impelled to vote against. I cannot yield to the gentleman's suggestion, if that is what he is making, that anyone who votes for any appropriations must, therefore, vote for any taxes which are presented. I believe to do this would be to abdicate the Legislator's right to represent his constituents and vote for the kind of taxes that he considers to be appropriate and proper.

However, Mr. President, this is still in the area of opinion and I am not too much concerned about this. Anyone in public life must put up with a certain amount of distortion of his views and mangling of his opinions. I really am used to it and I do not really object. I do object, however, to the first part of the gentleman's statement in which he said as follows:

"This was also the week that the teachers' lobby got its bill introduced, calling for $100 million more in state subsidies for teacher pay."

I object to that, Mr. President, because, as a matter of fact, that is untrue. The gentleman could have easily verified the facts that he alleged by consulting either the teachers' lobby or any of the Senators involved. I wish to state categorically, Mr. President, that that statement is a falsehood. I presume that he means by "the teachers' lobby," the P.S.E.A. If that is what he means, I ask him to consult any representative member of the P.S.E.A. and ask him whether this suggestion was made. As far as this being a bill for more teachers' pay, Mr. President, let me point out to him that the bill which we introduced reduces the amount of money that the P.S.E.A. proposal. This bill would cut that amount in half.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think the editor of this newspaper—not criticizing his opinions, but criticizing this question of fact, which he has here stated—has violated the ethics of his profession and has done something which I think he would not tolerate in one of his reporters. He has either loosely and carelessly made a statement which was incorrect or else he has made a deliberate falsehood.

Mr. President, I did not read the entire paragraph devoted to Senator Seyler. Therefore, I would like to read the rest. He goes on to say the following:

"Senator Seyler prides himself on being a free-thinking independent. So when it comes to unbalanced budgets and a fiscal mess, let's not put all the blame on political hacks and party machine yes-man, adept though they may be at this sort of thing."

Mr. President, in the light of the gentleman's loose handling of the truth in his editorial, I would like to paraphrase what he said, as follows:

"The Patriot-News prides itself on being a free-thinking, independent newspaper. Therefore, when it comes to irresponsible charges and editorializing, based on misinformation or falsehoods, let us not put all the blame on the servile party press or on the hack editorial writers or cynical publishers, adept though they may be at this sort of thing."

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, August 25, 1959, at 11:30 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:21 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, August 25, 1959, at 11:30 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, August 24, 1959

The House met at 3:30 p. m. E.S.T.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Who hast made the remembrance of Thine apostles days of gladness and joy to thy Church: we thank Thee for St. Bartholomew one of that apostolic band whose name we remember this day. Grant us perfectly to know Thy Son Jesus Christ to be the Way, the Truth, and the Life; that following His steps we may steadfastly walk in the way that leadeth to eternal life: through the same Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, August 10, Tuesday, August 11 and Wednesday, August 12, 1959? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Thursday, August 20, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

WILLIAM KIRK, JR., WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. We have an interesting visitor here today, all the way from Abilene, Texas, young William Kirk, Junior, thirteen years old. He is busy interviewing Governors for the purpose of qualifying for a merit badge in state government, which will qualify him for an Eagle Scout rating. He has chosen to interview Governor Lawrence because William was a former resident of this state.

The young man is accompanied by his father, Lt. Colonel William Kirk, Sr., of the Air Force, by Mrs. Kirk, his mother, and by his grandfather and his aunt.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. REIDENBACH

HOUSE BILL No. 2335.

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) limiting to school districts of the second class certain provisions permitting school directors to be appointed secretary to the board upon unanimous consent and upon his resignation as a director.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. POLEN.

HOUSE BILL No. 2336.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Agriculture for the payment of fees to veterinarians for the taking of blood samples.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

MESSAGE ON UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LAW

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, August 24, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

It is now my duty to recommend amendments to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law to the General Assembly.

In this connection I think an understanding of the need for legislative action can best be acquired by reviewing briefly the board financial and historical aspects of the program.

During the national recession of 1958, the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund paid out $385 million to more than 900,000 Pennsylvania claimants. This was money well invested; undoubtedly it helped tide many over the severe hardships which afflict families when the wage earners are not working. It sustained our economy in every town and county of the State. There is no one who can rightfully say that this program is not tried and proven necessary to the wellbeing of us all.

The expenditures for the year 1958, however, greatly exceeded the income of $166 million and as a result, through a provision of the law enacted by the Assembly in 1955, the tax rate for all employers rose to 2.7 percent for the year 1959. During 1959 it is estimated income will be in the neighborhood of $220 million, with expenditures somewhat less than $250 million. At year-end 1959, the balance in the Fund will be about $100 million. Estimated income for 1960 under the present law will be about $230-240 million with expenditures in a somewhat lower range. It is clear, then, that the Fund is now almost on a pay-as-you-go basis, but this is not satisfactory. In years of relative prosperity we must put aside reserves for the lean years sure to come, when unemployment rates soar as a result of adverse national economic conditions.

Although the recent national recession was responsible for the heavy drain from the Fund in 1958, there has existed for long years an underlying need to establish a sounder relationship between Fund income and expenditures. In eight of the last ten years outgo has exceeded income. As a result, on November 1, 1948, the Fund held $630 million; by January 30, 1955, the reserve had dropped to $374 million, and after the 1958 recession, it sank further to $98 million by January 30, 1959. During the spring of this year it reached its low point of $43.2 million.

The situation called for emergency action. With exemplary speed this General Assembly passed legislation authorizing the Commonwealth to borrow up to $112 million of interest-free money from the federal government. This provides a safe margin assuring continued payment of benefits until we have an opportunity to act.

At about the same time, the State Senate passed a resolution calling upon the Governor to appoint a non-partisan committee of Pennsylvania citizens to study the situation, identify the problems, and suggest action for putting the program on a sound basis. How heartening it is to note that both Legislative Chambers, in dealing with unemployment compensation, have been completely free of partisanship. How right and how proper it is that partisanship be excluded from decisions regarding unemployment and its attendant hardships!

It was against this background that I called upon fifteen able and well-informed citizens of Pennsylvania to assist the Commonwealth in finding solutions to the numerous and complex problems associated with the unemployment compensation program. They were men chosen equally from Management, Labor, and the fields of public endeavor. Under the chairmanship of Dr. James Creese, President of Drexel Institute of Technology, they courageously and laboriously addressed themselves to the almost impossible task of compiling recommendations that would solve the problems at hand and, at the same time, satisfy all interested parties. They deserve the high praise and gratitude of our people for their hard work, and the results of their endeavors have been placed on the desk of each Member of the Assembly.

Before outlining specific recommendations, many of them based on the deliberations of this worthy Citizens Committee, I should like to make several statements which may serve to clarify our perspective:

1. During the last decade, Pennsylvania has had more areas of economic distress than any State in the Union, as you know. At least a dozen are classified by the national government as chronic. They have been in this condition since the 1940's and this Assembly knows what actions we are taking and what actions we are asking the federal government to take, to cure these long-standing ills. Until the happy day comes when we have substantially diminished or completely eliminated these conditions, we in Pennsylvania will be troubled with an above-average unemployment ratio which calls for an above-average unemployment compensation program with taxes to support this need.

2. Despite the hard and thorny truths of the above statements, Pennsylvania benefit costs have not been out of line with other large industrial states. During the ten years ended 1958, Pennsylvania paid out an average of 2.1 percent of taxable wages in benefits. Our neighboring State of New York also paid out 2.1 percent, and New Jersey 2.3 percent. There are states which paid benefits at a lower rate, but if you make a statistical adjustment to compensate for our higher unemployment rate you will find that the Pennsylvania benefits costs, financially, have not been excessive.

3. Pennsylvania's tax rates during the last ten years have not been as high as those of several industrial states. Indeed, for the ten years ended 1958, New York State collected taxes at the average rate of 2.0 percent, while we were collecting 1.4 percent. It is worthy to note that had we employed their tax rates we now would have in our Fund $500 million and no problem in this field. But this is wisdom after the event. Undoubtedly the inadequate tax measures of the late forties had much sincere support and it is more important to realize where we are than to review what might have been.

To return to the Committee's report, which has been carefully studied: I have given the viewpoints expressed therein much consideration. So impressed am I with the valuable information and beneficial viewpoints resulting from citizen participation in this program, that I plan to revive the State Advisory Council which is already provided for in our Unemployment Compensation Law, adding to it the legislative members of the Governor's Committee who served so well. We must have a continuous review of this great program, so that this office and the Legislature regularly may know the effects of the Law on our economy.

I accept all the unanimous recommendations of the Committee and recommend their adoption by the Legislature. These are:

1. To make every effort to rebuild the Fund to $300 million by the end of 1962.

2. To bar benefits to students when based on summer vacation work, or work performed as a part of the curriculum of a cooperative institute or college.

3. To reduce waiting weeks for maritime workers from three to one, bringing them in line with other covered workers.

4. To correct a long-time inequity in the Law, which has prevented payment of benefits for several days in the case of certain claimants at the end or beginning of the benefit year, and

5. To allow eligibility to persons self-employed in a sideline farm or business who become unemployed in their major employment occupation.

The prevailing view of the Committee calls for the restoration of experience rating, beginning January 1, 1960. I am submitting a proposal which accomplishes this objective by establishing a schedule of rates between 1.6 percent and 4.0 percent through 1962. This means that 40,000 to 45,000 employers whose employment turnover has been of low cost to the Fund will receive substantial rate reductions, beginning 1960, from the 2.7 percent uniform rate in effect this year. This schedule establishes a more direct relationship between an employer's tax rate and the cost of his turnover to the Fund. One of the reasons the Fund was depleted was that the maximum of 2.7 percent paid by many employers did not cover the cost of their labor turnover to the Fund. Therefore, Pennsylvania must, I regret to say, raise the maximum rate for such employers. Employer contributions, generally, must correspond to their cost experience to the Fund.

One of the desirable features of this plan is that it provides an additional incentive to employers to stabilize their employment and thus earn a lower tax rate. I think it is a just insurance principle that lower costs reflect themselves in lower rates.

I am happy to say that new industries coming into Pennsylvania which show a good experience with the Fund will be eligible for reduced rates after eighteen months.

It is estimated that this proposed plan will raise $280 to $290 million per full year, as compared to $230 to $240 million on the uniform 2.7 percent. The additional revenue is raised primarily by the introduction of a Fund rebuilding factor averaging 0.7 percent to produce $60 million. This will be dropped when the Fund exceeds $300 million. The Governor's Committee recommended that the target date for reaching the $300 million Fund level should be December 31, 1962, and it is to be anticipated that barring unforeseen dips in business, this goal can be met.

Attached to this message is an exhibit showing seven-teen states which now have a maximum rate exceeding the 2.7 percent which has been traditional for Pennsylvania. The 1954 and the 1957-58 recessions have caused these states to raise their maximum rate and now it is Pennsylvania's turn. In Delaware the maximum rate has been set at 4.5 percent on $3,600 for the next two years. This is equivalent to 5.1 percent on a $3,000 tax base such as we use in Pennsylvania. Illinois goes to a maximum of 4.0 percent in 1960, Michigan is now at 4.5 percent maximum and California's maximum is 3.0 percent on $3,600 or equivalent to 3.5 percent on $3,000.

The submitted experience rating program is sound, and is a revision of the one currently in the Law. There are other proposals, supported by employer groups, to amend the present formula and designed to overcome the glaring deficiencies which have developed. While I believe that the submitted proposal is superior, from the standpoint of actuarial soundness and equity, my position is that this is a decision for the Legislature. Any amendments which will restore experience rating in January 1960, and raise the necessary funds and treat employers equitably according to their experience with the Fund, will meet with my approval.

Now, as to benefits: As can be seen from the exhibit attached, many states have increased the weekly maximum benefit amount for claimants. In fact, more than 20 states now allow benefits above our $35 maximum. For example, New York has a maximum of $45 and California of $55; Illinois, from $32 to $50 for those with dependents, Maryland, from $35 to $43, and Connecticut from $45 to $67. The Committee members generally agreed that the level of weekly benefit amounts should be such that the majority of claimants would receive approximately 50 percent of their full-time gross weekly wage, although disagreeing as to the manner and timing of reaching this objective. This recommendation follows the frequently expressed views of President Eisenhower and Secretary Mitchell on this point.

I regret that the financial condition of the Fund will not permit meeting this standard at this time. However, we must make a start in this direction and I therefore recommend that we move gradually toward this goal by raising the weekly benefit amount to $38 on January 1, 1960, $40 on July 1, 1960, and $42 on January 1, 1961.

I recommend that the present allowance of earnings from part-time or casual employment should be changed from the flat $6 per week to 30 percent of the weekly benefit amount, but not less than $6. This will encourage the seeking and taking of part-time employment by unemployed claimants, thus tending to relieve the Fund.

The Committee considered many proposals for corrective measures. After reading the Committee's report, I believe that women who quit work on account of pregnancy should be ineligible for benefits; those laid off because of pregnancy, but able and available for work, limited in eligibility to the first six months; pregnant women laid off due to lack of work should be eligible up to the eighth month.

I also ask that eligibility for those who leave employment for a compelling and necessitous cause should be continued, if the claimant is able and available for work. However, such eligibility should not be continued for wives or husbands who voluntarily leave employment to accompany their spouse to a different area unless such person is the sole or major support of the family.

A number of proposals have been and will be made to you, that persons who are unwillingly retired as pensioners, although they wish and need to continue in employment, should be denied or given reduced benefit payments. Most emphatically I oppose any universal application of this principle. The older worker should not be treated differently than a younger person who is involuntarily terminated. In too many areas we already see the doors of employment closed to older workers who are able to do a good and useful job and I feel that this Legislature does not want to discriminate against the worker with regard to his unemployment compensation rights, merely because he has reached a certain age. In this field, the only change I recommend is one which will generally exclude those receiving high-bracket pensions from collecting unemployment compensation unless based entirely on a new work record.

I recommend to the Legislature that it revise eligibility requirements for those earning less than $600 in their base year, in accordance with certain provisions described in an analysis also forwarded to the Legislature. Generally, this means that those whose attachment to the labor market is casual, temporary or seasonal may not be eligible for the benefits available to those firmly in the labor market.

Much has been said about limiting the eligibility of all claimants to one year, unless the second year is preceded by new employment. I am opposed to this. Pennsylvania is a state which has suffered from chronic as well as protracted unemployment. Such a measure would fall with crushing force on many of our depressed areas and I do not think the people of this State would wish to remove this help from their neighbors. Nor is this a problem for certain areas alone. In the last two years we have seen prosperous and bustling industries returning to high employment and production without taking back tens of thousands of workers, leaving them unemployed continuously since late 1957. These people are unemployed because of automation, plant renovation and improved industrial technologies. Unfortunately they, and many others like them, have been and will be unemployed through no fault of their own for long periods of time. We must not change provisions in the Pennsylvania Law, imbedded since 1938, in order to disqualify such people.

These, in general, are the proposals which I submit to the Assembly. They are not generous, nor are they harsh. They are not the kind of proposal which I would submit if the Fund stood at $600 million as it did in years past; but we must face realities. The Assembly and this Administration must accept facts as they are and these facts dictate the proposed measures. As we grapple with these problems and manfully do our duty, I feel sure that the people of this Commonwealth will say, "This is the Legislature acting in its best tradition."

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED HOUSE BILLS RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1690.

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), by eliminating the requirement that no one may park or leave standing any vehicle or tractor upon a highway unless an unobstructed width of fifteen (15) feet remains.

HOUSE BILL No. 1721.

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), extending the use of manufacturer's jobbers and dealer's registration plates.

Said bills having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading on said bills was reconsidered in the House and the bills amended, in which amendments the Senate has concurred.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1690.

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1955 (Act No. 32), by eliminating the requirement that no one may park or leave standing any vehicle or tractor upon a highway unless an unobstructed width of fifteen (15) feet remains.

HOUSE BILL No. 1721.

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), extending the use of manufacturer's jobber's and dealer's registration plates.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which read as follows:

Approval of House Bill No. 1285.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2303, entitled:

An Act amending the "General Appropriation Act of 1957" approved July 19, 1957 (Appropriation Acts page 60) including reimbursement to county institution districts for the care of mentally defective children subsequent to their discharge from State-owned institutions.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inter-rogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, is this a deficiency appropriation bill for obligations left over from last biennium?

Mr. POLEN. No, Mr. Speaker, this bill does not make any appropriation whatever.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The reason why the question was raised, this is an amendment to the Act of 1957 which indicated some deficiency.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the Act which is referred to, which this is amending, did make an appropriation and, if you will note, that is old material in the bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. This is no appropriation?

Mr. POLEN. This is an old appropriation bill. There is no appropriation connected with this at all. It is changing the language of the Act so that the children committed after the discharge can also be put in foster homes and payment made in the same manner as those before commitment.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would like to ask the same question in connection with the next bill and we could cover them both at once, if the Speaker will permit.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the same thing applies to the next bill, No. 2304.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were separately read by agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2304, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 10, 1959 (Appropriation Act No. 27-A) entitled "A supplement to the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven (Appropriation Acts page 60) entitled "As act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth * * *" including reimbursement to county institution districts for the care of mentally defective children subsequent to their discharge from State-owned institutions.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2318, entitled:

An Act amending "The Borough Code" approved May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) permitting council to appeal from findings of the Civil Service Commission.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 142, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2051) entitled "Public Assistance Law" further defining persons eligible for public assistance.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 175, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) entitled "The Borough Code" authorizing the purchase of public liability insurance.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 326, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) entitled "The Borough Code" providing that applicants for the position of policeman or fireman need not be residents of the borough.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 379, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 27, 1949 (P. L. 1903) entitled "The Military Code of 1949" providing that Colonels having certain service shall be placed on the retired list as Brigadier Generals.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 474, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 973) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries of certain county officers of counties of the third class" increasing the salaries of certain county officers.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. McCANDLESS offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 3 and 4, by striking out "ten thousand four hundred dollars ($10,400)" and inserting "nine thousand four hundred dollars ($9,400)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 5 and 6, by striking out "seven thousand six hundred dollars ($7,600)" and inserting "six thousand six hundred dollars ($6,600)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 8, by striking out "nine thousand six hundred dollars ($9,600)" and inserting "eight thousand six hundred dollars ($8,600)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 10, by striking out "nine thousand six hundred dollars ($9,600)" and inserting "eight thousand six hundred dollars ($8,600)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 12 and 13, by striking out "seven thousand three hundred dollars ($7,300)" and inserting "six thousand three hundred dollars ($6,300)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 15, by striking out "nine thousand six hundred dollars ($9,600)" and inserting "eight thousand six hundred dollars ($8,600)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 17, by striking out "eight thousand four hundred dollars ($8,400)" and inserting "seven thousand four hundred dollars ($7,400)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 19, by striking out "ten thousand five hundred dollars ($10,500)" and inserting "nine thousand five hundred dollars ($9,500)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 4, by striking out "eleven thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($11,250)" and inserting "ten thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($10,250)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 6, by striking out "one thousand four hundred dollars ($1,400)" and inserting "one thousand three hundred dollars ($1,300)".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 8, by striking out "eleven thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($11,250)" and inserting "ten thousand two hundred fifty dollars ($10,250)".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCANDLESS. Mr. Speaker, referring to the amendments offered here on Senate Bill 474, I have amendments for each of the bills relating to the different class counties.

This is a third class county and the first bill called up. What these amendments do is to cut the increase in half right across the board. I feel that the amounts in the amendments are justified. I think the increase in the original bill is too much at this time. I would like to have a roll call vote on the amendments to this bill.

If they do not carry, I see no need to offer further amendments to the other bills for the reason that if the salaries are in line now in the different class counties, then the amendments should be placed against each of the bills in order to keep the counties in line.

That is all I will say on the matter at this time, but I would like to ask Members on both sides of the aisle to vote for these amendments.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McCandless?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANDLESS. I shall.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. McCandless, on the amendments that you offer to Senate Bill 474, did we understand you clearly that the amendments you offer cut the raises as indicated in the bill exactly one-half. Is that right?

Mr. McCANDLESS. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. In other words, for each county office that is in Senate 474, where the raise is $2,000, it is $1,000, where it is $1,000, it is $500, or whatever the case may be?

Mr. McCANDLESS. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. McCandless, will you tell the House that your amendments then are a straight fifty percent cut of the proposed increase for the salary of the county row offices of the third class counties. Is that correct?

Mr. McCANDLESS. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

The amendments offered by the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McCandless, to Senate Bill 474 and, as indicated, the amendments to the other bills which would be offered separately, would cut the increase as proposed in the pieces of legislation exactly in half.

I feel that some of the Members from the third class counties should also indicate their position, for I, personally, represent a sixth class county and I would oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Candless, when it applies to the bills cutting the amount in half.

The gentleman has asked for a roll call on these amendments. A roll call is most satisfactory, but I ask that the Members do oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Candless, even though I do not represent a third class county.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I too feel that I must vote against these amendments for this reason. I come from a sixth class county and, as I understand, Mr. McCandless wants to offer amendments to also cut the raises in that county in half. In other words, he is going to apply it to all the various counties. I do not know what the situation is existing in third class counties but I know, in respect to my own county, we have a fine, faithful group of office holders. They spend all week long in their offices. Some of them come from long distances in the wintertime on the icy roads; they come to the county seat every single day, and I feel, inasmuch as they have not had a raise since 1951, that in my own county the salary for the county commissioners of $7 thousand, in view of the outstanding job they do in my county, is not a big raise.

Therefore, as far as I am personally concerned, and this is not a party position on the Republican side, I am going to say that I am going to vote against this particular amendment because it also affects the situation with respect to my own county which is a sixth class county.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, as one of those who represents a portion of a third class county, I rise in opposition to these amendments.

The bill which passed the Senate by a vote of 43 affirmative to 7 in the negative represents fair salaries for our third class county officials. I ask that everyone in this House oppose these amendments so that we can give a fair salary to our county officials.

Mr. McCORMACK. May I interrogate the Minority Leader, Mr. Johnson?

The SPEAKER. Will the Minority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, these amendments offered by the gentleman from Butler will cut the increase in salary one-half. Is that correct?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. From $2,000 down to $1,000. I believe that is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. These county officials who are presently elected, would they be eligible for this increase?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. No, those who are standing for election right now, we are having row office elections pretty generally all over the state covering most of the offices in the November election. Those who take office next January would be entitled to a raise, if we vote them one.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now who provides the money for these increases?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The taxpayers in the local communities and counties.

Mr. McCORAMCK. In order to meet these salary increases that are presently in this bill without this amendment, the money would have to be appropriated by additional taxation in most cases?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. It would have to be integrated into the budgets of several counties. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, that is all.

Mr. Speaker, rather than make a statement on each bill that will be amended in this line, I would like to say now that I am going to vote in favor of these amendments and, whether or not they are adopted, I am going to vote against the bills.

I think what we are doing here is wrong and I cannot debate the merits of the bill now because I have to confine myself to these amendments, but certainly I think we are doing an injustice to the taxpayers and it is going to have wide repercussions, I think that it behooves each one of us to carefully consider a vote against these amendments even though it does not apply to a particular county from which you were elected. We all know that amendments are coming up for bills affecting our particular counties and we want the help of men from other counties. So I say, I think we should vote for the gentleman's amendments and then if they are adopted we ought to kill the bills.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked, if it is permissible with the Chair and the Members of this House, to just tentatively lay aside these bills for a moment.

The Senate is waiting for one bill on the calendar which we would like to pass and have them sign immediately if I may do this.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, we can temporarily suspend action upon the bill now before the House. The Chair understands that the other Chamber wants to act on this bill.

The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Senate Bill No. 941, on page 25 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 941, entitled:

An Act to commission posthumously Edwin L. Drake in the Pennsylvania National Guard.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

WELCOME TO FOREIGN STUDENTS

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the Hall of the House of two interesting guests who have very modestly taken their seats in the gallery.

One is Carole Munden, and if I do not say that right, it is the Yankee way of saying it. She is from Norrden, Surrey, England. She is a graduate of the Hockerill Training College, University of Cambridge, and is 20 years old. She begins teaching in October in London.

The other is David Hubert from Liege, Belgium. He is a student of Greek and Latin and speaks Dutch, English, German, and French, and he happens to be 18 years old.

Both Carole and David are visiting through the services of the World University and American Summer Program. Each is spending one week in nine different homes of members of the Hershey Rotary Club, and they are here as the guests of the gentlemen from Dauphin, Messrs. Hocker and Keiser.

BILL ON SECOND READING

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House, Senate

Bill No. 474 on page 7 of today's calendar upon which consideration was suspended in order to take up Senate Bill No. 941.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the previous speaker on Senate Bill No. 474, Mr. McCandless of Butler County, requested a roll call on the amendments he has offered.

Just to reaffirm the position, I, of course, represent a sixth class county, and this same type of amendment would be available for the class of county I represent. I ask that the Members oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McCandless, to Senate Bill No. 474, Printer's No. 508.

Mr. McCANDLESS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say this: my reason for offering these amendments, is that in my class county, the fifth class, this increase as proposed in the original bill is a percentage of around 33-1/3 per cent to almost 100 per cent on some of the offices.

I think that much of an increase is not justified. I hold in my hand here a clipping from a New York paper, stating this, under dateline of August 22, in the neighboring state of New Jersey.

Salary-Rise Law Stirs Up Unexpected Controversy as Taxpayers Balk. The three-man board in Sussex County wants to advance the salaries from $5,000 to $6,500:

The freeholders in New Jersey are similar to our county commissioners in Pennsylvania.

The Freeholders in Bergen, Cape May, Hunterdon, Middlesex, Monmouth, Union and Warren Counties have voted to retain their present pay. In Burlington and Somerset Counties pay rises were rejected under heavy pressure from voter groups. Atlantic, Gloucester, Cumberland and Salem Counties were excluded from the law because of the size of their respective boards.

I will not take time to read more of this clipping, but I want to say that if the present bill were in effect in our fifth class county, it would mean about one-fourth of a mill tax, the increase per year.

In addition to that, I know the employes of the entire county, under the courthouse and the institutional districts would be after a raise immediately.

Knowing the situation there, having served eight years as County Commissioner, I would say that before this would be through we would have an extra mill of tax on the taxpayers in my county.

That is the reason why I would like to have these amendments included, so I could vote for the bill. Otherwise, I am going to have to vote against all of these bills.

Mr. CIOFFI. Mr. Speaker, I, too, come from a fifth class county, and I will have to oppose these amendments.

For the benefit of the Members I have some figures here that may help each of us to decide as to the amount of increase. I have a breakdown given to me by the county commissioners. There would be seven persons who would enjoy the increase in salary in our county, which would bring it up to $14,000. I will read these assessed valuations in order to help some of the people in the fifth class counties.

The real estate assessment in Lawrence County is $102.8 million; the occupation assessment is $8.3 million; the personal property assessment is $22,406 million and the total assessed valuation is $133,506,512.

The General Fund Budget based on four mills, the tax would be $534,026.05. If the $14,000 is added to that budget it brings it up to $548,026.05, and brings the millage to 4.108 only.

That should help many of us to understand the position in which we find ourselves. I firmly believe the person who is doing a good job is worth the full amount, instead of only half. I believe the people in the community will take care of the rest. If a person is not qualified for the position, let the citizens decide. I feel the 50 percent reduction is not fair to any community that is trying to do a good job at home.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I likewise arise to oppose the amendments.

In the county, a portion of which I represent, the row offices in question are servicing three-fifths of a million people. These are full-time jobs, and it is my contention the laborer is certainly worthy of his hire.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by my good friend, Mr. McCandless from Butler County, and to speak and direct my attention and the attention of the Representatives of seventh class counties to the salaries of the seventh class counties.

In the schedule of seventh class counties we find that the prothonotaries would be increased from $5,000 per year to $6,000 per year. It is to be remembered that the $6,000 is a base, and the prothonotary has to earn that before he gets the $6,000. If he goes beyond $6,000, then he gets 50 percent of the fees beyond that particular scale.

The prothonotary in the seventh class counties, I believe in all of them, serves also as the clerk of the Orphans' Court, the clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, and the clerk of the Court of Oyer and Terminer; consequently that all becomes his base salary for those services.

Insofar as the recorder of deeds is concerned in the seventh class counties, he is also the register of wills.

In 1951 when the increase was made in these salaries the recorder of deeds in some of the seventh class counties retained the salary of $4,500 per year. There were some who went to $5,000 through errors in the language in the bill. This advance in the present bill for seventh class counties would take the recorder and the register of wills to $6,000. It is to be remembered also that is a base figure, and they must earn those fees in these counties. If the amounts should go beyond $6,000, then the recorder-register is entitled to 50 percent over and above the $6,000 figure. The only other fee the register of wills gets is the inheritance tax fee, and in our county, a seventh class county, that amounts to between $450 to $500 per year.

The treasurer's salary is not increased because that is set by law by the county commissioners.

The coroner's salary is all fees; actually there is no salary in that particular office.

The county commissioners are being advanced another $1,200, raising them, I believe it is, to about $3,400.

The district attorney in a seventh class county, and I am speaking of my own particular county, presently earns $3,500 a year. The district attorney's office would be increased to $4,700 a year, an increase of $1,200. In these counties there is a very large load of work, and he has no assistants. It is true he is able to carry on some civil work, but a great deal of his time, I would say better than 60 percent of the time, is given to criminal work; therefore I do not consider that an unreasonable increase.

The only other increase to which I would like to address your attention in seventh class counties are the sheriff's office, which goes from $4,000 to $5,200 per year, and the jury commissioner, from $7.50 to $12.50 per day.

A review of the salaries in these counties, and the fact that there has been no raise since 1951, and in relationship to the inflation which these offices have faced, would indicate to me and to most citizens who think reasonably upon the subject that the officers are entitled to an increase in salary, particularly when one remembers that one receives better qualified candidates if there is more money in this day and age to be offered.

I therefore rise to oppose the amendments, and ask Members of the seventh class counties in particular to vote against the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. CAPANO asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 475, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 947) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries of certain county officers of counties of the fourth class" increasing the salaries of certain county officers.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 476, entitled:

An act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 972) entitled "An Act relating to the annual salaries of certain county officers of counties of the fifth class" increasing the salaries of certain county officers.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 477, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 928) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the sixth class" increasing and fixing the salaries of certain county officers.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 478, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 938) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the seventh class" increasing the salaries of certain employees and county officers.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 479, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 971) entitled "As act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the eighth class" increasing the annual salaries of certain officers in counties of the eighth class.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TOMPKINS offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 8 and 9, by striking out "three thousand four hundred dollars ($3,400)" and inserting "two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 15, by striking out "two thousand three hundred dollars ($2,300)" and inserting "one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1,800)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, by inserting between lines 17 and 18: "For services as an officer of an institution district, each commissioner in counties having a population of less than twelve thousand (12,000) shall receive an additional annual salary of six hundred dollars ($600)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 20 and page 3, line 1, by striking out "TWO THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS ($2,400)" and inserting "one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500)."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments to Section 1?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the amendments which I have to offer apply to eighth class counties under 12,000 of which there are five in number in the state of Pennsylvania.

The amendments which I have offered are ones which my row offices have by written communications directed me to support in the amounts they think fair for counties of our size. They, in effect, increase the present salaries by $300 each across the board. They include, they add the institutional districts and give them $300 increase in institutional districts in those counties.

I would have much preferred if we could have worked out a scheme whereby we could have fixed the salaries of all counties with a floor and a ceiling and let the salary boards back home then fix their own salaries rather than to put the matter in our hands. I do not believe in the philosophy of our fixing local budgets at the Harrisburg level, although apparently the Constitution says that is a part of our duty to do so.

I am offering these amendments as those which my row offices support as what they think is the load that they can carry for increases in counties of our size. I know that there are almost hopeless differences between the five counties involved in this class. Nevertheless we feel that this is the economical amount which the finances of our communities can stand.

I would ask for a favorable vote on these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, less than a majority of the Members having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. GARLOCK offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 12 by striking out all of said line and inserting: "three thousand four hundred dollars ($3,400)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 14 and 15 by striking out the brackets before "one" in line 14 and after "(1,500)" in line 15.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 15 by striking out "two thousand three hundred dollars ($2,300)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 17 by striking out the brackets before "two" and after "(2,000)" and striking out "three thousand dollars ($3,000)."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, lines 3 and 4 by striking out "two thousand eight hundred dollars ($2,800)" and inserting: two thousand four hundred dollars ($2,400).

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 8 by striking out "twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50)" and inserting: ten dollars ($10).

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GARLOCK. What these amendments do is leave the bill just as it was with the exception that they take the county commissioners out, do not give them an increase, and leave the sheriff maintain a $1,200 increase, also allowing the D.A. an $1,200 increase. It cuts the jury commissioners back to $10 a day, the same as the county auditors, and I would ask everybody on both sides of the aisle to support these amendments.

Mr. GOODRICH. Will the gentleman from Fulton permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fulton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GARLOCK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman's amendments apply to eighth class counties under 12,000 or over?

Mr. GARLOCK. Both, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOODRICH. Would the gentleman explain his amendments again? The amounts are different in the two classes of counties.

Mr. GARLOCK. It takes everything out, or cuts it back, all but the $3,400 for the sheriff, $2,400 for the D.A., and $10 a day for the jury commissioners.

Mr. GOODRICH. There would be no increase for commissioners?

Mr. GARLOCK. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOODRICH. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would ask the House to vote against the amendments. In the eighth class counties of over 12,000 the commissioners get $2,000 a year. The request in the bill is for $3,000 a year. Certainly the government of a county rests on the commissioners. In the eighth class counties, I feel the commissioners earn $3,000 and I would like to see the amendment defeated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, less than a majority of the Members having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. POLEN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 5, by striking out "two lane"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 5, by inserting after "tunnels" "or lanes"

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third section was read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. POLEN offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 1, first line of Title, by inserting after "tunnels" "or additional lanes".

They were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 587, entitled:

An Act amending the act of February 9, 1901 (P. L. 6) entitled "An act to permit the classification by railroad railway and transportation corporations of their boards of directors or managers" providing that the classes of directors or managers of such companies be as nearly equal in number as possible.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 699, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 4, 1943 (P. And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 857, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519) entitled "The Borough Code" providing for an assistant borough secretary.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2326 on page 2 of today's calendar, Appropriation Bill on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2326, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for two years beginning June 1 1959 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31, 1959.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOCKER. I might say that these amendments pertain to the state-owned hospitals, correctional institutions, mental institutions and the hospitals under the Department of Health.

We on this side of the House are of the opinion that these hospitals should be spelled out line by line. We are taking nothing away from them as far as monetary value is concerned. All we are trying to do, we have had some experience in the past, I will not cite individual cases that we had the experience with because it is of no value, but we have had people in the past who have taken money from one institution, in other words they have robbed one institution and put it into another one. We on this side are of the opinion that everyone in this House who has a hospital in his particular district should be interested enough to see that that hospital, when there is an allocation made to it by the Department, that that much money should go there and remain there, so that is all we are doing, there is no change of money.

We are giving them just exactly what the budget calls for, but we are trying to tie this thing up that my hospital, Harrisburg, I will mention that, where we have one of the most able, I think, superintendents, who is a business-like gentleman who plans over a period of two years the work that he is going to do and does well with the money allocated to it, but I am trying to protect you in your own district, so that somebody, through political interference, or whatever you want to call it, does not come into your territory and take money from your hospital and put it into another territory or another hospital.

That in short is our amendment. We believe in them we believe that it is good business to do it that way. I hope that you will go along with these amendments.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, is correct that he has not changed the total amounts of these appropriations. He has, however, put them on a line by line basis, and perhaps there might be some merit in what he says.

However, in the overall picture we want to eliminate what has taken place in practically every Session on the question of deficiencies. One hospital will not spend the money allocated to it, and another one, due to increased case load, will need additional funds and it is necessary to lapse money in one case and appropriate money for a deficiency in another.

It is the position of the administration and the budget office that they can better take care of the situation by making allocations based on the need of the particular hospitals. I call particular attention to the Norristown State Hospital which has, at the present time, a case load in excess of its capacity. They feel that the amount allocated, of $13,301,093 is not sufficient for the operation of that particular hospital, and if their case load would continue at the same rate as it is now, that would be correct.

The system of one-sum appropriations does give to the executive branch certain powers, but it gives a flexibility that will permit them to make the allocations in line with the case load and the need of the different institutions.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Members of the House vote down these amendments.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would only say this to the gentleman, Mr. Polen, that if you are not taking care of Norristown to the full extent under the present case load, then you are cheating Norristown, and some other hospital will have to suffer because of this.

I disagree with the gentlemen's thinking on that. Some other hospital some place else is going to have something taken away from it to take care of that increase. I say this to you in all sincerity, that I do not know how any superintendent of a hospital can operate if he does not know how much money he is going to receive, and is always at the command of the people in Harrisburg as to how much he gets.

So, Mr. Speaker, I disagree with the gentleman's thinking on that. I would like to say, and you know this, and I have every reason to believe, that we will be back here next year in Session. However, that depends on the thinking of the people of the Commonwealth. But in any event, we will be here in 1961, five months before this biennium is up, and, if there is any adjustment to be made, it should be made by the Members of this General Assembly, not by some department up here on the Hill.

I still urge you to vote for these amendments.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, and also the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

I happen to come from Norristown, the hospital which has been under discussion. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin very briefly.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall.

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us what the Norristown State Hospital received last year?

Mr. HOCKER. If I get my budget, I can tell the gentleman, Mr. Jones. I do not think it is pertinent. I only say that if they are not giving Norristown what they asked for as that which they can carry, they are short-changed.

I have Norristown here, I will try to run it down quickly for you.

Norristown State Hospital, the amount available in 1957-1959 was $12,313,000.

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. If I understand the gentleman correctly, the Norristown State Hospital, under the amendments which were just offered, would receive over $13 million, is that right?

Mr. HOCKER. Yes.

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. So that this indicates an increase of $1 million, is that true?

Mr. HOCKER. That is right.

Mr. T. H. W. JONES. Thank you, Mr. Hocker, that is all.

I am not familiar with the general percentage increase that was made in the budget of all the state hospitals, but I would presume that Norristown is not out of line with the others.

Accordingly, if the Chairman of Appropriations has some reason to think otherwise, I would appreciate his letting me know. I do not wish to commit myself now on the propriety or impropriety of the amounts given to each hospital, but I do approve of a line budget as opposed to a general budget, or rather a general entry in the budget, and, accordingly, I am going to sit down and let these amendments go through. I will support them.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. HOCKER and WOOD and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington consent to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, we refer to page 38 of House Bill No. 2326.

Mr. POLEN. I have the page, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. The Governor's Budget provides for $6,394,824 for the Legislative Department. What is the total amount provided for under this bill for the Legislature?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not certain that I have that information here but I can easily get it. Just a minute until I refer to my notes.

Mr. Speaker, I will have to go to my office if the gentleman would like the information right now.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, Mr. Speaker, is it not true that House Bill 2326 provides $500,000 or $600,000 more than the Governor's Budget?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct. I again say I do not have my notes here. I did not know we were going to debate the bill but I can easily get them.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I do not want to debate the bill, Mr. Speaker. I want to get some information so that if amendments are necessary we can prepare them.

Mr. Speaker, if this particular bill provides for $500,000 or $600,000 more in funds, does not this bill contemplate the employment under Senate Bill No. 309 for the additional funds?

Mr. POLEN. It does, Mr. Speaker. It incorporates the increases contained in 309.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, why did not the Appropriations Committee make this a separate bill?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I presume the gentleman is referring to the Legislative expenses?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I am referring to this particular language in House Bill No. 2326. You refer to certain Acts of the Legislature specifically and then you use the words "An Act." Is it not true that "An Act" means the contemplated passage of Senate Bill 309 in the future?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker. We did not have the Act number because it had not been then signed by the Governor to become an Act.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, do you think this is the proper legislative procedure to include in a revenue measure, something that has not been passed?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it has been done in the past. In fact, many times we have left blank places for the amounts.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, then I want to reiterate this question again. This particular House Bill 2326 contemplates the passage of Senate Bill 309 with additional funds of $500,000, $600,000?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is correct that it includes the increases provided in 309, and if the gentleman will give me a couple of minutes I will give him the exact amount of the increases, if he desires, or give it to him privately. I have it worked up but I do not have it here.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. If the gentleman from Washington, who is always cooperative, would do this for me, if he would show me how to make the amendments to eliminate those figures from the bill, I will present those amendments tomorrow on third reading.

Mr. POLEN. I will be glad to confer with the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, and show him how it can be amended.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The third to ninth sections inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 263, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania exempting income taxes on persons and corporations from requirement of uniformity.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCORMACK asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, first line of Title, by striking out "section one."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 2, by inserting after "amended": "by adding a new section."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 3 to 19, page 3, lines 1 and 2, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting: "Section 1C. Notwithstanding the requirements of uniformity, income taxes on persons may be levied and collected under general laws which provide for graduated or graded rates and exemptions, provided the rate of tax shall not exceed six per cent. An income tax on persons, and a general tax on sales or use of personal property shall not be in effect at the same time."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 740, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) prescribing powers and duties of the Department of Health relating to radioactive materials.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on final passage?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommended to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1450, an page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1450, entitled:

An Act relating to the control of occupational diseases and their prevention * * * providing that the Department of Health shall administer the act and providing that reports made under this act shall be confidential and providing for civil relief.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on final passage?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommended to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1376, Printer's No. 632, on page 14 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 268, entitled:

An Act defining and regulating the conduct and activities of officers and employees of the Commonwealth members officers and employes of the General Assembly and first partnerships Associations and corporations in which such persons are members or stockholders forbidding certain situations which may involve a conflict of interest * * *

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I understand that this motion to recommit is for the purpose of amendment.

This bill has been on the calendar for a long time. Everybody knows and everybody has had the opportunity to decide whether or not the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should have a bill like this become law. I say if there are amendments to be offered, the amendments should be offered in the same fashion as other amendments to bills that appear on the calendar. There is absolutely no necessity for the bill to be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for amendment or further study. It is a platform pledge of the Democratic party and I feel that we should vote this motion down so that the bill can be debated on third reading and either pass or fail to pass.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, the Majority Leader, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, do I have the gentleman's assurance that this bill will be reported out of committee?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Chairman of the Committee on State Government, Mr. Schwartz, has in his possession more than one set of amendments to House Bill 268, Printer's No. 1123. Regarding the motion to recommit that I have made on this bill, to send it back to the Committee on State Government which worked on this bill from the time of its introduction, and worked with a series of amendments to the bill, I expect the Chairman of that committee to consider the amendments that have been given to him, plus any other amendments that may or may not be offered to this particular piece of legislation.

The decision of the Committee regarding reporting it out in its amended form, or whatever other shape, will be the decision of the Committee.

Mr. STEWART. Then I take it, Mr. McCann, you give me no personal assurance yourself, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the power to assure that it would come out instantly or not come out. I can assure you that I can vote for the bill in its present form or amended form.

Mr. STEWART. Well, as Majority Leader, Mr. McCann, would you use your personal influence to see that this bill comes out?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is an improper interrogation. The gentleman will not answer the question.

Mr. McCANN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, very kindly.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Schwartz, may I ask your personal assurance that this bill will be reported out of committee?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. At least count the Committee on State Government consisted of 19 members and we have a very independent Committee.

Mr. STEWART. How many members of that committee, Mr. Schwartz, are Democrats?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I don't think we are supposed to discuss on the floor of the House what happens in committee.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I am sure the gentleman has the answer to that if he has his book of Committee members in his desk.

Mr. STEWART. I do not have it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Schwartz, is it true that your party is committed to legislation of this type?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I believe that I can depend on Mr. McCormack's remarks of today.

Mr. STEWART. I think, Mr. Schwartz, I will leave you for a while and make a brief statement on behalf of this bill. Thank you, Mr. Schwartz.

Mr. Speaker, last week I introduced a conflict of interest bill concerning the city of Philadelphia. I think the same bill, in essence, is before this House—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will inform the gentleman that the only question before the House is on the motion to recommit. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the motion to recommit the bill.

Mr. STEWART. I will, Mr. Speaker. I believe this bill will take the profit out of politics and, therefore, I ask the Members of this House to oppose this motion.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. McCORMACK and STEWART and were as follows:

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. LAMB, PRENDERGAST and GOLDSTEIN.

RESOLUTION No. 105.

In the House of Representatives, August 24, 1959.

Demands on local governmental bodies for more services is one of the many factors in increasing the cost of operating local governments. With rising costs comes the need for greater revenue in the form of higher taxes on real estate.

Constitutional provisions, statutes and customs grant many tax exemptions on real estate for State activities and local governments and many others. Therefore, the burden of supporting the government operations falls mainly on the real estate owners not entitled to exemption.

Continued and increasing requests are being made to local assessment boards for exemption of certain real estate by those under present law entitled to such.

Recent decisions of our local and appellate courts indicate a trend to enlarge the area of exemptions.

Since the limit of reasonable taxation has been reached, there is a need to determine what property escapes proper taxation and the effect of tax exemption laws on financing local government requirements as well as easing the burden on property owners presently supporting the tax burden; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study the tax exemption laws and their effect on local taxation; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of such legislation as may be necessary, to carry its recommendations into effect, to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1959.

The Senate met at 11:30 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. IRVIN F. WOODROW, Pastor of The Church of Christ, Somerset, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Almighty God, the Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, help us to remember that it is in Thee that we live and move and have our being. We are constrained to ask, as did the shepherd king of old, "What is man that Thou art mindful of him?"

Thou hast made us to have dominion over all the works of Thy hands. Help us, therefore, to live to our responsibilities by conducting ourselves so that we shall hear from Thee, "Well done Thou faithful servant," for we know that Thy blessing means more than the praises of men.

Help us to remember the many sacrifices of the Senators who have sat in these same seats in the years gone by. May we so act that we shall never lose the benefits of the sacrifices that they have made to give unto us this democratic way of governing ourselves.

May we not fail to recognize that while the problems of today differ from the problems of yesterday, the ones before us are as hard to solve as they were in the past. Give unto these Senators the wisdom to solve them and to do so in a way that we may go forward with Thee, in Jesus' Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 36, Printer's No. 1244, on concurrence in House amendments, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 935, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 21, 1943 (P. L. 571), entitled as amended "The Fourth to Eighth Class County Assessments law" specifying when tax levies shall first be based on assessments from valuations made with use of the permanent system of records.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 935

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 935.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

THIRD READING CALENDAR

REVENUE BILLS ON THIRD READING OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following Revenue Bills on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 660, Printer's No. 1387;

House Bill No. 661, Printer's No. 1369; and

House Bill No. 662, Printer's No. 1370.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 141, entitled:

An Act authorizing the recovery of damages from parents of children destroying property.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have some reservations of my own on this measure.

I do not believe that this would, in any way, act as a deterrent to juvenile delinquency. What you are doing is punishing the parents for an act committed by a child. In the main, I imagine this would operate against people who are not financially able to meet this problem. I cannot see how this measure, as a deterrent to juvenile delinquency as a deterrent to a youngster committing an act, would prevent it.

In other words, if you had a youngster who was generally a good youngster, but got himself into some difficulty, such as breaking a window or something similar, which may be in the character of a prank, you are going to fine the parents $250, that being the maximum. I do not feel that this, in a sense, would be a deterrent to juvenile delinquency. I do not think this bill demonstrates it. Since this bill was drawn and then rewritten under the same House Number and, in a sense, eliminates the original provisions which the authors of this bill intended and is rewritten so that it fits a different type of problem which they feel they face, I am not so sure that these people are absolutely certain of their own act and I think the Legislature should give this some real careful consideration before hastily enacting such a measure. We have here before us a completely different measure than we had when it came over from the House.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, House Bill No. 141, as it is presently amended, uses exactly the same language as the bill which passed this Body as Senate Bill No. 7. I do not remember what the vote was at that time, but I think it passed with a substantial majority. The distinguished gentleman, the Minority Leader, mentioned damages as a result of a prank. This bill very clearly states that property must be wilfully or maliciously destroyed. I feel that this bill certainly would not repay that damages that some of these juvenile delinquents do maliciously, such as going into cemeteries and turning over tombstones or going into churches and destroying statues and pews, and thereby doing malicious damage to property.

The maximum amount which can be recovered is only $250. However, I believe that, psychologically, if we had a bill like this on our books, that boy would think twice before going into a church or into a cemetery or into somebody's home and maliciously destroying property.

Many judges have written to me about this matter and they feel that a bill of this kind would be very, very helpful. Some of the States have enacted legislation just exactly like this. In many areas where a bill of this kind has been enacted into law, the juvenile delinquency rate has dropped tremendously. In some areas it has dropped as much as seventy-five per cent.

Therefore, Mr. President, if this bill does not do anything else, it is going to make that boy think twice before he maliciously destroys property. I believe, when we had Senate Bill No. 7 before us, I see the distinguished gentleman from Washington smiling and getting ready to get at Senator Pechan. We will give him his day in just a few minutes. He has that kiddie-car thing on his mind, I think.

Mr. President, if I own a dog or a cat and it goes into somebody's garden and destroys their flowers, that person can recover damages from me because my cat or dog went into that flower garden and destroyed it. However, if my son or daughter, who is eleven or twelve or up to the age of eighteen, goes in there and maliciously destroys that man's property, he has no recourse and he cannot recover. Again, I say that if this boy or girl knows that his parents are going to be liable to the extent of $250, he is going to think twice before he does harm. Not only that, but I am sure that the parents, if they are giving this boy or girl an allowance, will say, "Now, Johnnie, until this damage of $250 is paid, you will get no more allowance." If for no other reason, I think this is good legislation and will help to curb juvenile delinquency.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this may have a salutary effect, as a statement of public policy. However, the common law under which we operate in this Commonwealth is to the point of where a dog or a child is entitled to, as they loosely say, one bite. In other words, if you know that an animal or a child has vicious propensities, then you must taken action against that particular animal or child. However, if you do not know these things to be true, then you cannot take any action against them.

The problem which poses itself in my mind is if you do obtain a judgment of $250—because the action is in the nature of an assumpsit and not a criminal action—against the parents and if you have some poor individuals who cannot pay this amount of money, they are then saddled with a judgment that they cannot pay. As a result of that, they may be compelled to have a sheriff's sale against their home or against their personal property in order to satisfy this judgment. I do not see how, by imposing a hardship on a family, this is going to deter this youngster from committing further acts.

Basically, I think the problem is one where a youngster may be mentally ill. I think, no matter what you do to his parents, he may enjoy that, if you can believe Freud, Jung and others who have written in this field. This may be his way of getting back at his parents and this may be part of the enjoyment that he gets out of doing these things. I do not know, I do not happen to be a psychiatrist. If you are approaching this matter from the point of view of punishing someone who may be mentally ill, I think that is certainly the wrong approach.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am more or less of the opinion that the sponsors of this legislation are trying to imitate Senator Pechan. Several years ago, he sponsored the kiddie-car bill.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that this legislation is quite confusing because, if you observe the title, it authorizes "the recovery of damages from parents of childrent destroying property." You understand, of course, that it authorizes the recovery of damages. On the fourth and fifth pages of the bill, it sets forth that the child must be living with his parents. In addition to that, it is an action in assumpsit. Assumpsit, according to my opinion, is a suit for debts. Therefore, the bill is very, very confusing.

Mr. President, I am of the opinion that legislation of this type, generally speaking, penalizes children for things that they may do in the course of their adolescent age. I do not believe we should attempt to make criminals out of little children. I do not believe we should attempt to to penalize parents for some small act which their child might have committed. It seems to me that this legislation has no place here in this Senate. It is not going to do anything to help juvenile delinquency. I think probably what will happen, if this does pass and the Governor signs it, is that it is going to cause more chaos in the poor families of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, it is not often that I arise on this side of the aisle to agree with Senator Pechan against Senator Weiner and Senator Lane. However, I must say that in this case I do agree with Senator Pechan.

We have read volumes on the problems of juvenile delinquency. We have read about various measures to control juvenile delinquency and they are great in number. However, each set of measures makes mention of greater disciplinary control by parents. I do think that the psychological effect of a bill of this kind will make parents realize they just cannot permit their children to run around and destroy other people's property and then simply do nothing about it. I feel that a bill of this kind will make some contribution towards the control of juvenile delinquency by making parents pay stricter attention and try to create more discipline in their children.

As another point, Mr. President, supposing the damages are caused by children of parents who can afford to pay. Why should the person who is damaged suffer the damage while the parents who can afford to pay, and whose children wilfully destroy property, go scot free?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, the way this bill is set up now, it refers to any child under the age of eighteen. That would include children from one day old up. I believe the bill, before it was amended, was comprehensive, and the only thing that I would have objected to in the original bill was the size of the penalty, which was $1,000.

The only good thing done in the amended bill, as far as I can see, is the reduction of the penalty. Otherwise, certainly a child under the age of seven, as contained in the original bill, is presumed by the law not to have a wilful attitude toward trespasses, offenses to property on so on.

That would be one of the criticisms I make of this bill, and I believe that it should have been left in its original form with the one exception of the penalty.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Senator, do I understand from your earlier remarks that you believe that a prank is not covered by this bill?

Mr. PECHAN. Well, now, if you are going to get technical, I stay away from you lawyers as much as I can because I can be boxed in very easily. Truthfully, I must admit that I do not know. A prank, to me, is something that is done devilshly, like I used to do when I upset the outhouses when I was a kid on Halloween.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I think any lawyer would accept the Doctor's definition of a prank.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 790, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" further regulating the marking and counting of ballots.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 790 makes amendments to the Election Code, which seem to me to go a little bit too far.

The present law provides that if any mark other than an X, or cross as it is referred to in the Code is used, the vote shall be invalid. It also makes the provision that if any other means of marking than pencil or indelible pencil is used, likewise, the vote shall be invalid.

Mr. President, these provisions were put into the law as safeguards for the prevention of fraud, so that no one would be able to tell by a distinctive mark or by a distinctive way of marking the ballot how any person or number of persons voted. I think the use of a check mark, if it were limited to a cross or a check, as this bill would suggest, is not too harmful a thing, because if it were limited strictly to those two, it would mean that all other marks would be out, and since there were two, it would be hard for any person to tell, if there were fifty of one and forty of another, how anyone voted. Therefore, this is not particularly serious. It would be if we extended it and allowed perhaps twenty different marks.

When we come to the matter of how we shall mark the ballot, this proposed amendment would make no restriction as to the color of ink to be used. We have red ink, blue ink, black ink, green ink, and all sorts of colors of ink. It would be quite possible for a person, using a distinctive color of ink, to evade the purpose of this law. Therefore, Mr. President, I think this amendment goes too far. I would, personally, feel that the addition of a check mark would not be fatal to the original purpose of the law. However, I think, if we are going to use ink, it should be restricted to one color of ink. I personally feel that perhaps we do not need that provision at all, and we should stick to pencil and indelible pencil.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not think the subject matter is worth the expenditure of too much time and debate. However, it is perfectly natural for an elector with a paper ballot to go into the voting place, reach into his pocket and pull out whatever implement of writing he has and make his mark. If it happens to be a fountain pen, as it is frequently he spoils his ballot. He may not even realize it. He folds up the ballot and deposits it in the box, and he is out a ballot.

A fountain pen is almost as much a part of a man's apparel nowadays as his necktie, and he reaches into his pocket and uses it on every occasion. Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that to defeat the intent of an elector simply by his use of his own fountain pen is wrong, and that his vote should be counted.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, just one other note on this in reply to Senator Berger. In the first place, if anyone unthinkingly uses a fountain pen and therefore spoils his ballot, he has recourse because he can ask for another ballot. Furthermore, I would point out that it is plainly stated on the ballot that only a pencil shall be used, and we have had many, many years of this practice. It seems to me that for anyone who is unable to read or through the years has not learned that a pencil is the only proper way of marking a ballot, there may be a question raised as to whether the person evidences competence to vote. Therefore, I do not think this is fatal.

I would again reiterate that the purpose of this law, originally, was to prevent fraud. It was based on experience with the practice of fraud. I do not think that we should lightly change this provision and again return to a situation where fraud can develop.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, it is perfectly true that a man may ask for and receive another ballot if he has spoiled his ballot. Under the present law, if he has marked it in ink and notices it before he puts it in the ballot box, he can get another ballot. However, if he does not think about it until after he has put the ballot in the box, or never thinks about it at all, his intention to vote has been defeated and he has lost his vote.

Mr. President, I do not think that present conditions prescribe that we must use a lead pencil when that is practically the third medium of writing that we have. We have the fountain pen, the ball point pen and the lead pencil, and I think the lead pencil is the last on the list.

A Majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 901, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682), entitled "The Insurance Company Law of 1921" further regulating increase of capital stock by stock insurance companies.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to belabor this bill or the next bill. My difficulty with this piece of legislation is that you are making it much easier for management to effectuate mergers. That might be a laudable desire. My other problem, personally, is that this type of legislation decreases the effectiveness of the shareholder. This bill completely removes the shareholder from any interference with the merger activity of the company. I am not so sure that this is good. I am not so sure even as a public policy that it is a good thing.

The basic proposition is that when a person buys stock in a company, among other things other than the investment that he has made, he should have some voice in the management of that company. I do not indicate by that that he should run the company or tell the management how to run it. However, his rights should be protected in so far as they may be injured by a merger. I do not believe anyone here can say that every merger is good or effectuates one hundred per cent what everyone in the company is seeking.

The coming into being of the corporation and the people who make up that corporation have been very helpful to this Country. History will bear out that in the Ford Corporation, many, many years ago at that time Henry Ford was the sole owner and operator, with the help of some other persons who put money into the company—when Mr. Ford did not want to pay a dividend, they were able to effectuate a dividend by taking him into court and having the court decide that although a corporation may be singly owned and operated, when there are other people involved, their rights also have some standing and they have a right to be heard.

When you whittle away this right, you are hurting fundamentally the ability of people to own shares in a corporation and also to be heard when they are shareholders and have put their money or life savings into this type of activity.

I think we should be very careful. This is just one more step in that direction. We have had a number of other measures this Session where we did just that. This seems to be one more measure in the insurance field toward accomplishing that purpose.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Senator, I presume you are speaking on Senate Bill No. 901.

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir.

Mr. BERGER. As I read the bill, it provides that any increase in the capital stock, and so forth, may be issued at such price in excess of par as the stockholders may direct or as the board of directors may direct under authority conferred by the stockholders. As I read that, it seems to me the stockholders have as much to say about it as they did before. If I am wrong, I would like to be corrected.

Mr. WEINER. You are not incorrect, Senator. I think as a fundamental policy of the operations of corporations, when a meeting is to be called or some problems are to take place before them, most people operate through proxies because most people find it difficult to attend meetings. If it is a public corporation, there is a greater number of persons involved, perhaps with smaller holdings, but by the same token, the holdings may seem large to the stockholders.

My contention is that the part which you read is not the only phase of it. There are other phases to this situation. When you allow that to happen, I think in a sense you are cutting off a fundamental right. In other words, if there is something wrong with the way the thing is operating today, then we should change it. However, I do not think this change here corrects a wrong or an error that has existed. You are making it easier for the type of thing that I was talking about to happen. That is the problem which I am finding in voting for this measure.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 902, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682), entitled "The Insurance Company Law of 1921" providing that domestic stock life insurance companies may purchase shares of stock of other insurance companies transacting like classes of business and temporarily hold the same solely for the purpose of acquiring the business and assets of such other company.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe one of the problems in this piece of legislation is that it allows insurance stock companies to acquire stock from another company, doing the same kind of business permitted under the Pennsylvania law. The purpose of this bill is to allow them to acquire the business assets of such other company.

At the present time, Mr. President, a stock insurance company cannot purchase the shares of another company. Under this bill, the purchasing company is required to file a written notice of it and also must proceed with dispatch to eliminate the company or effectuate the merger. If it is a foreign company they are acquiring, the foreign company must be completely eliminated or liquidated. If it is a domestic company, it can be dissolved or merged.

I think this is bad legislation from two points of view. Number one, this could result in retaliatory measures by other States which will be hurt by this type of a situation. In other words, a company formed in Ohio, Delaware or some other State is completely eliminated just because they entered into a merger. I think this could cause those States to take action against our companies which might be situated in their areas.

Number two, I think we should be concerned about the fact that whenever you have a merger and one company is buying the stock of another, I think you have some activity in that stock, either up or down, of the particular company doing a particular act in this situation. I think this might hurt some of the people who own stock in the various companies, depending on whose ox is being gored at the particular time.

Also, once an insurance company has committed itself to go through with this type of thing, it will continue to buy the stock and it will cause the stock, maybe, to become inflated or go up into a false type of inflation where it does not necessarily reflect the strength of the company, but because probably the company buying it is stronger. If they do not go through with this, and there is nothing forcing them to do so, it could cause the stock of the company which is supposedly being merged to go down very rapidly. This might be very harmful to the company. It might even put it on the brink of bankruptcy. I do not know that, but I think those things are within the realm of possibility and probability. Anything which might endanger the policyholders or the stockholders of a company, I think should be considered very, very slowly.

I think perhaps hearings might be indicated on this measure in order for us to get the full benefit of the different views which might predominate in both these areas. It might be that the alarm I am raising may not be any alarm at all. It might not be one which is worthy of us taking cognizance of. However, I am not so sure that it is not something that we should be concerned about and think about before we act on this measure.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 959, entitled:

An Act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 256, page 97, lines 8 to 17, by striking out all of lines 8 to 16 and "water in the performance of his duty (h)" in line 17, and inserting: "(e)"; Amend Sec. 256, page 97, line 18, by striking out "(i)" and inserting "(f)"; Amend Sec. 256, page 98, line 1, by striking out "(j)" and inserting: "(g)"; Amend Sec. 256, page 98, line 10, by striking out "(j)" and inserting: "(h)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 959, Printer's No. 1389, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

VISITORS FROM FOREIGN LANDS
PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Senate is privileged to have here in the Chamber gentlemen from foreign lands, whom I would like to stand and take a bow. There are four gentleman from Nigeria, one from Pakistan, one from Ceylon and one from Uruguay.

I had the pleasure of meeting them yesterday. I wonder whether they will please stand and take a bow.

We are very happy that you honored us with your presence here today.

MRS. ELEANOR EVANS,
FORMER SECRETARY OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE,
PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, while we are introducing guests, I would like to take the time of the Senate for just a second to introduce a very distinguished colleague of mine from Delaware County. She is one of the finest ladies from our county and a real Republican.

I would like to introduce to the Senate a former Secretary of Public Assistance, Mrs. Eleanor Evans, who is sitting in the rear of the Senate Chambers.

The PRESIDENT. We are very happy to have you with us, Mrs. Evans.

The PRESIDENT. At this time, the Chair invites the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Scott, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (William Z. Scott) in the Chair.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALKER, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1079, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1945 (P. L. 837), entitled, as amended, "An act providing for and requiring in certain cases preference in appointments to and retention in public position or on public works for honorably discharged persons who served in the military or naval service during any war or armed conflict in which the United States engaged; . . ." changing and clarifying certain preference provisions and adding definitions.

Mr. KELLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KELLER, from the Committee on Education, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1049, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 23, 1945 (P. L. 913) entitled "Professional Engineers Registration Law," further defining the practice of engineering and authorizing registration of certain qualified persons without examination.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHALLEY, from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1577, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) entitled "The Vehicle Code," providing for inspection of certain vehicles operated outside the State and providing for the operation of uninspected vehicles by dealers in certain cases.

He also, from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1992, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) entitled "The Vehicle Code" authorizing the operation of a vehicle having two others attached thereto in certain cases.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HARNEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. HARNEY, RUTH, HAYS and ROONEY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912), entitled "Bakery Law," changing certain definitions; conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture; and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

PROTESTING THE REPORTING OF SENATE BILL No. 1079 FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, at this time, I would like to protest to Senate Bill No. 1079 having been reported from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics.

No one on this side of the aisle was ever informed of a meeting of the committee, nor the time and place in which it was to be held. As far as we are concerned, the members of that committee from our side of the aisle never were informed of a meeting, if it was held. This practice seems to be increasing as the Session goes on. If it is a function of the committee to meet and to discuss, certainly that theory should be complied with. If it is going to be the rule of the Senate that the Chairman of the Committee will report bills out, without meetings, let us change the rule and make it that way.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 971, Printers No. 1140, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 972, entitled:

An Act amending the act of August 9, 1955 (P. L. 323) entitled "The County Code" changing technical provisions with respect to plans required to be submitted to the County Planning Commission by defining a "sub-divider" and "developer."

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2004), page 2, line 14, by inserting after "sub-divider": "or developer"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2004), page 2, lines 17 to 19, by striking out "and the term "sub-divider" shall" in line 17, all of line 18, and "successive stages of the project may vary" in line 19, and inserting: "The term shall not include any individual, partnership or corporation or agent thereof who is not in the business of buying land for development purposes but who sells or offers to sell a part or parts of land owned by him or it which had not been purchased by him or it strictly for development purposes."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 972, Printer's No. 1141, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 982, entitled:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1015, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" prohibiting the use of fire extinguishers containing carbon tetrachloride in school buildings and school buses and providing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, this bill is not of special import to me, although I think it is of value and the committee has reported it out. However, I just heard, a short time ago, that some people are interested in what they consider a very constructive amendment.

If it is not too late, I would respectfully ask that this bill might go over in order until next week.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order on final passage.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1032, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1046) entitled "State Tax Equalization Board Law" requiring the board to consult with the Joint State Government Commission regarding certain contemplated certifications.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am at a loss, concerning this bill, to understand what the purpose of it is. The bill wants the Tax Equalization Board to consult with the Joint State Government Commission. Does that mean they are to call them up and ask them how they are and, after they have finished discussing the state of the weather, or their health, or exchanged medical reports, they have consulted with them? I was not aware that the Joint State Government Commission has the machinery to resolve the problem which the Tax Equalization Board is facing or, in some measure, deal with the same problem so that they could consult each other on an intelligent level.

If the purpose is to have the Joint State Government Commission sit with the Tax Equalization Board, that is a different measure and I do not think this measure will carry it out. To me, this seems to be an absolutely needless task and needless passage of a measure which will mean absolutely nothing. I think there is nothing to prevent them from consulting right now, if they desire to do so. I think all the gentlemen know each other. If they do not, I am sure somebody here would be very happy to introduce them to each other in order for them to consult with one another.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, you will notice that this bill was co-sponsored by Senator Berger and myself. I had no part in the construction of the bill, in the sponsorship of which I gladly joined.

I will concede that the gentleman has a point and I think he probably knows that, on occasion, the Tax Equalization Board has in the past consulted with the Joint State Government Commission and used its facilities to accomplish certain determinations. However, I agree with him that nobody knows where they go from there.

In Senator Berger's absence, I would suggest that perhaps we should let the bill go over in order until next week. At that time, we could see whether it would be wise to decide, as Senator Weiner suggested, how they should proceed from that point on, after the conferences have been entered into.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I will very happily join with the gentleman in his request. I think it should apply also—I know the Chair has not called it up—to Senate Bill No. 1033, which is a companion measure. I think both of these bills should go together because I think they both do the same thing.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order on final passage.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1033, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1046) entitled "State Tax Equalization Board Law" increasing and staggering the terms of members of the State Tax Equalization Board and providing for minority representation thereon.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1033, Printer's No. 1217, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1035, entitled:

An Act reenacting and amending the act of May 21, 1943 (P. L. 340) entitled as amended "An Act empowering cities of the third class boroughs incorporated towns and townships adjoining each other to cooperate with each other through joint agreements in the exercise of their governmental powers duties and functions" extending the act to municipality authorities.

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I was interested to see that there was not one dissenting vote cast on the bill which was just passed, Senate Bill No. 1035. I think that is a very happy circumstance and one which should not pass without being noted.

The gentlemen who are constantly introducing measures in this Senate to take away the wage tax from Philadelphia or away from the people who live in the surrounding area, I notice, are very happy to cooperate with us and vote with us when a bill comes up that the communities surrounding each other shall cooperate. That has been my point all along and I am very happy that they are beginning to see the light. It may be a little late, but it is better to be late than never.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1038, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1937 (P. L. 1987) entitled as amended "Sanitary Water Law" permitting certain municipalities to discharge sewage in certain water.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I do not think that Senator Berger is in the Senate Chamber at the present time.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I would like to speak against this bill. However, I would like to have known just what it was intended to do and where it was intended to apply.

Could Senator Pechan enlighten us?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I did not hear the question, Mr. President. I was talking to the gentleman to my right. Would the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Mullin, please repeat his question?

Mr. MULLIN. I understand that Senate Bill No. 1038 is under consideration. Am I correct?

Mr. PECHAN. That is correct.

Mr. MULLIN. What does this bill intend to do?

Mr. PECHAN. Without looking at the bill, as I understand it, it takes care of a community of 4,500 people under the situation where the water starts in Pennsylvania and goes to New York and then comes back to Pennsylvania, allowing that municipality to discharge its sewage into this water without a penalty.

Mr. Mullin. Does this apply to the community of Coudersport?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not know. However, I think if you would look on a map, it might be in that area.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I notice there is a stream, called the Allegheny River, which goes through Coudersport and does go up into a community in New York State. It comes back into Pennsylvania a little bit later and goes down through parts of the western section of Pennsylvania, including Allegheny County.

Mr. PECHAN. Does it say anything about Ford City there? It goes through Ford City, too.

Mr. MULLEN. If Ford City wants the garbage and the waste of Coudersport, it is welcome to it.

Mr. President, I desired to question Senator Berger as to whether these other towns in Potter County should be inflicted upon, and also the people in McKean County. It goes through such towns as Roulette, Port Allegheny and a lot of towns.

I understand that the purpose of this bill is to pollute streams. From what I understand from a newspaper clipping up there, the Department of Health stands fast on its decision to disapprove school plans. The plans seem to be that the Coudersport Junior-Senior High School wanted to build a high school. In order to do that, they did not want to provide for any sewerage and waste disposal plant. In order to build the high school, they decided they would empty all their pollution into the Allegheny River.

I think our stream pollution laws, up until this time, have been a great thing for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They have brought fish back into the Delaware River and they have brought fish back into the Schuylkill River. The people use those areas for recreational purposes. I think any attempt to back track on the stream pollution laws, in my opinion, is a straight step backward. I think that the people of Coudersport should dispose of their own sewage. I wonder what the sportsmen up there think of the pollution going into their wonderful streams. They do have wonderful streams up in that vicinity for sportsmen who enjoy fishing. I wonder what they think of Senator Berger's bill. I, for one, could do nothing else except oppose it.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, we have no jurisdiction over New York's clean stream legislation. I am sure that Senator Berger would feel very badly if I allowed this bill to pass without him having an opportunity to answer Senator Mullin.

Therefore, Mr. President, I request that this bill go over in order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. SEYLER. I am not rising to object to the request,

Mr. President, but I am asking the privilege of asking a question of information before the request is granted.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the gentleman desire to make his request now?

Mr. SEYLER. I would like to ask a question before the request to go over is granted.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. To whom would you like to direct that question?

Mr. SEYLER. Senator Ehrgood is convenient. I must ask a lawyer, Mr. President. I cannot ask this of the Chair.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lebanon, Senator Ehrgood.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Ehrgood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EHRGOOD. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Senator Ehrgood, I have a little preliminary statement before I can ask the question. Please be patient.

Mr. EHRGOOD. I hope the statement is not too long.

Mr. SEYLER. Not too long.

I understand, Mr. President, that laws passed must apply to all the subjects equally, but that reasonable classifications may be set up under our Constitution. Municipalities are not permitted to dump sewage in the streams, but this bill apparently sets up a classification. It applies only to those municipalities which lie on a stream which rises in Pennsylvania, flows through Pennsylvania for a distance of less than sixty miles, enters another State, then re-enters Pennsylvania, and only if they are located along that portion of any such stream, between its head waters and its point of entry into the other State, and also only applies to those municipalities having a population of 4,500 or less. The question I wish to ask the gentleman is whether, in his opinion, this constitutes a reasonable classification.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I would be happy to answer that question. Yes, I believe it would, because we do not know how many streams are involved in a situation like that. I am sure there are probably quite a few. Undoubtedly, Senator Berger, the sponsor of this bill, is more aware and could answer that better than I can. I believe all of the conditions are there, and it satisfies everyone and probably is constitutional.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I accept the learned gentleman's answer tentatively until Senator Berger can appear.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order on final passage.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1731, entitled:

An Act authorizing a compact between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of Delaware for the construction of a series of multipurpose dams and reservoirs on the Brandywine Creek and its tributaries and authorizing a diversion for the borough of West Chester.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill, House Bill No. 1731, is a rather important piece of legislation, and I think we would be remiss in not mentioning, at least in passing, the very purpose of this type of legislation and whom it will affect. There is an area in Senator Harney's District, and one which Senator Harney has been very close to. It is a situation which has been worked on by a number of people, notably, among others, the Secretary of Forests and Waters, Mr. Goddard, and the people with him.

This is a situation where the city of Wilmington—and there must be cooperation not only between states, but between cities—has, like all other cities, butted out into a large suburban area. The area in Chester County, known as Coatesville, is also butting out into large suburban areas. We have located in that area a very large steel plant, and all of these persons for many, many reasons have use for this water. The water, as it exists there today, is enough to take care of the needs of the people on the Pennsylvania side of the line. The steel plant uses that same water eight or nine times before it is again returned to the stream to continue to flow on. It is only by long range plans that reservoirs are going to be built in that area, and the recreation facilities that are required to go along with this type of thing are going to be completed in that particular area, as well.

We are also going to take up the problem of the needs of the people living in that community, and who will live there in the future, because as the ecology of the city changes and as the entire area changes, many, many people will move into these different areas and will have need for this water and the other resources. Unless we take some action today, the land that we need and the different assets that we need may not be available because of the home building that is going on and, also, because of other problems that the communities have. They may not be aware of providing the land and the needed space for a reservoir.

This is the beginning of a long project which the Legislature is going to have to implement from time to time for the next five or six years, and not only implement it with legislation, but with actual money.

We have gotten the different areas involved to join in and to bear their share in helping to build this type of reservoir and dams in other areas where they are needed and, also, the roads that will be needed to go with this to provide for the coming generations. Therefore, I think this Legislature is taking a step forward in looking toward the future. This is part of the project that is going to start this whole ball rolling to finish the job which will be done perhaps five, ten or fifteen years from now.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I draw the attention of the Chair to the fact that today's Calendar particularly, and the Calendars of the last three weeks, have contained a number of bills which amount to special legislation. Although they are specifically worded and, on the advice of the lawyer, perhaps have reasonable classification, nevertheless, there is a saying that hardship cases make poor laws. Certainly we are violating the principles of legislation for everyone equally by constantly making an exception.

I have seen the formula for schools attacked, distinguished from, and made exception to even on the amount of forest land there happens to be in a school district. I think this is a horrible example of special legislation. I refer to House Bill No. 2121, and I think we should so recognize it in this Chamber.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this bill, if I am not misinformed and I am sure I am not, simply extends the term from one to two years of an officer who has had his duties prescribed as collector and constable in that county for many, many years. It is a peculiarity of the officialdom of that county and has been so for time immemorial. The bill only changes the term from one to two years to facilitate and to make more convenient the election of that officer.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2201, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "The Penal Code" further regulating obscene exhibitions.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ELLIOT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 528), page 2, lines 7 and 8, by striking out "three thousand dollars ($3,000)," and inserting "one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 528), page 2, line 9, by striking out "three (3)" and inserting: "two (2)".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2201, Printer's No. 1091, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2237, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "The Penal Code" clarifying and revising the provisions relating to obscene literature and objects and increasing the penalty for violating the provisions.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 524), page 4, line 13, by striking out "felony" and inserting: "misdemeanor"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 524), page 4, line 14, by striking out "three (3)" and inserting: "two (2)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 524), page 4, line 15, by striking out "three thousand dollars ($3,000)" and inserting: "one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500)."

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 2237, Printer's No. 1188, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE BILL No. 660 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from Page 2 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 660, Printer's No. 1387, which previously went over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 660, on third reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1889 (P. L. 420), entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine" continuing in effect the rate of tax of fourteen mills heretofore imposed upon the gross receipts of certain companies limited partnerships associations joint-stock associations copartnerships and persons and imposing the tax upon the gross receipts of gas companies for a limited time.

be recommitted to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Kessler.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Kessler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KESSLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the Chairman of the Finance Committee tell the Members of the Senate if these bills are going back to committee, when might we expect some action to be taken by the committee so that we can have a chance to act on these measures, which are revenue raising measures?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, would the Chairman of the Finance Committee tell us when he is planning to hold a meeting, if he can tell us at this moment, so that the Members on this side might be present at that meeting? Not that they would not be present at any moment, but some of us may leave and not have an opportunity to know when this meeting may be held. If the announcement could be made at this moment, we can be sure that all of our people are present.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, if possible, we could hold the meeting on Monday afternoon, interrupting the Senate Session for that purpose, or it might be delayed until Tuesday morning of next week.

Mr. WEINER. I want to thank the gentleman, Mr. President, for his courtesy in answering my questions. I have no further questions.

I would just like to add, for the purpose of the record, that action should be taken quickly on this matter. Although there are annual reports on House Bill No.

661 and House Bill No. 662, and there may be some delay in House Bill No. 660 being enacted due to the amendment already added to the bill, I think we should not delay these measures any longer than is absolutely necessary. Therefore, I urge the Chairman to act with utmost dispatch in disposing of these three measures.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL No. 661 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from Page 2 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 661, Printer's No. 1369, which went over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

HEAD OF DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INFORMATION OF NIGERIA WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. We have present in the Hall of the House as the guest of the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varallo, and also the guest of the Speaker, an interesting visitor. He is head of the Department of Public Information in Nigeria.

The Chair is calling attention to some slight difference in the practices in Nigeria and the practices here. The purpose of the Department of Public Information in Nigeria is to popularize and sell to the people the acts of the government. We have no such department in Pennsylvania. We have, however, a cortege of people who have nominated themselves as part of the department of information. They are members of the press, each one a head of the department of information according to his own liking, and we also have the gentlemen who do the commenting on the television and radio. They also have appointed themselves, each one head of a department of information. But, at any rate, we have as our visitor, Ade Thanni, head of the Department of Public Information from that interesting Republic, Nigeria.

I thank the gentleman and hope, because he is observing us closely as to our parliamentary manners, he will bear a good report to the people back home.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we are ready for the first bill to start. I am going to send for the Motor Vehicles Committee so they will be on the first roll call. I would like to announce to the House that we will break for a thirty-minute period for lunch at 1:30 to 2:00, Daylight Saving Time. We will take thirty minutes for lunch and then come right back here and work until, very likely in the neighborhood of 6:00 or 7:00 p.m.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I know that it has been customary over the years for us to offer resolutions on the birthday of outstanding Members of this House. I think we have avoided it on most occasions this Session.

I would like to avoid it today, although we do have one Member on our side of the House, a rough, gruff, lovable Member of this House who has a birthday today, and I would like to ask Dr. Dengler if he will lead us in bringing him greetings. I am referring to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. Does the Chair understand that the gentleman from Dauphin has a birthday?

Mr. HELM. This is one of the very few occasions that he will admit it, but I caught him in a weak moment last night and he did tell me today was the day.

The SPEAKER. Since there is no possibility of avoiding it, the Chair asks the choir leader to proceed.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, recently this gentleman has been given the very special title of Colonel, so I'm going to ask you to sing "Happy Birthday, Colonel."

Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday."

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker and my fellow Members, I thank you all. I want to say I am very happy that you people can all be with on my 82nd? birthday—at least I feel that old this morning. This is a rare privilege for me to be with the people who I think belong to the greatest fraternity in the world, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth. I have been with you quite a while and I have enjoyed you, and I hope if the Good Lord is willing and the voters are able, I'll spend many, many more years with you. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. As the poet observed, "Age cannot wither his infinite variety."

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to say to the gentleman from Dauphin, who today has his birthday, that I also bring him greetings from the great state of Kentucky, from the Colonel's organization. I hope he feels like a Colonel in the great state of Kentucky. We who are members of the Colonels' Association, especially on this side, would be most pleased if he would consider going to Kentucky, not just for a visit, but to enjoy the hospitality of that great state in which they made him a Colonel.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker. Is there a general in the House?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I can only say to my good friend, Colonel McCann, that I hope some day he and I will be able to go to Kentucky, not to stay, but to see those horses run, and at least look at a mint julep. I say to you, Steve, that it is good I wasn't in Kentucky last week or you would have been short one.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to make this observation: It is not necessary for them to journey to Kentucky; we can arrange to import a sufficient quantity of Southern Comfort right here to Pennsylvania.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1777 on page 16 of today's calendar, appropriation third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1777, entitled:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2326, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for two years beginning June 1, 1959 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31, 1959.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, at this time with the Appropriation Bill being on the calendar, this being the General Appropriation bill and being on third reading, I wish to state what the policy will be at least with respect to this bill on this side of the House.

We do not expect to fight the bill or to offer amendments to change it in any way. We have a subcommittee in the Senate which has been doing an outstanding job in studying the budget, and when this bill reaches the Senate there will be certain recommendations that they will make to the Senate Committee on Finance, and if the recommendations for change are accepted by that Committee the battle of the budget, you might say, will be held in the Senate, on the Senate floor. As you know, last Session the battle was here in the House, we fought it for, I believe, three days, about 18 hours a day.

We cannot on this side, at this time, really offer amendments to the bill. We are in the minority and without the facilities of knowing what is going on in the several departments, we really do not know the true answer as to the adequacy or not of the appropriations.

The hearings, while you people promised full, complete and a new type of hearings, with the information being spread in great detail so that we would know what actually was going on in the several departments, actually your hearings were perfunctory in nature, were of a rubber stamp character, were superficial in nature, were held on an assembly streamlined basis, and were conducted late in the Session, with a hammer on our heads to try to get them over with, and therefore we are not able on this side to really do anything about the bill.

We are, therefore, going to send the bill over to the Senate, and naturally if the amendments that they insert or do not insert prevail in the Senate, it is quite likely that the bill will end up in a Conference Committee. Suffice it to say that we know that the bill pretty generally covers the Governor's Budget, and it is a matter of just simple arithmetic that the bills, when they are all finally sent to the Senate will be from $250 to $270 million more than the appropriations which this General Assembly voted Governor Leader for his last two years.

With that statement I would say that we on this side of the House expect to vote for the bill and send it over to the Senate.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, the Minority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform the House if at any time he, himself, or any member of the Appropriations Committee, or any Member of the House, requested any information regarding any item, that they did not receive the information promptly and efficiently?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, my answer is that the type of hearing you conducted was this: Mr. Polen would ask the Department head, how much is your budget figure? It is so-many dollars? Does it agree with the Governor's Budget? Yes, it does. Are you satisfied with the Budget? No, we want more. And, that was the end of it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Johnston—

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Let me answer the question. The answer to the question is that in the absence of the plaintiff making out a case, and you being the plaintiff, setting out in detail just how many employees there are, just what their salaries were and what they intended to do with the money with particularity, then you would shift the burden and all you would say is, is that what you want, is it agreeable to the Governor's Budget? Then you would say to the gentlemen on our side of the House, do you have any questions? Well, they can ask a few questions, but in 15 or 20 minutes or an hour or an hour and a half, there is not very much they can do about $165 million for instance, for all the mental hospitals. We are hoping that that is adequate. We certainly do not want to skimp on the mental institutions, but how do we know whether $165 million is enough or is not enough?

Mr. McCANN. Well, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from McKean answer the question. Has there been any time in the Appropriations Committee hearings conducted by the Chairman, Mr. Polen, in which you or any member of the Appropriations Committee or any Member on the Republican side of the House, has asked a question, regarding any matter, that he has not received the information he was seeking?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, with the prefatory remarks that I made, and our lack of knowledge of what to do about it, I would say that we were not denied the information. I think that is fair.

Mr. McCANN. Then the answer would be yes?

Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman then inform us, if you were given all the information, any that you requested, are you saying that you were not in a position to discuss the budget, not knowing what was in it?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. When?

Mr. McCANN. At any time when the hearings were conducted during the period that they were being conducted.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. McCann, I will stand on my first answer as to the type of hearings, the availability of information, and the problem which is presented to the minority in any case.

Mr. McCANN. Will the gentleman inform the House then that according to the information we received here today, and that you have stated other times in public debate, that you are not in a position to offer any amendments regarding the bill, but that the Senate, or the other Chamber will make whatever amendments may be made to this bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I said that in my opening remarks.

Mr. McCANN. Then the leadership on the Republican side of this House is not prepared to offer any amendments to the bill at this time?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. For the reasons stated, and because of the fact the auditing job has been done by a subcommittee in the Senate, the amendments will be offered in the Senate Committee. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Then, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is stating that an agreement exists between the Members of the House and the Members of the Senate that the Senate would make whatever amendments would be placed in this bill?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I would say that is pretty generally correct. I say it with the understanding that there is no firm agreement. We did offer amendments yesterday, just on a test to put in a line budget for the several institutions and it failed on a straight party vote.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have in front of me one particular example where the gentleman spoke regarding the budget. The gentleman, Albert W. Johnson, said "We Republicans will cut approximately $60 million from the budget and create a savings of approximately $100 million before we're through."

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is an accurate quote.

Mr. McCANN. This is a quote in the newspaper in which you are talking about the budget which is the General Appropriation bill?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Not necessarily. It could well be the entire budget of $1.907 billion.

Mr. McCANN. Well, according to these remarks in prior public debate in various parts of Pennsylvania, in which the gentleman speaks about the budget and taxes, does he not indicate in these speeches that, using the word plural "we," that you will make a cut of approximately some $60 odd million in the Appropriation bill?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I am referring to the Republican party, and more specifically I am referring to the Senate Finance Committee. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman explain to the House in his opinion the statement that he made that the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations and the Appropriations Committee itself or its members, that this was a rubber stamp—is that the word he used?—rubber stamp approval.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I would say so. I said that.

Mr. McCANN. Would the gentleman explain it again?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The budget was released by the Governor, was received by the Appropriations Committee, you started your hearings pretty near the first of June, you scheduled them, in some cases, 15 minutes apart. You may interrogate any Member on our side who attended these hearings, and the usual request by the Chairman was, what is your budget figure? It is X dollars? Does it agree with the Governor's Budget? Yes, it does. Are you satisfied with the figure? Well no, not exactly, I would like more. Then he would say, any questions from the Republicans and that would be about the extent of the hearing. The Health Department hearing lasted about an hour and a half, as I understand it, A huge department asking for many, many millions of dollars.

Mr. McCANN. Then the gentleman's interpretation of the hearing was that he believes they were not conducted properly, that the opportunity to question or inquire into any appropriated amounts was denied at any time to any member of the Committee, or any outsider?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. No. If you will read the record of what I have said on this floor so far this year, I interrogated Mr. Polen when the Budget came down. I said, Mr. Polen what kind of a hearing are you going to conduct this time, are they going to be different, are you going to get us some information that we have not gotten before, are they just going to be perfunctory hearings that will tell the Committee anything so there will not be anything we can put our teeth into.

He said at the microphone, no, we are going to have a different hearing this time. We are going to get some real information, we are really going to let the public know. Let me tell you, I have been around this state, and the public wants to know where this money is going to go. Every place I go they say for goodness sake what is the matter with you people down there, you are going crazy with the way you are spending the taxpayers' dollar. So, we felt that the hearings would be different, that you would maybe say how many employes there are, what are their jobs, are they necessary, how many trucks do you have in the Department, how much are they going to cost, why are you going to need $5 million for this—you just save that money this time? Something like that, is there any way that you can squeeze $50 million out of this budget? Do you absolutely have to have it? That is what we would like to have known and that is what the people want to know. But conducting your hearings in the last week of May and hurrying them up so they would end before the end of June, you could not get that kind of information out of a $2 billion budget. I would say that it would have been nice if, following those hearings, if you were going to do it differently, and you got some real sound concrete information for it you could have given every Member in this House a mimeographed sheet every day of what took place, how much money you were going to save if any, so that we could intelligently know exactly what was going on.

Mr. McCANN. Now, Mr. Johnson—

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Let me finish. So when Mr. Polen says I am going to do something different, it is going to be sensational and you are really going to know something about this budget, we expected something.

Mr. McCANN. Now, Mr. Johnson—

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. And I will refer to any member on that Appropriations Committee on that side of the House, and they did do some cross-examining. I know I attended only one hearing. I am sorry I was so busy on other matters, but I had a representative there. I did attend the hearing when Park Martin was there and I thoroughly cross examined him myself and gleaned some pretty good information out of him, yes I did, but we had to pry for it and then after he, as I told you, after the hearing was over, then the Governor changes everything he said in the next three days.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Pohnson, now will you answer the question? Any of those points that you brought up at any time, were any of the questions not answered? How many trucks do you need? How many trucks do you have? How many people do you now employ? Can you get along with less people? How many people are not now employed in this department? You attended one hearing.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Yes, but I had able people there.

Mr. McCANN. You attended no hearings on a general fund budget at anytime. Now, will you answer—

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I said that but I had able people there who reported to me exactly what took place.

Mr. McCANN. And that is exactly the point I am coming to. Will those people deny, at any time, that they did not get any information they asked to every question that they asked?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. No, they are not denying that, but there were people waiting out in the halls for the second hearing and * * *

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlemen channel their repartee to the Chair. They are interrupting each other.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from McKean tell us if these hearings were not different in this way: You did not have to be a member of the Appropriations Committee to attend the meeting and have a right to ask any question you wanted to ask. Is that not true?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I believe that Mr. Helm wants to take the microphone. I will yield to Mr. Helm.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean yields to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the interrogation was concerning what took place in a Committee of this House and not on the appropriation bill itself.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am talking about the hearings that took place pertaining to what is now 2326, the General Appropriation bill. I have never spoken about any nonpreferred or any highway funds, only the hearings pertaining to the departmental heads, which are a part of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will call to the attention of the gentleman from Armstrong that those hearings were public hearings at which there were present persons not members of the Committee, and at any meeting of the Committee that was a public hearing and the proceedings would not be questioned in the opinion of the Chair.

Mr. HELM. I beg to differ with the Chair. They were not public hearings. They were hearings held by invitation of the Chairman of the Committee, who invited people to appear before that Committee. I say to the Chair that the discussion we are hearing here today is a discussion of things that took place in that Committee.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I bring to the attention of the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, that at the eight hearings I attended, there were members of the Press at the hearings. I assume that those hearings were public hearings even though they were by invitation to the department head and his staff who were before the Committee at that time. I ask the ruling of the Chair then if these were not public hearings.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I question the gentleman's statements in that he said the general public was not invited to attend the hearings.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would desire to ask the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee as to whether the gentlemen of the Press and any other person who so desired either were privileged to be present or were present?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the hearings here public hearings. The Press was invited to be present and in many cases other interested parties were present. Now, members of the Republican staff were present and many people whom I did not even know.

The SPEAKER. There is an interesting precedent on a motion which the Chair would ask the privilege of reading.

On a motion to discharge a Committee from further consideration of a House Bill, the point of order was raised that the gentleman divulged to the House the conduct or action of the Committee, which took place in the committee room. The Speaker ruled that it is out of order to divulge the proceedings that take place within the doors of a committee room, and decided the point of order well taken.

But that is when the meeting of the committee is meeting to which the Press has not been invited and to which the public is not privileged to attend. The Chair would have to hold that if the gentlemen of the Press were in attendance, it most certainly was a public meeting.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, my point of order was not raised on the fact that the hearings were private hearings. The point of order that I raised was that neither gentlemen was speaking on the bill itself. They were speaking on what transpired at a committee meeting of this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will hold that we have been very liberal in permitting Floor Leaders to indulge in debate which we would not have been so willing to countenance if the two persons had not been Floor Leaders. The Chair thinks they have transgressed the privilege and the rights that they have as Members and that they were discussing mechanics that were not pertinent to the merits of the bill.

Mr. HELM. I thank the Chair.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in the situation as you presented it to the House and raised in the point of order by Mr. Helm from Armstrong, the Minority Floor Leader had no right to start out about the committee hearings. I am speaking on House Bill 2326, Printer's No. 1417, and at no time was I going to talk on anything except that which is within this bill and the hearings that were held as a part of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would agree with the Majority Leader that the discussion on the character of the hearings was not germane to the merits of the bill but, as the Chair said, because the controversy was between the Floor Leaders, the Chair was not inclined to intervene; but will say that the merits of the bill are one thing and the proceedings by which the decision was arrived at was another thing. The discussion of the procedure in the Committee was not germane to the consideration of the merits of the bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. May I make a statement on that please?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Minority Leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the reason why I made the statement was to inform the House that we did not intend at this time to fight the battle of the budget on this floor on this side of the House. It would save two or three days, and I felt that I was not really talking on the bill. I grant you I was making a statement as to what our policy would be so the work of the day could proceed and the Floor Leader and everybody would know what our policy was, and in enunciating the policy I stated the reasons therefor.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman in stating the policy of his party regarding House Bill 2326 led into the field of the committee hearings, I felt that it was only right that the record clearly showed our position regarding those hearings. This would never have come up had he not brought the point up in discussing the bill before the House.

House Bill 2326 is a General Appropriation bill, which we believe to be the bill needed for the appropriation of the funds to the various departments, agencies and offices to operate the Commonwealth and its service that it must render for the biennium of 1959 to 1961, one in which there have been changes within the bill, some increased and some decreased.

I think that the Chairman on the Committee on Appropriations, Mr. Polen, and the Appropriations Committee have done an outstanding job, in presenting the figures that are now in this bill, the General Appropriation bill. It is a piece of legislation which we all know must be passed and actually signed by the Governor to operate our various departments, offices and agencies in the Commonwealth to provide those services that we in the Commonwealth must render to the people themselves, to provide the money that the General Appropriation bill provides for the various areas and services within our Commonwealth. It is a bill which we believe is not even sufficient in funds and certain categories to carry out now in the 1959-61 biennium those service which we would like to have for the people in the various parts of this Commonwealth.

We believe that this appropriation bill is a very sound appropriation bill, well thought out, well covered in all the hearings and, as presented here in the House today, a bill in which we believe and, I am sure, you do. There are many who would seek to increase some sections of the bill and others who would seek to decrease certain sections of the bill. This is the bill that does for many so much that we must provide the taxes to pay for, the General Appropriation bill, not the bill in which money is wasted or appropriated to be used unwisely, but to be used very discreetly to operate bureaus and departments, and to operate them within the budget. Each of these items is extremely important, some statewide, some only in certain areas, but this is the bill which includes, without a doubt, the greatest amount of services that the Commonwealth must pay for and this is the appropriation that provides that money.

Mr. Speaker, I certainly feel that the Committee on Appropriations has done an outstanding job and that the General Appropriations bill should be supported by everyone as it is presented here in the House in its present form.

Mr. CURWOOD asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2, page 36, line 18, by striking out "$165,-206,471" and inserting $165,806,471

Amend Sec. 2, page 39, line 2, by striking out "$19,-526,883" and inserting $19,626,883.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. CURWOOD. I feel I would be doing a very unjust thing if I did not get up and try to protect my constituents back home in this situation.

These amendments are for $600,000 more for the Retreat State Hospital, which is located in my district, and $100,000 to the Nanticoke State Hospital which this House, as I said two years ago, made a monument up there, but forgot to put the heart in the monument. I am asking my colleagues on both sides to support me in this situation, and to put the heart in that monument, to put nurses and doctors there, and scrubwomen to clean it up.

Take the Retreat State Hospital for a minute. We are short $1 million to even do anything about the matter, but I am only asking for $600,000. In the 1957-59 biennium we had $4,000 to repair an institution that houses 1,300 patients. It is a 60 year old institution, and if it is neglected much longer we are not going to have an institution there.

I do not wish it on any of my colleagues or myself, but when I go there I always think, 'My God, wouldn't it be awful if I had to go to such an awful—I cannot say the words. It is in pretty good shape now compared with what it had been, but I would not want to be a patient in that institution. You see these people lying bumper to bumper in beds, one shaking with palsy, about 67 or 87 years old, next door. How would you like to lie there? I feel we should give this hospital more money to give it a chance.

We are down to one plumber. Can you imagine one plumber and 1,300 patients? We get free oranges and grapefruit once in a while from government surplus. These people are mostly insane, you know, and they have a great knack of throwing an orange down the toilet. It takes one plumber an hour to get that orange out of the toilet. What in the world would you be doing if the pipe would break?

Four years ago we had 407 employes in this institution. Today we have 340 employes in this institution, and getting still less. We can not replace anybody unless it is a doctor or a nurse.

I could go on. I know you Members talk among yourselves, and I know you are not interested in my problem at all; I know that. There are a very few who are interested in my problem, but God only help me, you do not need the care in any state institution like you need it in this one.

I know we are short of money. I sat here in my seat and voted for money when it broke my heart, the tax bill I voted for, I tell you this honestly, but I voted for it. I voted to put a tax on my own business to help these institutions out, and I am pleading with you. I know you cannot do it. I know you are going to sit there and laugh at me, but that is no reason for my not asking for it. So I am pleading with you to vote to give my two institutions a little more money.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Curwood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CURWOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman if what he is doing is raising the amount of money appropriated to the Department of Welfare by a specific amount?

Mr. CURWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I am for this reason: I am wholeheartedly with the administration in that particular instance because I believe in a blanket amount.

My colleague, Mr. Hocker, yesterday condemned it, but I say that today my hospital must operate like this. We only get $3 million and are only allowed to spend so much per month. At the end of the month we have to have the balance over here. A lot of people have the idea that you can get a deficiency appropriation. It is pretty hard to get a deficiency today. I have a very good friend sitting over in the Auditor General's office, and he got a good break on it, which I think is necessary in some cases, too.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman: You are raising the one amount by $600,000 and the other by $100,000 in the blanket appropriation to the Department of Welfare, is that not correct?

Mr. CURWOOD. That is right sir.

Mr. HELM. What assurance does the gentleman have that the money he is requesting will be spent for these particular hospitals he is requesting it for?

Mr. CURWOOD. I have no assurance under the set-up, I imagine, right now, but the way it is done, I had to put my amendment in, Mr. Speaker, pick that particular hospital, like Retreat, and ask for $600,000 there, and Nanticoke, $100,000 there. It was put onto that particular hospital, but the blanket amount, as you say, is going to be changed.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman tell me where in the amendment it says it is for Nanticoke State Hospital or Retreat State Hospital?

Mr. CURWOOD. On the amendment, no.

Mr. HELM. Is it not true then that the Secretary of Welfare could spend this additional $700,000 for any other institution under his care, if he so desires?

Mr. CURWOOD. Yes sir.

Mr. HELM. I would like to ask the gentleman how he voted on the setting up of a line budget on the amendments that we offered yesterday.

Mr. CURWOOD. I am sorry, I did not get your question.

Mr. HELM. I asked the gentleman how he voted on the amendments offered by the gentleman from Dauphin,

Mr. Hocker, yesterday, setting up a line budget for the various state hospitals in this Commonwealth.

Mr. CURWOOD. I want to answer that other than with a yes or no.

Mr. HELM. Will the gentleman answer how he voted?

Mr. CURWOOD. I voted against it.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. CURWOOD. Now, Mr. Speaker, could I just add to that for a minute? I do not want to let him get away with that on me.

I believe in a blanket budget for this reason: Four years or six years ago we had a blanket budget, and my hospital unfortunately did not collect enough. Then we could go to that bank, as I think we called it, and could ask for more money. We had hospitals in the state of Pennsylvania that collected more money than anticipated, and some that did not. In this way you had a chance to get it without getting a deficiency appropriation. So even if we would get this $700,000, which I hope you will vote for,—I think it would embarrass everybody in the place if this was passed; I know it would tickle me to death—maybe we would not need it in Nanticoke. Maybe we would be lucky enough to get the rich people up there for a change, and they would pay their bills. But we have all ordinary, good, honest-to-God living coal miners, they mined their coal for a long time, and we have to take care of them now. I think it would be a good idea to have it regardless of whether we need it or not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I know this is not easy to do, and I know the amendments the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Curwood, has presented to the House today to increase the appropriation to the Department of Welfare are presented because he is very sincere in wanting to try to get more funds into the department for the hospitals in his particular area.

Of course if they will check the budget closely, they will find on the respective pages the hospitals he mentioned. I believe the increase as aligned there is approximately $650,000 more than was in the '57-'59' budget as listed I would like to ask that the Members of this House oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Curwood, to increase the appropriation amount to the Department of Public Welfare as presented by him.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, forty-four Members having voted in the affirmative and ninety-one in the negative, the question was determined in the negative, and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, is this division roll call that you have just gone through, is that actually recorded in the Legislative Journal?

The SPEAKER. By name?

Mr. VARNER. Are the names of the Members recorded in the Journal on that division?

The SPEAKER. They are not.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I think I missed the first roll call and I would like to be recorded on that roll call as voting aye.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman can only be recorded on a question of personal privilege if the House would recognize him to say how he would have voted had he been present, but there is no way now of recording a simple one vote on a division.

Mr. VARNER. Well, will my previous remarks be recorded in the Journal?

The SPEAKER. They will be recorded in the Journal.

Mr. VARNER. I will stand on them.

Mr. CROSSIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if it is possible for the Luzerne County delegation to be voted in the affirmative in the record and not just on a division?

The SPEAKER. Each gentleman would have to speak for himself, and the vote will not be recorded in the record.

Mr. CROSSIN. May I be recorded in the affirmative, please?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's remarks will be noted in the Journal.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GARLOCK. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Regarding the bill? The question before the House is, will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GARLOCK. In regard to the bill, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this statement has been made. We, I think that meant the other side of the aisle, will cut $50 to $60 million of fat out of this budget?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. No, I did not say that there would be $50 or $60 million of fat cut out of the budget. I did not say that.

Mr. GARLOCK. Was it $50 or $60 million?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Do you want me to answer that?

Mr. GARLOCK. Yes.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. It goes without saying that in cutting a budget by that figure many things would have to be eliminated, which I have stated here many times before are policy questions, which are now programs or expansion of existing programs, and it is a question of policy whether you want to eliminate them or not in view of the critical financial situation.

Mr. GARLOCK. Your answer was yes in the beginning?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. No, not as to fat. I would say the amendments contemplated by the Senate would be in the areas in which they feel that there is some fat in the budget and partly eliminating expansion of existing programs or new programs.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to observe that we like to recognize the Members but the question of what the gentleman one time said he would like to cut out of the bill is not germane unless amendments were actually doing what the Members naturally thought should be done. And we hope the—

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, the point I wanted to ask Mr. Johnson, the gentleman from McKean, is if he did not feel that we were shirking our duties if we were taking a chance of passing this bill over to another place, taking a chance on them cutting $50 to $60 million from this bill. There are items which could definitely be cut from this bill—

The SPEAKER. The Chair must again emphatically say that in his opinion the debate as to what some other Chamber may do with this bill, while a matter of private consideration, is not germane to discussion upon the floor.

We cannot vote here in this House our convictions if we must vote with the idea that perhaps they will be changed.

Messrs. GOLDSTEIN, T. H. W. JONES and McCORMACK asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2, page 48, line 9 by striking out "$311,500" and inserting: "$301,500."

Amend Sec. 2, page 48, line 14 by striking out "900,272" and inserting: "700,000."

Amend Sec. 2, page 52, line 20 by striking out "$1,278,000" and inserting: "$1,268,000."

Amend Sec. 2, page 53, line 5 by striking out "$635,000" and inserting: "470,000."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, we now have a glorious opportunity to remove some legislative fat from the appropriation bill. This is a bipartisan sponsored amendment. My co-sponsors are the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, and the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Jones.

What this particular amendment proposes to do is to establish a declaration of intent of the House of Representatives and the desire that Senate Bill 309 be killed in the conference committee by refusing to give any funds for such bill.

When I spoke on Senate Bill 309, I declared I was against any additional jobs because I did not think they were necessary. I declared I was against any increases in salaries in view of our tight budget. I felt that the per diem workers who were getting $6 and $8 per day were entitled to a cost of living increase, and I want to impress upon both the Members of the House on the Democratic and Republican sides that these amendments do not take out a cost of living increase for these per diem workers.

What these amendments do, briefly, is this: We reduce on page 48, the salaries of the 50 Senators and extra compensation for the President pro tem by taking $10,000 away from the President pro tem.

On line 14, we remove from salaries of salaried employees of the Senate as provided in the Act, an unknown act so far as this bill is concerned, the sum of $200,000.

On page 52, we take $10,000 additional from salaries of Representatives by removing $10,000 additional salary for the Speaker.

On page 53, we take $165,000 from salaries as provided in that particular request.

My particular amendments may not do a 100 percent job because it is a very difficult situation to analyze a bill line by line, but the purposes of these amendments are these: To hold the line as far as the legislative payroll is concerned, to make certain that we set an example for all other departments in the state and to make certain that our particular cost of government does not increase.

I believe, and I have a right so to state, that when the Governor of this state was interrogated about Senate Bill 309, he stated that he was opposed to any additional jobs and increment increases for salaried employees.

How can we appropriate money? Appropriating in my opinion is to take money away from the taxpayers, when we do not have a bill which states what the money is authorized for.

I believe this particular legislation deserves careful consideration, and I think that the people of this Commonwealth will look at us and examine our conduct in this particular respect. Nobody has established, to my satisfaction, the need for these additional employees and the need for these additional increases in salary.

I am asking for a roll call vote. I am asking the Members to stand behind this bipartisan amendment so the people of the Commonwealth will realize that the Members of the House, at least, are interested in economy and taking away legislative fat.

The SPEAKER. Under the circumstances the Chair would like the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, to state that the present Speaker is not in that bill.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, you know my deep affection for you and you know that anything I said was not intended to be any personal allusion. Insofar as the salary increases are concerned, they apply to future Speakers and, if the dictates of the voters of this Commonwealth continue, and we should have a Democratic majority in this House again, I hope to see you as Speaker without any increase.

Mr. McCORMACK. Needless to say, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny echoes my sentiments in that respect.

It was with serious thought that I put my name on these amendments, and I did so for the very simple reason that I did not vote to increase the burden on the taxpayers for the purpose of providing salary increases for officers and certain employees of the General Assembly.

I think it is high time, if we are going to trim anything from the budget, that we do it here and now in what I consider very non-essential increases in salaries.

I, therefore, ask that the Members on both sides of the House support these amendments to show the people that we are interested in what they are paying in taxes, and that we intend here and now to reconsider the mistake that we made when we passed Senate Bill 309.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that this budget, as far as the sections and lines are concerned, that these amendments take into consideration the possibility of a legislative session in 1960.

It is my further understanding that if that legislative Session does not take place that a certain part of this budget will lapse.

Aside from that I think the amendments are very ill-advised. I do not believe that we Legislators have the proper facilities at hand and I do not think we will have them even if this budget passes. We are desperately in need of a research staff, especially the standing committees—at least a half dozen of those committees. I know I for one, as Chairman of State Government, could use some research advice when you realize that I have to consider and the members of my Committee must consider, some 350 bills that run the gamut. We consider as many as 30 to 35 bills at a session of the Committee. I use a secretary in conjunction with two other important committees in this House and I say that we could use more money. I think that these amendments are very ill-advised.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Membership of this House vote in the negative opposing the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. Goldstein and McCormack and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, not being previously recorded today, I am voting for these amendments by Mr. Goldstein, and I ask that my remarks be spread in full upon the Legislative Journal.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I do not have any amendments to offer nor speeches to make on the bill, but there is some information I would like to get, and I wonder if I may interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the appropriations provided in this House Bill No. 2326 total $1.514 billion in round figures?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Are any of these appropriations augmented by Federal funds?

Mr. POLEN. Some of them are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Could the gentleman from Washington point out which items are augmented, and in what amounts?

Mr. POLEN. If the gentleman will turn to page 9, Mr. Speaker, under the Department of Agriculture, the item of $6,660,381 is augmented by $24,000 of Federal funds.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I did not get that amount, I am sorry.

Mr. POLEN. $24,000.

Mr. TOMPKINS. $24,000.

Mr. POLEN. And if the gentleman will turn to page 12, under the State Council of Civil Defense, the item $894,718 is augmented by $445,000 of Federal funds.

If the gentleman will turn to page 13, the Department of Commerce, the item of $2,173,657 is augmented by $250,000 of Federal funds.

If the gentleman will turn to page 16, the Department of Health, the item of $16,294,638 is augmented by $5,595,793.

If the gentleman will turn to page 19, to the Department of Labor and Industry, the item $9,300,358 is augmented by Federal funds of $2,230,800.

On page 20 the item of $4,801,653 is augmented by Federal funds of $6,769,200.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Did the gentleman say $6 million?

Mr. POLEN. $6,769,200. If the gentleman will turn to page 26, the item of $8,160,863 under Public Instruction is augmented by $1,414,301.

If the gentleman will turn to page 28, under Public Instruction, the item $543,534, which is in the budget as $943,534, we having passed a bill of $400,000 which would be deducted from this amount—

Mr. TOMPKINS. That was a stop-gap appropriation?

Mr. POLEN. That was a stop-gap appropriation in order to get the Federal funds. We will receive $943,534, but in addition to that it will permit the school districts to receive $9,957,929. That has nothing to do with state funds, but I just added that because it was brought out in the hearings that that amount would be available.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is that $9 million you speak about for the food and milk program, Mr. Polen?

Mr. POLEN. No, it is not.

Mr. TOMPKINS. You say the local districts get that money?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, they get that under the NEDA Act. It is the money they spent for science, mathematics, modern languages, and so on, providing guidance, counselling and testing. Their expenses in connection with those programs are considered matching money, and make the amount I stated available from the Federal government direct to the school districts.

I have one other one here. I just received this letter at the last minute. I cannot find the particular place in the budget at this time, but it is in connection with Forests and Waters. We would receive $8,400 under one item and $25,600 under another item.

Mr. Speaker, in each instance I have only given the funds that will be paid into the State Treasury for matching purposes. It does not include grants that may be made and paid for direct by the Federal government, but the program administered by certain departments of the Commonwealth.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What was that first figure in the Forests and Waters, $8,000?

Mr. POLEN. $8,400, and $25,600. The letter does not give me the information where I can match it up, but I will later give the information to the gentleman as to what item in the budget it covers.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is the total of the items which you have, Mr. Polen?

Mr. POLEN. That is the total of the items of Federal money that will go into the State Treasury to match, or be handled by the Commonwealth.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well now, in going through the budget I find such items as Federal funds for National Education Defense Act $4,863,000; Vocational Education $3,701,000; Federal Aid to School Lunch Programs $7,194,000; Aid for Special Milk Programs $5,942,000; Public Assistance Services $2,150,000; Public Assistance Services $160,673,000. Now, would those funds be administered by departments which are included in this appropriation bill?

Mr. POLEN. We could take them separately, but in the Special Milk and Lunch program, these Federal receipts are not matched by any state funds and for that reason they are not included in the amounts that I have given. I have only given the amounts where there is matching.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well now, where does this money go that I have mentioned that is quoted in the budget? Does that go through the State Treasury?

Mr. POLEN. The items that I have given you would go through the State Treasury, that is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Where would the item of $160 million on Public Assistance go?

Mr. POLEN. The amount that comes from Public Assistance would go through the State Treasury, and I regret to state that I have not as yet been furnished the information from the Department of Welfare.

Mr. TOMPKINS. On page 40 there is the Department of Welfare appropriation of $116,784,000. That is the amount less the $30 million stopgap appropriation we passed, is that right?

Mr. POLEN. Would you give the page again, please?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Page 40.

Mr. POLEN. The amount of $116 million, you say?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. POLEN. Originally there was $52,900,000 more than appears in this bill. They were actually not stopgaps but were regular appropriation bills which are now Acts, and it was deducted from the budgeted amount.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The thing I am trying to get at is this: I do not know the total of the items which you have given me, but I have items here which I have taken out of the budget, which you have not mentioned, that total almost $200 million.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman asked for this information and I attempted to give it as quickly as I could. Some of it entails a lot of work and, as I told the gentleman today, I expected to have it all but I do not have it all.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am not trying to harass the gentleman at all, because he has been very cooperative in trying to produce this for me. I am merely trying to ask these questions to find out whether or not the items which I have mentioned would be in addition to the items that are in this budget of $1.514 billion.

Mr. POLEN. Would the gentleman give me the department concerned?

Mr. TOMPKINS. What is that?

Mr. POLEN. Would you give the department concerned?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I did not get it yet, I am sorry.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman give me the department he is speaking of at the present time?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am trying to get the overall amount by which this budget will be augmented by Federal money.

For instance, let me only mention this one, on page 40 you have the Department of Welfare for Public Assistance, $116 million. The budget shows Federal funds to augment that of $160 million. That would mean, with what we have in this appropriation bill plus the Federal funds, that the Department would not have $116 million to administer but would have $276 million to administer, would they not?

Mr. POLEN. That would be correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is the thing I am trying to get at, that therefore this $1.514 billion merely replaces the money which we furnish from state taxes alone?

Mr. POLEN. That would be correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That, if we add together all of the Federal augmentations, there might be close to $300 million additional which they will have to administer, which does not reflect itself in this appropriation bill.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that could be possible, though I do not believe it would run that high.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, I am going by the figures I have before me, plus what you have given me that I have not had before, plus other items that maybe we have not touched, but it would go well over $200 million, would it not?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, I believe it would go over $200 million.

Mr. TOMPKINS. So, therefore, instead of having $1.514 billion for the several departments, under this bill, they would actually have $1.714 billion to administer, would that not be right?

Mr. POLEN. That would be approximately correct, Mr. Speaker. It might be that the greater part of this is in the Department of Welfare in connection with the Public Assistance program.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Now do I understand that these departments can spend this money without the necessity of our budgeting it through our legislative appropriations?

Mr. POLEN. The augmentations that are matched
